Long queues, confusion in banks across Delhi as exchange of Rs 2,000 notes begins

Team Absolute | New Delhi

As the process for exchange of Rs 2,000 currency notes began on Tuesday, long queues were observed at various bank branches in Delhi as customers eagerly exchanged the currency notes for smaller denominations. However, at some places, people alleged that the banks were asking them to deposit the money instead of even demanding the ID proof. Amar Singh, standing in a long queue at ICICI Bank branch in Green Park, said that there has been length of the line was there since the morning and chaos and confusion rules as bank staff are refusing to exchange the note and asking to deposit them. "Most of us want to exchange notes and if the bank is not able to do, then it is their fault if they haven't made proper arrangements to exchange the Rs 2,000 currency. Why should we deposit them," he said. "My wife had saved Rs 16,000 and all of them are Rs 2,000 notes," he added. At some banks, there were even arguments between bank customers and staff.

"I came here at Lajpat Nagar's PNB bank in the morning and it has been more than two hours, I am still waiting for my turn to exchange the currency. They are working very slow," said Amresh Sharma, 68. "Most of us are elderly and (bank staff) do not care about us," he said.

Meanwhile, several people also complained regarding the fuel stations not accepting the Rs 2,000 notes.

"Instead of accepting Rs 2,000 note, the fuel station worker asked me to pay online as they are not accepting the notes, which are still legal tender," said 24-year-old Sahil, a resident of Malviya Nagar.

Chaos was also witnessed at Azadpur vegetable market, where the sellers alleged that most of the buyers coming to the market are using Rs 2,000 notes to buy items.

"The buyers are bringing only Rs 2,000 notes just get rid of them," a wholesaler said in the vegetable market.

Manipur violence: Over 7,700 tribals took shelter in Mizoram

Aizawl/Imphal | Agencies

Tribals from the ethnic violence-hit Manipur continue to move into Mizoram with over 7,700 people having taken shelter in the states (Mizoram) eight districts, officials said on Tuesday.

Officials in Aizawl apprehend that as the situation in many of the tribal-dominated districts in Manipur still remains tense with sporadic incidents of violence getting reported, more displaced people belonging to ethnic Zos, known as Kukis, may take shelter in Mizoram.

According to the officials, the highest number of around 2,690 people took shelter in Kolasib district, bordering Assam, followed by 2,386 and 2,153 people in Aizawl and Saitual districts, respectively, while the remaining took shelter in five other districts.

Officials said that a large number of people took shelter at the homes of their relatives and friends in Mizoram, while many of the hapless people have been lodged in community halls, schools and vacant buildings.

Meanwhile, various organisations involving a large number of women have been organising sit-in-demonstrations in the valley districts of Manipur for the past few days demanding that the Suspension of Operation (SoO) with Kuki militants be abrogated and action be taken against them. They also demanded that "illegal Myanmar immigrants" be deported, and poppy cultivation be stopped in the hilly areas.

These organisations also strongly protested against the demand of 10 tribal MLAs to create a separate state for the tribals by dividing Manipur.

Shops, markets and business establishments remained closed on Tuesday in the New Chekon area of Imphal East district, where some miscreants torched two houses after four armed people, including a former MLA, forced people to shut their shops on Monday.

The district administration and the security forces have asked the people to remain indoors.

Sporadic incidents of violence, including burning of houses, were reported from different districts.

Indian Navy's latest destroyer successfully intercepts supersonic target

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Indian Navy's latest indigenous guided missile destroyer INS Mormugao successfully carried out an engagement of sea-skimming supersonic target. The Navy said, "The missile accurately hit its target. The missile is capable of hitting its target up to a distance of 300 km."

Sea-skimming refers to a missile that flies as close as possible to the sea surface. It stays at a height of less than 10 feet.

INS Mormugao measures 163 meters in length and 17 meters in breadth. It is a warship constructed in India with a displacement of 7,400 tonnes.

INS Mormugao is equipped with missiles such as BrahMos and Barak-8. This modern Indian-made warship is equipped with Israel's MF-STAR radar, which can detect long-range air targets.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh had dedicated Mormugao to the Indian Navy in December last year.

On May 14, INS Mormugao successfully hit the target during its maiden Brahmos Supersonic cruise missile firing.

Mormugao has been designed by the Indian Navy's Warship Design Bureau. It is the world's most advanced missile carrier armed with weapons. The warship can hit targets from a distance of 300 km.

Delhi HC allows Prannoy Roy, Radhika Roy to fly abroad

New Delhi: The Delhi High Court on Tuesday allowed NDTV founders Prannoy Roy and Radhika Roy to fly abroad from July 25 to August 15, albeit with certain conditions.

The application was moved by the duo in a plea challenging the lookout circular (LOC) issued by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) in view of the registration of two FIRs dated June 2, 2017, and August 19, 2019 against the Roys.

A single-judge bench of Justice Pratibha M. Singh said: "Owing to the professional standing of the petitioners and their ties to India, they don't pose a flight risk. The petitioners are permitted to travel abroad."

The application was opposed by the respondent on the ground that investigations are pending against both of them.

The court imposed certain conditions such as providing details of their itinerary to the registrar of the court, and directed the Roys to furnish an undertaking stating that they shall return not later than August 15.

While disposing of the application, Justice Singh also said that other conditions will be added to the order.

Karnataka CM orders 'ruthless action' against provocative social media posts

Bengaluru: Karnataka Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Tuesday gave clear-cut instructions to the state police to initiate "ruthless action" against provocative posts on social media in the state. Chairing the meeting of top police officers at Vidhana Soudha, he underlined that they should be more careful about maintaining peace and co-existence in the society. "Ruthless action must be initiated against those who disturb the peace and co-existence in the society. The police must also prevent the menace of drugs," Siddaramaiah reiterated.

He also asked the police to look into finding solutions to traffic problems in Bengaluru and reinventing cyber crimes in the state.

"The people have elected the government for a change with hope and the officers must respond to the problems of the people," he said. Siddaramaiah asked senior officers to visit the police stations and conduct inspections. The people who come to lodge complaints should not be treated as accused persons and police officers should behave cordially with them. Their woes would be addressed, he said.

"Our government will not tolerate goondagiri, unofficial club activities and drug mafia in the state. If these are encouraged, strict action would be initiated against the officers. We will compliment good workers and if there is dereliction of duty, we will initiate action without any hesitation," he warned.

World is on track for 2.7-degree C of heating and 'phenomenal' human suffering

LONDON | Agencies

■ The world is on track for 2.7-degree Celsius of heating with current action plans and this would mean 2 billion people experiencing average annual temperatures above 29-degree Celsius by 2030, a level at which very few communities have lived in the past, The Guardian reported.

■ Up to 1 billion people could choose to migrate to cooler places, the scientists said, although those areas remaining within the climate niche would still experience more frequent heatwaves and droughts.

■ However, urgent action to lower carbon emissions and keep global temperature rise to 1.5 C would cut the number of people pushed outside the climate niche by 80 per cent, to 400 million.

Global heating will drive billions of people out of the "climate niche" in which humanity has flourished for millennia, a study has estimated, exposing them to unprecedented temperatures and extreme weather, according to a media report.

The analysis is the first of its kind and is able to treat every citizen equally, unlike previous economic assessments of the damage of the climate crisis, which have been skewed towards the rich.

The idea of climate niches for wild animals and plants is well established but the new study, published in the journal Nature Sustainability, identified the climate conditions in which human societies have thrived.

It found most people lived in places with mean annual temperatures spread around 13 C or 25 C. Conditions outside those are too hot, too cold or too dry and associated with higher death rates, lower food production and lower economic growth, The Guardian reported.

Professor Chi Xu at Nanjing University in China, and also part of the research team, said: "Such high temperatures [outside the niche] have been linked to issues including increased mortality, decreased labour productivity, decreased cognitive performance, impaired learning, adverse pregnancy outcomes, decreased crop yield, increased conflict and infectious disease spread."

Rahul hitch-hikes truck while heading to Shimla

Chandigarh | Agencies

Just days after the party's landslide win in the Karnataka polls, a video on Tuesday went viral depicting Congress leader Rahul Gandhi in a holiday mood hitch-hiking a truck on the Delhi-Chandigarh national highway while heading to Shimla.

He was on way to his sister Priyanka Gandhi Vadra's cottage, located amid forests of pine and cedar in the suburbs of the Himachal Pradesh capital where she was recently holidaying with her family, when he took a ride of the truck on the Delhi-Chandigarh national highway near Ambala in Haryana.

Rahul Gandhi took the truck ride in Haryana from Murthal to Ambala to speak to the drivers to understand their issues and problems, party sources said on Tuesday.

According to Congress sources, he arrived in Haryana's Murthal around 11 p.m. From Murthal, he took a truck ride around 12 in the midnight and reached Ambala.

During his journey from Murthal to Ambala, the Congress leader spoke to the truck drivers about the issues and problems they face. He also spoke to them about other issues bothering them most and how they can be sorted out.

After reaching Ambala, Rahul Gandhi then proceeded towards Himachal Pradesh's Shimla via road route.

However, party leadership remained tight-lipped on the late night journey of Rahul Gandhi.

'DON'T DISTURB ME', SAYS SHIVAKUMAR ON ROW OVER FULL TERM FOR SIDDARAMAIAH

Team Absolute | Bengaluru

Barely three days after the new government took over in Karnataka, the tussle over power-sharing between Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and his deputy D.K. Shivakumar has come to the fore. When asked about the row, Shivakumar on Tuesday curtly stated 'Don't disturb me'.

"Let people issue statements on whatever they think. I am not going to talk about it. The AICC will take care of the matters relating to the power and other issues. Our national leaders are there too to handle such issues. Our priority right now is for the overall development of the state," he said. Shivakumar looked disturbed and maintained a distance from media persons.

Minister M.B. Patil on Monday night claimed that Siddaramaiah will complete the tenure of five years. "There is no talk about power-sharing and Siddaramaiah will be the CM for next five years", he stated stirring a controversy.

When his statements triggered speculation in political corridors, the issue so far. The party seniors are unhappy

Patil on Tuesday said that he has not made any personal comments over the issue. "I have reiterated what senior leaders announced in the press conference," he said.

Sources said that Shivakumar is upset over the remarks and his media statement 'don't disturb me' was aimed at M.B. Patil.

When asked about power-sharing between Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar, AICC General Secretary K.C. Venugopal had remarked that the power was being given to the people of Karnataka. The high command has not given clarity about about the development and feel that Patil's statement at this stage was unnecessary.

There was a cold war between Patil and Shivakumar when the former was inducted in Siddaramaiah-led Cabinet in 2013 and Shivakumar was kept out. Patil is equally resourceful as Shivakumar is and he is considered to be the blue-eyed boy of Siddaramaiah.

M.B. Patil had attacked Shivakumar that he had destroyed Congress in south Karnataka. He had also called Shivakumar tainted and maintained that in the 2018 elections this could also have worked against the Congress party.

After the Patil's fresh salvo, Shivakumar has not reacted to any of his statements. However, sources explain that he is preparing a parallel Lingayat leadership against Patil. Various Lingayat groups have already objected to the preference given to Patil, who represents a small sub-caste over sub castes with larger population.

Mamata assures Kejriwal of full support over Centre's ordinance on bureaucratic service

Kolkata | Agencies

West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Tuesday assured her counterpart in Delhi and AAP supremo Arvind Kejriwal of full support of the Trinamool Congress in the Rajya Sabha against the Union government's ordinance to negate the Supreme Court's order handing over administrative services in the national capital to the elected government there.

While the BJP is poised to get the ordinance passed in the Lok Sabha owing to its numerical superiority, the situation might turn tricky in the Upper House where the Trinamool Congress has 12 MPs.

Banerjee made this announcement after an hour-long meeting with Kejrwal and Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann here. Delhi Education Minister Atishi and AAP's Rajya Sabha member Raghav Chadha were also present at the meeting.

"If all the opposition parties unite against the BJP on this ordinance issue, the saffron party can be surely defeated. If that happens, it will be a moral defeat for the BJP before the 2024 Lok Sabha polls. And if any miracle happens, the fate of the current Union government will be uncertain," Banerjee said.

Kejriwal, on his part, alleged that after any Assembly election, if the BJP does not get the requisite majority, it first tries to capture power through the backdoor by twisting or pressuring the opposition MLAs.

"Even if that tactic is not successful, it tries to take control over the state administration through Governors. This practice of using Governors against any non-BJP ruled state government has become rampant in West Bengal, Punjab and Telangana," Kejrwal said. He also said that the Union government tactfully brought the ordinance on the day the Supreme Court was going on vacation.

"They were aware that had the Supreme Court been in session, the matter would have stayed on the very next day," he said.

Expressing gratitude towards Banerjee for extending support on the ordinance issue, Mann said that he is aware as to how the Governor is being used in West Bengal to disturb the functioning of the elected state government. Mann was also vocal about the use of central investigating agencies against the leaders of the opposition parties.

"I congratulate Mamata Banerjee for the manner in which she is fighting against the pressure of the central agencies," the Punjab Chief Minister said. All the three Chief Ministers also agreed on a united move by all non-BJP parties against the saffron acmp in the 2024 Lok Sabha polls.

Manufacture, storage totally banned in Bengal's largest fire-cracker hub for two months

Kolkata | Agencies

Concerned over three consecutive blasts in illegal fire-cracker outlets in three different places of the state killing 17 persons in the last seven days, the West Bengal government has decided to put a blanket ban on manufacturing at the state's biggest fire-cracker hub, Champahati in South 24 Parganas district for two months.

A notice from Baruipur district police has been sent to the office of the local fire-crackers manufacturers' association on Tuesday asking them to honour and follow the ban imposed for the next two months.

District police sources said the two months ban has been imposed to totally clean up the area on this count during the period. "First we will conduct constant raids and search operations to identify, seize, and destroy illegal fire-crackers from this area. Secondly, we will identify the illegal manufacturing hubs in the area, where manufacturing of illegal fire-crackers has almost become a cottage industry with even domestic houses running such manufacturing and storing outlets in the backyards," a senior district police official said.

After the cleaning-up exercise is completed, he added, then only those with valid licenses will be allowed to start their respective businesses.

"However, henceforth the police will be strictly monitoring the entire process of manufacturing and storing of fire-crackers here," he added. Meanwhile, a high-level meeting chaired by the state DGP Manoj Malviya was conducted at the state secretariat Nabanna on Tuesday afternoon, which was attended by all the districts' Superintendents of Police.

In the meeting, some SPs, sources said, faced the ire of the DGP for intelligence failures about the illegal manufacturing and storing of fire-crackers in their respective districts.

"The DGP directed the district police Superintendents to activate their respective district intelligence units on this count. He also asked figures of the quantities of illegal fire-crackers seized from each district," said a state government official aware of the proceedings of the meeting.

New Delhi | Agencies

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Tuesday moved a Delhi court seeking a No Objection Certificate in order to get a fresh "ordinary passport" after he surrendered his diplomatic travel document upon his disqualification as an MP.

Gandhi has moved an application in the National Herald case, filed by former union minister and Bharatiya Janata Party veteran Subramanian Swamy against him and his mother Sonia Gandhi, their companies and associated persons. On November 1, 2012, Swamy had filed a private complaint in the court alleging that both Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi have committed fraud and land grabbing Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Vaibhav Mehta of the Rouse Avenue Court has sought Swamy's response on Gandhi's application.

"The applicant ceased to be a Member of Parliament in March 2023 and as such he surrendered his diplomatic passport and is applying for a fresh ordinary passport. By way of the present application, the applicant is seeking permission and no objection from this Court for issuance of a fresh ordinary passport to him," the application read.

The court has listed the matter for further hearing on Wednesday.

HC quashes Delhi Mayor's decision of MCD standing committee re-polling, asks to declare results

New Delhi | Agencies

The high court has quashed Delhi Mayor Shelly Oberoi's decision to hold re-election for six members of the standing committee of Municipal Corporation of Delhi (MCD).

The Mayor had on February 24 announced re-election for the standing committee on February 27 after chaos rocked the MCD House during polling for the body earlier.

Justice Purushendra Kumar Kaurav was hearing petitions by two BJP councillors -- Kamaljeet Sehrawat and Shikha Roy -- and said that decision of Oberoi, who is also a returning officer (RO), to reject the ballot of one of the persons was bad in law and that it should be counted.

Allowing the petition, Judge Kaurav said that the RO's decision was not based on any material and her actions were without any power or authority.

The court then ordered Oberoi to declare the election results as per the voting held on February 24.

Earlier, Oberoi submitted before the high court that no prejudice would be caused if polling was held again to elect the six members of the MCD standing committee.

During a special hearing on the petitions filed by the councillors, the high court had on February 25 put a stay on the notice issued by Oberoi.

Petitioners had alleged in the high court that Oberoi acted in a mala fide manner when she called for re-election after finding the election results "politically unpalatable".

Appearing for Oberoi, senior advocate Rahul Mehra had underscored that the re-polling was essential to ensure free and fair elections following the "ruckus" in the House during the polls held on February 24.

"There is no prejudice in re-polling. Please test if it will cause prejudice to them (petitioners)," the counsel had said.

"What was the mechanism left? Was it so blatantly unfair? They did not allow re-counting. The BJP councillors created a ruckus. Ballot papers and calculation sheets exchanged hands," Mehra had added.

Another senior advocate appearing for Oberoi, Rajshekhkar Rao, had said that no case for court's interference was made out and the authority was only ensuring that the process is done as per the law.

He had claimed that even the note of the Municipal Secretary noted "discrepancy in counting".

Justice Kaurav had reserved his order after conclusion of the submissions by the parties. A ruckus was created after the Mayor had declared one vote invalid in the election to pick six members of the standing committee.

While staying the notice issued by Oberoi, the court had said that no purpose will be served by conducting fresh elections on February 27.

Agra (UP) | Agencies

woman with intent to disrobe), 323 (voluntarily causing hurt), 504 (intentional insult with intent to provoke breach of peace), 506 (criminal intimidation) and sections of the

"Four days later, I narrated the entire incident to Rameshwar's brother Jogendra. Instead of helping, he brutally assaulted me and stripped me. Thirty two senior citizens from Madhya Pradesh on Tuesday left from Indore for Shirdi in Maharashtra by air on a free pilgrimage under a scheme of the MP government, an official said.

This is the second batch of beneficiaries travelling by air under the Mukhyamantri Tirth-Darshan Yojana. The first batch of 32 senior citizens left for Prayagraj in Uttar Pradesh on Sunday from state capital Bhopal.

Addressing media persons here at the Circuit House, Singh accused that corruption in the state is at an all-time high.

Raising questions regarding the dumper scam and irregularities in VYAPAM recruitment, Singh said that the government made new recruitment rules, but chose a blacklist company to take the exam.

On the other hand, in 2018, when the CM (Shivraj Singh) filled out the form, he declared assets worth Rs 9.5 crores. It should also be discussed where so much wealth came from. There was not even a single dumper in Jait village till Shivraj became the CM, but today there are 200 heavy dumpers in the 125 village settlement.

The packy plot has been announced thrice, but orders are not issued so far. Regarding land pooling, it was said that the land of farmers around Dewas is worth crores of acres, but it is being bought under the collector's guideline. Questions were also raised on not changing the guidelines of the lands in Dewas.

Apart from this, he accused the PM of corruption for changing the two thousand notes.

On Deepak Joshi joining Congress, Singh said that there is no honest leader like Kailash Joshi. Joshi has a three-room house in Dewas. Earlier on Monday, Singh visited Joshi's residence.

After meeting Deepak Joshi, Digvijaya Singh spoke to the media and said that if you have any other example of someone who got the title of a saint by being in politics, then tell me. Kailash Joshi was a politician but a politician who was a role model. No one could compete with whose conduct, honesty, whose loyalty, and activism.

Team Absolute | Indore

A 23-year-old man was arrested in Indore for allegedly raping his girlfriend and pressuring her to convert. The woman had filed an FIR against the man after watching 'The Kerala Story', police said.

The woman filed the complaint "after she fell into the trap of love under the pretext of marriage", according to police.

The complainant, who is highly educated and is employed with a private company, had befriended the accused, identified as Faizan, while studying in a coaching centre four years ago. The friendship slowly turned into love. Later, the woman started living with him. The accused, who studied till Class 12 and is unemployed, wanted to marry his girlfriend and coerced her repeatedly to convert to his religion. When the woman refused to budge, he allegedly raped and thrashed her several times.

One day, the woman asked her boyfriend if he wanted to watch 'The Kerala Story'. After much persuasion, the accused reluctantly agreed to watch the movie with her.

The duo watched the movie and it was when the woman decided to take a stand for herself. She gathered courage after watching the film and decided to file a complaint against her boyfriend, following a heated argument with him.

Faizan, the accused, was arrested under provisions of the Madhya Pradesh Freedom of Religion Act 2021, which prohibits conversion by force or cheating, and the Indian Penal Code (IPC), Khajrana police station in-charge Dinesh Verma told reporters.

"The woman said she and the man recently went to watch 'The Kerala Story'. After watching the film, the duo argued and the man left her after assaulting her. She approached the police on May 19 and lodged an FIR," the police officer said.

"All the allegations are being thoroughly investigated," Dinesh Verma said.

Cong gearing up for next Assembly polls in 5 states

After achieving success in the Karnataka Assembly elections, the Congress has now started preparing for Assembly polls in Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Mizoram and Telangana. The Congress has convened a meeting of the party leaders on May 26 to work on the strategies for the upcoming Assembly elections, sources in the know of things said on Monday. A source said "the Congress does not want to waste the momentum" it has got with a thumping victory in Karnataka, where it defeated the BJP. The party wants to ensure the preparations are started at the earliest in the next poll-bound states for a good show, the source said. The party source said that a meeting has been called by the top leadership with the state unit chiefs, party state in-charges and top leaders of the state in the national capital. The source said that Congress President Mallikarjun Kharge and party general secretary (organisation) KC Venugopal will preside over the meeting to collect the overall ground report of the party's preparation in the five poll-bound states. Former party chief Rahul Gandhi, party general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra besides other senior leaders would also attend the meeting. The source said that during the meeting, the top leaders will also discuss the situation in Rajasthan, where party leader Sachin Pilot has been "critical" of Ashok Gehlot-led Congress government. The Congress is looking for a good show in Chhattisgarh, Madhya Pradesh and Rajasthan. Ahead of the assembly polls, the Congress has been promising guarantees in Madhya Pradesh, having resemblance to what the party has delivered in Rajasthan. The Congress on Monday also made several promises for Madhya Pradesh, taking a cue from Rajasthan, Karnataka and Himachal Pradesh.

AFTERSHOCKS OF MANIPUR VIOLENCE FELT ALL ACROSS NE STATES

Sujit Chakraborty

The after-effects of the recent ethnic violence in Manipur, which claimed 73 lives, injured 250 and caused large scale damage to houses and various other properties, hit the other northeastern states. Several states in the country made special arrangements and brought out their citizens from strife-torn Manipur. After widespread ethnic violence broke out in Manipur on May 3, so far 6,665 men, women and children have taken shelter in several Mizoram districts while over 3,000 people have sheltered in Cachar district of southern Assam. Thousands of students and other people, belonging to seven northeastern and other states of the country, were rescued by their state governments after making special arrangements. Hundreds of students of all the northeastern and other states have been studying in the Imphal based Regional Institute of Medical Sciences, Central Agricultural University and other Central government run institutions. Non-tribal Meiteis and the tribals belonging to Chin, Kuki, Mizo, Zomi, Chakma have been living both in Manipur, Mizoram and several other northeastern states leading to occasional violent reaction after an ethnic incident in a particular state. The erstwhile princely states of Manipur and Tripura merged with the Indian Union in October 1949. The recent ethnic violence shocked not only Manipur but also other northeastern states due to the similarity among various ethnic people. In 1993, Hindu-Muslim riots in Manipur claimed the lives of around 100 people and injured over 300 people belonging to the Meitei Pangals (Meitei Muslims) and the Hindu Meiteis. Both the recent ethnic violence and the 1993 communal riots occurred in the month of May. The 1993 riots broke out when Muslim gun smugglers could not deliver the promised arms consignment to Hindu "criminals" and then beat up some Hindus. The ethnic violence in Manipur since May 3 has claimed the lives of at least 73 people and injured 250 others, while 1,800 houses were destroyed besides a large number of government and private properties along with religious installations. Widespread ethnic violence leading to clashes, arson, vandalism, random destruction of government, private properties including temples and churches broke out in Manipur after a 'Tribal Solidarity March' organised in the 10 hill districts on May 3 to protest against the Meitei community's demand for Scheduled Tribe (ST) status. Mizoram Chief Minister Zoramthanga, in a letter to his Manipur counterpart N. Biren Singh, had said that he is deeply pained by the violence that has flared up in Manipur and the underlying tension between the Meitei community and tribals there. "At a time when our two states are already facing issues as a result of the political situation in Myanmar and Bangladesh

Further, the meeting decided to hold consultations on a wider scale at the earliest to arrive at a common political agenda with other groups. The delegates at the meeting expressed their gratitude to the Mizoram government, NGOs, churches in particular and the people of Mizoram in general for providing humanitarian assistance to the displaced people and those affected by the violence. Ruling Mizo National Front MP C. Lalrosanga had urged Army chief General Manoj Pande to gain the people's trust and confidence, especially of the tribal communities, to control the ethnic strife in Manipur. The North East Students' Organisation (NESO), an apex body of eight major students organisations of seven northeastern states, condemned the Manipur government's action evicting the indigenous settlers belonging to the Zo community and the violent incidents that followed. "The tribals were evicted on the pretext that they are settling on reserve forest whereas the fact is that these indigenous settlers have been residing in these areas for ages. The government of Manipur has to take into account that these are the indigenous communities of northeast and have inhabited these lands from their forefathers and they are not illegal immigrants from Nepal or Bangladesh," NESO chairman Samuel B. Jyrwa and general secretary Mutsikhoyo Yhobo said in a joint statement. The Mizo students' Association, also known as Mizo Zirlai Pawl (MZP), Mizoram's apex students' body, has accused the Manipur government of grabbing Zo ethnic tribals' land in the neighbouring state and evicting them. "The origin of these problems is the Manipur government's attempts to evict ethnic Zo people from their various settlements so that their lands can be taken from them and these tribal lands can be declared reserved forest, protected forest, wildlife sanctuaries and wetlands," the MZP had said in a statement. and the lingering effects of Covid-19, including the prospect of a new wave with more and more cases being detected, such violence only makes things worse," said Zoramthanga, who is also the president of the ruling Mizo National Front. Zoramthanga requested Biren Singh to exercise his leadership that the people of Manipur know he is capable of and reach out to all parties involved to try and bring an end to this senseless violence. He assured the full cooperation of his government and the people of Mizoram as they pray for reconciliation and healing in the state of Manipur. Meanwhile, hundreds of Meiteis, including a large number of students, held a protest in Guwahati in the wake of the violence that paralysed Manipur for many days. Ten tribal MLAs belonging to the Kuki community have demanded a separate state for the Manipur tribals. The ten legislators, including seven ruling BJP MLAs, sent a memorandum to Union Home Minister Amit Shah in support of their demand. The 10 tribal MLAs from Manipur, leaders of Indigenous Tribal Leaders' Forum (ITLF), Kuki Inpi Manipur (KIM), Zomi Council, Hmar Inpui (HI) and other Civil Society Organisations (CSOs) from Manipur unanimously resolved to unitedly face the present "ethnic crisis" in Manipur. The meeting held at Aijal club in Aizawl, Mizoram on Thursday also resolved not to engage in any dialogue with the Manipur government.

Further, the meeting decided to hold consultations on a wider scale at the earliest to arrive at a common political agenda with other groups. The delegates at the meeting expressed their gratitude to the Mizoram government, NGOs, churches in particular and the people of Mizoram in general for providing humanitarian assistance to the displaced people and those affected by the violence. Ruling Mizo National Front MP C. Lalrosanga had urged Army chief General Manoj Pande to gain the people's trust and confidence, especially of the tribal communities, to control the ethnic strife in Manipur. Everest for an unprecedented 28th time on Tuesday, just a week after he scaled the world's tallest peak for the 27th time. The 53-year-old reached the summit of the 8,848.86-metre peak at 9.23 a.m., reports Xinhua news agency. "Kami Rita Sherpa has made history by scaling Mt. TIKTOK SUES US STATE OF MONTANA FOR BANNING THE APP

San Francisco | Agencies

Chinese short-video making app TikTok on Tuesday hit back at the US state of Montana with a lawsuit, after Montana Governor Greg Gianforte banned TikTok in the state last week. TikTok said in its complaint that Montana's ban violates the Constitution by "limiting the company's right to host and distribute user-created content". "We are challenging Montana's unconstitutional TikTok ban to protect our business and the hundreds of thousands of TikTok users in Montana," the platform said in a tweet. "We believe our legal challenge will prevail based on an exceedingly strong set of precedents and facts," it added. TikTok has been facing immense pressure in the US in recent months, amid cries for a nationwide ban. Last week, in an effort to protect residents from alleged Chinese intelligence gathering, Gianforte signed a bill banning TikTok in the US state. It was the first US state to ban this popular short video app. "To protect Montanans' personal and private data from the Chinese Communist Party, I have banned TikTok in Montana," Gianforte tweeted. The bill prevents TikTok from operating "within the territorial jurisdiction of Montana" and requires that its app be removed from Montana mobile app stores. Not just TikTok, the Governor also banned Telegram Messenger, Chinese app WeChat, Temu, CapCut and Lemon8. Montana's new policy will come into effect on June 1.

MUMBAI SEA BRIDGE, INDIA'S LONGEST, WILL ALLOW COMMUTERS TO DRIVE PAST TOLL BOOTH AT 100 KMPH

Team Absolute | Mumbai

India's longest sea bridge, the under-construction Mumbai Trans Harbour Link (MTHL), will be the first sea bridge in India to have an Open Road Tolling (ORT) system, allowing commuters to drive past the toll booth at speeds of up to 100kph without slowing down to pay the toll charge.

Built at a cost of around Rs 18,000 crore, the MTHL, after completion, will cater to around 70,000 vehicles. We visited the 16.5 km long deck that will be completed by May 24. Around 95% of the work has been done, and the bridge will be completed before the year-end.

"Work on structures is almost complete. Tomorrow evening, at an event, we are going to connect the bridge to the mainland. The remaining work -- road laying, electrical, intelligent transport system (electronic tolling) -- will be done after the event. It is possible to achieve the target we set two years ago, to finish by December end this year," SVR Srinivas, the commissioner of Mumbai Metropolitan Region Development Authority, said. The bridge is not just an "engineering marvel", but also an engine of economic growth, he added.

This bridge will connect Mumbai to the mainland with a commute time of 12 to 15 minutes, cutting down significantly from several hours it takes today, Srinivas explained, adding that it will facilitate ease of movement for raw materials, finished goods, and labour, creating a new supply chain between Mumbai and the mainland.

MTHL aims to connect Mumbai with Navi Mumbai, the financial capital's satellite city, in order to mitigate traffic congestion and promote economic development. The bridge will begin in Sewri, South Mumbai, will cross Thane Creek north of Elephanta Island, and will terminate at Chirle near Nhava Sheva.

Maharashtra Chief Minister Eknath Shinde and his deputy Devendra Fadnis will visit the site on Wednesday evening. The MTHL was planned around 30 years ago to speed up the traffic between Mumbai and Navi Mumbai and also facilitate the traffic from Mumbai to Pune and Goa.

The MMRDA awarded contracts for the project in November 2017, construction began in April 2018, and was scheduled to complete within 4.5 years. However, construction was delayed by around eight months due to the COVID-19 pandemic and is currently expected to complete by December 2023.

"Not In PM Race": Sharad Pawar amid Opposition Unity Talks

Team Absolute | Pune

Nationalist Congress Party chief Sharad Pawar has said he is not in the race to become prime minister and asserted the Opposition wants a leadership that would work for the betterment of the country.

Speaking on Monday at a condolence meet for Ram Takavale, the Pune University's vice chancellor who passed away recently, Sharad Pawar said opposition parties might face a little task of projecting one person as the prime ministerial candidate if they come together.

"I am putting efforts to get the Opposition together. I am not in the race to become the prime minister as I am not contesting the next (Lok Sabha) election," he told reporters.

On seat-sharing with the Congress and the Shiv Sena (UBT), which are part of the Maha Vikas Aghadi, Pawar said, "Recently, a meeting was held at my residence. Leaders from the Maha Vikas Aghadi will decide on it." "Uddhav Thackeray, Sonia Gandhi or Congress chief Mallikarjun Kharge, and I will sit together to discuss more about it," he said on seat-sharing. The tenure of several civic bodies in Maharashtra got over early 2022, but polls were not held due to the coronavirus pandemic. The Lok Sabha elections are due in 2024, and the Maharashtra Assembly polls are also due in the later part of next year.

The accident took place in Maharashtra Buldhana district. The bus was travelling from Pune to Mehekar in Buldhana when it crashed with a speeding truck coming from the opposite direction.

The injured have been admitted to a nearby government hospital.

Visuals from the spot show the heavily damaged vehicles, suggesting how fast they were travelling at the time of the crash. The truck, it appears, was working with a logistics firm. Local residents were seen helping out with the rescue work, trying to reach the survivors through the mangled remains of the vehicles. Visuals from inside the bus showed heavy damage to the seats. The windshield and window panes were broken down to reach the survivors.

EX-LOK SABHA SPEAKER MANOHAR JOSHI RUSHED TO HOSPITAL, 'CRITICAL BUT STABLE'

Mumbai: Former Lok Sabha Speaker and ex-Chief Minister of Maharashtra Manohar G. Joshi has been admitted to a private hospital for certain complications arising out of a brain tumour, official sources said here on Tuesday. Joshi, 86, was rushed to the P.D. Hinduja Hospital in Mahim and was taken to the ICU under the care of a team of senior doctors and neurosurgeons. A hospital medical bulletin said this afternoon that he was brought there in an emergency semicoma condition, but breathing on his own, and not on a ventilator. His condition was described as 'stable, but continues to need critical management', as per the statement. Former CM and Shiv Sena (UBT) President Uddhav Thackeray, wife Rashmi and other family members and party leaders rushed to the hospital to enquire after Joshi's health. Joshi was the first Shiv Sena CM for four years (1995-1999) when the party bagged power in alliance with Bharatiya Janata Party. Later, he served as the Speaker of Lok Sabha (2002-2004) during the tenure of the late Prime Minister Atal Behari Vajpayee, becoming only the second from the state after the Congress' Shivraj Patil (1991-1996) to occupy the august office.

MVA should first focus on 25 of 48 Lok Sabha seats: Ajit Pawar

Team Absolute | Maharashtra

Nationalist Congress Party (NCP) leader Ajit Pawar on Tuesday said that the Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) allies should discuss on 25 of the state's 48 Lok Sabha seats since the Shiv Sena (UBT) had bagged 18 seats in 2019 elections. The MVA allies include the Shiv Sena (Uddhav Balasaheb Thackeray), Congress and the NCP. Addressing a press conference in Mumbai, Ajit Pawar said, "First we must discuss on 25 empty seats out of 48 seats, later the rest 23 can be discussed," adding that the final decision on seat sharing will be made by senior leaders of Maha Vikas Aghadi.

"The final decision will be made by senior leaders of MVA, and MVA will remain intact, strong and united and this I can give in writing on stamp paper," Ajit Pawar said. Previously, speaking about the seat-sharing among the Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) partners for the next year's Lok Sabha elections which is yet to be finalised, NCP supremo Sharad Pawar said that Shiv Sena leader (UBT faction) Uddhav Thackeray and Congress leaders Sonia Gandhi or Mallikarjun Kharge and he himself will decide. "There has been no discussion on seat sharing yet. A meeting was held at my residence where it was discussed that leaders from all three parties (of MVA) will decide on it. Uddhav Thackeray, Sonia Gandhi or Congress chief Mallikarjun Kharge and I will sit together to discuss it," he said.

In the 2019 Assembly Polls, the then Shiv Sena-led by Uddhav Thackeray and the BJP fought elections jointly. BJP had won 23 seats and the then Shiv Sena 18 seats while Congress got 4 seats. The Shiv Sena had walked out of the NDA alliance to form a coalition government with the NCP in November 2019. Meanwhile, responding to the Enforcement Directorate (ED) questioning of the NCP chief Jayant Patil, Ajit Pawar said that investigation agencies have the right to investigate and he has not made any statement against anyone.

NCP chief Patil was on Monday questioned by ED in connection with the alleged IL&FS (Infrastructure Leasing and Financial Services Limited) scam.

Ajit Pawar said, "Investigating agencies have the right to investigate and I have not made any statements against anyone." Hitting out at the Central government on the withdrawal of Rs 2,000 rupee notes from circulation, Ajit Pawar said that the middle class don't have much of Rs 2,000 note so if they wanted to act on black money, then there was no need to give so much time to submit the currency in the bank.

Team Absolute | Maharashtra

In a bid to increase tourist footfall and explore tourism potential in different parts of Maharashtra, the state government is set to host 16 festivals over a period of one year, a senior official said on Tuesday.

The festivals will be organised in religious, historical sites and places studded with natural beauty, he said. The Maharashtra Tourism Development Corporation's (MTDC) managing director Shradha Joshi said, "We have finalised a year-long calendar of festivals, which will be organised in different parts of the state. The step was taken so that tourists, stakeholders and people of these regions are aware about it well in advance."

The concept of each festival is yet to be finalised and work on it is underway, she said.

Some of the festivals on the MTDC's calendar are: Mahabaleshwar festival (May 27-28), Fireflies festival in Bhandardara (June 3-4), tribal tourism festival in Javhar (July 8-9), monsoon festival at Amboli, Sindhudurg and Bhandardara (August 12-16), Prabhu Shriram Mahotsav (August 12-13), tribal tourism festival in Dhule (August 25-27), Kas Pathar festival (September 2-3) and Ganesh festival (September 18-28).

Nanded (December 25-26), Ellora festival (Jan 2024), Hindavi Swarajya Mahotsav (Feb 18-20, 2024) and Grapes festival in Nashik (February 24-25, 2024), it was stated.

Mumbai Court Says As Per Rule, Sex Work An Offence Only In Public: Report

Team Absolute | Mumbai

A sessions court in Mumbai has set aside a magistrate's order and directed a shelter home to set at liberty a 34-year-old woman sex worker detained there.

The court said, as per rule, sex work can be called an offence when only one engages in it in a public place causing annoyance to others.

The woman approached the sessions court after the magistrate's court on March 15 this year directed her to be detained at the shelter home in Mumbai for one year for care, protection and shelter.

Additional sessions judge CV Patil set aside the magistrate court's order last month. The detailed order was made available recently.

The woman was detained in February following a raid at a brothel in suburban Mulund. Thereafter, an FIR was registered against the accused and she, along with two others, was produced before a magistrate court in Mazgaon.

After perusal of the medical report, the magistrate found she was a major and sent her to the Navjeevan Mahila Vastigriha, Deonar, for one year for care, protection and shelter from the date of order. In her plea before the sessions court, the woman denied indulging in any immoral activities. The sessions court in its order held that the magistrate, only on the ground of antecedent of indulging in similar kind of offence, has detained the victim. The order is under challenge only on the ground of antecedent that the victim was found indulging earlier also in a similar act, but the victim is major. She has the right to do work, the judge said. "As per rule, to involve in sex work is not itself an offence, but to do sex work in public place so as to cause annoyance to others can be called as offence," the sessions court said.

Further, it noted there was no allegation that the woman indulged in sex work in the public.

In such circumstances, detaining the victim only on the ground of one antecedent of the similar work is not proper, the sessions judge said.

The victim has two kids, they certainly need their mother, and if the victim is detained against her wish, it certainly curtails her right to move freely all over India, the court observed.

Hence considering the legal position, major age of the victim, the magistrate court's order dated March 15 needs to be set aside and the victim needs to be set at liberty, it said.

'Cannes in Flip flops'

Jennifer Lawrence wears flip flops on Cannes red carpet, defies unofficial dress code

Los Angeles | Agencies

Actress Jennifer Lawrence made a statement with her choice of footwear at the Cannes Film Festival. Attending the premiere of 'Anatomy of a Fall', she broke the festival's unofficial dress code by wearing flip flops.

The actress turned heads in a cherry red, crepe silk gown by Dior Haute Couture which featured spaghetti straps and a soft ruffle at the bustline along with a matching red wrap. She wore an Archi Dior necklace made of white gold and diamonds as her accessory, reports aceshowbiz.com.

As she walked down the stairs at the Palais des Festivals, the actress lifted up her skirt, revealing a pair of black flip flops underneath her elegant dress. It was a bold move since Cannes famously encourages women to wear heels on its red carpet. Back in 2015, a number of women were reportedly turned away from attending a premiere of 'Carol' because they were wearing flats.

Lawrence was joined by producers Daniel Angeles and Justine Ciarrocchi when posing photographers. She also received their help as she navigated the stairs.

Although Lawrence opted for the comfy sandals for the special screening of 'Anatomy of a Fall', she changed into a more formal footwear for another premiere on the same day. The 'X-Men' star wore the same gown but paired it with red satin heels when attending the premiere for 'Bread and Roses', a documentary she produces, at Cannes. The project follows the lives of women living in Afghanistan after the Taliban's resurgence.

At another premiere held during the film festival in France, Natalie Portman wowed in a dazzling recreation of a 1949 Christian Dior gown. She wore a sparkling strapless gown that featured a voluminous, scalloped skirt with layers of ornate blue beading when attending the premiere of 'May December' on Saturday.

The 'Thor: Love and Thunder' actress' custom Christian Dior piece was inspired by the 'Junon' dress from the designer's 1949-1950 fall/winter collection. The original dress is part of The Costume Institute's collection at The Metropolitan Museum of Art, although it's not currently available to view.

Portman was joined by her co-stars Charles Melton, Julianne Moore and Cory Michael Smith at the special screening.

'I'll always be a hopeless romantic'

Kim Kardashian makes heartbreaking admission about love as Kanye West remarries

Los Angeles | Agencies

American media personality Kim Kardashian has said she will "always want to be in love" as she admitted she is a "hopeless romantic".

The reality star said she loves the idea of "creating a life with someone", but added that she is taking her time having finalised her divorce from rapper Kanye West six months ago, reports 'Mirror.co.uk'.

The musician has since moved on from his relationship with Kim and married Yeezy architect Bianca Censori in an intimate ceremony back in January.

As per 'Mirror.co.uk', Kim insisted she isn't lonely despite being single as she said she has "so much going on" during an appearance on Jay Shetty's 'On Purpose' podcast.

Asked if she would ever be in love again, Kim said: "I think I'll always be a hopeless romantic and always want to be in love and definitely love sharing my life with someone and love creating a life with someone."

She said, "I definitely will take my time and I think there's so many factors, especially when you have kids and being mindful of people who enter into your life. I'll always believe in love and I'll always want that, but I think I'm so comfortable taking my time to not rush it. There's so much going on that I'm not lonely."

Ashley Graham tapes her mouth shut to sleep

Los Angeles | Agencies

Model Ashley Graham has shared an image of herself sleeping with her mouth taped shut. She took to her Instagram Story with a snap of herself sleeping with her mouth taped shut, which is a popular at-home treatment to combat issues such as snoring.

In a post shared to her Instagram Stories on Sunday, the 35-year-old looked sound asleep with pink earplugs as a tiny piece of tape was positioned atop her lips, reports mirror.co.uk.

"I started taping my mouth shut when I sleep and I have never slept better - and even better when I wake up. Don't knock it till you try it!" the mother of three captioned the image.

Mouth taping has become a popular home treatment over the last few years to encourage people to breathe through their nose, which in return can help with a whole host of problems such as snoring and bad breath.

Sleep is undoubtedly essential for Sports Illustrated model Ashley, as she is a mother to three young children.

This comes after Ashley showed off her weight loss at the Cannes Film Festival, as she took to the annual event's various red carpets in a slew of sensational outfits.

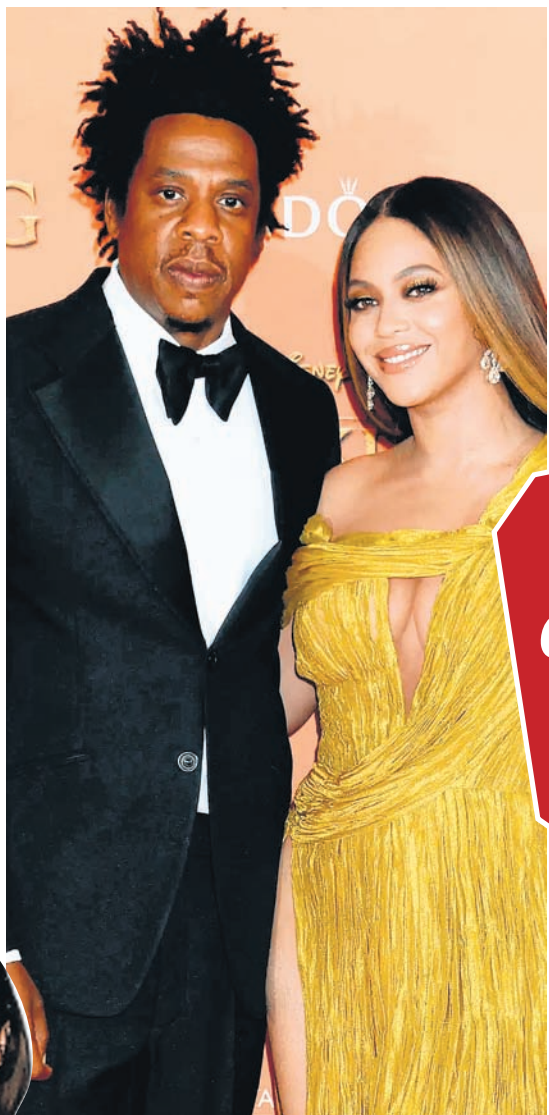

The brunette, who shares baby twins Roman and Malachi and three-year-old son Isaac with her husband, Justin Ervin, has a hugely successful modelling career where she promotes body positivity.

However, she recently noted that more has to be done in the fashion industry in terms of inclusivity.

While speaking at the 12th annual Women Making History Awards gala, Ashley said that she "never felt complete" despite being a successful model.

She said: "I have been working as a model for over 20 years, and I still am fighting to this day for equality of size diversity on the runway on the covers of magazines, film, and TV. And it's never felt complete."

"I think there's still a lot of work to do. And that's why I tell younger women and women who are also fighting for what things that they believe are just to keep going. Keep fighting, keep striving for what it is that you want to change," she added to 'People' magazine.

JOAQUIN PHOENIX'S NEXT PROJECT TO BE AN NC-17 GAY LOVE STORY

Los Angeles | Agencies

Hollywood star Joaquin Phoenix is taking it up another notch after Ari Aster's 'Beau Is Afraid', teaming up with Todd Haynes for an NC-17-rated gay romance film.

Haynes spoke to IndieWire at the Cannes Film Festival following the Saturday premiere of his romantic drama 'May December', starring Natalie Portman and Julianne Moore. In the interview, Haynes teased an upcoming project he co-developed with Phoenix, reports 'Variety'.

"The next film is a feature that's an original script that I developed with Joaquin Phoenix based on some thoughts and ideas he brought to me," Haynes told IndieWire. "We basically ate with him as a story writer. Me and Jon Raymond and Joaquin share the story credit. And we hope to be shooting it beginning early next year. It's a gay love story set in 1930s L.A."

Haynes added, "Joaquin was pushing me further and going, 'No, let's go further.' This will be an NC-17 film."

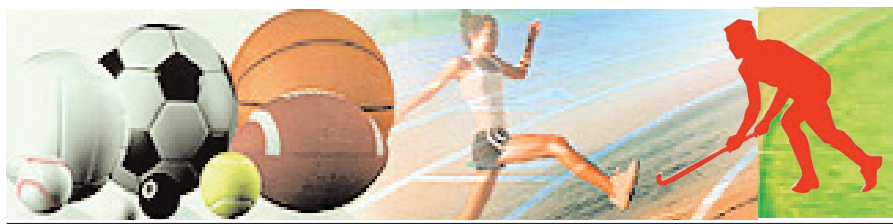

Phoenix is no stranger to intense roles that push past the expected limits of actors. As for Haynes, between 'Carol', 'Far From Heaven', 'Poison', 'Velvet Goldmine' and his latest, 'May December', the director is no stranger to the romantic period drama, nor the queer film.

"All I can do is just keep hunkering down and committing to each project," Haynes said. "I have more features planned. I have also episodic projects coming that are planned, that are really exciting. I'm going back to work with Kate Winslet with something she brought me for HBO."

IPL 2023

CSK beat GT to reach tenth final

Chennai | Agencies

Ruturaj Gaikwad's 60 off 44 followed by a commanding display by the bowlers guided Chennai Super Kings (CSK) to their 10th final with a 15-run win over defending champions Gujarat Titans (GT) in the Indian Premier League (IPL) 2023 Qualifier 1 at M.A. Chidambaram Stadium, here on Tuesday.

Opener Devon Conway was struggling for rhythm but his partner Gaikwad was fluent as usual and stroked to his fourth fifty of the season. GT pulled things back nicely during the middle overs and seemed to have control of the proceedings. Towards the end, Ambati Rayudu, Ravindra Jadeja and Moeen Ali chipped in with cameos as CSK managed to reach 172/7 in their 20 overs.

In reply, GT couldn't manage to build up any significant partnerships as they kept losing wickets at regular intervals. Rashid Khan's 30-run cameo did give GT a glimmer of hope but CSK bowlers were at their best and bowled out the Titans for 157 in 20 overs to book the ticket to finale.

Chasing 173, the Titans had a shaky start, losing two wickets in the Power-play. Deepak Chahar drew the first blood by dismissing Wriddhiman Saha. Then Maheesh Theekshana struck in the sixth over and got the big wicket of skipper Hardik Pandya. Shubman Gill's couple of lovely shots took GT to 41 for the loss of two wickets at the end of Power-Play.

The spin duo of Ravindra Jadeja and Theekshana kept things tight in the next three overs before Shanaka hit a back-to-back boundary and a maximum in the 10th over, taking GT to 72/2.

In the next over, Jadeja removed Dasun Shanaka, who looked to reverse sweep over the point fielder but didn't get it off the middle of the bat. Theekshana at short third man moved to his right and took a fine catch. After Matheesa Pathirana's 10-ball over, Jadeja struck again in the 13th over and cleaned up David Miller, finishing his spell with 2-18. In the next over, Deepak Chahar got the big fish Gill for 42, making the chase tougher as Titans were reduced GT to 88/5 and the asking run rate was over 12 runs per over.

Theekshana bowled the carrom ball and Rahul Tewatia was caught flat-footed deep inside the crease and was unable to tuck it away. The ball beat the bat and crashed into the stumps and, Gujarat lost their sixth wicket and 71 was needed in the next 30 balls.

Then, Rashid Khan and Vijay Shankar went for a few big hits and collected 19 runs in the 17th over to shift some momentum. But momentum again turned in CSK's favour with two successive wickets. First Pathirana dismissed Shankar on the third ball of the 18th over, then Subhranshu Senapati's direct hit sent Darshan Nalkande back to the hut.

With 35 needed in 12 balls, Rashid Khan smashed a boundary on the first ball of the penultimate over but, a moment later, Tushar Deshpande dismissed GT's only hope, Rashid.

When 27 needed off 6, Pathirana conceded a boundary and picked up a wicket of Shami as GT was bowled out for 157 and CSK walked away with 15 runs.

Brief scores

Chennai Super Kings 172/7 in 20 overs (Ruturaj Gaikwad 60, Devon Conway 40; Mohd Shami 2-28, Mohit Sharma 2-31) beat Gujarat Titans (Shubman Gill 42, Rashid Khan 30; Ravindra Jadeja 2-18, Maheesh Theekshana 2-28) by 15 runs

MALAYSIA MASTERS 2023

Malvika, Ashmita advance to main draw; Sankar, Mithun crash out

Kuala Lumpur | Agencies

Indian badminton players Malvika Bansod and Ashmita Chaliha advanced to the main draw of the women's singles event at the Malaysia Masters 2023 after winning their qualifiers at the Axiata Arena on Tuesday.

Malvika, 40th in the badminton rankings for women's singles, beat Hsiang Ti Lin of Chinese Taipei 21-12, 21-19 in 43 minutes in the qualification round of the BWF Super 500 event. The Indian badminton player was slow to get off the blocks and was trailing 3-6 in the first game before she turned the tables and took a 1-0 lead. With the momentum on her side, Malvika rushed to a seven-point lead at 9-2 in the second game. However, Hsiang Ti Lin mounted a stunning comeback to trail by just two points at the break.

The 21-year-old Bansod amped up her defence after the interval and despite a strong response from the Chinese Taipei shuttler, protected her two-point lead and advanced to the next round.

Malvika will now face China's world No.8 Wang Zhi Yi in the Round of 32 on Wednesday.

On the other hand, world No. 50 Ashmita recovered well from the drubbing in the first game to defeat Canada's world No.47 Wen Yu Zhang 10-21, 21-19, 21-17 in 45 minutes. She will face world No.9 Han Yue of China in the

Shotgun World Cup: Ganemat, Darshna claim historic silver-bronze finish in skeet at Almaty

New Delhi | Agencies

Ganemat Sekhon won silver and Darshna Rathore claimed bronze as India, for the first time, won two senior individual medals in women's skeet at an International Shooting Sport Federation (ISSF) World Cup stage at Almaty, Kazakhstan.

Local favourite Assem Orynbay of Kazakhstan won gold, through a shoot-off after both Ganemat and herself ended the 60-shot final with 50-hits each. Ganemat missed one out of the first two shoot-off targets after Orynbay had shot both down. It was Ganemat's second-ever individual world cup medal and a first-ever for Darshna who appeared in her first-ever senior final.

Earlier on competition Day Two of the ISSF World Cup Shotgun, Almaty, Darshna qualified for the six-woman final in second spot equalling the national record with a score of 120 while Ganemat was fourth, shooting 117. Orynbay topped the standings with 121 while among the other qualifiers was world number 10 from Cyprus Konstantina Nikolou.

The Cypriot, however, was the only shooter to miss three of her first four targets in the final, while the other five missed one each. At the end of the first 10 targets, Orynbay was the most accurate with 8 hits with four others including Darshna and Ganemat following with seven. Nikolou was the first to be eliminated after 20-targets as Ganemat and Barbra continued to chase the Kazakh Orynbay, with Darshna trying to catch up, the National Rifle Association of India (NRAI) informed in a release on Tuesday.

After 30 hits, the field was down to four with Ganemat leading with 25, followed by Orynbay with 24 and Darshna and Barbra tied at 22. It was heartening to see the two Indians, in particular, Ganemat getting stronger as the match progressed. The Czech was next to fall at the 40-target mark with 29 to her name, confirming a historic double medal for the Indians.

Then Darshna bowed out with 39 hits and Ganemat and Orynbay had to be eventually separated through a shoot-off. The third Indian in the field, Maheshwari Chauhan, ended 24th with a score of 108 in qualification.

In the men's skeet, none of the three Indians made the finals. Mairaj Khan was the best finisher with 119 for a 16th place finish, while Gurjoat Khangura shot the same score to finish 18th. Anantjeet Singh Naruka was further back with a score of 118.

Juventus slip to seventh after 4-1 defeat against Empoli

Rome |

Juventus encountered a disastrous setback, dropping to seventh place following a 10-point penalty and a 4-1 defeat against Empoli.

Juve had been previously docked 15 points for inflating transfer fees to augment profits in January. This penalty was temporarily revoked when they lodged an appeal. However, on Monday, the Federal Court of Appeal delivered its verdict, imposing a 10-point penalty on Juve.

This judgment seemingly unsettled Juve's squad on the pitch as they conceded three goals after the first half on Monday. Despite Federico Chiesa scoring a late goal in the 85th minute, Roberto Piccoli clinched a comfortable victory for Empoli in stoppage time, a Xinhua report said.

With the point deduction and the loss, Juve slid from second to seventh place, an outcome that also assured Lazio of a Champions League spot.

In other matches, Roma extended their winless streak, battling back twice to secure a 2-2 draw against Salernitana.

Shastri reveals combined India-Australia Test XI ahead of WTC final

New Delhi | Agencies

Former India head coach Ravi Shastri has revealed his combined Test XI, selecting players from the two ICC World Test Championship finalists, India and Australia.

As the build-up to next month's WTC final between India and Australia at the Oval intensifies, Shastri faced the unenviable task of naming his best combined XI.

The 60-year old is a long-standing supporter of Rohit Sharma and said the India captain gets the nod as skipper over Australian counterpart Pat Cummins and wins a spot as one of the two openers as a result.

The decision on who would partner Rohit at the top of the order is a tough one, according to Shastri, with the likes of Australian duo David Warner and Usman Khawaja and emerging India right-hander Shubman Gill all in the mix for the crucial position.

Only England star Joe Root scored more runs than Khawaja during the 2021-23 World Test Championship cycle and Shastri said the Australian left-hander deserves to get the nod.

The noted commentator said it was an easy decision as to who bats at No.3, No.4 and No.5, with the No.1 ranked Test batter Marnus Labuschagne and experienced duo Virat Kohli and Steve Smith the obvious choices to fill these vital spots.

Shastri is a massive fan of young Australia all-rounder Cameron Green, but thinks Ravindra Jadeja earns the spot to bat at No.6 due to his ability to act as a second spinning option. Australia keeper Alex Carey wins the spot as wicket-keeper and to bat at No.7 ahead of India's KS Bharat, while Shastri admitted he found it difficult to leave out India veteran Ravichandran Ashwin and opt for Nathan Lyon as the front-line spinner in his XI.

The former India skipper said the decisions on the pace attack was relatively easy to make, with experienced left-armer Mitchell Starc providing the variety alongside a pair of in-form right-armers. Ravi Shastri combined India-Australia Test XI: Rohit Sharma (c), Usman Khawaja, Marnus Labuschagne, Virat Kohli, Steve Smith, Ravindra Jadeja, Alex Carey (wk), Pat Cummins, Mitchell Starc, Nathan Lyon, Mohammad Shami.

Aditi Rao Hydari and Indian origin British actress Paige Sandhu will soon be seen sharing the screen in the upcoming film 'Lioness'. The film, an official Indo-UK co-production being made under the bilateral treaty signed by both countries in 2008, was announced on Tuesday at the India Pavilion (managed by FICCI under the aegis of Ministry of Information and Broadcasting) at the ongoing Cannes Film Festival.

Written and directed by Kajri Babbar, the film will tell the story of princess Sophia Duleep Singh, the granddaughter of the great Maharaja Ranjit Singh, and the Goddaughter of Queen Victoria. She was one of the key leaders of the suffragette movement in the UK and also advocated for the rights of women and children. Sophia's character will be essayed by Paige Sandhu. The actress said in a statement, "It's an honour and a dream come true to be playing Princess Sophia Duleep Singh. I am very humbled to be portraying someone with a legacy such as hers, the work that she did, the lives she helped and the family she came from. I truly hope to do justice to her incredible story."

While Sophia's story is rooted in history, the second story is a fictional tale of Mehak Kaur an educated, married immigrant woman living in 1990's Southall. Mehak uncovers a fascinating story of women's emancipation and empathy in contemporary times. The two stories play out in different eras, highlighting grit, determination and compassion. Aditi Rao Hydari will portray the character of Mehak Kaur in the film. She said, "I was instantly drawn to the story that brings to the screen, the life and legacy of an extraordinary woman; a story lost in history. While Princess Sophia is a heroine in the true sense of the word, Mehak is an equally strong character whose journey parallels the Lioness's in the present."

The film, inspired by the research of Peter Bance, the historian who discovered the story of Princess Sophia Duleep, will be produced by Vivek Rangachari, Vaishali Paatil, Faraz Ahsan, Clare Cahill and Ajit Pal Singh (Executive Producer), and has been certified by the National Film Development Corporation (NFDC) and the British Film Institute (BFI). Peter is also one of the executive producers on the film.

In addition, English Heritage will be unveiling a plaque at Hampton Court, UK, in memory of the Punjabi Suffragette Princess on May 26. The London Blue Plaque scheme celebrates notable figures and the places they lived and worked in. The unveiling will be followed by a celebratory reception in the Palace hosted by Babbar Movies and the Anglo Punjab Heritage Foundation.
