ncessant rains have wreaked havoc in Karnataka, especially in Bengaluru, bringing life to a standstill. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai blamed the previous Congress government for the massive waterlogging caused by the heaviest rainfall in the last 90 years. The capital city, known as India's Silicon Valley, has waterlogged main roads and major IT companies inundated. The Chief Minister on Tuesday said that some areas of Karnataka, especially Bengaluru, have received unprecedented rains. There is no such problem with the entire Bengaluru city, he added. Two areas, especially the Mahadevapura area, are facing problems, as it has 69 ponds and lakes in a small area, which are full. He said, establishments have come down to a low level and encroachment is also the main reason for such a situation. Blaming the opposition Congress for the crisis, he said, "Bengaluru is facing a flood crisis due to unplanned development and mismanagement during its tenure."A central team is reaching here on Tuesday to discuss the flood situation, he said. Traffic on the Mysore-Bengaluru highway has been affected due to the overflow of the Arkavathi river. The underpass of the entire area has been flooded. The pickup point of Bengaluru International Airport (BIAL) has also been flooded due to heavy rains.

Sons Chairman, wasn't wearing a seat belt and must have been thrown in front at great velocity once the speeding car crashed into a divider in the Palghar district of Maharashtra on Sunday.

"Already, it's mandatory to wear seat belt at the rear seat but people are not following it. There will be a siren if the people at the rear seat don't wear belts like for the front seats. And if they don't wear belts, there will be a fine," said Gadkari in an exclusive interview to NDTV, stressing that "at any lost, lives have to be saved".

Taking fines is not the motive but spreading awareness is, said Gadkari on those sitting in the back. He said by 2024 the goal is to reduce the road fatalities by 50 per cent."The minimum fine is Rs 1,000...There are cameras and anywhere people who aren't following can be caught easily," said Gadkari. Asked if compulsory installation of airbags in the back seat will drive up the cost, the Minister underscored that saving lives is vital."Cost of 1 airbag is 1,000, for 6, it's 6,000. With more production, the cost will be reduced. Cost is not important, people's lives are," he emphasised. Celebrities are campaigning for road safety, said the Minister, adding that he seeks cooperation from media.

India, Bangladesh signed seven agreements

New Delhi: Seven agreements were signed between India and Bangladesh on Tuesday following bilateral discussions between Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his Rangladesh counterpart Sheikh Hasina.

The agreements pertain to water resources, IT and space, broadcasting as well as railways.

These include agreements on cross-border withdrawal of water from the Kushiara River, cooperation in space technology, cooperation on IT systems used by railways for freight transport and cooperation in the field of science and technology. In addition, the two sides also concluded an agreement to provide training to Bangladeshi railway employees and judicial officers in India. An agreement for cooperation in the field of broadcasting was also signed between Prasar Bharati and Bangladesh Television on the occasion.

On a mission to unite oppn Nitish Kumar says, "Not a claimant, nor desire of PM post"

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Titish Kumar, reconnecting with opposition parties in Delhi after dumping the BJP in Bihar, said he "is neither a claimant" for the Prime Minister's job in 2024, nor does he desire it. After meeting with Left leader Sitaram Yechury, the Bihar Chief Minister said he is in Delhi for the sake of opposition unity.

He fielded questions on whether his meetings in Delhi signaled efforts to gather support for his run as the opposition's Prime Ministerial candidate versus Prime Minister Narendra Modi in 2024.

"I am not a cl desire it," Nitish Kumar told reporters, brushing off the ques-

"We are together, that is why I am coming here," he said.

"I have had a long association with the CPI-M from my younger days. You all have not seen me, but whenever I used to come to Delhi, I used to come to this office. Today we are again all together. Our entire focus is to unite all Left parties, the regional parties in different states and the Congress. This will be a big deal if all of us come together," he said.

Weeks after forming a new government with Tejashwi Yadav's RJD (Rashtriya Janata Dal), Congress and other parties in Bihar, Nitish Kumar has lined up a series of meetings in Delhi.

Last evening, he met with Congress leader Rahul Gandhi. He also met Delhi Chief Minister and Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) chief Arvind Kejriwal and Samajwadi Party's Mulayam Singh Yadav and his son Akhilesh Yadav.

Yechury said Kumar returning to the opposition fold and wanting to be part of the fight against the BJP was a great signal for Indian politics.

Kumar is also likely to meet other opposition leaders like NCP leader Sharad Pawar, Samajwadi Party's Akhilesh Yadav and INLD leader Om Prakash Chautala.

Kumar met Rahul Gandhi for the first time after forming his new coalition, which includes the Congress. Congress leaders said Kumar thanked Rahul Gandhi for his party's support in Bihar.

BJP aims to win Sharad Pawar's stronghold Baramati

Pune: A day after Union Home Minister Amit Shah's visit to Mumbai, Maharashtra Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) launched 'Mission Baramati-2024' here on Tuesday to give a blow to the stronghold of Nationalist Congress Party President Sharad Pawar and his family. . BJP state president Chandrashekhar Bawankule spent a day in Baramati to prepare for Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman's threeday visit to Baramati from September 22.

At a meeting of party workers, Bawankule said the BJP would now aim to capture Baramati, one of the 16 Lok Sabha constituencies in the state, for which the party would pay special attention. Baramati has been a stronghold of 82-year-

Jamiat Ulema-e-Hind, a leading body of Islamic scholars held a meeting today where it decided to back the Yogi Adityanath government's decision to survey unrecognized madrasas in Uttar Pradesh.

All persons responsible for UP madrasas were present at the meeting. Maulana Mahmood Asad Madani (National President, Jamiat Ulama-E-Hind) in a press conference said, "Today madrasas are not looked at in a good way. I appeal to the government to understand us. We will always follow our duty. We are always ready to talk but not with force. We should be given time and we are ready to meet with the concerned authorities."Expressing concerns over the actions taken against madrassas in Assam, Maulana Mahmood Asad Madani said, "You saw what happened in Assam. It is illegal if that method is taken up. We will send an application to concerned authorities, seeking time to meet them."

"Nothing should be done in a wrong manner, even if it is good work. There's always room for improving something. The manner in which it's being portrayed is wrong," the Maulana added. Uttar Pradesh government on September 1 announced that it would conduct a survey of unrecognized madrasas in the state to ascertain the number of students, teachers, curriculum, and affiliation with any non-government organization of these institutes.

AG TOLD SUPREME COURT ON SUTLEJ-YAMUNA LINK CANAL DISPUTE- 'PUNJAB IS NOT COOPERATING'

he Supreme Court on Tuesday orally said that sometimes the solution lies beyond the court and with regard to the resolution of the decades-old Sutlej-Yamuna Link (SYL) canal dispute between Punjab and Harvana, if the parties fail to cooperate, So he can take a tough stand. Attorney General K.K. Venugopal submitted before a bench headed by Justice Sanjay Kishan Kaul that the Punjab government was not cooperating in resolving the SYL canal dispute.

Venugopal sought directions to the counsel representing the Punjab government to ensure that the Chief Minister participates in discussions with his Haryana counterpart. The bench said that sometimes the solution is a bit out of court, but then either the court takes a hard stand or the parties cooperate.

The bench said that a letter dated September 5 addressed by the Secretary, Ministry of Jal Shakti was brought on record by the AG.

Justice Kaul said: "I am hoping that the stakeholders concerned will feel that abstaining from the discussion is not the way forward." As the counsel for Punjab submitted that the government is also keen bench replied that it should reflect in the action.

Justice A.S. Oka and Vikram Nath were also involved. He said that AG is right that chief ministers should meet, adding that water is a natural resource and living beings should

It further states that the parties should have a 'comprehensive view' and should negotiate a settlement.

The AG, representing the Centre, submitted that in 2017, the apex court had held that the matter should be resolved amicably and the Ministry of Water Resources was trying to work out a settlement between Punjab and Haryana. He informed that letters were sent to the then Chief Minister of Punjab in 2020 and 2021, but there was no response.

The bench was told that a letter was sent in April this year but the CM did not respond. The AG insisted that Punjab should come to the discussion table.

Venugopal suggested four months to the states during which the two chief ministers would meet at the end of the first month. After hearing the arguments, the top court gave the Center four months to submit the progress report and fixed the matter for January 19 next

SAD chief Sukhbir Badal appears before SIT in 2015 police firing case

hiromani Akali Dal (SAD) president Sukhbir Badal on Tuesday appeared before the Special Investigation Team (SIT) for the first time in the 2015 Behbal Kalan police firing case. The SIT is headed by Inspector General of Police Naunihal Singh.

Earlier, Badal, who was the Home Minister at the time of the incident, was summoned by the SIT on August 30 but did not appear saying that he had not received the summons. and that day he had to appear in the Zira court in Ferozepur district. He was interrogated for more than three hours in connection with the second case. The SIT is probing two incidents of firing in Behbal Kalan and Kotkapura. The SIT in the Kotkapura incident. has issued summons to Badal for September 14.

Talking to the media, Badal blamed the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) government for playing politics in the sensitive cases of police firing in Behbal Kalan and Kotkapura.

Stating that the SAD and its leaders were always ready to cooperate with the SIT probing the firing cases, he said it was unfortunate that the AAP government was playing politics on these issues only for small political gains. "Punjabi wanted all the culprits in these cases to be caught and punished but the AAP government is following in the footsteps of the previous Congress government and politicizing the investigation of the cases. It is extremely unfortunate, especially when the High Court has ruled the former. Inspector General Kunwar has already been reprimanded.' Responding to media queries, Badal said, "The government already knows the answers to the questions asked by the SIT. They have the answers. Despite this, they are indulging in this exercise to defame the SAD and its leaders." " Meanwhile, Additional Director General of Police L.K. Yadav had earlier questioned former Director General of Police Sumedh Singh Saini in the sacrilege case. Saini was removed from the top police post in 2015 by Chief Minister Parkash Singh Badal following incidents of sacrilege of the Guru Granth Sahib and subsequent incidents of violence in the state, accusing the police force of excesses igher Education Minister Dr. Mohan Yadav has said that it has been decided to encourage private sector participation to make higher education accessible, qualitative and job oriented in Madhya Pradesh. An incentive policy has been proposed to ensure better institutional arrangements. After the approval of the Council of Ministers, this policy will be implemented in the state. Higher Education Minister Dr. Yadav took a meeting regarding the incentive policy in Mantralaya on Tuesday. Additional Chief Secretary Higher Education Shailendra Singh and departmental officers were present.

Minister Dr. Yadav said that in accordance with the National Education Policy, active and positive participation of the private sector is necessary for achieving the targets set on the indicators of development in the field of higher education. With the participation of private sector, a spirit of competition will be created in the field of higher education in the state. This will boost the pace of development in important areas like education system, use of technology, management of educational institutions, teacher-training, manage ment of educational institutions, curriculum formulation, skill enhancement etc. Minister Dr. Yadav said that the goal of private sector participation and investment policy in higher education is to establish such an institutional system, which encourages private investment in higher education. Higher education opportunities in the state have to be made available easily. especially in the scheduled areas. This will not only ensure proper development of research projects in the field of higher education but will also lead to better experiments in the field of IT.

KAMAL NATH SLAMS GOVERNMENT ON THE SCAM IN NUTRITION DIET

case of more than 110 crore irregularities has come to the fore in Madhya Pradesh nutrition diet. This disclosure has been made in the report of the Accountant General. What has come to light is shocking because the number of vehicles that have been told to be transported hundreds of tonnes of food grains are of small vehicles including motorcycles. If sources are to be believed, the report of the Accountant General directly alleges that there has been a large-scale disturbance in the take home ration given from the Anganwadi to the school dropouts, teenage girls, pregnant and lactating mothers as well as children up to three years. .

It has been clearly disclosed in the report of the Accountant General that neither the food of several thousand tonnes of nutritional food was found in the godown nor the evidence of its transportation has come to the fore. The vehicles by which the transportation of rations have been shown and the numbers of the trucks are given, the numbers actually turned out to be motorcycles, tankers and cars apart from autos.

The Accountant General has asked to get the matter investigated by an independent agency and also to take action against the guilty officials. According to this report, this disturbance was investigated in Bhopal, Chhindwara, Dhar, Jhabua, Rewa, Sagar, Satna and Shivpuri, in which this thing has come to the fore. The difference in the number of beneficiaries was also found in the investigation of 49 Anganwadi centers in these places. In these centers the number of adolescent girls who dropped out of school was three, then on the portal this number was found in thousands.

Congress is the attacker after this matter came to the fore. Congress state president Kamal Nath said, corruption and scams are common in every scheme, in every work under the BJP government in Madhya Pradesh. Now nutrition scam has come to the fore in Shivraj government.

He further said, under the Department of Women and Child Development, which is with the Chief Minister himself, a lot has been done in the name of take home ration. According to the report of the Accountant General, the game was played fiercely in the name of production, transportation, distribution in the nutritional food given to children and women.

Taking a jibe at the fact that hundreds of tonnes of food grains were being transported by small vehicles, Kamal Nath said, "Nutrition food weighing thousands of kilograms of crores came from trucks on paper and the numbers mentioned were of autos, cars and tankers. Crores of rations were distributed in the name of children who did not go to school.

Referring to the state of malnutrition in the state, Kamal Nath said, "On the one hand, Madhya Pradesh has been the top in the country in malnutrition since years, and on the other hand, in the name of nutritious food, such a fajirwada. The thinking and intention of this government is telling what kind of game is being played in the state. There should be a detailed high level investigation of this scam, strict action should be taken against the culprits, the responsibility should be fixed. On behalf of the government, Home Minister Narottam Mishra said on the report of the Accountant General that the CAG report is his opinion, no report is final, it is all part of the process. After this, the state government scouts on the report. It is not right to call it the final decision.

Teteran Congress leaders in Uttar Pradesh have neither been informed nor invited to join leader Rahul Gandhi's 3,570-km long 'Bharat Jodo Yatra', from Kanyakumari to Kashmir, that begins on Wednesday. The contingent from Uttar Pradesh mainly includes Priyanka Gandhi Vadra's personal secretary Sandip Singh, Amethi Seva Dal president Ram Baran Kashyap, UPCC minority department chairman Shahnawaz Alam, UPCC Fishermen Congress chairman Devendra Nishad and UPCC secretary (Unnao in-charge) Pratibha Atal Pal. A party leader said: "We have three categories of Yatris--Bharat Padyatri (who will accompany Rahul all along the route), guest Padyatri (who will join for a brief period) and state Padyatri (who will accompany Rahul in their respective states). There are 14 Bharat Yatris from Uttar Pradesh." Bharat Jodo Yatra is expected to reach the state at Bulandshahr from Rajasthan, and leave for Delhi on its way to Jammu and Kashmir. As Bharat Jodo Yatra is expected to remain in the state for a brief period of two and half days, the party proposes to undertake four to five small yatras covering the length and breadth of the state, which will merge at Bulandshahr. Congress Legislature Party leader Aradhana Mishra 'Mona' said: "Yes, the state party will undertake smaller yatras in different regions to receive the main yatra in Bulandshahr. #### INDIA-BANGLADESH BILATERAL TIES

A role model for good neighbourhood diplomacy

ver since the Liberation War in 1971, Bangladesh and India have shared a special relationship not only due to their geographical boundaries, but also largely owing to their shared cultural, linguistic and historical connections.

India, during the war for liberation of the Bangladeshi nation, provided much of the required humanitarian as well as militaristic support which was so duly needed at the time. Both the countries since then, have shared a gigantic 4000 km long border which makes Bangladesh India's longest land sharing neighbour in the South Asian region.

Bangladesh's current Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina recently described the India-Bangladesh bilateral relations as a 'role model of good neighbourhood diplomacy'. This statement hence came as an assertion of the long-shared friendship the two nations have had for the past five decades.

India, on the other hand, was amongst the first countries in the world to establish its diplomatic relations with the newly independent nation in December of 1971. Since then, Bangladesh has gone on to become India's biggest developmental and trading partner in South Asia. This has prompted the two neighbouring countries in contributing to each other's economic and social prosperity. Major advancements have also been made on security and water sharing issues that have largely been a small thorn in the mutually cordial relations between the two nations.

Soon after Bangladesh's independence, both the nations went on to sign 13 agreements related to trade, telecommunication, culture and other domains in the early 1970's. At the time this was seen in a way as the Bangladeshi nation's approval for forging friendlier relations with their land sharing neighbour. The two countries also share around 54 common rivers amongst them; in 1972 a bilateral Joint River Commission was set up between the two to maintain mutual contact in order to maximize benefits for the shared river systems.

In an advancement to such beneficial relations, Bangladesh and India signed a Framework Agreement on Cooperation for Development, under which both parties agreed to narrow the trade imbalances by reworking their trade and non-tariff barriers while also agreeing to expand their cooperation to the sub-regional level as well. A recent development in their relations has also come by way of both the countries working towards signing a Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA), which emphasises on three specific dimensions; trade in goods, services and investments. The goal of such an agreement is to open up newer avenues, including new markets and multi-modal connectivity while also focusing on reduction on trade gaps that have been persisting.

In a testimony to such an enduring relationship based on mutually beneficial agreements, both the countries had also brought the Land Boundary Agreement into force in 2015 by exchanging the instruments of ratification. This came as a symbol of willingness in which both the countries were inclined towards resolving issues that were seen to be hindering the relationship.

These ties however, have also been witnessing stronger political will to engage further than their current positions; in the recent past, India and Bangladesh both have substantiated their mutual trust beyond the general cooperation in specific sectors. In the past eight years, India has extended credit lines worth $8 billion to its neighbour for developmental projects in sectors including roadways, shipping, ports and railways. This makes Bangladesh the recipient of India's largest concessional credit lines to a single country around the globe. India is also contributing to various projects in Bangladesh which includes an upgradation of the Ashuganj river port and Akhaura land port road with a credit line of more than $400 million. A road project connecting the India-Bangladesh border which eases connectivity to some of the north eastern states of India with Bangladesh is also being worked upon with a further line of credit worth $80 million from the Indian nation. However, it is not only the trade and economic related aspects that makes the relations between the two densely populated countries a role model for the world, but is rather their all weather friendship that ascertains the Bangladeshi Prime Minister's statement, which was well in fact also reciprocated by the Indian side. Prime Minister Modi, in one of his first foreign visits post the Covid-19 outbreak visited the past.

In times of crisis, India has assisted Bangladesh with medical as well as humanitarian aid as well. For instance, in 2020, the Indian Railways gifted ten broad gauge diesel locomotives to Bangladesh based on an urgent need. Similarly,

Bangladesh to participate in its

Golden Jubilee of Independence.

Thus, economic and security cooperation between the two are based out of a long-cherished history and connection the nations have had in India also provided its neighbours with a significant amount of Covid vaccines that were manufactured domestically and had arranged for an evacuation of Bangladeshis stranded in between the Russia-Ukraine war.

What has rather emerged as a consequence of such gestures, is that many newer avenues for mutual cooperation have opened up in the recent decade. Bangladesh's population has subsequently become India's biggest medical tourist market; as India makes for an affordable and economically sound expenditure for procedures that may not be available in the country. This has led to an extreme uptake of medical tourist visas from Bangladesh travelling to India. Not only in this aspect, but such new found paths for mutual benefits and interests are only possible if nations have a lasting relationship built on trust and the will of the top most leadership.

Political entities in both India as well as in Bangladesh have constantly attempted to advance their bilateral ties beyond the scope that is currently prevalent.

There is however, significant scope to further the relationship in a way that opens up other routes and modes for ensuring that relations remain beneficial to both the countries. Aspects such as free trade, global health governance, global peace and stability are avenues that could present itself as an opportunity for both India and Bangladesh to not only take their cordial relations to the next level, but would also be an important message to the world in terms of unity in advancing one's own perspective in the global arena. Hence, the former Foreign Secretary of India, Harsh Vardhan Shringla's statement echoing the Bangladeshi Prime Minister's assertions of India-Bangladesh ties being a role model of good neighbourhood diplomacy, is not a shallow statement made to present a certain idea of the bilateral relationship. It is rather a strong testimony to the power of cooperation that can lead to land and water sharing countries having a mutually beneficial relation while also elevating their economic, social and political statuses in the global forum.

former journalist was convicted of treason and handed a 22-year prison sentence on Monday after a trial that has been widely seen as politically motivated and marked a new step in a sweeping crackdown on the media and Kremlin critics.

The sentence handed to Ivan Safronov, who worked as a military affairs reporter for leading business daily Kommersant before becoming an adviser to the head of the Russian space corporation Roscosmos, has been harshly criticized by his col-

ed. A few friends and coworkers of Safronov who attended Monday's hearing at the Moscow City Court chanted "Freedom!" and clapped after the verdict was read. Safronov told those who came to support him. Safronov was accused of passing military secrets to Czech intelligence and a German national. He strongly insisted on his innocence, arguing that he collected all the information from open sources as part of his journalistic work and did nothing illegal. In his final statement at the trial last week, Safronov rejected the charges as "absurd," noting that he published all the information he gathered from his sources in government agencies and military industries.He emphasized that he never had access to any classified documents and emphasized that investigators have failed to produce any witness testimony to back the espionage charges.Safronov described the long sentence requested by prosecutors as "monstrous," saying that it would stain the country's image by showing that a journalist is sentenced simply for doing his job. They were discovered in 1922 and to this day, mystery surrounds the disappearance of its civilization, which coincided with those of ancient Egypt and Mesopotamia. The swelling waters of the Indus, a major river in this part of the world, have wreaked havoc as heavy rains and massive flooding unleashed devastation across much of Pakistan. At

Trolled on social media for his alleged goof-ups at meetings, Maharashtra Public Health Minister Tanaji Sawant, who hit the headlines for allegedly mistaking Haffkine Institute For Training, Research & Testing to be a person named Haffkine, on Tuesday hit out at the media for portraying him in a bad light.

"Am I mad? Don't I understand these things? Give me the proof where I said that Haffkine is a person. What is this social media trolling? If I have actually referred to Haffkine as an individual, I am ready to resign right now," a visibly irritated Sawant told reporters in Solapur district.

According to a news report, at a meeting at a Pune hospital, Sawant allegedly mistook Haffkine Institute for a person called Haffkine and had to be corrected by officials. On Tuesday, riled by this report, Sawant launched a diatribe against the media. "You, the media, are not happy that this government is being formed. Do you know my qualification? I am a meritorious student throughout. I have done diploma, degree, post-graduation and even doctorate. Search the internet, look how many institutes I run, how many factories I run, and how many people I employ. More than 250 PhD holders work under me. Do I look like an illiterate minister to you all?" he said.

A Shiv Sena MLA from Osmanabad's Bhoom-Paranda constituency, Sawant was a minister for a few months in the 2014-19 BJP-Sena government led by Devendra Fadnavis. After the formation of the tripartite Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) government, however, the education baron was not included in the Cabinet. Since then, he had developed differences with the Shiv Sena leadership and had stopped attending party meetings in the area. Sawant was among the first to join the rebellion of now Chief Minister Eknath Shinde.

RUMOUR ON AIR: ADELE HAS MARRIED RICH PAUL

ans are speculating that Adele may have secretly wed her boyfriend Rich Paul after spotting a telling clue in the singer's latest Instagram post. The singer shared photos from her Los Angeles home on Sunday as she celebrated her first Emmy win for her TV concert, Adele: One Night Only.

In a snap of the gong sitting on her coffee table, a personalised game with the label 'The Paul's' could be seen, prompting a flurry of comments from excited fans guessing the secretive star has married her partner of a year.

The game, which appears to be a set of dominoes or Rummikub tiles, had 'The Paul's' (sic) - with a misplaced apostrophe - clearly written on the side, leading one of the star's 50.8million followers to ask 'is you married?' in the comments, reports dailymail.co.uk. The superstar and the multi-millionaire agent first met at a party a few years ago, and took their relationship public in the summer of 2021. The musician was previously wed to charity entrepreneur Simon Konecki, the father of her nine-yearold son Angelo, marrying in 2018 and separating the same year.

ans have been sent into a frenzy after Harry Styles seemed to spit on Chris Pine as he took a seat next to him at the Venice Film Festival, reports dailymail.co.uk.

Styles, who stars in the acclaimed film Don't Worry Darling, caused a stir after he allegedly approached his chair and gobbed in the actor's lap in front of his girlfriend, Olivia Wilde.

During the bizarre interaction, Pine - who is clapping as Styles takes his assigned seat next to him - seems to stop in his tracks, look down at his leg, and stick out his tongue in disbelief.

The laughing actor then shoots an amusing look back at the popstar - who is too busy adjusting his jacket and smiling around the room to notice Pine's cheeky reaction.

The interaction came just hours after Pine went viral for apparently 'zoning out' as Styles spoke to the press about the upcoming film.

It remains unclear whether Styles did, in fact, spit on national television as his girlfriend watched, but fans on Twitter are closely examining the video for answers.

It also appears to show Pine and Styles chatting briefly, though it's unclear what was said during the interaction.

JENNIFER ANISTON WEARS NOTHING

t's easy for Jennifer Aniston to get our attention, especially when she's sharing a revealing snap of herself! The Friends alum, 53, proved such is the case when she took to her Instagram on Sunday (September 4) to tease a new product from her hair care brand LolaVie. Posting a sassy snap of herself showering (in the nude, of course), Jennifer captioned it, "something's coming 9.8.22" The promotional post comes a few weeks after Jennifer poured her heart out when she paid tribute to her father John Aniston at the Daytime Emmy Awards. The actress gave an emotional speech while presenting the iconic Days of Our Lives actor, 88, with a lifetime achievement award. Although John was not in attendance at the in-person ceremony at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium and Jennifer recorded her message prior to the event, it was undoubtedly a special moment as the pair had been formerly estranged for quite some time.

The Don't Look Up actress confirmed to the publication that she gave birth to a son named Cy, named after the postwar American painter Cy Twombly, who is one of her husband Cooke Maroney's favorite artists. Jennifer talked all about the life-changing experience of becoming a new mom in the interview, reports hollywoodlife.com."It's so scary to talk about motherhood. Only because it's so different for everybody," the Oscar winner said. "If I say, 'It was amazing from the start', some people will think, 'It wasn't amazing for me at first', and feel bad. Fortunately I have so many girlfriends who were honest. Who were like, 'It's scary. You might not connect right away. You might not fall in love right away.' So I felt so prepared to be forgiving. "Jennifer, who welcomed her baby boy in February, went on to say, "The morning after I gave birth, I felt like my whole life had started over. Like, Now is day one of my life. I just stared. I was just so in love. I also fell in love with all babies everywhere. Newborns are just so amazing. They're these pink, swollen, fragile little survivors. Now I love all babies. Now I hear a baby crying in a restaurant and I'm like, 'Awwww, preciousssss'.

SRI LANKA BEAT INDIA BY 6 WICKETS

Dubai | Agencies

fter a defeat against Pakistan, India faced Sri Lanka in a crucial Super Four clash in the Asia Cup 2022 edition on Tuesday. Riding on Rohit Sharma's 41-ball 72 and some contributions from Suryakumar Yadav, Rishabh Pant, Hardik Pandya and R Ashwin, they managed a competitive 173-8 but the Lankans impressed throughout the contest and defeated India by six wickets in a pulsating run-chase, with Dilshan Madushanka, Kusal Mendis, Pathum Nissanka and captain Dasun Shanaka leading the charge. With another defeat in the Super Four, India have one foot on the flight back home.

Being asked to bat first, Rohit-led India lost KL Rahul and Virat Kohli for cheap. While Maheesh Theekshana dismissed Rahul, Kohli looked clueless and played a very poor shot off Dilshan Madushanka to depart for a four-ball duck. The onus fell on captain Rohit and he looked in his elements. He was joined by his Mumbai Indians' (MI) teammate Suryakumar Yadav as the two stitched 97-run stand with Rohit being the aggressor, smashing some big sixes en route to an impressive 41-ball 72

(laced with 5 fours, 4 sixes). His dismissal, however, brought the Lankans back into the contest with SKY (34), Rishabh Pant and Hardik Pandya (falling for 17 apiece) with the bowlers using the longer dimensions of the ground to good effect.

Chamika Karunaratne and Dasun Shanaka accounted for two scalps each and a combined bowling effort restricted India to 173/8. Madushanka was most impressive with a spell of 4-0-24-3. With the Lankans having completed two successive run-chases on the trot, they were favourites going into the runchase.In reply, SL openers Kusal Mendis and Pathum Nissanka started off on a confident note. At the halfway stage, SL was 89 for no loss. However, skipper Shanaka's 18-ball 33 not out and Bhanuka Rajapaksa's 17-ball 25* took the Islanders home in another last-ball thriller. Arshdeep Singh tried his best in the final over but some sloppy work on the field and few loose deliveries from time to time sealed India's fate, bringing them very close to an early elimination.

India will now face Afghanistan on Thursday but will hope for the Afghan side to beat Pakistan on Wednesday to remain alive in the contest by the barest of margins.

n what was one of the biggest upsets of the year, Rafael Nadal lost his first Grand Slam match of 2022 4-6, 6-4, 4-6, 3-6 to Frances Tiafoe at the US Open on Monday.

Nadal arrived in New York with concerns regarding the abdominal injury that led to his withdrawal from the Wimbledon semifinal, and his rustiness was evident in how much he laboured to win his first three matches. The Spaniard's level did not see a drastic rise in his fourth round, and Tiafoe was the first opponent to take advantage with a sensational performance. The American's forehand was on fire, painting the lines with winners, and his massive first serve - which hit 18 aces - proved to be a huge weapon against Nadal. He will face Russia's Andrey Rublev next, and there's no ceiling on what he can achieve this week if he maintains this level. Iga Swiatek may have amassed a reputation of blowing her opponents away, but against Germany's Jule Niemeier on Monday, she had to win ugly. The Pole was extremely slow out of the blocks, immediately dropping serve and losing the first set 2-6. The comeback did not take place in prolific fashion either. After trading breaks, Swiatek faltered a position to serve for the second set before breaking Niemeir to take it 6-4. Evidently not at her best, Swiatek was boosted to be back into the contest and then whipped out a vintage 6-0 performance to round out the match. She's got local favourite Jessica Pegula next, who is going to be a huge threat on the quick courts of rystal Palace's Marc Guehi and AC Milan's Fikayo Tomori have been in and out of England's quads over the past year but neither is currently a player Southgate can rely on. Harry Maguire has been dropped by Manchester United despite being its club captain and the most expensive defender in soccer history. The big question now: How will that affect his place in England's team ahead of the World Cup? England coach Gareth Southgate has previously said he finds it difficult to select players in his squad if they aren't featuring for their clubs. And Maguire only has to look at some of his teammates at United - Marcus Rashford, Jadon Sancho, Luke Shaw to see Southgate often has been true to his word.

Maguire could prove to be a differbehind Lisandro Martinez and ent case. First, Maguire might now be Raphael Varane in the pecking order of center backs at United but he will still get minutes - perhaps most weeks in the lead-up to the World Cup - because of the team's involvement in the Europa League, when manager Erik ten Hag will likely rotate. That gives Maguire at least six matches, injury-permitting, if not more should Martinez and Varane have any fitness issues themselves. Then there's Southgate's options at center back, which aren't plentiful. There's John Stones, who isn't exactly a guaranteed starter at Manchester City given the Premier League champions now have five central defenders in their squad. Conor Coady recently left Wolverhampton, where he had lost his place, to join struggling Everton, and Tyrone Mings was dropped by Aston Villa at the start of the season only to recently regain his place because of injuries.

South Africa announce T20 World Cup squad

Temba Bavuma has recuperated completely from the elbow injury and is ready to lead the Proteas in a second World Cup in a row.

outh Africa :On Tuesday, Cricket South Africa named their squad for the upcoming ICC Men's T20 World Cup 2022 that is going to take place in Australia. Rassie van der Dussen is still struggling with his finger injury and keeping in mind, South Africa management has not included him in the T20 World Cup squad. On the other end, Temba Bavuma has recuperated completely from the elbow injury and is ready to lead the Proteas in a second World Cup in a row.CSA Convenor of Selectors Victor Mpitsang said,

"This has been a really tough squad to select, simply because we had so many players in excellent form over the past few months and performing at a level that made the selectors sit up and notice them. Someone like Tristan Stubbs who was not in the frame a year ago has done incredibly well to force his way into the mix based on his performances and his selection should be an inspiration for every young player out there. We are also delighted to welcome back our captain Temba Bavuma from injury and we have no doubt his return will further galvanise the team. "He also added,

"This group of players showed off their brilliant skill and talent when they overcame England in England recently. These sort of performances only bode well for us heading to the World Cup. Overall we are delighted with mix of players that have been chosen and look forward to watching them represent the country in Australia."Squad: Temba Bavuma (captain), Quinton de Kock, Heinrich Klaasen, Reeza Hendricks, Keshav Maharaj, Aiden Markram, David Miller, Lungi Ngidi, Anrich Nortje, Wayne Parnell, Dwaine Pretorius, Kagiso Rabada, Rillee Rossouw, Tabraiz Shamsi, Tristan Stubbs.

Mumbai: The 22-year-old represented Stars' cross-town rival Melbourne Renegades last season, scoring 333 runs at a strike rate of over 116. "I am super excited to be a part of the Stars family," Jemimah said in a statement. I'I've been told that I'm the first ever Indian to sign for the Stars and it is my honour to do so. "Melbourne has always been my favourite city in Australia and I can't wait to get back there," she added.

The Mumbai-born batter is also the first Indian woman cricketer to play for the Stars and is the third to sign the contract for the WBBL 8, alongside Indian skipper Harmanpreet Kaur (Melbourne Renegades), and Pooja Vastrakar (Brisbane Heat). Jemimah was part of the Indian squad that bagged silver in this year's Commonwealth Games in Birmingham. Having made her India debut at the age of 17 in 2018, Jemimah has so far represented India in 58 T20 Internationals and 21 ODIs. Jemihah will join the Stars squad after completing her Asia Women's Cup commitments for India. The event is scheduled from October 1-16 in Bangladesh.

Team Absolute Mumbai

he IPL giant who offered blueprint on T20 batting to traditional batsmen is now ready for the world. From UP hostels where he was beaten up with hockey sticks and trash thrown in his milk, it's been quite a journey for Suresh Raina. The IPL giant, has finally freed himself from the shackles of Indian cricket. He has retired from IPL and Indian domestic cricket, and is now ready to play in the T20 leagues around the world. Will the Hundred in England, the CPL in West Indies, the BBL in Australia, the UAE league pick up Raina?Of all the modern-day Indian batsmen, who saddled pre-IPL days with the IPL era, Raina took to T20 like a duck to water. His Test cricket days were threatened, the ODI cricket itself would slowly lose its buzz, and he identified T20 as the universe where he belongs. It was his spiritual home where he got the elusive respect. He found all he had to do was to tweak a bit to his batting to fit right into the T20 world. In one technical aspect, he is certainly the lodestar of T20 and modern-day cricket in India. It was Suresh Raina who perfected the arm-extension after the bat made impact with the ball - especially for the six over covers off length deliveries from pacers. He would lean across, and not just punch but extend his forearm fully while following through. If one cuts out that last-instant post-impact extension, the shot would seem just like a normal traditional punch. The beefy big hitters don't need it. They can just flex the muscles or have golf-like swings. The compact ones need these extra wings to make the ball fly. One can see that Raina imprint in the likes of KL Rahul.
