The flood situation was "grim" in north Madhya Pradesh where over 1,200 villages were affected by the deluge following heavy rains and 5,950 people were shifted to safer places with the help of the Army, NDRF, BSF and state agencies, Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan said on Wednesday. He said 1,950 people were still stranded in the flood-hit areas and efforts were on to rescue them.

The rescue operations using helicopters resumed again on Wednesday, after being affected due to the bad weather on Tuesday. The Chief Minister undertook an aerial survey of the flood-hit areas on Wednesday afternoon.

"The flood situation in north Madhya Pradesh is grim...1,225 villages in Shivpuri, Sheopur, Datia, Gwalior, Guna, Bhind and Morena districts are affected," Chouhan said.

"Four columns of the Army, BSF, NDRF teams and 70 teams of the SDRF have been deployed for the rescue work. More teams of the NDRF are coming...five helicopters of the Air Force, including four in Gwalior and one in Shivpuri, have also been pressed into the rescue operations," the Chief Minister said. But, it is a matter of relief that the water level is coming down in some places, he said. Some villages in Sheopur district were completely submerged, but the people stranded there were safe. The Army was reaching those villages for the rescue operations. The Army also reached Datia, where 1,100 people were rescued from 36 villages. Some people were airlifted from a place in Datia districts where all the main roads are shut due to inundation. Nearly 3,000 people were shifted to relief camps in Gwalior, where 46 villages were affected. In Shivpuri, 800 people were rescued from 22 villages. "Two bridges in Datia district collapsed due to flooding. A crack emerged on a bridge over the National Highway no. 3, hence it has been closed as a precaution," the Chief Minister said. Chouhan also said that the infrastructure was completely damaged at several places in these districts.

The Gwalior-Chambal area of the state has received heavy rains in the last few days. Due to this, the urban settlements have been submerged, while the road connectivity to the rural areas has been completely broken and the villages are surrounded by water. Relief and rescue operations continued throughout the day and hundreds of villagers were evacuated to a safer place. The people were rescued by the SDRF team through boat and with the help of local villagers. Apart from this, there was a serious situation at some places where the help of NDRF team and helicopter was taken. People were evacuated with the help of helicopters in many villages of Bairad, Karera and Narwar. Team rescued three tribal youths trapped on the tree.

"The central government is working closely with the Madhya Pradesh government to assist those affected by heavy rainfall and flooding in parts of the state. I have spoken to CM Chouhan Shivraj and reviewed the situation. I pray for everyone's safety and well-being."

Consider local curbs during festivals till Durga puja: Centre To States

Team Absolute | New Delhi

States should consider restrictions in view of the coming festive season, the Centre said today pointing to the upsurge in cases in parts of the country. Pointing to the festivities starting with Muharram on August 19 to Durga Puja on October 15, the Union health ministry said the states should "actively consider local restrictions" and "curb mass gatherings".

"Indian Council of Medical Research and National Centre for Disease control have expressed concern regarding the mass gathering events during festivals turning into super spreader events," added the letter from the health ministry to Chief Ministers and administrators of all states. "I would like to reiterate that any laxity in ensuring strict adherence to the five-fold strategy of 'Test-Track-Treat-Vaccinate and Ensuring Covid-Appropriate Behaviour', may result in losing the impetus that our country has gained so far in managing the pandemic," read the letter signed by Rajesh Bhushan. The Centre has repeatedly warned that the second wave is still not over and the Delta variant of the virus is still a dominant problem.

CVC recommends disciplinary action against ex-CBI boss Alok Verma!

Anand Singh | New Delhi

Former Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) Director Alok Kumar Verma, who was unceremoniously removed from the post may have to face disciplinary action and even lose his retirement benefits for allegedly "misusing his position" as the central agency director and violating rules during his service, sources said on Wednesday.

The Union Home Ministry (MHA) and the Department of Personnel and Training (DoPT) has asked the UPSC to take action against Verma, who was at the epicentre of a controversy in 2018, when Rakesh Asthana, the then special director of the probe agency had levelled allegations of corruption against him. The source said that the file for disciplinary action was received two to three days back. The source said that the government has also cited that Verma, a 1979 batch IPS officer 'violated government rules' during his service. Verma, as the CBI Director indulged in bitter feud with the agency's Special Director Rakesh Asthana and traded charges of corruption against each other. Asthana has been appointed as the Delhi Police Commissioner in July. Verma's name had recently also figured in the Pegasus 'snoop list'.

Fully vaccinated people thrice at lower risk of Covid

The study led by researchers at the Imperial College London is based on swab tests taken by nearly 98,233 people themselves at home and their samples were analysed by PCR testing between June 24 and July 12. Of these, 527 tested positive and 254 of these were successfully analysed in the lab to determine their origins, 100 per cent of which were Delta variants.

- ▶ People who were unvaccinated had a three-fold higher prevalence than those who had received both doses of Covid vaccine, at 1.21 per cent compared to 0.4 per cent.
- ▶ The study showed that the highest infection prevalence was found in young people aged 13-24 years at 1.56 per cent or 1 in 65 infected, while the lowest was in people aged above 75 years at 0.17 per cent. Women had a lower risk of testing positive than men (0.55 per cent vs 0.71 per cent).

LONDON | Agencies

Double vaccinated people were three times less likely than unvaccinated people to test positive for the Covid-19 infection, a new research has found. In addition, analyses of PCR test results also suggest that fully vaccinated people may be less likely than unvaccinated people to pass the virus on to others. This is due to having a smaller viral load on average and therefore, likely spreading less virus. The study carried out in partnership with Ipsos MORI is available in a pre-print report and will be submitted for peer-review. Previous study data showed that the link between infections, hospitalisations and deaths had been weakening since February.

There is still a risk of infection as no vaccine is 100 per cent effective, and we know that some double vaccinated people can still fell ill from the virus. Paul Elliott, School of Public Health at Imperial College London.

7 of a family including 4 kids die as house collapses due to rain

Team Absolute | Jaipur

Seven members of a family, including four children, two women and a man, were killed when a house collapsed in Keshoraipatan town in Bundi district following incessant rains on Wednesday.

Rain continues to spell disaster in Hadoti division of Rajasthan. The bodies have been pulled out from the rubble and were kept in the mortuary till the filing of the report. Officials said that a security wall was built on the banks of Chambal a few years back by the municipality to prevent soil erosion from the mound near Naav Ghat. Due to incessant rain, the security wall crashed and fell on the house. The incident happened at 2.30 a.m on Wednesday. The family of two brothers Mahavir and Mahendra Kewat residing near the Naav Ghat was buried under the rubble due to the sudden collapse of the house. Mahavir escaped from the clutches of death as he ran out of the house.

BANK AGENT SEEKS 'SEX' FROM MAHA WOMAN FOR UNPAID CREDIT CARD DUES!

Quaid Najmi | Aurangabad

In a shocking incident, a woman has complained that public sector State Bank Of India's (SBI) third-party recovery agents allegedly demanded "sexual favours" from her in lieu of outstanding payments in her credit card account.

The victim's husband said that the incident took place in February when the New Delhi-based recovery company, Incredible Management Services (IMS) owners and agents misbehaved with his wife.

"They started with threats, then abusive language, and then a direct SMS with a written demand for sexual favours with my wife to settle the outstanding bills," the livid husband told correspondent.

The 29-year-old woman holds a SBI credit card since past three years and all bills were cleared regularly.

However, he said an amount of around Rs 21,000 was pending on account of the financial constraints faced by the family during the pandemic lockdown when he was virtually jobless and his wife's boutique for women's accessories was shut for a prolonged period.

Aurangabad's Deputy Police Commissioner, Zone II, Deepak Gire said that a FIR was lodged by MIDC-CIDCO Police Station soon after the incident and one accused booked under Section 509 of the Indian Penal Code, and served notice.

"However, no arrests are made since the offence attracts a jail term of less than 3 years... and investigations are on," Gire told correspondent.

While the couple contended that the police did nothing for six months after the complaint was registered, the police suddenly revived the investigations in July.

"They asked me to accompany them to New Delhi to arrest the culprits - IMS CEO Dharmendra S. Kalra and his recovery agent Ranjit Kumar... I paid for their entire lodging-boarding, local travel, etc, but they did nothing," the husband said.

It did not end here and they virtually compelled him to take them for a darshan at the Vaishnodaya Temple in J&K before returning to Aurangabad - all at his expense.

In the meantime, the IMS agents allegedly created a fake profile on Facebook, posted photos of the couple, painted the woman as of "loose character" and "available for paid sex". "We informed the police but it took them several weeks before any result. By then, our reputation was ruined in society," she said.

Return fees collected via illegal offline admissions: AP intermediate board

Amaravati | Agencies

The Andhra Pradesh Board of Intermediate Education (BIE) on Wednesday directed all the junior colleges which illegally collected fees for unapproved offline admissions for academic year 2021-22 to return the money to the students.

"The college managements are directed to repay the fee collected from the students immediately," Board Secretary V. Ramakrishna said, warning that the colleges admitting students illegally through offline mode will face action, including disaffiliation.

He said it has come to the notice of the board that certain college managements and principals are making illegal admissions and that these will not be approved.

"The board is introducing online admissions from the academic year 2021-22. It is known that some of the students have already taken admissions into some colleges and also paid the college fee even before the release of notification for online admission process," he noted. Ramakrishna said the board is not responsible for the students who have already taken these illegal admissions and paid the college fee. He ordered the RIOs across the state to identify the erring colleges.

Aiming at wiping out the decades-long widespread abuse and indiscriminate commercialisation of intermediate education in the state, the board introduced only online admissions from this academic year. On Wednesday, Ramakrishna, a senior Indian Revenue Service (IRS) officer, held a Zoom meeting with all the stakeholders of intermediate education in the 13 districts, including a few parents, to allay their fears and clarify many of their doubts about online mode of admissions.

Sea trials of India's first indigenous aircraft carrier kick off

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Sea trials of India's first indigenous aircraft carrier, which will be reincarnated as INS Vikrant once it is commissioned, finally kicked off on Wednesday.

The Indian Navy said that it was "proud and historic day for India" as the reincarnated Vikrant sails for her maiden sea trials, in the 50th year of her illustrious predecessor's key role in victory in the 1971 war.

It also stated the indigenous construction of the aircraft carrier is a shining example in the nation's quest for 'AtmaNirbhar Bharat' and 'Make in India Initiative'.

With building of the indigenous aircraft carrier, India joins select group of nations having niche capability to indigenously design, build, and integrate a state of art aircraft carriers.

Vikrant, designed by Indian Navy's Directorate of Naval Design

(DND), is being built at the Cochin Shipyard Ltd (CSL), a public sector unit under the Ministry of Shipping. It is 262 m long, 62 m at the widest part and has a height of 59 m, including the superstructure. There are 14 decks in all, including five in the superstructure.

The ship has over 2,300 compartments, designed for a crew of around 1,700 people, including specialised cabins to accommodate women officers.

Designed with a very high degree of automation for machinery operation, ship navigation and survivability, Vikrant has a top speed of around 28 knots and cruising speed of 18 knots with an endurance of about 7,500 nautical miles. It can accommodate an assortment of fixed wing and rotary aircraft. Indian Navy's ship building programme is rightly poised to provide requisite 'Economic Stimulus', with 44 ships and submarine on order being built indigenously, the Navy said.

Flood situation worsens in Bengal; PM Modi speaks to Mamata

Kolkata | Agencies

With the flood situation turning grim in at least seven districts of West Bengal, Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee, who went to Howrah district to conduct a preliminary survey of the situation on Wednesday, complained to Prime Minister Narendra Modi that the flood situation has aggravated in the state because of the excessive release of water by the Damodar Valley Corporation (DVC).

The allegations were raised during a phone call with the Prime Minister on Wednesday. Besides taking stock of the situation on the ground, Modi also took stock of the damages caused by the floods in the state, and promised Banerjee that the Centre would assist the state in alleviating the flood situation.

Sources in the CMO said that Banerjee slammed the DVC dams for releasing excessive amount of water without consulting the state, causing flooding in several areas. The conversation between the two leaders lasted for about seven minutes.

West Bengal Irrigation Minister Soumen Mahapatra had also hit out at the DVC on Tuesday, saying: "The DVC deliberately released so much water that it led to a flood-like situation. The Central government deliberately created this man-made flood situation in Bengal. We condemn such politics."

Earlier, the Chief Minister had promised that she would conduct an aerial survey of the flood affected districts, particularly at Khanakul in Hooghly and Udaynarayanpur in Howrah district, but she had to cancel her trip to Khanakul because of the rough weather condition and visited only Udaynarayanpur by road.

will have bear the brunt of such wrong decisions of accommodating two leaders (Bommai and B.C. Patil) from same community from Haveri at the expense of Dalits and backward classes.

"Both of these leaders (Bommai and Patil) belonged to politically dominant community... when will people like us get an chance," a BJP Dalit leader of Haveri shot back in response to a question by a local channel.

NUTRITIONAL CRISIS DURING COVID TO AFFECT 9.3 MN CHILDREN BY 2022

Jaipur | Agencies

Addressing a webinar on 'Fighting nutritional crisis in India during Covid-19, especially for women and children in India', several experts on Wednesday raised concern over the adverse effects of the pandemic which are affecting millions of children and women due to lack of intake of quality food and micronutrients.

Speaking on the occasion, Sudhir Bhandari, Principal, SMS Medical College, Jaipur, said, "India initially faced physical challenges during Covid-19. However, over time, we realised how nutrition affected the lives of many. Around 9.3 million children would be affected by 2022 out of which 20-25 per cent might suffer due to stunted growth."

"Children experiencing under-nutrition are more likely to suffer from pandemic complications as it may cause more sickness and mortality due to Covid-19 and other infectious and inflammatory diseases, including pneumonia."

"In countries with the 1st and 2nd waves of Covid-19, obesity and non-communicable diseases have been associated with the more severe outcome of the virus. Covid-19 has had a severe effect on maternal and young children's nutritional status. We must strengthen the food security and functioning of the food supply chain to the population."

Bhandari added that last year, almost 58 million children between the age group of 6 months and 23 months did not develop the right eating habits.

D.K. Mangal, advisor, SD Gupta School of Public Health at IIMR University, said, "India bears a disproportionate burden of malnutrition. Response to the pandemic has disrupted routine nutrition programmes such as the ICDS and the Mid-Day Meal programme. This has adversely affected the nutrition status of millions of children and women." he webinar was organised by the NGO Saksham Sanchar.

Team Absolute | Gwalior

An alleged video showing several youths with a jail inmate of Gwalior Central jail in Madhya Pradesh has gone viral on the social media, which has exposed the security apparatus in the jail. Following the incident, the Jail Superintendent Manoj Sahu has ordered a probe into the matter.

Despite mobile phones are prohibited inside a meeting room where prisoners meet with the visitors, this incident has brought forth the lapses on the part of the jail administration.

Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, special guidelines are being followed in the jail. The room where the prisoners and the visitors meet is surrounded by a glass wall. Aniket Shivhare, the son of a liquor trader, is lodged in the Gwalior Central Jail. Recently, several youths met him in the jail. The meeting took place following all jail regulations while they interacted standing opposite to the each other surrounded by a glass wall.

Team Absolute | Bhopal

A 21-year-old married woman was allegedly raped by her cousin in the presence of her husband, who recorded the entire incident on his smartphone in Gunga locality in state capital Bhopal around ten days back.

The survivor's husband brought her to Bhopal from Shajapur on the pretext of meeting an occult practitioner (witch doctor) to cure her infertility problem.

Gunga station house officer sub-inspector Ramesh Rai said that the survivor hails from a village in Shajapur district. She was married to a Kalapipal-based man around two years back and the couple have no children.

The SHO Rai said the survivor alleged that on July 21, the accused, along with his wife (survivor) and her brother, had come to Bhopal to visit one of her aunts, who resides in Kadampur village, Gunga. The accused told the survivor that they were going to meet an occult practitioner, who would treat her infertility problem with the help of black magic. After residing a day or two, the accused aunt locked the room door from outside, while the survivor was chatting with her husband and her cousin. Her husband helped the accused cousin when he allegedly outraged her modesty and the husband recorded the incident over his smartphone," said SHO Rai, adding that when the survivor complained about the horrible incident to her aunt, they threatened to kick her out of the home if she dared to reveal it to anyone.

The SHO said that on July 26, the survivor returned home in Shajapur and narrated the ordeal to her in-laws.

To her surprise, they too threatened her of dire consequences if she dared to approach the police.

"Later, she somehow managed to contact her family members and they helped her in filing a police complaint against the accused family members," said Rai, adding that on July 31, a zero FIR was registered at Kalapipal police station on the complaint of the survivor. As the incident took place under the jurisdiction of Gunga police station, the case diary was transferred here.

On receiving zero FIR on Tuesday, a case on charges of rape and hatching criminal conspiracy was registered against the accused cousin brother and four members of the survivor's family members including her husband, aunt, mother-in-law and father-in-law under relevant sections of IPC. It was not clear yet that the incident took place before meeting the occult practitioner or after. It would be clear during investigations," added SHO Rai. The GSL facility will be run at the BMC's Kasturba Hospital by the staff of the BYL Nair Charitable Hospital as part of the latter's Centenary Year, falling on September 4, 2021.

The GSF was one of the recommendations of the State Task Force for Covid-19 to tackle the pandemic and to detect and treat the genetic mutations in the virus that have been experienced in recent months.

Nair Hospital Dean Ramesh Bharmal said that the GSL can handle 1,000-cases simultaneously and provide the results within the next few hours. The entire cost of the equipment and the operating expenses have been raised through donations by a US-company, ATE Chandra Foundation and the TM Nair Medical College Global Alumni Association.

Bharmal said that the GSL will prove extremely useful, and the data analysed here especially pertaining to genetic research, would help in tackling not only the current Covid-19 pandemic but also for other future epidemics.

The CM further said it was very critical to have a virus testing lab in Mumbai to avoid delays in getting the test report which often led to fatalities in the past.

"We are currently fighting a war with a hidden enemy like the Coronavirus. The new GSL will enable detect and treat the Covid-19 virus or its incarnations, and even other contagious diseased speedily," Thackeray pointed out.

In order to fight the virus, it is imperative to study its genetics and the Coronavirus has shown that the longer it takes to identify the virus types, the more difficult it is to understand its effects and take steps to combat it.

Present on the occasion were Mayor Kishori Pednekar, Municipal Commissioner IS Chahal, Public Health Committee Chairperson Rajul Patel, Shashank Joshi, Sanjay Oak and others.

NHRC calls for report after suicide in Taloja prison

Team Absolute | Mumbai

The National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) has taken a serious view of the death due to suicide by the prisoner of Taloja Jail in Navi Mumbai and non-submission of requisite reports in the matter by the concerned authorities despite its notices. The Commission has called for reports on the conditions of prisons in Maharashtra from the Secretary, Legal Service Authority, the officials informed on Wednesday.

"While dealing with the proceedings related to the said case, the Commission has observed that the incident reveals mismanagement in the jail in Maharashtra. There are adequate provisions in jail manuals providing for an atmosphere free from temptations, which do not give an opportunity to any inmate to commit suicide. It is for this reason that ceiling fans and hanging hooks are not provided in the prison cells," Commission stated in its communication.

The suicide by an undertrial prisoner in the Taloja Central Jail happened on May 27, 2020. In the said case, the Commission has asked the Secretary, Legal Service Authority, through the Registrars of the High Courts of Mumbai to submit a report within four weeks about the conditions in the Jail premises in Maharashtra, which do not give an opportunity to an inmate to commit suicide.

The Commission has also sent final reminders to the District Magistrate, Raigad, Maharashtra to submit the requisite reports in the said case, including the magisterial enquiry report, within four weeks. The Commission has said that if the concerned authorities fail to send the reports, it would be constrained to take coercive steps under Section 13 of the PHR Act, 1993.

The Commission has also issued similar directives in connection with a suicide of a convicted prisoner in West Bengal in April last year.

Study deepening of rivers, building protective walls: Uddhav Thackeray

Team Absolute | Mumbai

As many parts of Maharashtra struggle to recuperate from last month's flood havoc, Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray on Tuesday ordered formulating a comprehensive and permanent policy for flood mitigation measures for people living in all the flood-prone areas in the state.

"The frequency and intensity of the floods are increasing... It should be studied by a committee of experts in the field, the National Water Commission and government officials to evolve long-term permanent solutions," he said.

Thackeray called for plans to examine scientifically to deepen the rivers like Savitri, Vashishthi, and Gandhari which wreaked havoc in Raigad and Ratnagiri districts, improve the riverbed and build flood protection walls, besides setting a Real Time Data Acquisition System in the next three months. The CM's directive came a day after PWD Minister Ashok Chavan revealed that as many as 4,138 roads, bridges, and causeways were damaged or destroyed across the state, with floods hitting for the third consecutive year.

Chavan has called for construction of 'elevated' roads in the flood-prone areas of the state as a precaution against future floods on account of the global climate change.

An expert and ex-Member (Judicial) of Maharashtra Water Resources Regulatory Authority (MWRRA), Vinod Tiwari said that rules to this effect have already been framed by the National Green Tribunal and the Supreme Court, but even surveys and demarcation of floodlines have not been carried out yet.

"The rules are mostly violated with no action against the encroachers, resulting in huge loss of lives and massive damages every year. There are many examples in Mumbai, Pune and other flood-prone areas in the state," he said.

For starters, he said that state Urban Development Department can modify the Development Control Rules to mandate only constructions above stilt level, parking lots should be at higher levels, while underground parking lots must be completely banned in all areas falling under floodline.

Instagram 'friend' from UK promised woman costly gifts, duped her of Rs 4.29 lakh

A cyber fraudster impersonating as a UK citizen befriended a 34-year-old woman from Andheri on Instagram and cheated her of Rs 4.29 lakh, according to an FIR registered at Andheri Police Station.

In her complaint, the woman said she had received a follow request on her Instagram profile from a man who claimed to be from London. tures of the items. He also gave her a link to track its delivery. On July 29, she received a phone call from a man who claimed he was calling from the customs office. He told her that the "gift parcel" has a lot of cash in it and she would have to pay charges for procuring an "anti-money laundering certificate." The complainant paid Rs 4.29 lakh. # EXCESS DEATHS IN MAHARASHTRA WERE AT LEAST 3 TIMES THE OFFICIAL COVID TOLL

The number of "excess deaths" registered by the Civil Registration System (CRS) in Maharashtra ever since the COVID-19 pandemic hit (from April 2020 to May 2021), was an estimated 2,12,589 which is 2.8 times the official reported figure of 75,877 deaths for the same period.

Team Absolute | Mumbai

The figures were arrived at from data on deaths registered month-wise in the online Civil Registration System from January 2018 to May 2021 in Maharashtra and accessed by The Hindu. As with other States, not all excess deaths could be related to COVID-19, but a bulk of them will be, during the pandemic period.

The online death registrations data accessed by The Hindu showed a total of 6,67,900 and 6,93,800 deaths in 2018 and 2019 respectively, which corresponded to 63.9% and 66.6% of the numbers released by the CRS' annual report on vital statistics in the year 2019. Six districts Pune, Satara, Sangli, Yavatmal, Sindhudurg and Gondiya, with a combined officially recorded COVID-19 toll of 21,110 deaths between April 2020 and May 2021, were not considered for this analysis as the month-wise CRS registration data accessed was inconsistent between 2018 and 2019 for them.

Considering only close to 60% of deaths which were available in the online data for the baseline years 2018 and 2019 for calculating excess deaths, the estimate of 2,12,589 is a conservative one. Deaths registered for districts such as Mumbai, Thane, Akola, Amravati, Nandurbar were more than 90% of those recorded in the annual report while those for Ratnagiri, Raigarh, Kolhapur, Hingoli, Buldana, Washim were less than 40%.

If the excess deaths calculated were adjusted based on the percentage availability of data for 2018 and 2019 (by dividing them by the average of the percentage availability for these years) and re-calculated for the State (without the six omitted districts), the estimate increased to 3,10,727 deaths corresponding to a multiple of 4.1 over the official death toll of 75,877.

In sum, the estimated excess deaths in the pandemic period for 29 districts in Maharashtra could be in a range of 2.8 to 4.1 times the official COVID-19 death toll in the State. The overall COVID-19 death toll for all 35 districts as of May 31, 2021 was 95,344, which has since increased to 1,32,948 as of August 1. Excess deaths were an estimated 2.8 to 4.1 times the COVID-19 toll in Maharashtra during the pandemic period (April 2020 to May 2021).

Covid causes myopia in children

Significant curbs on time spent outdoors and sharp rise in screen time during the coronavirus pandemic have led to the rise in childhood short-sightedness, also known as myopia, suggests a study. The condition changes the shape of the eye, causing light rays to bend (refract) incorrectly, focusing images in front of, instead of on the surface of, the retina. Short-sightedness in children matters because it puts them at risk of developing complications that increase the risk of irreversible impaired eyesight/blindness later in life, said researchers. To find out if enforced behavioural and lifestyle changes during the pandemic might have affected children's vision, the team studied the eyes of 1,793 children. Around 1 in 5 (19.5 per cent) of the children in the Covid-19 group developed short-sightedness between January and August 2020, compared with around 1 in 3 (37 per cent) of those in the pre-Covid-19 group over a period of three years. The estimated 1-year incidence of short-sightedness was 28 per cent, 27 per cent, and 26 per cent, respectively, for 6, 7 and 8 year olds in the Covid-19 group, compared with 17 per cent, 16 per cent, and 15 per cent, respectively, for 6, 7, and 8 year olds in the pre-Covid-19 group. These changes coincided with a reduction in the time the children spent outdoors, from around an hour and 15 minutes to around 24 minutes/day and an increase in screen time from around 2.5 hours/day to around 7 hours/day. This is an observational study, and as such, can't establish cause, added to which the research included questionnaire data, which rely on recall. And the findings might not reflect the impact of Covid-19 in other parts of the world, where social distancing, quarantine, and school closure policies may be different, cautioned the researchers.

INDIAN NAVY TASK FORCE IN SOUTH CHINA SEA, WESTERN PACIFIC FOR 2

A Task Force of the Indian Navy's Eastern Fleet will proceed on over two month overseas deployment to Southeast Asia, the South China Sea, and the Western Pacific from early August. The deployment of the Indian Navy ships seeks to underscore the operational reach, peaceful presence and solidarity with friendly countries towards ensuring good order in the maritime domain and to strengthen existing bonds between India and countries of the Indo-Pacific, a Navy statement said. The deployment is in pursuit of India's 'Act East' policy and to enhance military cooperation with friendly countries, it said. The Indian Task Force comprises Guided Missile Destroyer Ranvijay, Guided Missile Frigate Shivalik, Anti-Submarine Corvette Kadmat, and Guided Missile Corvette Kora. The latter three ships are indigenously designed and are equipped with a versatile array of weapons and sensors, and are made in India by defence shipyards. During the deployment in the Indo Pacific, the ships are scheduled to participate in bilateral exercises with the Vietnamese Peoples' Navy, the Republic of Philippines Navy, Republic of Singapore Navy (SIMBEX), and the Indonesian Navy (Samudra Shakti) and Royal Australian Navy (AUS-INDEXX). Further, they would also participate in multilateral exercise MALABAR-21 alongside the Japanese Maritime Self Defence Force, the Royal Australian Navy and the United States Navy in Western Pacific. The Indian Navy undertakes regular deployments to friendly foreign countries and Indian and the Pacific Ocean regions in furtherance of the Prime Minister's initiative of 'Security and Growth for All in the Region - SAGAR', the statement said. Further, such engagements build 'Bridges of Friendship' and strengthen international cooperation, it said, adding that these maritime initiatives enhance synergy and coordination between the Indian Navy and friendly countries, based on common maritime interests and commitment towards Freedom of Navigation at sea. Besides regular port calls, the task group will operate in conjunction with friendly navies, to build military relations and develop interoperability in the conduct of maritime operations.

RBI's MPC to maintain rates, accommodative stance

Rohit Vaid

In a quest to sustain economic growth, the Reserve Bank is expected to continue with its easy monetary policy as well as the accommodative stance. Accordingly, economists and industry experts, cited that despite high retail inflation, growth concerns will act as a major deterrent for any tightening of monetary policy. Besides, a growth-boosting accommodative stance is expected to be maintained in the third monetary policy review of FY22. "We expect a pause on rates and the stance, amid an upward revision in the inflation projections," said Aditi Nayar, Chief Economist, ICRA. "This will inject uneasiness into the tone of the policy, even as the MPC is likely to endeavour to support growth for as long as possible." The MPC has maintained the repo - or short-term lending rate - for commercial banks at 4 per cent. It will release the monetary policy resolution on August 6. "We don't expect any action on interest rates or any major step towards recalibration of systemic liquidity at this point in time," said Suman Chowdhury, Chief Analytical Officer at Acuite Ratings and Research. "The combination of elevated commodity prices, Covid related disruptions, vaccination progress, and policy support led economic revival has resulted in an acceleration in inflation in most countries including India." Consequently, the high rate of retail inflation has led to expectations of a readjustment in monetary policy. However, systemically important central banks, including the RBI, have so far treated the rise in inflation as 'transitory', while continuing to focus on supporting growth recovery. Notably, the benchmark CPI inflation in India has remained above 6 per cent over the months of May and June and is likely to remain sticky in the near future. On the other hand, a strong kharif crop output led by a favourable monsoon and the easing of supply bottlenecks from a tapering down of the pandemic may partly cool down the inflationary pressures from Q3FY22. "MPC may still choose to look through the spike in inflation in the near term, with the monetary reaction function currently hinging more on growth revival becoming sustainable," said Madhavi Arora, Lead Economist, Emkay Global. "We still do not see any change in policy rates this year." A policy tightening, if administered, would theoretically force commercial banks to increase their lending rates, thereby, burdening both consumers and the industry with expensive finance. Subsequently, the decreased money flow in the hands of the consumers would dampen demand, and reduce the capital flow needed for investment cycle. Nevertheless, this would have stunted the high retail inflation.

Mizos losing crops, pullback from lands on Assam border

Subir Bhaumik

Lalthanpui left behind her entire crop of areca nuts after Assam police and villagers stormed her settlement near here on July 10. That was almost a fortnight before the bloody clash between Assam and Mizoram police at Vairengte, which left seven, including six Assam policemen dead and more than 60 injured on both sides. "Hundreds of policemen and several hundreds of Assam villagers attacked our village. They pushed all Mizos out, took away our areca nuts. Later they drained the water in our ponds and took away all our fish," said Lalthanpui, tears in her eyes. "I have lost everything." She says five Mizo women, including herself, were among those who suffered injuries in a futile bid to stop the incursion from Assam. Now Lalthanpui and other Mizo villagers of Verte are living behind the Mizoram police camp at Buarchip. "We have lost our crops and fish in our ponds and left without any livelihood now. The future is very uncertain," says Joe Lalsangliana, another Verte resident now in Buarchip. A small river flowing through the area separates the police camps of Mizoram and Assam, with the CRPF forces deployed between them to maintain peace. The policemen don't encourage movement of villagers that they feel could trigger violence. A local palm oil processing project by Godrej is in doldrums because the Mizo farmers are pulling back from the plantations due to spiralling state border tensions. At nearby mountains on I-Tlang, Mizo jhumias (shifting cultivators) complain that Assam police started razing their crops from early June. Pointing to their fields in the distant mountains, they say Assam Forest Department has now started planting teak on their traditional jhum lands at I-Tlang after the police razed their crop. "No wonder the Assam Chief Minister now says the disputed zone is forest land and they want control over it by planting teak trees. But truth is these are Mizo jhum pastures for centuries where our shifting cultivators have harvested a wide mix of crops," says Pi Sangte, a village council member of Vairengte-1. Sangte has worked in Mumbai and Europe in the hospitality industry before returning to her ancestral Vairengte, where she is now a community leader. "You can see for yourself a forward policy by Assam police in this whole disputed area since June that led to tensions that finally exploded into the bloody July 26 clash," Sangte told. Assam police denies the charge and says they were only taking control of the state's constitutional boundaries.

Hijack bid onboard ship off UAE ends: Report

Muscat | Agencies UK maritime security agency has said the potential hijacking of the Panama-flagged MV Asphalt Princess has ended after men who boarded and seized the ship in the Gulf of Oman left the vessel. All those remaining on board are safe, officials said. However, there has been no further details given to the media, according to a BBC report. The bitumen tanker was seized on Tuesday heading into the congested approach to the Strait of Hormuz. It is not clear who seized the ship, but analysts suspected Iranian forces. Iran's Revolutionary Guards dismissed the reports of possible involvement as a pretext for "hostile action" against Tehran. The men who boarded the MV Asphalt Princess were reportedly armed and are said to have ordered it to sail to Iran. The United Kingdom Maritime Trade Operations (UKMTO) initially warned ships of an incident before declaring a "potential hijack" hours later. On Wednesday, the UKMTO tweeted that those who boarded the vessel had left, adding: "Vessel is safe. Incident complete." The incident occurred less than a week after an oil tanker operated by an Israeli-owned company was attacked by a drone off Oman, killing two security guards -- one British and the other Romanian. The US, UK and Israel blamed Iran for the attack - a claim it strongly denies. BBC Security Correspondent Frank Gardner said the MV Asphalt Princess is owned by a Dubai-based company that had one of its ships hijacked two years ago by the Iranian Revolutionary Guards. Gardner told BBC, according to reports, up to nine armed men boarded the vessel as it neared the entrance to the Strait of Hormuz, through which about a fifth of the world's maritime oil supplies passes. The UKMTO earlier advised shipping services near Fujairah in the Gulf of Oman to exercise extreme caution. Earlier in the day, four oil tankers reported that they were "not under command", which usually means that a vessel has lost power and cannot steer. One of the ships later began moving, media reports said. Iran's Foreign Ministry said reports involving several ships on Tuesday were "suspicious" and warned against any effort to "create a false atmosphere" against Tehran.

Indian women to play for bronze after semifinal 2-1 loss

Tokyo | Agencies

India's dream of a gold medal on their maiden entry into the knockout stages of the women's hockey competition came to a premature end when the team lost 1-2 to Argentina in the semifinals at the Tokyo Olympics here on Wednesday. It looked like India's fairy-tale run, which saw them reach the semifinals after losing their first three matches, will continue when drag-flicker Gurjit Kaur put them ahead in the second minute. Reaching the final would have assured India a medal but that was not to be as Argentina came back strongly and ended India's dream. Skipper Maria Noel Barrionuevo scored a brace of goals as Argentina emerged 2-1 winners to reach the final and set up a clash with reigning world champions the Netherlands on Friday. India will play Great Britain for the bronze medal on Friday.

India made a brilliant start as they earned an early penalty corner and went into the lead. Gurjit Kaur put India ahead in the second minute when she sent a powerful flick past the experienced Argentine goalkeeper Maria Belen Succi to give her side the lead. The Indians dominated the first quarter and held possession. VandanaKatariya and Navneet Kaur made some good runs into the shooting circle. The second quarter belonged to Argentina as the Las Leonas firmly established their superiority. They went into the lead in the 36th minute when skipper Marina Noel capitalised on another penalty corner and the ball took a deflection off an Indian player's foot and went into the goal. The umpire checked with the video umpire whether it had hit the Indian defender's leg above the knee. The video umpire replied in the negative and the goal stood, making it 2-1 for Argentina.

RAVI DHAIIYA DEFEATS KAZAKHSTAN'S SUNYAEV, MOVES TO FINAL

Tokyo | Agencies

The Tokyo Olympic Games twitter handle '#Tokyo2020' too got into the act of applauding the Indian grappler's massive achievement, tweeting, "He was 3-9 down, with momentum and time against him. But he still didn't lose heart and with a couple of amazing offensive moves, pinned down a two-time world championship medallist. (Clapping hands sign). Ravi Kumar Dahiya, you are a champion! (Raising hands sign)" It was a victory for the ages as the 23-year-old Dahiya - who has trained under Satpal Singh at the Chhatrasal Stadium in Delhi since the age of 10 - turned the bout on its head when everything seemed lost of the Indian. The Indian grappler assured India of at least a silver medal at the Tokyo Olympics when he stormed into the men's 57kg freestyle final with a 'victory by fall' over Kazakhstan's NurislamSanayev in the semifinal. In what was a tight start to the contest at the MakuhariMesse Hall in Chiba, Dahiya conceded the first points due to a passivity call but roared back instantly with a two-point take down. Leading 2-1 heading into the second period, Dahiya was dealt a massive blow when the action restarted, as Sanayev got behind the Indian, caught hold of his ankles and twirled him around a few times to flip the score 9-2 in his favour.

Desperately looking to turn things around, Dahiya made a brilliant comeback by first man-aging to push Sanayev out of bounds to reduce the deficit to 9-5. The move apparently injured the Kazakh wrestler, but he decided to continue. With just 50 seconds left on the clock, Dahiya scored a two-point takedown and converted it to a pin - exposing both his opponent's shoulders to the mat - and won the bout by fall.

Lovlina's journey to an Olympic medal

Tokyo | Agencies

A week ago, BaroMukhia village in Assam's Golaghat district had connectivity with the world through a muddy road. Now, people in the state are working hard to turn the road into a concrete one. Thanks to Lovlina's bronze medal in the welterweight category at the Tokyo Olympics, the village is now getting those things which they have been deprived of in the past. It was a bout where Busenaz out-boxed Lovlina. But the Assamese boxer had already got her name in the list of Olympic medallists from India after defeating Chen Nien-Chin of Chinese Taipei in the quarterfinals. "I don't want to stop on bronze. I want to go for the gold. Medal is only one. That is gold," Lovlina had said during the media interaction last Friday. Lovlina's journey from BaroMukhia to Tokyo has been inspiring. She has managed to get her way through various obstacles to win a medal at the Olympics. Growing up in the village, Lovlina would initially get into practicing Muay Thai, following in the footsteps of her twin sisters Lima and Licha. It was only the sight of boxing coach PadumBoro in 2012 which saw a huge shift in Lovlina's life. A few months later, the Sports Authority of India (SAI) held trials at Barpathar Girls High School, where Lovlina studied. She got a chance to show her skills in the trials and got selected as a trainee in Guwahati. Boro noticed her exceptional talent and began to hone her skills. Boro, who worked at Sports Authority of India's Shillong and Dimapur centres, introduced Lovlina to boxing. From there onwards, there has been no looking back for Lovlina. In her journey to reach the podium at the Olympics, she battled the patriarchal mind-set of the society, overcame the battle against COVID-19 and worries about her mother Mamonni's kidney issues. Lovlina's first major breakthrough moment came with a bronze at the 2018 World Championships in New Delhi and 2019 World Championships in Ulan-Ude, Russia. Now with the Olympics bronze medal, Lovlina has the licence to go high after a long journey to the podium at Tokyo.
