'SHOCKING FOR A RELIGION-NEUTRAL COUNTRY': SC CALLS FOR SUO MOTO ACTION ON HATE SPEECH CRIMES

STOP HATE MONGERING

The Supreme Court on Friday issued a slew of directions to curb hate speeches and directed the Delhi, UP, and Uttarakhand Police to take suo motu action, even without complaint, in cases related to hate speeches. The top court emphasised that action needs to be taken, without looking at the religion of the accused, to preserve the secular character of the country, and also orally observed that it is tragic, what we have been reduced to in the name of religion.

- ▶ THE BENCH SAID THAT POLICE SHOULD ENSURE THAT WHEN AN INCIDENT OF HATE SPEECH OCCURS, EVEN WITHOUT ANY COMPLAINT, SUO MOTU ACTION SHOULD BE TAKEN AND THE AUTHORITIES SHOULD PROCEED AGAINST THE OFFENDERS IN ACCORDANCE WITH LAW.
- ▶ IT ADDED THAT ANY HESITATION TO ACT IN ACCORDANCE WITH THIS DIRECTION WILL BE VIEWED AS CONTEMPT OF COURT AND APPROPRIATE ACTION SHALL BE TAKEN AGAINST THE ERRING OFFICERS.
- ▶ IT CLARIFIED THAT ACTION MUST BE TAKEN IRRESPECTIVE OF THE RELIGION OF THE PERSON WHO MADE THE SPEECH, SO THAT THE SECULAR CHARACTER OF THE COUNTRY IS PRESERVED.

A bench of Justices K.M. Joseph and Hrishikesh Roy said this is the 21st century, while condemning the incidents of hate speeches. Senior advocate Kapil Sibal and advocate Nizam Pasha, representing the petitioner, sought formation of an SIT in the matter connected with hate speeches. At this, Justice Joseph asked Sibal, "Are Muslims also making hate speeches, why only?...people are from both sides, we are saying." Sibal said they should not be spared. Justice Joseph orally remarked, it is tragic, what we have reduced to in the name of the religion, and emphasised on the importance of scientific temper in the 21st century. In reference to hate speeches brought on record by the petitioner, the bench said that these statements are certainly very shocking for a country that is to be religion neutral, and such kind of statements by anyone is condemnable. The plea contended that there should be complete harmony in the country. The bench said the country should live in harmony and the matter deserves attention of this court. Sibal, representing petitioner Shaheen Abdullah, cited a speech made by BJP MP Parvesh Verma in Delhi as one of the hate speeches as he said: Such kind of hate speeches are made, what are they propagating?" The top court, in its order, noted that plea relates to the atmosphere of hate in the country which, according to the petitioner, has led to hate speeches, despite suitable provisions in penal law and also lack of action by authorities concerned. It said there cannot be fraternity unless members of different communities live in harmony, and asked police forces of Delhi, UP, and Uttarakhand to file a report on action taken in connection with hate speech incidents in the petition. Petitioner moved the top court also seeking direction to the Centre and states to initiate independent, credible, and impartial probe into the incidents of hate crimes and hate speeches across the country. The plea claimed that Muslim

COURT HAS THE RIGHT TO LOOK INTO GOVERNOR'S ACTIONS: KERALA HC

Kochi: The Kerala High Court on Friday held that the courts can look into the actions of the Governor. The court made this observation when a petition, filed by 15 nominated senate members of the Kerala University stating that they were removed by the Chancellor, Governor Arif Mohammed Khan, without giving them a hearing, came before the court. After accepting the petition, the court directed the Chancellor that no new senate members should be appointed till further notice and posted the case for further hearing on October 31. It was last week that Khan, in his powers as Chancellor, dismissed 15 Senate members for not taking part in a senate meeting called specifically directed by him to nominate one member to a three member selection panel to select the next Vice Chancellor of the Kerala University.

community is being "targeted and terrorised" by the participation of the members of the ruling political party in delivering the hate speeches.

Amid row over "Jihad Also In Gita" remark, Ex Congress Minister clarifies

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Former Home Minister and Congress veteran Shivraj Patil, facing bitter criticism by the BJP for "Hindu hatred" over his recent remark that the concept of jihad was not just in Islam but also in Bhagavad Gita and in Christianity, today sought to fireproof the controversy saying jihad is an act of killing anyone who speaks the truth. Lord Krishna also taught lessons of jihad to Arjun in a part of Gita in the Mahabharat, he had said. "If you kill Mahatma Gandhi, it is jihad. The act of killing him is jihad," the 87-year-old leader said, dismissing allegations that he said Lord Krishna taught lessons of jihad. "Who killed Mahatma Gandhi?" he asked reporters. When asked if that person was a jihadi, he said the act of that murder was jihad. Patil had made the controversial remark at a book launch event in the national capital on Thursday, drawing flak from the BJP, which hit out at the Congress for "Hindu hatred" and "vote bank politics." "It's said there is a lot of discussion on Jihad in Islam religion...Even after all efforts, if someone doesn't understand clean ideas, then power can be used. It is not just in the Quran Sharif, but also in the Mahabharata, of which Gita is a part," Patil had said. "Shri Krishna also talks to Arjuna about jihad. It is not like this is only in the Quran Sharif or the Gita but in Christianity also it is written...Christ has said that I have not come here to establish peace, but I have come here with sword," he had said. Speaking in Hindi, the Congress leader had said that "if even after explaining everything, people do not understand, and they are arriving with weapons then you cannot run, you cannot call that jihad, and you cannot call it wrong, this is what must be understood, there should not be this concept of making people understand with weapons in hand." Patil who was Union home minister from 2004 to 2008 and the Speaker of the Lok Sabha from 1991 to 1996 was addressing the audience at a book launch of Congress leader and former Union Minister Mohsina Kidwai. Meanwhile, the BJP hit out at the "votebank politics" of the Congress.

Team Absolute | Mumbai

The Eknath Shinde-led Maharashtra government has reversed the previous Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) dispensation's decision of withdrawing the general consent to the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) to investigate cases in the state. The Eknath Shinde government restored the general consent given to the central probe agency, an official said. Chief Minister Eknath Shinde cleared the proposal of the home department headed by Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnis to reverse the decision of MVA government to withdraw the general consent to the CBI to probe cases in the state, the official from the Chief Minister's Office (CMO) told media. With the reversal of this decision, the CBI will no longer require permission of the state government to step in, he said. On October 21, 2020, the Uddhav Thackeray-led MVA government had withdrawn the general consent to the CBI under the contention that the central government was misusing central probe agencies to settle political scores.

TRUMP AIDE BANNON SENTENCED TO FOUR MONTHS IN JAIL

Washington: Steve Bannon, a top adviser to former President Donald Trump, was sentenced to four months in jail on Friday by a Washington DC court for defying a subpoena from a congressional committee investigating the riots at the US Capitol on January 6. But the court did not order Bannon to start the jail term right away. It left him free instead to appeal the order, which Bannon and his legal team said they will. Bannon joins a growing team of former Trump officials sent to jail one time or the other. Trump had issued presidential pardons to many of them, when in office, such as longtime adviser Roger Stone, one-time campaign manager Paul Manafort and former national security adviser Michael Flynn. Bannon had left the Trump White House just a few months after serving as a senior adviser to the President but the two remained close. But he had claimed the cover of Trump's presidential privilege to defy the subpoena issued to him by the House committee on January 6. Bannon sat quietly and did not react as US District Judge Carl Nichols delivered the sentence - four months in jail and $6,500 for criminal contempt of congress.

Army chopper crashes in Arunachal, four bodies found

Itanagar | Agencies

An Advanced Light Combat helicopter of the Indian Army crashed in Arunachal Pradesh's Upper Siang district on Friday, and bodies of four of the five people on board have been recovered so far, officials.

A search is on to locate the remaining missing soldier. A defence spokesman said that the cause of the crash at this stage is not known, and details are being ascertained. The crash took place on Friday morning in Migging village, around 25 km from the district headquarters. The helicopter, which took off from Lekabali, was on a regular sortie. Since the site of the crash is not connected by road, more details are still awaited. Upper Siang's Superintendent of Police, Jummar Basar, said the crash site is a mountainous region, and it would take time to complete the search operation.

Pak Army's new ploy - 'WhatsApp terror'

▶ A 2012 UN document had pointed out that "explicit threats of violence, including in relation to the use of weapons" using the internet could induce anxiety, fear or panic in a population or subset of the population. ▶ In 2019, a well-known US expert on terror and internal security, Peter Chalk, had warned of ISI leveraging encrypted social media sites, secure telecommunication platforms and online mapping technology to carry out or monitor terrorist attacks.

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Pakistan has launched a new terrorist game face weaponising social media tools to spread terror psychosis in India and prompt the Indian government to go on high alert during the coming festival season. Early in August this year, a WhatsApp message was received by Indian security agencies from Pakistan warning of a Mumbai attack repeat this year. Although the Mumbai police went on high alert, the government made all efforts to stem panic from spreading. The Mumbai attacks that took place in November 2008 had caused extreme alarm across the world. Since then, there has always been an apprehension of Pakistan carrying out a similar attack despite global scrutiny and sanction. Although Lashkar-e-Taiba (LeT), a known global ter-routist outfit closely linked to Pakistan Army, was found to be involved in the attack, none of its leaders or cadres have been tried or prosecuted for the Mumbai attacks. The latest message, therefore, sparked considerable concern among security agencies which have apparently traced the WhatsApp message to an office in Lahore. The WhatsApp account was created for a few days to send out the threat. It is believed that the account was operated by a person known to be close to the ISI. It is said that this could be the beginning of a new kind of threat from Pakistan against India. Till now, social media tools like WhatsApp, Facebook, Instagram and others have been widely used to recruit and generate funds for terrorist activities. Using social media outlets to create terror panic could perhaps be one of the first attempts by a sponsoring agency like the ISI. The notorious agency has been using several thousand fake Twitter and Facebook accounts to spread disinformation about India. But using the same tools to create terror is a copycat adoption of what global terrorist groups have been doing.

Covid-19 still int'l health emergency

The World Health Organization (WHO) said on Wednesday that Covid-19 is still a Public Health Emergency of International Concern (PHEIC), the WHO's highest alert level. The announcement came although the number of weekly deaths is almost at its lowest level since the pandemic began, Xinhua news agency reported. The WHO's International Health Regulations Emergency Committee said after its quarterly assessment meeting last week that despite a decline in severe cases of Covid-19, and the falling number of weekly deaths, deaths from Covid-19 nevertheless remain high compared with other respiratory viruses. It also warned of Covid-19-related complications and post-Covid-19 conditions, with the full impact of these still not completely understood. The outbreak could also evolve during the upcoming winter season in the Northern Hemisphere, the committee said. Meanwhile, the current gaps in global surveillance of Covid-19 have hindered early identification and evaluation of the virus' evolution. With the virus expected to continue evolving, the committee said that the genetic and antigenic characteristics of future variants cannot yet be reliably predicted. Evolving variants may pose challenges to current vaccines and therapeutics, the committee warned. "Given the above considerations, the committee concurred that continued coordination of the international response is necessary," and considered that "the situation remains dynamic and requires frequent reassessments, and that the termination of the PHEIC, when considered feasible, should be implemented as safely as possible." The committee recommended that there should be three key priorities in the future: strengthening surveillance and achieving vaccination targets for at-risk groups; continuing to increase access to affordable therapeutics; and strengthening pandemic preparedness planning, while continuing to protect the most at-risk groups.

THE RAYS OF LIGHT LAMPS ILLUMINATE THE SOUL

Lalit Garg

Diwali is the time of grand celebration as it is the biggest Indian festival. Nevertheless, it should become a festival not only to remove the outer darkness, but also to remove the inner darkness. We can remove the darkness of attachment and unconsciousness by lighting the lamp of self-awareness within us. On the occasion of Diwali, everyone usually tries to clean and decorate their homes. In the same way, if the negative residues of karma accumulated in the courtyard of consciousness are cleaned by sweeping it, efforts are made to decorate it with restraint and the eternal flame of the lamp of the soul is ignited in it, then one can attain eternal happiness, peace and bliss. Rows of lights; it is the real meaning of Deepawali festival. Continuity is essential for making a row or queue and scaled-down sequence for continuity. When the lamps are in line, they become a sign of joy. As if there is a silent festival - but of light. The rows of lights are a sign of glee. Being a lamp is inspiring. A wick, a jug-full of oil, and a path-a-light. Nothing can be simpler than that of a simple Diwali lamp. This victory flag keeps away the whole night of darkness of Kartik Amavasya. On the night of Diwali, every lamp makes a wave of light, contributing to the ocean of light. Shakespeare's famous line is - 'If light is the life of holiness, then illuminate the world and receive it abundantly. It was sacred and with many meanings, this expression is closer to the clarity of real life practice. This is also the announcement of the festival of Deepawali and the vision of lights associated with it. The symbol of celebration, the symbol of expressing happiness, the symbol of success. If we immerse this thought deeply, then these hymns can become the blood vessels of our life and the rays of good behaviour can erupt from it. May the flame of the lamp meet with the sun'. The whole festival of Deepawali is one energy, one power, one type of movement. The relentless, unrelenting movement from one truth to another is the vibrancy of Diwali. Diwali is the time of many experiences of life.

In the journey from one experience to another, which is the speed of the wonderful and wonderful moments of Diwali, that is the reality of life. Life is a journey, a continuous journey. Similarly, Diwali is also a journey, a departure, to find something new, to do something unique. Time is passing, life is passing. Year on year, month on month, day on day and moment on moment are passing, the ways of breathing are decreasing. Diwali is the festival of making these diminishing breaths meaningful, living fully and usefully. Trees also live, animals and birds also live, but the real life is lived only by those whose mind is the result of contemplation. The wealth of contemplation is readily available to human beings. It is expected that by making proper use and development of it, give a meaningful direction to life and welcome the lights. The sky descends on the land of India on the night of Diwali. As the stars twinkle in the sky, so that the lamps on the earth also twinkle. Every side of this night is bright like the moon. No one remembers it by calling it Amavasya. There is so much light in it. It is said that a lamp should be kept on a deserted road, at the door alone, on the lonely ridge of the well and even in the desolate. If someone goes on a path somewhere by mistake, then he should not find darkness. Lights are gathered for everyone on this night. Now in the wake of this unusual and supernatural festival of lights, the soil of lamps is less and the pollution of electricity and firecrackers is more. The feeling of happiness does not change with time, but they get separated through its influx. On the occasion of Deepawali, the bright lights raised in front of them stand in front of them; it is a timeless declaration of victory. To get this victory and remove the darkness of attachment, the lamp of religion has to be lit. Where the sun of religion has risen, the darkness cannot stand there. Once darkness complained to Brahmaji that the sun follows me. He wants to destroy me. When Brahmaji spoke to Sun about this, Sun said - I do not even know darkness, far from eradicating it, you must first present it in front of me. I want to see his face. When Brahmaji asked him to come in front of the sun, darkness said - how can I come to him? If it comes, my existence will end. The real light of life is no clothes, no food, no language and no means and facilities. The real light is only the fragrance of his spiritual qualities pervading man, which make human, which we see in the form of compassion, kindness, service-feeling and benevolence. In fact, this quality is the foundation of the light, the foundation on which a man makes his life meaningful by standing. Those who have the presence of these qualities, their dignity remain immortal. To spread light in the society, it is necessary to have humanity in the human being. Just as a lamp burns with a lamp, in the same way love grows by giving love and there is a great need of love and humanity in the society today. The conversational threads for the decline and growth of life are darkness and light. Darkness is not nature, it is nature. It is a symbol of our personal weaknesses, of crippled dreams and resolutions. Depressed, inactive, aimless lifestyle. Accepted meaningless thinking. Loss of loyalty to the values of life, lack of thought, deed and conduct. Till now the light has liberated man from the darkness, on the strength of these lights he realized the knowledge i.e. brought the theory into practical life. This is the reason why his fame has not been erased till date. In his view, virtue is not empty knowledge, virtue is not empty conduct. There is a coordination of both. Whose words and deeds do not differentiate, that is the sum of respect in the society. Let us identify the true light, explore ourselves, remove our inner lusts, anger, greed, attachment, madness etc. and walk on the same path which is the path of humanity. We should understand that human life is very rare, it is not found again and again. Society worships only those who live not for themselves but for others. With this Goswami Tulsidasji has said - 'Parit Saris Dharam Nahi Bhai'. Remember that this is the salutation to the light and this light is the meaning of our life. Whatever is true, what is right should not be accepted blindly. It should also be seen and tested with open eyes. When the euphoria breaks down, the resistance power awakens in the person. He puts an end to evils.

PAKISTAN ELECTION COMMISSION DISQUALIFIES IMRAN IN TOSHAKHANA CASE

Islamabad | Agencies

In a major legal victory for the ruling coalition government in Islamabad, the Election Commission of Pakistan (ECP), in a consensus verdict on Friday, disqualified former Prime Minister Imran Khan and ruled that the PTI chairman is no more a member of the National Assembly. The ECP stated that Khan submitted a false affidavit and found involved in corrupt practices, Geo News reported. Rejecting the ruling, PTI leader Fawad Chaudhry said that it is an attack on 220 million Pakistanis. The verdict was announced amid tight security in the capital city's Red Zone where at least 1,100 police officials were deployed under the command of a senior superintendent of police to control the law and order situation in the area. The officer was assisted by five superintendents of police, six deputy superintendents of police. Geo News reported that the law enforcement agency was given teargas shells in case the party workers launch a protest. According to a notice, the ECP had ordered all the relevant parties or their counsels to appear before the commission at its secretariat.

The poll body had reserved its verdict in the Toshakhana case on September 19 after arguments were completed from both sides. A five-member bench of the ECP, headed by Chief Election Commissioner Sikandar Sultan Raja, heard the case. Toshakhana is a word of Persian origin that literally translates into "treasure house". A department under the administrative control of the Cabinet Division, it stores precious gifts given to the head of states, MPs, bureaucrats and officials by heads of other governments, states and foreign dignitaries. According to Toshakhana rules, gifts and other such material received by persons to whom these rules apply shall be reported to the Cabinet Division. During the last hearing of the case, which took place on September 19, Khan's counsel Ali Zafar admitted that his client had sold at least four presents he had received during 2018-19.

US Senate has no objections to F-16 deal with Pak: State Dept

Washington | Agencies

The US State Department has said that the Pakistan F-16 programme was an important part of the broader Washington-Islamabad bilateral relationship, as the American Senate did not object to the proposed $450 million deal with the South Asian nation. "The proposed sale will sustain Pakistan's capability to meet current and future counterterrorism threats by maintaining its F-16 fleet," a State Department official told Dawn news. The proposed sale would also "ensure Pakistan retains interoperability with the US and partner forces in ongoing counterterrorism efforts and in preparation for future contingency operations", the official added. Media reports on Wednesday said that the US was all set to provide $450 million F-16 sustainment package to Pakistan as "there has been no objection to the deal from the Senate within the mandatory 30-day notice period". On September 7, the State Department notified Congress, through the Committee Chairman Senator Robert Menendez told the Senate days later on September 13. Diplomatic sources in Washington told Dawn news that Congress "does not need to take action to positively approve" a proposed deal. After the completion of the mandatory 30-day period, the deal would be considered approved, the sources added. The next step is for Pakistan to conclude a Letter of Offer and Acceptance with the US Department of Defence (DOD). If and/or when an agreement is concluded, it usually results in the DOD issuing a contract several months later. The delivery timeline for the deal is determined by both governments.

SPAIN, FRANCE AND PORTUGAL AGREE ON GAS PIPELINE LINK

Madrid: A gas pipeline is to be built connecting Iberia to France and the rest of Europe, Spanish Prime Minister Pedro Sanchez has confirmed. Spain, France and Portugal have agreed to cooperate on the project, Sanchez was quoted as saying by Xinhua news agency. Speaking on his return to Spain on Thursday after attending an EU summit on the energy crisis, Sanchez said that the pipeline will hugely increase the volume of the two existing links between Spain and France. It will also help to transport green hydrogen and gas during the transition period Europe needs until it increases its capacity for renewables. The "Green Energy Corridor" will connect Barcelona to Marseilles in southern France. It replaces the "MidCat" scheme, which was dropped in 2019 due to concerns over costs and regulations. The ongoing energy crisis, caused by the conflict in Ukraine and uncertainties over supplies from Russia, has led to the revival of plans to ship gas through Portugal and Spain (which is connected by pipeline to Algeria).

Canadian city pays tribute to Moosewala, plants a tree

Ottawa | Agencies

In the memory of late Punjabi singer Sidhu Moosewala, who was killed earlier this year, the Canadian city of Brampton planted a tree. Brampton was a second home to Moosewala, who went there in 2016 as an international student, and soon became a behemoth in the music industry delivering chart-topping hits. "We planted a tree in the memory of the late Sidhu Moosewala earlier today at the Susan Fennel Sportsplex. His legacy lives on in our City," Brampton Mayor Patrick Brown said on Thursday. The tree was planted near a plaque, which read: "In loving memory of Shubhdeep Singh Sidhu / 'Sidhu Moosewala' / Legends never die". Brown, along with Moosewala's friends, remembered the late singer and said that the world lost him too soon. "Moosewala was a legend... He was always interested in the issues of common people, he tried to make this world a better place. Unfortunately, god wanted something else," Bhupinder Sahu, a family friend, told a local media channel. "Planting a tree in his memory would be the best thing for him, in his memory because it is going to stay here forever," Remedie Brar, a Brampton resident, said.

Late actress Vaishali Takkar's family fulfilled her wish and donated her eyes before her cremation on October 16. Sharing details about the same, her brother revealed how the Yeh Rishta Kya Kehlata Hai fame used to often talk about donating eyes post her death.

"Vaishali loved her eyes and often used to say that she would like to donate her eyes after her death. She had told the same to her mother as well. The family before her cremation on Sunday donated her eyes to the district health authorities so that someone else could see this world with her beautiful eyes," her brother said as quoted by E-Times.

For the unversed, Vaishali Takkar died by suicide and was found dead at her Indore home on October 15. A suicide note was also recovered from her place which suggested that she was stressed and being harassed by her neighbour. Later, the prime accused in the case - Rahul Navlani was arrested. Both, Rahul and his wife Disha Navlani have been booked under section 306 (Abetment of suicide) and 34 (Acts done by several persons in furtherance of common intention) of the Indian Penal Code.

"Rahul, who is Vaishali's neighbour, his name was mentioned by the victim in her suicide note recovered by the police during the investigation. The victim has mentioned that Rahul was harassing her, because of which she took this extreme step. She was about to get married and Rahul troubled her for that," Assistant Commissioner of Police (ACP) Moti-ur Rehman said earlier.

Meanwhile, actor Vikas Sethi who worked with Vaishali in Sasural Simar Ka revealed how the actress was planning to tie the knot soon and had planned to visit Mumbai soon for shopping. She was jovial and a lot of fun," he told E-Times.

Vaishali became a household name after she featured in several popular shows including Yeh Rishta Kya Kehlata Hai, Sasural Simar Ka and Yeh Hai Aashiqui among others.

Jessica Chastain lends her support to Iran's 'women-led revolution'

Los Angeles | Agencies

Actress Jessica Chastain insists it is "really important" for her to raise awareness about the ongoing protests in Iran and she has hailed the 'women-led revolution' taking place in the country. The 'Good Nurse' actress used her Twitter account in September to shine a spotlight on the tragic death of 22-year-old Mahsa Amini, who was murdered by the country's morality police for not wearing her hijab correctly, and she is closely following the ongoing reaction to the shocking incident, which has sparked waves of women cutting their hair or shedding their head coverings in protest, reports femalefirst.co.uk.

She told 'Entertainment Tonight': "It's really important for me to use my platform to amplify anyone's struggle for freedom and peace and safety. And what's happening in Iran right now is heartbreaking to me. I'm following the news every day as I hope everyone is, and my heart's with those girls."

Chastain praised the "strength" of the women in speaking out and hailed their actions as "incredible".

She added: "This is a women-led revolution. And I have such belief in them, and I send them so much strength and love and support. And I think it's incredible what they're doing."

Chastain's new movie, 'The Good Nurse', sees her play Amy Loughren, a nurse who was forced to turn detective when she discovered one of her colleagues was responsible for the murder of dozens of patients across nine hospitals over 16 years.

John Stamos rejected offer to play bisexual hooker

Los Angeles | Agencies

Actor John Stamos, who is best known for starring as Jesse Katsopolis in 'Full House' nearly portrayed a hooker. He revealed he once had a lunch meeting with 'Glee' creator Ryan Murphy to discuss the potential of playing a prostitute who helps to "work on" a couple's marriage.

"I remember going to lunch with him at The Ivy and we order, and I said: 'So what's the show?' And he's like, 'Well...' And this was again, like now if he offered me the show, I'd do it in two seconds. But it was like, 'Okay, you play a male hooker and you fix the, you sleep with the husband, sleep with the wife, and you kinda work on their marriage,'" he said, reports aceshowbiz.com.

However, the former "General Hospital" star went on to explain that he soon realised he was not interested in the idea as soon as their appetisers had arrived and Ryan had jokingly compared the potential show - which never came to fruition - to 'Charlie's Angels'.

Speaking on 'The Jess Cagle Podcast', he said: "And then he said, 'And plus you have a really cute black guy and there's a cute blonde guy. You're like 'Charlie's Angels', but you're hookers. 'Charlie's Hookers'. And then the appetizer just sat down, you know, got sit. I was like, 'Oh God, I gotta sit another hour with this guy with Charlie's Hookers.' I should have done it though!"

Meanwhile, Stamos starred alongside late comedian Bob Saget, who was found dead in a hotel room back in January at the age of 65 after accidentally hitting his head, on the ABC show and recently mused about how much he longs to see his former co-star again.

NETFLIX CLARIFIES 'THE CROWN' IS A 'FICTIONAL DRAMATISATION'

Los Angeles | Agencies

Streaming giant Netflix has clarified that 'The Crown' is a fictional dramatisation for viewers by adding a logline to its YouTube trailer for Season 5, which is set to launch on November 9.

In the description for the trailer, posted by the official Netflix account, the logline reads: "Inspired by real events, this fictional dramatisation tells the story of Queen Elizabeth II and the political and personal events that shaped her reign."

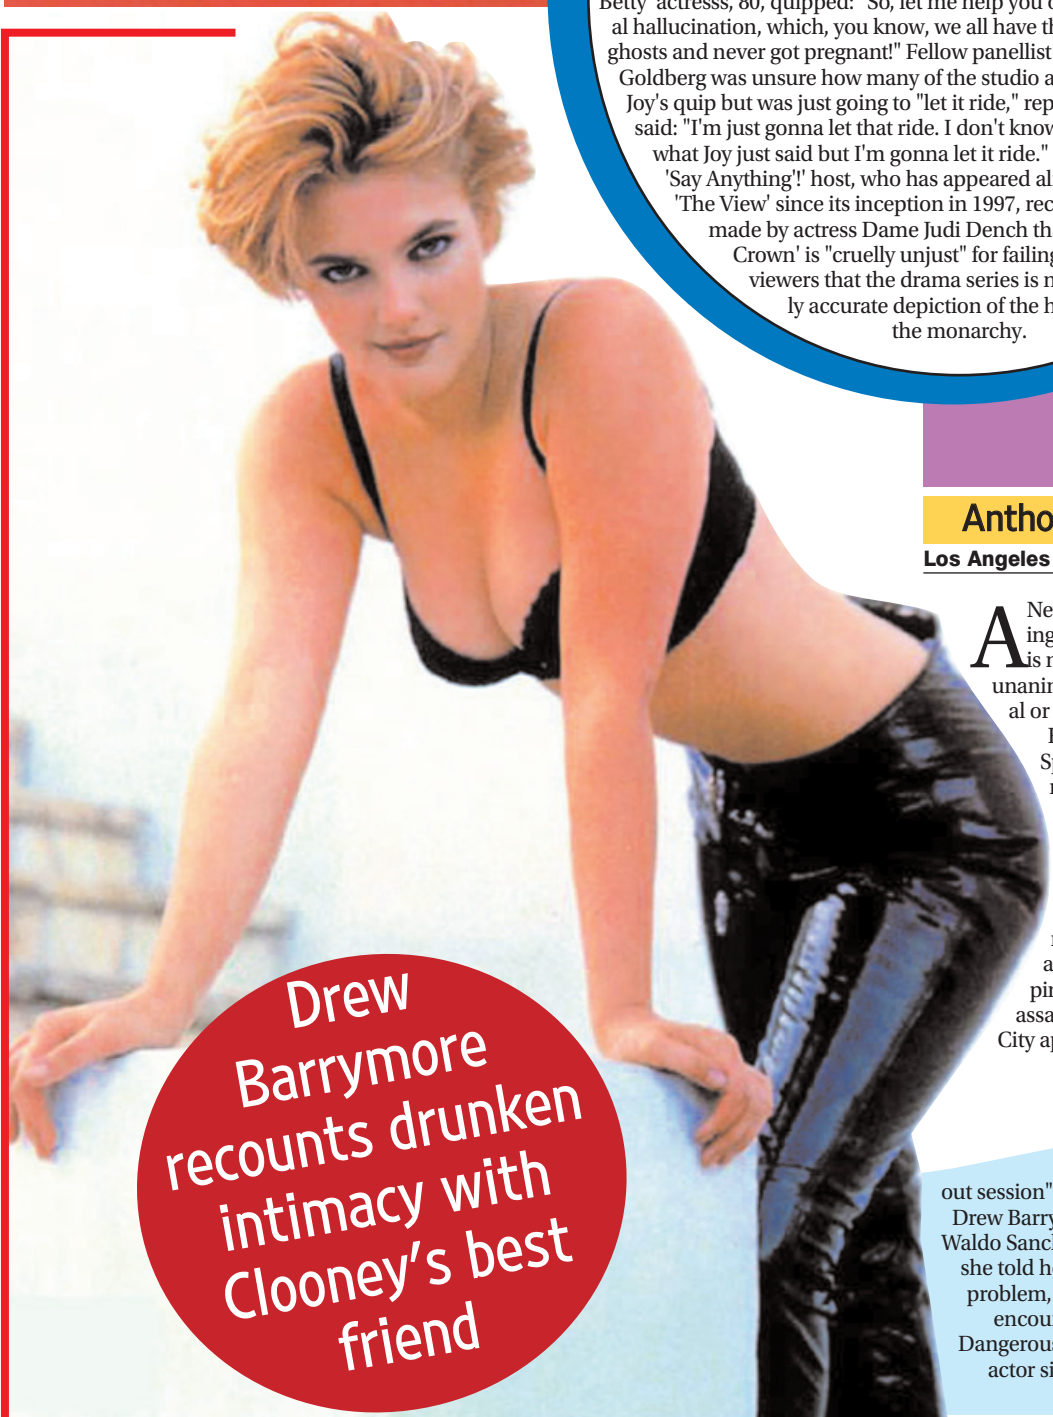

A spokesperson for Netflix told Variety: "'The Crown' has always been presented as a drama based on historical events. Series five is a fictional dramatisation, imagining what could have happened behind closed doors during a significant decade for the Royal Family - one that has already been scrutinised and well documented by journalists, biographers and historians." The addition of the logline follows much discussion in the UK over whether viewers will perceive events in "The Crown" as absolute re-enactments of real events. The British press has reported that sources within Buckingham Palace are particularly worried about the show's depiction of King Charles' affair with Camilla Parker-Bowles while married to Diana, Princess of Wales, especially given that he has just acceded to the throne.

I've had sex with ghosts and never got pregnant: Joy Behar

TV star Joy Behar, who has been married to Steve Janowitz since 2011 but has daughter, Eve, 51, with late ex-husband Joseph Behar, was appearing in her regular role as a host on 'The View' alongside her co-stars and was discussing a Texas woman who worries that her home is "haunted" by apparitions because it was once the site of a brothel. The 'Ugly Betty' actress, 80, quipped: "So, let me help you out here. She's having a sexual hallucination, which, you know, we all have them. I've had sex with a few ghosts and never got pregnant!" Fellow panelist and 'Sister Act' star Whoopi Goldberg was unsure how many of the studio audience managed to catch Joy's quip but was just going to "let it ride," reports femalefirst.co.uk. She said: "I'm just gonna let that ride. I don't know how many of you heard what Joy just said but I'm gonna let it ride." Meanwhile, the former 'Say Anything!' host, who has appeared almost continuously on 'The View' since its inception in 1997, recently rejected claims made by actress Dame Judi Dench that Netflix hit 'The Crown' is "cruelly unjust" for failing to disclose to viewers that the drama series is not an entirely accurate depiction of the history of the monarchy.

Kevin Spacey trial

Anthony Rapp loses $40 million sexual battery lawsuit

Los Angeles | Agencies

A New York jury has sided with actor Kevin Spacey in a $40 million civil lawsuit, finding that the Oscar-winner did not molest Anthony Rapp when he was a teenager and is not liable for battery. After roughly 80 minutes of deliberations, jurors reached a unanimous decision that Rapp's lawyers had failed to prove that Spacey 'touched a sexual or intimate part' of Rapp, reports Variety.

Rapp looked impassive as Judge Lewis Kaplan formally dismissed the case, and Spacey dropped his head briefly. He later stood up and hugged Chase Scolnick, a member of his legal team. In a statement on social media, Rapp made no direct mention of the verdict, but thanked the jury for hearing the case. "Bringing this lawsuit was always about shining a light, as part of the larger movement to stand up against all forms of sexual violence," he wrote. "I pledge to keep on advocating for efforts to ensure that we can live and work in a world that is free from sexual violence of any kind. I sincerely hope that survivors continue to tell their stories and fight for accountability." Rapp first made his claims in a 2017 BuzzFeed article, in which he said that Spacey lifted him up, placed him on his bed, and pinned Rapp down in a sexually aggressive manner. The alleged assault took place after a party at Spacey's New York City apartment in 1986.

T20 WORLD CUP

IRELAND ENTERS SUPER 12 WITH NINE-WICKET DRUBBING OF WEST INDIES

Hobart | Agencies

Playing in his seventh Men's T20 World Cup, veteran Ireland opener Paul Stirling stood up when it mattered the most, slamming a sensational 66 not out to take Ireland to the Super 12 stage of the ongoing tournament with a nine-wicket drubbing of West Indies in their final Group B match in the first round at Bellerive Oval on Friday.

After leg-spinner Gareth Delany picked career-best figures of 3/16 and kept things tight to keep the West Indies to 146/5 in 20 overs, Stirling came out all guns blazing in his unbeaten 48-ball knock, hitting six fours and two sixes to make a mockery of the chase, hunting down the total with 15 balls remaining.

He stitched a blazing 73-opening stand with captain Andrew Balbirnie and then put on 77 runs for the unbroken second wicket stand with Lorcan Tucker (45 not out) for Ireland to enter the Super 12 stage after failing to get past the first round in their last five T20 World Cup appearances and knock out the clueless two-time champions out of the competition.

After getting off the mark with a top-edge flying over slip off Obed McCoy in the opening over, Stirling fiercely swept Akeal Hosein for four while captain Andrew Balbirnie swept the left-arm spinner for six to take 16 runs off the second over.

While Stirling powerfully clobbered Alzarri Joseph for six over deep mid-wicket, Balbirnie upped the tempo by hitting two fours and a six on the first three balls of Odean Smith. He then brought up the fifty of the opening partnership with an inside-out loft over vacant slip cordon and on the very next ball, sliced through backward point to make it back-to-back fours. Stirling gave a glimpse of his innovative stroke-play, moving across and scooping Joseph over short fine leg for four. Tucker finished off the chase in style, dancing down the pitch and converting a half-volley from McCoy into a loft over cover for four to give Ireland the ticket to Super 12.

Brief scores
West Indies 146/5 in 20 overs (Brandon King 62 not out, Johnson Charles 24; Gareth Delany 3/16, Simi Singh 1/11) lost to Ireland 150/1 in 17.3 overs (Paul Stirling 66 not out, Lorcan Tucker 45 not out; Akeal Hosein 1/38) by nine wickets.

ZIMBABWE BEAT SCOTLAND BY FIVE WICKETS

Hobart: Captain Craig Ervine played a captain's knock of 58 off 54 balls while Sikandar Raza smacked a cameo of 40 as Zimbabwe beat Scotland by five wickets in the first round of ICC Men's T20 World Cup at Bellerive Oval to end up as winners of Group B and clinch the final Super 12 spot.

After Tendai Chatara and Richard Ngarava picked two wickets each in a clinical bowling performance to restrict Scotland to a paltry total of 132/6 in 20 overs, Zimbabwe were in trouble at 42/3 in eight overs.

But Ervine and Raza shared a 64-run stand off 43 balls, followed by Milton Shumba and Ryan Burl applying finishing touches for Zimbabwe to chase down the total with nine balls to spare.

PKL 9: GUMAN SINGH LEADS U MUMBA TO A THRILLING VICTORY OVER HARYANA STEELERS

Bengaluru | Agencies

Star performers Guman Singh and Jai Bhagwan helped U Mumba to register a thrilling 32-31 victory against the Haryana Steelers in the Pro Kabaddi League Season 9 at the Shree Kanteerava Indoor Stadium here on Friday.

While Guman Singh picked up the first points for U Mumba, it was Meetu Sharma who got the Haryana Steelers off the mark. U Mumba's defensive unit didn't allow the Steelers to edge ahead as Jai Bhagwan and Co inflicted an All Out to give U Mumba a good lead as the midway stage of the first half approached. U Mumba pressed home their advance and continued to pick up points quickly as the Steelers' task became tougher, in what was a pacy game. However, Nitin Rawal and Manjeet's Super Tackle kept the Steelers in the hunt. At the midway point, U Mumba led 17-15, but, the momentum was firm with the Steelers. U Mumba regained the momentum and surged ahead in the early part of the second half to widen their lead further. Easy win for Barcelona as they recover from Clasico defeat

Madrid | Agencies

Three goals in eight minutes saw FC Barcelona claim a comfortable 3-0 win at home to Villarreal on Thursday night which helped them recover from Sunday's defeat to Real Madrid.

Two goals from Robert Lewandowski in the 30th and 34th minute set Barca on their way, and Ansu Fati netted from close range after Ferran Torres had hit the post in the 38th minute to wrap the game up.

Lewandowski's first goal saw him control a pass from Jordi Alba before striking home, while his second was a measured shot into the far corner of the Villarreal goal, reports Xinhua.

Barca coach Xavi Hernandez rang the changes with Marcos Alonso playing in central defence, while Torres, Gavi and Fati all came into the side, with Sergio Busquets and Eric Garcia among those dropping to the bench.

The home side began by controlling the ball, with Fati bringing Villarreal keeper Geronimo Rulli into action, but Villarreal also threatened on the break with Jackson Martinez and then Arnaut Danjuma giving the home fans some nervous moments.

Barca's next game is on Sunday against Athletic Bilbao.

In Thursday's other games, Almeria survived a second-half fight-back to cling on for a 3-2 win at home to Girona. Almeria looked to be cruising to an easy win after first-half goals from Leo Baptistao, El Bilal Toure, and Adrian Embarba, but were left clinging on after Rodrigo Riquelme pulled a goal back in the 47th minute and Cristhian Stuani netted a penalty with seven minutes to play.

Girona thought they had snatched a point in injury time, but Yangel Herrera's 96th-minute effort was ruled out for offside.

Elsewhere, Ante Budimir's 55th-minute header gave Osasuna a 1-0 win at home to Espanyol to end their run of three games without a win.

GAUFF OVERCOMES TREVISAN TO REACH QUARTERFINALS

Guadalajara (Mexico): American tennis player Coco Gauff cruised to a 6-0, 6-3 Round 3 win over Martina Trevisan at the Guadalajara Open Akron on Thursday to reach her third quarterfinal of a WTA 1000 event this year, here.

The No 5 seed Gauff won the first nine games against Trevisan in a rematch of their semifinal at Roland Garros, which was also won by Gauff in straight sets. She staked an early lead thanks to a crucial hold of serve in the first set at 2-0.

Trevisan led 0-40, and had four break points in total, before Gauff held. The American saved the first seven break points she faced, and though she was broken on the eighth, she denied Trevisan any sustained momentum. Gauff broke again, for a fifth time in the match, and served out victory in 61 minutes after saving another break point.

Gauff is 0-2 this year in quarterfinals at WTA 1000 events, having lost to Iga Swiatek in Doha and Simona Halep in Montreal.

Tom Moody picks Shami, Bhuvi, Arshdeep for pace attack against Pak at the MCG

Melbourne | Agencies

Renowned coach and former Australia cricketer Tom Moody has picked Mohammed Shami, Bhuvneshwar Kumar and Arshdeep Singh as his choice of fast-bowling options in India's bowling attack in their Super 12 opener of the ICC T20 World Cup against Pakistan at the MCG on Sunday.

While Bhuvneshwar and Arshdeep have been regular fixtures in India's matches since July, Shami made a late entry into the squad as a replacement for an injured Jasprit Bumrah. Shami, who missed out on bilateral T20s against Australia and South Africa due to Covid-19 infection, took three wickets in the final over, including bowling consecutive pin-point yorkers on the last two balls, for India to win their first warm-up match by six runs in Brisbane.

"I'd be going with Shami. I'd just go with his experience. Obviously, Bhuvi and Arshdeep are the first two. I just think that in big tournaments, you back big players. And he's a big player with a lot of experience."

"He may be short with some volume in his bowling, but that one over he bowled against Australia would have gone a long way with regards to not so much the physical side of things, but definitely the mental side of things," said Moody on 'Game Plan' show on Star Sports.

Further talking about the India-Pakistan match, Moody felt that the Rohit Sharma-led side need to be careful with the bat in the first six overs against Pakistan's new-ball bowlers. "I think it's an intriguing contest, because to me, India are a batting strong side while Pakistan, I think, are a bowling-strong side. So, for me it's a real contest as to how well India bat against a very strong new ball attack.

RONALDO MUST FACE CONSEQUENCES, SAYS ERIK TEN HAG

London | Agencies

Manchester United manager Erik ten Hag on Friday confirmed that Cristiano Ronaldo refused to come on as a substitute in the game against Tottenham on Wednesday, saying that there "has to be consequences" for the star footballer.

The 37-year-old exited Old Trafford before full-time after leaving the bench and walking down the tunnel in the 89th minute of United's 2-0 win. He has been dropped for Saturday's game at Chelsea and is training alone. Asked directly whether Ronaldo refused to come on, Ten Hag said: "Yes." "I am the manager, I am responsible for the culture here. I have to set standards and values and have to control them. We are in a team."

"After Rayo Vallecano, I said it was unacceptable, but it wasn't just him. The second time there has to be consequences. That is what has happened."

"We miss him tomorrow, that is a miss for us and the squad, but I think it is important for the attitude and mentality of the group and now we have to focus on Chelsea -- that is the most important," he added.
