INDIA NAME IS THERE IN EAST INDIA COMPANY AND SIMI AS WELL: PM

Attacking 'INDIA' during a rally, Modi said, "The Congress and its allies tried to change their name. If a generation or a company gets defamed, immediately the company's people start their work by installing a new board. Congress and its allied parties are copying such fraud companies and have changed the name from UPA to I.N.D.I.A. The name was changed so that they could hide the betrayal of the farmers in the name of loan waiver and can hide the matter of kneeling down in front of terrorism."

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday attacked the Opposition alliance 'INDIA', alleging that India name is also there in East India Company and Student

Islamic Movement of India (SIMI) as well. He said that India name is also there in East India Company. "Just as Mahatma Gandhi gave the slogan 'Quit India' for the British in the freedom struggle, similarly slogans like Corruption Quit India, Terrorism Quit India, Familyism Quit India are needed to make a prosperous India," said Modi. "The name India was not used to show devotion to India, but with the intention of looting India. Student Islamic Movement of India (SIMI) was formed during Congress regime, India was also there in it, but the aim was terrorism. This name was changed to Popular Front of India. New name, same old job. Had it cared about India, it would not have asked foreigners to interfere in India," said Modi. Attacking Congress on the recent episode of Lal Diary as narrated by its sacked minister Rajendra Gudha, the Prime Minister said, "The Congress government means shop of loot and market of lies. The new product of 'loot ki dukaan' is Lal Diary." Modi further said that ever since the Congress government was formed in Rajasthan, the work of creating hurdles in development is going on. Earlier, in a programme held in Sikar, Modi released Rs 17,000 crore as the 14th installment of the Kisan Samman Nidhi Yojana. An installment of Rs 2000 was transferred to the accounts of around 9 crore farmers. Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot was also supposed to attend this programme, but he skipped it.

The Central government also launched Urea Gold for the farmers. Modi said that the sack of urea which the farmers of the country are getting for Rs 266, is available in Pakistan for Rs 800. It is available in the neighboring country China for Rs 2,100 and in America for Rs 3,000.

'INDIA' not anti-PM but a fight to save democracy from dictatorship: Uddhav

Mumbai: Shiv Sena (UBT) President and former Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray reiterated that the national Opposition alliance INDIA is not a crusade against Prime Minister Narendra Modi, but a fight against dictatorship to save Indian democracy.

"It is not just a question of these parties' survival but that of democracy and independence of all institutions. The prime focus is on Opposition unity and a unified goal to save the country's democracy and its Independence without projecting any particular leader to drive it," said Thackeray.

He said that all the Opposition leaders are grounded and nobody is 'dreaming' of leadership as the focus is on the country's future.

Opposition leaders from 17 parties all dressed in black clothes on Thursday held a meeting in the chamber of Leader of Opposition, Mallikarjun Kharge to chalk out a strategy over their demand for a statement from Prime Minister Narendra Modi and a discussion over the situation in Manipur.

Ahmedabad | Agencies

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Thursday slammed Prime Minister Narendra Modi for his silence on Manipur violence, saying that he knows that his ideology has "burned" the northeastern state. He also hit out at the RSS and the BJP accusing them of only wanting to grab power without bothering about the pain and sufferings of the people.

While addressing the Indian Youth Congress's (IYC) National Youth Convention titled 'Behtar Bharat Ki Bunyad' via video conferencing in Bengaluru from Kerala, the former Lok Sabha MP said, "All of you have seen what has happened in Manipur and what is happening there. And you will be surprised that the Prime Minister has not said a word about Manipur."

The Congress leader said that the Prime Minister of the country must speak when a state is burning. "You must have felt that the Prime Minister should have visited Imphal and met people there. If there was any other Prime Minister from earlier times, they would have spoken to the people for sure," he said. Slamming the Prime Minister, Rahul Gandhi said, "All of you are surprised why the Prime Minister is not visiting Manipur or speaking about it. It's because he is the Prime Minister of a select few and the RSS."

"He knows that his ideology has burned Manipur. But the pain and sorrow of the people of Manipur and the scar on the women of Manipur does not move Modi," he added.

TALK ABOUT 'RED TOMATOES' INSTEAD OF 'RED DIARY': GEHLOT TO PM

Jaipur: Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot on Thursday said that the talks about 'red diary' is nothing but an imaginary concept and the Prime Minister should talk about 'red tomatoes' instead of 'red diary'.

"I know nothing of 'red diary' but I know about 'red cylinder' which has wreaked havoc and is a real loot, costing Rs 1150. People will show red flags to BJP," the Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot said while interacting with the beneficiaries of the scheme who availed LPG cylinders for Rs 500.

The Chief Minister transferred Rs 155 crore to the accounts of 36 lakh beneficiaries. "Red diary" is nothing but an imaginary concept. The PM, instead of talking about it, should talk about red tomatoes and the red faces of people (angry with inflation)," he said.

Every year, July 28 is observed as World Hepatitis Day, to help create awareness in people about the effects of hepatitis that can cause liver inflammation, liver cancer and major liver related diseases.

This year, the World Health Organisation (WHO) World Hepatitis Day theme is "One Life, One Liver", which focuses on creating awareness in the public for prevention of liver cancer, early detection and available facilities for prescribed treatment, stressing authorities to quicken the necessary steps to eradicate the viral infection to meet the 2030 global health targets.

Viral hepatitis is a global health problem that caused 1.34 million deaths in 2015, which is higher than the deaths caused by tuberculosis and HIV.

Hepatitis B and C are solely responsible for 96 per cent of hepatitis mortality.

There are many different types of Hepatitis viruses (A to E), but B and E are the most concerning types that caused more than 8,000 new infections everyday which are undetectable.

In India, more than 40 million people are chronically affected with Hepatitis B and 6-12 million people are infected with Hepatitis C. HAV is the most common type of hepatitis that is observed in children, which made it a public health problem. India is currently in the category of intermediate zone (4 per cent).

Hepatitis B positivity in the population ranges from 1.1 per cent to 12.2 per cent, with a prevalence of 3-4 per cent.

On the other hand, Hepatitis C antibody prevalence is estimated inbetween 0.09 per cent to 15 per cent.

Some regional level studies show that 6-12 million people in India have Hepatitis C.

HC RESERVES ORDER ON ASI SURVEY OF GYANVAPI MOSQUE; TO ANNOUNCE ON AUG 3

Prayagraj: The Allahabad High Court has reserved its order on the ASI survey of the Gyanvapi mosque. The court will announce its verdict on August 3, an official said on Thursday, adding the stay on ASI Survey will continue till then.

The Anjuman Mosque Committee moved the high court on Wednesday challenging the order of the Varanasi Court directing the ASI to survey the mosque premises (except for wuzukhana).

This order was passed on an application filed by four Hindu women worshippers who are party to a suit filed before the District Court seeking year-round access to worship inside mosque premises.

The Anjuman Committee argued in the high court that the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) was never a party to the suit or never noticed by the Varanasi Court.

Minor girl rape case

'NON-REMOVAL OF RAHUL'S TWEET CONTRIBUTES TO DISCLOSING IDENTITY', NCPDR TELLS DELHI HC

Team Absolute | New Delhi

The National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPDR) through an affidavit has told the Delhi High Court that micro-blogging site Twitter's decision to not remove Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's tweet, wherein he had allegedly revealed the identity of a minor Dalit girl, who was raped and murdered in 2021, contributes to disclosing the victim's identity.

In March, the high court had sought a response from the NCPDR on a plea seeking FIR registration against Rahul Gandhi in the matter.

A nine-year-old minor girl had died under suspicious circumstances on August 1, 2021, with her parents alleging that she was raped, murdered and cremated by a crematorium's priest in southwest Delhi's Old Nangal village.

A social activist Makarand Suresh Mhadlekar had moved a plea in the high court in 2021, alleging that Rahul Gandhi had violated the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015, and the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012, which prohibits the identification of minors who have been sexually assaulted.

The NCPDR in its affidavit has said that though Twitter has withheld the post in India on receiving a notice sent by it, the social media platform failed to remove the tweet altogether which is still available for the public to be seen outside India.

It has said that in order to fully give effect to its obligations, Twitter ought to have removed the impugned tweet from its platform and the same should not be hidden only in the "Indian territory".

"The object is to conceal the identity of the minor girl child and hence merely hiding the post in question from Indian domain shall not suffice the purpose of hiding the identity of the victim. True meaning and effect has to be given in letter and spirit to Right to Privacy and Right to dignity as guaranteed under Article 21 of the Constitution," the affidavit reads.

It further says that it is pertinent to mention here that the said post can still be accessed and is still available in public domain throughout the world. Consequently, the inaction of the Twitter Inc contributes into disclosure of the identity of the victim, which is in violation of country's laws.

A bench headed by Chief Justice Satish Chandra Sharma has granted eight weeks' time to other respondents to file their affidavits and has posted the case for hearing on November 23.

The NCPDR had earlier told the court that it wants to support and join the petitioner in the matter.

It had told the court that the offence of making such a disclosure still exists, despite Twitter's claim that it had removed Gandhi's tweet.

Sajan Poovayya, a senior lawyer representing Twitter, had argued that "nothing survived" in the petition because the contested post has been "geo-blocked" and is currently not accessible in India.

He had added that Rahul Gandhi's account was suspended by the social media platform but was later restored. Nonetheless, the petitioner and the NCPDR's counsel argued that the offence still exists.

PM Modi has time to make political speeches across country but not in Parliament: Kharge

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Congress president and Leader of Opposition in Rajya Sabha, Mallikarjun Kharge on Thursday slammed Prime Minister Narendra Modi saying that he did not want to speak in Parliament over Manipur violence, which is a temple of democracy but has ample time to make political speeches across the country which is "tarnishing democracy".

He also said that the government which does not listen to the cries of people of Manipur is a blot on humanity.

In a tweet, Kharge said, "Burning of Manipur is a black chapter for the country. The government, which did not take note of cries of the people of Manipur for the last 85 days, is a blot on humanity. The Parliament session is going on and instead of speaking on the floor of the House, the Prime Minister is making speeches by visiting places, this is tarnishing democracy." "By abusing opposition, the misdeeds of the Modi government cannot be erased. Only the anti-dalits, tribes and backward people can make fun of black clothes, but for us black is a symbol of protest and strength. Black color is a symbol of justice and a symbol of dignity. The people of Manipur deserve justice, peace and respect," the LoP said. He said, "The BJP cannot run away from its responsibility by pushing the life of Manipur into darkness, by adopting dictatorial attitude, by diverting attention from the issue.

Hoax threat of flight crash at Delhi airport leads to police investigation

Team Absolute | New Delhi

A recent incident of hoax threat at the Delhi Airport has prompted a thorough investigation by the Delhi Police.

On the night between July 24 and July 25, an unidentified individual made a threatening call to the police, claiming that a flight crash was imminent on July 25.

In response, the police registered a case under the relevant sections of the law and initiated a probe.

The caller, speaking in Hindi, said, "Kal ek flight crash ho jayegi" (a flight will crash tomorrow). However, on July 25, no such incident occurred, leading the police to conclude that the call was indeed a hoax.

The police quickly delved into the matter after receiving the PCR call, which was forwarded to the investigators for further examination. "The subsequent enquiry revealed that the mobile number used to make the threatening call was registered under the name of one Abhinandan Kumar, a resident of Gaya in Bihar," as per FIR accessed by reporter. Moreover, I J James, the shift in-charge of DIAL Security and Vigilance at Terminal-3, IGI Airport, filed a complaint that they received information from the Air Traffic Control (ATC) in Delhi about the threat conveyed through the Delhi Police, warning of an imminent air crash at the IGI Airport on July 25.

Team Absolute | Mumbai

National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Thursday arrested one more accused for promoting violent activities of the proscribed terrorist outfit ISIS.

NIA official identified the accused as Adnanali Sarkar (43). The central agency arrested Sarkar following raids in Kondhwa, Pune.

"Several incriminating materials, such as electronic gadgets and several documents related to the ISIS, during searches at Sarkar's Kondhwa house were seized. The material exposed the accused allegiance with the ISIS and his role in promoting the outfit's violent agenda by motivating and recruiting vulnerable youth," the official said.

NIA said that the accused had hatched a conspiracy to further ISIS terrorist activities in the country.

The agency said that Sarkar was trying to disturb the unity, integrity, security and sovereignty of the country, and wage a war against the Government of India as part of the ISIS conspiracy through the organisation's like 'Maharashtra ISIS module'.

NIA had registered the case on June 28.

Coast Guard aids 8 scientists, 36 crew of stranded NIO ship off Karwar

Team Absolute | Mumbai

Moving swiftly, the Indian Coast Guard saved eight prominent scientists and 36 crew members on a state-of-the-art research vessel of the National Institute of Oceanography (NIO) which was adrift off the Karwar coast, an official said here on Thursday.

The ship, 'RV Sindhu Sadhana' was drifting dangerously close to the Karwar shore in Karnataka following an engine failure and could pose a potential environmental disaster.

The distressed vessel, stuck at around 20 nautical miles, was approaching the Karwar coast at a speed of three knots when the ICG received the SOS.

"The situation was critical, as the NIO, a state-of-the-art research vessel, was carrying valuable scientific equipment and research data. Moreover, the proximity of the ship to the ecologically sensitive Karwar coastline posed an imminent threat of grounding, which could have resulted in a major oil spill and devastating pollution to the pristine marine environment," said an official.

On receiving the distress call, the ICG swung into action and activated a high-priority rescue operation, dispatching their highly advanced ship with a specialized team to the area.

Recognizing the potential magnitude of the disaster, and battling tough weather conditions, the ICG also took measures to safeguard the RV Sindhu Sadhana to prevent it from running aground in the fragile ecosystem of Karwar. Given the sea conditions, the size of the distressed ship, distance from the shore and other factors, the ICG towed the RV Sindhu Sadhana and safely brought it to Goa, around 70 nautical miles away.

The ICG said that the entire team of scientists and crew onboard the NIO ship were safe and the quick response operation helped avert a potential maritime and ecological hazard.

TIME HAS COME TO VERIFY BJP'S BRAND OF 'HINDUTVA': UDDHAV THACKERAY

Team Absolute | Mumbai

Launching a scathing attack on the Bharatiya Janata Party, Shiv Sena (UBT) President and former Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray said that the time has come to check the ruling party's brand of 'Hindutva', here on Thursday.

Turning 63 on Thursday, Thackeray's comments came in the second part of his birthday interviews to the Saamana Group, with a volley of questions fired by the Executive Editor and MP Sanjay Raut.

Thackeray said that his father and the Shiv Sena founder Balasaheb Thackeray's 'Hindutva' was not of fanatic variety, it was a dream, he had openly supported the Uniform Civil Code and the abrogation of Article 370.

However, the present form of Hindutva, in which you do whatever you want in the name of Hinduism, will never be accepted by the Hindus anywhere.

"They call others corrupt, humiliate them, ruin their lives and then force them to sit beside them... This is not Hindutva," declared Thackeray.

He added that Hindutva does not mean just a 'dhoti', wear it as per convenience and take it off, and such 'showy' Hindutva is not our or acceptable.

"Earlier, during the Congress era, processions were taken out and slogans raised saying Islam is in danger... Now, Hindu Janakrosh marches are being taken out... So what did you do for nine years? Even today, Hindus are insecure in Kashmir, what's being done for them?" Thackeray demanded. Turning to the Manipur situation, the ex-CM asked whether those being killed there are not citizens of this country and what is being done for them, and is this the (BJP's) Hindutva. On the contrary, the BJP accuses the Opposition parties of being 'families coming together to save themselves'.

Thackeray said that whenever patriotic parties come together to save the 'family', the BJP feels they are targeting their chair, and pointedly asked: 'what has the BJP achieved in the past nine years, especially for Hindutva'.

"Yes, families have joined together to save the country, democracy... I had implemented the concept of 'My Family, My Responsibility' during the Covid-19 pandemic period. Today it needs to be executed all over the country as 'My Country, My Responsibility'," said Thackeray, justifying his stance in Bengaluru recently during the national opposition parties' conclave. To a query on the issue of Ram Temple and whether it was resolved, Thackeray countered, "who solved it?"

"At the time of the Babri Masjid incident, you were not ready to even take responsibility... you did not take the decision of Ram Temple, then how can you take credit for it. What did you do for Hindutva and where is it now?" Thackeray asked sharply.

Referring to the flock of people from other political parties joining the BJP, Thackeray said that Ram has gone away long back and the party is now just full of 'aaya-rams'.

"This entire party is of 'aaya-rams'... What about the people originally with your party... will they be deployed only for party work or will they be given tickets in parliament and assembly elections... I just read that Maharashtra is lagging in exports, but someone commented it is leading in import of MLAs...," said Thackeray in a swipe at the ruling alliance in the state.

Meanwhile, the ruling BJP leaders like Narayan Rane, Sudhir Mungantiwar, Ashish Shelar, Prasad Lad, Keshav Upadhye and others have ridiculed and slammed Thackeray's two-part marathon birthday-interview and his comments.

Team Absolute | Mumbai

NCP's Rajya Sabha member Praful Patel on Thursday said Maharashtra's Deputy Chief Minister Ajit Pawar is a popular and heavyweight leader and he will get an opportunity to become the chief minister. "Ajit Pawar is a popular and heavyweight leader. He has been leading our party for several years now. Those who work get the opportunity either today, tomorrow or day after. Many have got the opportunity. Ajit Dada will also get it, if not today, tomorrow or anytime in future. We will work in that direction," he said. Congress leader Prithviraj Chavan Ajit Pawar and eight other NCP MLAs joined the Shiv Sena-BJP government on July 2. While Ajit Pawar took oath as the deputy chief minister, the MLAs were sworn in as ministers. Later, the crucial finance department was allotted to Ajit Pawar, the nephew of NCP chief Sharad Pawar.

Eknath Shinde had said Ajit Pawar's entry into the government posed no threat to him.

Asked about the possibility of him being inducted into the council of ministers at the Centre, Praful Patel there is no discussion on the Union cabinet reshuffle or expansion.

"I don't think it will happen," he said. To another question, he said, "My constituency will always be Bhandara-Gondia." Praful Patel had earlier represented Maharashtra's Bhandara-Gondia constituency in the Lok Sabha.

Congress's Big Outreach To Farmers, BJP Expands Scheme

Team Absolute | Bhopal

Both BJP and the Congress rushed to make announcements in view of the upcoming elections in Madhya Pradesh, hours ahead of Home Minister Amit Shah's arrival in Bhopal for brainstorming with top BJP leaders.

Madhya Pradesh Congress chief Kamal Nath announced waiver of farm loans and pending electricity bills of farmers on coming to power in the state. The waivers were part of the Kisan Nyay Yojana, which also promised at least 12 hours uninterrupted free electricity for 5 HP water pumps for the farmers.

Under the scheme, cases lodged against farmers over protests during the present BJP regime in the state will also be withdrawn, promised Nath. The announcement came amid reports that the BJP government in MP will soon launch a scheme providing cooking gas cylinders for women at Rs 500, which is same as one of Congress's five poll guarantees in the state.

The scheme, which targets around 150 rural seats out of the total 230, is also being viewed as an attempt to reach out to farmers amid indications that the ruling BJP is gradually regaining lost ground in MP, particularly after BJP's central leadership took control of the entire poll management.

Meanwhile, Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan addressed a month-long Vikas Parva event in eastern MP's Singrauli and made several announcements aimed at the tribals and women.

He said that umbrellas will now be provided to the Tendu leaf collectors across the state under the existing Charan Paduka Yojana and Rs 200 will be credited to their bank accounts.

Courtney Cox enjoys dinner date with partner Johnny McDaid

Los Angeles | Agencies

Friends' star Courtney Cox and Snow Patrol guitarist Johnny McDaid looked happy and in love as they stepped out in New York for a date night. The 'Scream' star was spotted alongside her longtime partner as they grabbed a bite to eat, reports The Mirror. The 59-year-old looked stunning in a casual look as she paired a white t-shirt and jeans combination with a denim jacket. She accessorised the outfit with a crossover black purse and white trainers. She completed the look with a pair of stylish sunglasses.

Johnny, 47, also went for the dressed down look as he opted for an all black look, including a black leather jacket over the top of a zipped hoodie.

As per The Mirror, the American actress and Brit musician have been dating since 2013. By 2014, they had announced their engagement. Despite things taking a downward turn and their engagement later being called off, the pair have remained together, and look closer than ever.

Courtney first met Johnny at a party in Los Angeles when they were introduced by mutual friend Ed Sheeran.

The actress was previously wed to 'Scream' co-star David Arquette. They were married between 1999 and 2010 and share a daughter, Coco, 19, -- to whom Jennifer Aniston is her godmother.

In April, David opened up about their marriage, saying he felt "inferior" at times.

He said her mammoth earnings during the height of her 'Friends' fame was a struggle for him as she earned up to $1 million per episode for her portrayal of Monica Geller in the iconic sitcom.

David, who was by no means failing in his career during their marriage, said her success was "difficult" to swallow as he desperately wanted to be the one to "pick up the check".

MCU'S 'SECRET INVASION' FINALE COULD SET UP ITS UPCOMING 'ARMOR WARS' FEATURE

Los Angeles | Agencies

The Marvel Cinematic Universe's spy-thriller series 'Secret Invasion' has come to an end, the finale of the show is likely to set up the 'Armor Wars' storyline from the comics.

With its twist ending with regards to the War Machine, it could lead to a more faithful adaptation of the comic-book story of 'Armor Wars' story.

The original story of 'Secret Invasion' in the comics is vastly different from the one shown in the MCU, as the comic one is a crossover storyline that features many heroes such as Iron Man, Spiderman, Doctor Strange, Professor X, Wolverine, Luke Cage, Daredevil and many more teaming up to defeat the Skrull invasion after the Kree-Skrull war where the Skrullhomeworld was in fact eaten by the planet eating god called Galactus.

Much like the comic stories of 'Secret Invasion' and 'Armor Wars', the Earth is in shambles after the Skrull attack, and the antagonist Gravik's impersonation of War Machine has led to the US announcing a full-fledged war against the Skrulls, much like the alien species wanted. Now this interesting twist is going to be a good start to set up 'Armor Wars'.

The original 'Armor Wars' story revolved around Tony Stark becoming public enemy No. 1 in order to defeat all villains using Stark Technology by his lonesome, while completely sacrificing his reputation.

However, in MCU's 'Avengers: Endgame' Tony Stark died, meaning that in the new 'Armor Wars' feature, War Machine/ James Rhodes will likely be the main character.

'MEG 2' DIRECTOR BEN WHEATLEY TALKS ABOUT JASON STATHAM'S LOVE FOR DOING HIS OWN STUNTS

Mumbai | Agencies

Filmmaker Ben Wheatley, who is gearing up for the release of his upcoming film 'Meg 2', has spoken about the Hollywood actor Jason Statham's love for doing his own stunts and his keenness of doing as many stunts as possible by himself.

Anytime the actor is seen powering a jet ski through the water in the movie, that is indeed Statham.

Talking about his lead actor and his love for stunts, Wheatley said: "Because the physics of a face are hard to fake -- you have to be upside down to really look like you are upside down -- we had Jason on this kind of giant hand drill setup, and we'd pull the trigger and spin him around, firing water at his face. He added: "He wanted as few gimbal shots as possible, almost all of it is him -- obviously not jumping a giant wave, but him riding a jet ski very, very quickly. And scarily, we were all at the monitors, saying, 'Please come back all right!'"

'Meg 2: The Trench' is a literally larger-than-life thriller ride that superizes the 2018 blockbuster and takes the action up a notch higher and even greater depths with multiple massive Megs and so much more. Starring Jason Statham and global action icon Wu Jing as they lead a daring research team on an exploratory dive into the deepest depths of the ocean following the cinematic vision of director Ben Wheatley.

Their voyage spirals into chaos when a malevolent mining operation threatens their mission and forces them into a high-stakes battle for survival. Pitted against colossal Megs and relentless environmental plunderers, our heroes must outrun, outsmart, and outswim their merciless predators in a pulse-pounding race against time.

Greta Gerwig rules out possibility of 'Barbie' sequel zero." Following the massive success of the movie amid the huge 'Barbenheimer' war, which doesn't seem to be dying down despite the fact that both movies are currently in their second week, Mattel CEO Ynon Kreiz had previously expressed his own excitement about the film and said that Mattel is very keen to make more 'Barbie' films. In an earlier interview with 'Time' magazine, he had said: "We're looking to create movies that become cultural events. If you can excite filmmakers like Greta and Noah to embrace the opportunity and have creative freedom, you can have a real impact." While Gerwig is not currently open to doing any more 'Barbie' films, she has expressed interest in directing a James Bond movie, and said in a podcast earlier that it would be a "huge honour" but also "a nerve wracking experience." This is an interesting turn as 'Oppenheimer' director Christopher Nolan had also expressed interest in directing a 007 feature film, stating that he would like to have his own approach to the movie. Greta Gerwig may not be open to doing any more 'Barbie' films, but producer and lead actress Margot Robbie is sure open to doing more, as she has said that as of now, the film with its unorthodox approach can go in a million different directions, presenting more than enough opportunities for a sequel. 'Barbie' is currently leading at the box office having grossed over $472 million at the global box office and has an 80 per cent positive reception which is a bit of a dip from its initial 85 per cent positive score.

Actor Arijit Taneja was super excited to be a part of 'KhatronKeKhiladi' Season 13. Back from shooting the show in Cape Town, South Africa, in Mumbai, he cannot wait to share what all happened there.

"It was so wonderful that I have come back with some battle scars. It was incredible, one of my nicest experiences till date. Everyone who has participated in this programme, in my opinion, has emerged as a totally different person," Arijit said.

"The journey has been fantastic, and I already miss Cape Town. We all participated in the stunts together, where we laughed, cried, cheered one another, and also suffered injuries. It was a lovely experience that lasted for fifty-five days, not less," he added.

The actor connected with most of the contestants well. "I think Archana is really engaging and humorous, but she also performed her stunts flawlessly. I will miss everyone from the show since we all made strong bonds. I got along well with Anjoom Fakhri, Shiv Thakare, Dino James, Anjali Anand, Nyrra M Banerji, and Sheezan Khan," he smiled. Praising Rohit Shetty to be the perfect host and motivator, Arijit took a metaphorical route as he said: "He gives us an 'injection', I would say, to enhance people's performance in their stunts. He has scolded everyone, including me. However, I would say that it was not merely scolding; it was more of his way of motivating us to complete the stunts." "Nonetheless, there was one instance when Nyrra was scolded by Rohit sir because she was not listening to him during one of the stunts. I would consider him an OG. Whenever we discuss stunts, his name and face immediately comes to my mind due to his persona and swag," he added.
