WITH 90 YEARS OF EXCELLENCE, GUARDIANS OF SKIES CELEBRATE AIR FORCE DAY

PRIDE OF NATION

With 90 years of excellence, the Guardians of the Skies on Saturday celebrated Air Force Day in Chandigarh amidst cloudy skies, the first time the annual day celebrations were held outside the national capital. Apart from the air warrior drill showcase and aerial displays, Rafale, Jaguar, Tejas and Mirage 2000 will fly in 'Sekhon' formation.

CHANDIGARH | Agencies

A ceremonial parade was organized at the Air Force Station with Chief of Air Staff V.R. Chaudhari took the salute. ALH Mk IV chopper will fly past in Rudra formation at the parade event. There will be a demonstration by the mechanical transport team of vehicle dismantling and reassembly in a short time at the event, followed by a performance of the air warrior drill team. The fly-past will commence with an 'Aakash Ganga' team of paratroopers in an AN-32 aircraft. Mi 17 V5 choppers will undertake a fire fighting operation using a 'bambi bucket' while Mi17 IV helicopters will be performing helo casting. Later in the afternoon, the fly-past will be held at Sukhna Lake. Extending greetings, Prime Minister Narendra Modi tweeted: "On Air Force Day, my greetings to the courageous air warriors and their families. The Indian Air Force has shown exceptional dexterity for decades. They have secured the nation and also shown remarkable human spirit during disasters." On the occasion, the IAF will unveil new camouflage uniforms for personnel. Union Defence Minister Rajnath Singh extended greetings and best wishes to all courageous IAF air warriors and their families on the Indian Air Force Day. "The IAF is known for its valour, excellence, performance and professionalism. India is proud of its men and women in blue. Wishing them blue skies and happy landings," he said.

WEAPON SYSTEMS BRANCH APPROVED FOR IAF: AIR CHIEF MARSHAL

The Centre on Saturday approved the creation of a weapon systems branch for the Indian Air Force (IAF) officers for the first time since Independence. Addressing a gathering during the 90th Air Force Day celebrations here, Air Chief Marshal Vivek Ram Chaudhari said, "It is my privilege to announce that the government has approved the creation of a weapon systems branch for the officers of the Indian Air Force." "This is the first time since Independence that a new operational branch is being created. The creation of this branch would result in savings of over Rs 3,400 crore due to the reduced expenditure on flying training," he said. This was the first time that the annual day celebrations were held outside the National Capital Region (NCR).

WhatsApp's cloned app spying on Indians via recording video, audio

Team Absolute | New Delhi

India is among the countries with highest number of Android trojan detections and a cloned, third-party unofficial version of WhatsApp is leading in spying on people's chats in the country, a new report has warned.

Behind a large portion of Android spyware detection in the past four months was 'GB WhatsApp' -- a popular but cloned third-party version of WhatsApp, according to the report by cyber-security firm ESET.

Such malicious apps have a wide range of spying capabilities, including recording audio and video. "The cloned app is not available on Google Play and, therefore, there are no security checks in place compared with the legitimate WhatsApp, and versions available on various download websites are riddled with malware," said the report. India (35 per cent) was also ranked second after China (53 per cent) as the geolocation for bots making up the largest internet of things (IoT) botnet called 'Mozi' from May to August 2022.

The IoT botnet 'Mozi' saw the number of bots drop by 23 per cent from 500,000 compromised devices to 383,000 in May-August.

However, China and India continued to have the highest number of IoT bots geolocated inside the respective countries.

"These statistics confirm the assumption that the 'Mozi' botnet is on autopilot, running without human supervision since its reputed author was arrested in 2021," said the report.

Even with declining numbers, Russian IP addresses continued to be responsible for the largest portion of remote desktop protocol (RDP) attacks.

"Russia was also the country that was most targeted by ransomware, with some of the attacks being politically or ideologically motivated by the war," said Roman Kovac, Chief Research Officer at ESET. The report also examined threats mostly impacting home users.

"In terms of threats directly affecting virtual and physical currencies, a web skimmer known as Magecart remains the leading threat going after online shoppers' credit card details," said Kovac.

NASA'S HUBBLE CAPTURES SPECTACULAR PAIR OF INTERACTING GALAXIES

WASHINGTON | Agencies

NASA's Hubble Space Telescope has captured a stunning pair of two face-on galaxies, providing spectacular views of their spiral arms, background stars and galaxies.

The two interacting galaxies, making up the pair known as 'Arp-Madore 608-333', seem to float side by side in this image from the Hubble Space Telescope.

"Though they appear serene and unperturbed, the two are subtly warping one another through a mutual gravitational interaction that is disrupting and distorting both galaxies. Hubble's Advanced Camera for Surveys captured this drawn-out galactic interaction," NASA said in a statement.

The interacting galaxies are part of an effort to build up an archive of interesting targets for more detailed future study with Hubble, ground-based telescopes, and the NASA/ESA/CSA James Webb Space Telescope.

To build up this archive, astronomers scoured existing astronomical catalogues for a list of targets spread throughout the night sky.

They hoped to include objects already identified as interesting and that would be easy for Hubble to observe no matter which direction it was pointing. "Deciding how to award Hubble observing time is a drawn-out, competitive, and difficult process, and the observations are allocated to use every last second of Hubble time available," said NASA.

However, there is a small but persistent fraction of time - around 2-3 per cent - that goes unused as Hubble turns to point at new targets.

Snapshots programmes not only produce beautiful images but also enable astronomers to gather as much data as possible with Hubble, according to the space agency.

The Hubble Space Telescope was launched into low-Earth orbit in 1990 and remains in operation.

At home with roots and beyond

She talks about exploring the layers of her roots, about how different elements of Khasi music offer an inexhaustible insight into diverse socio-cultural aspects of her people's lives. In almost the same breath, singer and music teacher Amabel Susngi from Meghalaya swears by the magic of Jazz and Blues, and how fusion is much beyond coming together of different musical traditions.

Sukant Deepak | Jodhpur

Recipient of the prestigious Samvaad Fellowship by the Tata Steel Foundation, this 28-year-old vocalist remembers being inspired by her grandmother, who would sing folk songs often -- something she feels has been instrumental in her career choice. "She passed on before I could document all the songs. My parents were also involved in church choirs." From an early age, Susngi knew she also wanted to get involved in the academic side of music. "So my mother sent me to an institute to learn Western music. I went to Martin Luther Christian University in Shillong. It was here that my first exposure to traditional instruments happened. I did not really join the university for the purpose of documentation. I always knew that performing was my true calling. But back in my time, there was not much clarity and support. However, youngsters today know the kind of openings after graduating from music school."

Talking about Shillong, dubbed the rock capital of India, the singer says that living there has a lot to do with encouraging young singers.

Susngi, who performed at the ongoing Jodhpur RIFF feels that such festivals play an important role in promoting independent musicians.

"We need more such platforms to develop an ecosystem. With more such festivals, the audience base is bound to expand," says the artist who has performed at different festivals across the world including the prestigious Belize International Jazz Festival in Central America.

The musician, who is part of a band '4th element' which plays Jazz, Blues and R&B, adds: "While my roots are firmly entrenched in Khasi music, I have always been open to other genres. Exposure to different genres adds multiple dimensions to one's style. It opens one to different techniques and styles."

The musician feels that the different initiatives by the state government for young musicians have had a positive impact on music back home.

Archana Puran Singh calls late Raju Srivastava a 'fine actor'

Team Absolute | Mumbai

Well-known actress and TV personality Archana Puran Singh recently remembered late comedian Raju Srivastava and shared her experience working with him in films.

She said: "I have done numerous films with him and realised that he was a very fine actor but then, he became more popular with his stand-up comedy. I think he was an actor, a stand-up and a wonderful comic talent. It is heartbreaking as we lost him too soon."

Archana added his last visit to a comedy reality show and the way he expressed his love for comedy.

"Just one week before he was hospitalised, he came on the set of 'India's Laughter Champion' and graced the sarpanch's chair. And in this very studio where the set was put up, standing on the stage he said 'I want to live on this stage, and I find my share of happiness here. He told me I am made for comedy and if I have to leave this world then I would want to leave making people laugh with my comedy."

"So I am happy that we are paying him a tribute not with tears but with laughter and that is the kind of tribute that Raju deserves."

BHUTAN TO HOST THE WORLD'S TOUGHEST ULTRA-MARATHON

Nine runners from Bhutan are among the 29 endurance athletes who will compete across a distance of 203 kilometres (125 miles) spread over five days at an average altitude of 4,500 metres (14,800 feet), with the highest point reaching 5,470 metres (17,946 feet). Fewer people than those who have climbed Mount Everest have finished the path, which is known as the toughest race in the world. It typically takes 20 to 25 days to complete.

- ▶ The Race will travel the Snowman Trail, Bhutan's most difficult trekking trail, travelling through some of the most breathtaking regions of the country, including the wild Lunana area, a rarely visited settlement of nomadic herders living between glaciers. Additionally, competitors will go through the base of Gangkhar Puensum, the highest mountain that has never been climbed (and Bhutan's tallest peak at 7570m/24,836ft).
- ▶ Between Gasa Dzong and Chamkhar Town in Bumthang, the path crosses the mountain passes and, in some places, soars to altitudes of 5470 metres (17,946 ft). The Jigme Dorji National Park and the Wangchuck Centennial Park, two of the largest national parks in the nation, are traversed by the trail. Both parks have a variety of highly rare and protected plants and animals, and they span from deciduous woodland to ice fields and glaciers in the eastern Himalayas.

On behalf of the Snowman Race Secretariat, the Tourism Council of Bhutan (TCB) has announced that Bhutan would host the first-ever Snowman Race, dubbed the world's most difficult ultra-marathon, from October 13 to October 17, 2022. His Majesty The King of Bhutan's project, The Race, aims to raise public awareness of the climate issue. Bhutan is extremely vulnerable to the negative effects of climate change because of its delicate ecosystem. The country is subject to a rising number of disasters each year, including landslides, unpredictable weather fluctuations, and an ecology that is changing quickly.

The occasion will draw attention to the shockingly real effects of global warming, especially on the most endangered ecosystems on the planet, like those in the high Himalayas. Bhutan also seeks to strengthen its position as a vocal thought leader on climate change and keeps supporting efforts for sustainable development that are focused on getting outcomes across the whole nation. A virtual climate conclave, which will take place the day after the race's last day, will wrap up the event.

Runners from the United States, Canada, Japan, Australia, France, Germany, Singapore, Tanzania, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom will compete in the ultramarathon, along with nine athletes from Bhutan. The Bhutanese athletes are chosen through competition, and prior to the choice, they receive physical preparation.

Similar to this, a group of specialists who trained under the direction of the Snowman Race production also choose the international athletes. Before they take part in the Race, they will all become used to the rocky, mountainous terrain.

NARCOTIC SUBSTANCES ARE BROUGHT TO INDIA FROM MYANMAR AND AFGHANISTAN: SHAH

GUWAHATI | Agencies

While chairing a meeting with Chief Ministers of northeast states and top police officials in Guwahati, Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Saturday asserted that stern actions would be taken to check the drug menace in the region.

He said that Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB) earlier decided to destroy 75,000 kgs of drugs and it is a matter of happiness that NCB already crossed the target by destroying around 1.5 lakh kgs of narcotic substances.

"But, the war against drugs is not yet finished. We have dreamt of a drugs-free India and for that, all stakeholders should work together," he added.

Shah further said that the Union Government has formulated a two-fold approach to deal with the drug menace which has spread all over the country.

"Strong actions will be taken against those involved in drug peddling, while those who are the victim and fell into this vicious cycle, government machinery will work to bring them into the mainstream of the society," he added.

Union Home Minister also said that narcotic substances were primarily peddled into the country from Myanmar and Afghanistan. In the meeting with NCB officials and security personnel here, he has directed to increase the vigil along international borders.

Shah has virtually inaugurated destroying of around 40,000 kilograms of drugs in the northeastern states.

As per the official statement, drugs weighing around 11,000 kg in Assam, 8,000 kg in Arunachal Pradesh, 4,000 kg in Meghalaya, 1,600 kg in Nagaland, 398 kg in Manipur, 1900 kg in Mizoram, 1500 kg in Tripura and 12,000 kg in Tripura were destroyed on Saturday.

Let one candidate contest from one seat only, EC proposes to Law Ministry

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Election Commission (EC) has proposed to the Law Ministry to let one candidate contest from one constituency only.

Although it is one of those electoral reforms which had also been proposed in the past, but, the sources said that the proposal gained momentum after Rajiv Kumar was appointed as the Chief Election Commissioner.

Sources said that the proposal was sent to the Ministry, and the government is in discussion with the Commission regarding the proposed electoral reforms. Meeting in this regard is likely soon, said sources.

As per the existing electoral law, a candidate is permitted to contest election from two different constituencies in a general election or a group of bye-elections or biennial elections. If a person is elected from more than one seat, then the person can only hold on to one of the seats that he or she won.

As per the Commission, when a candidate contests from two seats, it is imperative that he has to vacate one of the two seats if he wins both. This, apart from the consequent unavoidable financial burden on the public exchequer and the manpower and other resources for holding bye-election against the resultant vacancy, would be an injustice to the voters of the constituency which the candidate is quitting from. AS per the Proposed Electoral Reforms, the Commission has recommended that the law must be amended to provide that a person cannot contest from more than one constituency at a time for conduct and better management of elections. In case the provision needs to be retained, then there is a need for an express provision in law requiring person who contests and wins election from two seats, resulting in bye-elections from one of the two constituencies, to deposit in the government account an appropriate amount of money being expenditure for holding the bye-election. The recommendations made by the Election Commission in 2004 as to the amount to be deposited in the government account for being used as the expenditure for holding the bye elections has to be increased from Rs 5 lakh and Rs 10 lakh to something more appropriate for serving as deterrence to the candidates.

CBI questions Satya Pal Malik in Rs 300cr bribery claim

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Sources in the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) said on Saturday that former Governor of J&K and Meghalaya, Satya Pal Malik, was questioned in connection with his claim that he was offered Rs 300crore to clear two files during his tenure as J&K Governor.

The CBI had registered two separate cases following allegations leveled by Malik of malpractices in awarding contract of J&K Employees Health Care Insurance Scheme to a private company and release of Rs 60crore in 2017-18. The second case was lodged on the allegation that a civil works contract worth Rs 2,200crore for Kiru Hydro Electric Power Project was given to a private firm flouting the rules in 2019.

Malik was the Governor of Jammu and Kashmir between August 2018 and October 2019.

After lodging these two cases, the probe agency had formed several teams to unearth the entire conspiracy. In April, the CBI had raided 14 locations across the country, including the residence of senior IAS officer Navin Choudhary. The raids were conducted in Jammu, Srinagar, Mumbai, Noida, Delhi, Trivandrum and Darbhanga.

An explosion occurred on the premises of a police station in Andhra Pradesh's Chittoor district on Saturday, police said.

The explosion took place when some explosive material stored in Gangadhara Nellore police station premises went off in the early hours of the day. A policeman sustained minor injuries.

The explosive material was seized in 2018 when it was being illegally transported by quarry operators in the region. The same was buried at the rear side of the police station building.

According to police, the seized material suddenly went off early Saturday morning. The loud explosion and fire created panic in the area.

A car and some two-wheelers seized in various cases were gutted in the fire. Doors and windows of the police station building and adjoining houses were also damaged in the incident. Since there was no one around the storage site at the time of the explosion, there was no loss of life. One of the policemen present in the police station received minor injuries. Senior police officials visited the police station. An officer said that a probe has been ordered into the cause of the blast.

RISE IN FOOD, CRUDE PRICES COUPLED WITH WEAK RUPEE FUEL INFLATION IN INDIA

FIGHT AND SURVIVE

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Inflation in India has been on the rise consistently for the past several months and various reasons can be attributed to it such as soaring food and oil prices, among others.

However, most importantly, the sharply depreciating rupee against the dollar is one of the most significant reasons behind it.

India's retail inflation rose to 7 per cent in August from 6.71 per cent in July and this was due to higher food prices. In fact, retail inflation has been beyond the Reserve Bank of India's (RBI) tolerance limit of 6 per cent for eight months in a row.

A rise in food prices has led to a spike in retail inflation and this is evident from the fact that inflation in food basket was 7.62 per cent in August, up from 6.69 per cent in July and more than double from 3.11 per cent in August 2021.

Earlier this year, crude oil price had touched $130 a barrel. However, in September, it slid to less than $85 per barrel. But now they may rise again as OPEC+, the group of oil-producing nations, has decided to cut down oil production.

Rising oil prices directly impact inflation in India. This can be gauged from the fact that India imports more than 85 per cent of its oil requirement.

As crude oil prices start to rise, imports will also go up, which in turn will widen the current account deficit (CAD).

Widening CAD will further weaken the rupee, as in the face of widening deficit, the country will be forced to sell rupee and buy dollars.

A weak rupee has fuelled inflation in India.

The RBI on September 30 had decided to hike the repo rate by 50 basis points to 5.4 per cent and focus on withdrawal of accommodation to keep inflation within tolerance limits.

In order to control inflation, the RBI has been hiking repo rates since May this year.

Last week, the central bank had also retained its retail inflation forecast for the current financial year at 6.7 per cent.

The Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) of the RBI had observed on September 30 that inflation is projected to remain above the upper tolerance level of 6 per cent through the first three quarters of 2022-23.

The RBI on September 30 had decided to hike the repo rate by 50 basis points to 5.4 per cent and focus on withdrawal of accommodation to keep inflation within tolerance limits.

PRICES OF VEGETABLES, GRAINS GO THROUGH ROOF

Noida: Skyrocketing prices of essentials has dealt a heavy blow to the public already struggling to recover from the repercussions of the Covid-induced lockdowns imposed in phases since early 2020.

Be it vegetables or foodgrains, the prices have touched the roof right from taking them out of the farms to reaching the common man's kitchen.

Prices increase manifold by the time it reaches the consumer from the farms via markets, wholesaler and the vendors.

The farmer grows vegetables in the field and sells it in the government-mandated markets (mandis), but a lot of expenses get incurred while bringing these to the mandi like the transportation charges while taking it to the arhtiya or commission agent.

COMPANIES GO FOR 25 KG PACKS TO AVOID 5% GST ON PRE-PACKED FOOD ITEMS

Noida: After the Centre imposed 5 per cent GST on unbranded labelled and pre-packaged food items weighing less than 25 kg in July, most of the companies are now packing their goods, in excess of 25 kg, in a single packet to be exempted from the tax levy.

In a notification, the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs (CBIC) had clarified that pre-packaged food items like cereals, pulses and flour weighing more than 25 kg and packed in a single packet will be exempted from GST, said a senior GST department official.

Five per cent GST is applied only on packaged food items weighing less than 25 kg. If a retailer buys a 25 kg packet directly from the distributor or product manufacturer and sells it in retail quantity, then the customer is saved from the GST, but if a person buys a packet of 10 kg of a food item from the market, then he pays 5 per cent from his/her pocket.

While imposition of GST on food items lightens the pockets of the public, a huge amount recovered as tax directly reaches the government coffers. However, the retail traders and manufacturing companies found a way out to counter the Centre's move. Since food packets weighing more than 25 kg does not attract GST, most of the companies are resorting to packing their goods, weighing more than 25 kgs, in a single packet.

Thousands of crores spent on media to shape me wrong: Rahul Gandhi

TUMAKURU (KARNATAKA) | Agencies

While leading 'Bharat Jodo Yatra' in Karnataka, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Saturday stated that thousands of crores have been spent to shape him untruthful. Addressing a press conference at Turuvekere town in Tumakuru district, he stated that "the thing to understand is I always stand for certain ideals. That of course disturbs the BJP, RSS and other forces. Thousands of crores of media money or media energy has been spent in trying to shape me in a way which is just untruthful and wrong," he said.

"That machine is going to continue. It is a well oiled, financially rich machine. My truth is different. It is always different and people who care to look carefully will see what I stand for and what I work for," Rahul Gandhi explained. "For me this yatra, of course, has a political element to it. For me, the main purpose of this yatra, I see in the political system, I don't just say, I say it across the board, a distance has developed between the political class and our citizens. - ▶ First being the violence, the hatred BJP and RSS are spreading, the division of the country they are carrying out.
- ▶ The second issue is the massive concentration of wealth they allow to happen. This is resulting in few people getting very very rich and which is resulting in the destruction of the Indian backbone economy, small and medium businesses and farmers. # Kolkata youth murder: five sent to police custody till Oct 12

Kolkata | Agencies

A court in Kolkata on Saturday sent five of the seven persons arrested in connection with the murder of a 21-year-old man Ayan Mondal to police custody till October 12. Two others, who are below 18, have been sent to juvenile home.

Those sent to police custody include Ayan's girlfriend, her father, mother, one among their two associates, and the driver of the pickup van that was used to dump Mondal's body at a secluded place.

The brother of Mondal's girlfriend, who allegedly killed him by hitting on the head with a blunt and heavy object, being a juvenile, was sent to the juvenile remand home. So was the fate of a friend of the latter who helped the family to dump the body.

The body of Mondal, who was missing since Wednesday evening, was recovered from Magrahat in South 24 Parganas district on Friday night.

On Saturday, the police arrested seven persons in connection with the murder.

Later, they were presented in the court.

The preliminary investigation has hinted towards a love triangle -- involving Ayan, his girlfriend and her mother -- behind the murder.

The police while probing the matter got some clues which indicated towards a parallel affair that the deceased was having with the girl as well as her mother, and that resulted in a feud after which he was brutally murdered and his body dumped at a secluded place at Magrahat.

Rape won't not stand if woman continues sexual relations after knowing man is married: Kerala HC

Kochi | Agencies

In a path breaking judgement, Kerala High Court observed that "an allegation of rape on false promise to marry will not stand if the woman knew that the man was already married and still continued the sexual relationship with the accused. The judgment came from the bench of Justice Kausar Edagapath who said that any sex had between such a couple could only be termed as one on account of love and passion, and not based on any false promise to marry.

"The admitted fact that the 4th respondent is having a relationship with the petitioner since 2010 and she continued the relationship knowing about his marriage from 2013 onwards would nullify the story regarding the sexual intercourse on the false pretext of marrying her. The alleged sex can only be termed as one on account of love and passion for the petitioner and not on account of misrepresentation made to her by the petitioner," read the order.

The court reiterated that if a man retracts his promise to marry a woman, then consensual sex they had will not constitute an offence of rape under Section 376 of the IPC unless it is established that the consent for such sexual act was obtained by him by giving false promise of marriage with no intention of adhering to the same and that the promise made was false to his knowledge.

The court then passed the order on a plea moved by man to quash the case registered against him for the alleged commission of offences punishable under Sections 406 (criminal breach of trust), 420 (cheating and dishonestly inducing delivery of property) and 376 (rape) of Indian Penal Code. The prosecution allegation was that over a period of nine years, the petitioner, by giving a false promise of marriage to the complainant, had sexual intercourse with her in several places in India and abroad. The court noted that the statement of the complainant disclosed that she knew the petitioner since 2010 and she came to know about the fact that the petitioner was married five to six years ago. Still, she was in a sexual relationship with him till 2019.

The court finally decided to quash the FIR registered against the petitioner.

Weapon systems branch approved for IAF, says Air Chief Marshal

Team Absolute | Chandigarh

The Centre on Saturday approved the creation of a weapon systems branch for the Indian Air Force (IAF) officers for the first time since Independence.

Addressing a gathering during the 90th Air Force Day celebrations here, Air Chief Marshal Vivek Ram Chaudhari said, "It is my privilege to announce that the government has approved the creation of a weapon systems branch for the officers of the Indian Air Force."

"This is the first time since Independence that a new operational branch is being created. The creation of this branch would result in savings of over Rs 3,400 crore due to the reduced expenditure on flying training," he said.

This was the first time that the annual day celebrations were held outside the National Capital Region (NCR).

The Defence Ministry said in a statement, "In a historic step for the Indian Air Force (IAF), the government has approved the creation of a new branch called the weapon systems branch."

The creation of this branch would entail unification of all weapon system operators under one entity dedicated to the operational employment of all ground-based and specialist airborne weapon systems.

The branch would encompass operators in four specialised streams -- surface-to-surface missiles, surface-to-air missiles, remotely piloted aircraft and weapon system operators in twin/multi-crew aircraft. It will contribute immensely by enhancing the war fighting capability of the Indian Air Force.

"We are increasingly seeing the convergence of all these domains in one continuum in the form of hybrid warfare. The conventional systems and weapons will need to be augmented by modern, flexible and adaptive technology," Chaudhari said while emphasising on 'Make in India' and 'Aatmanirbhar Bharat'.

"We've inherited the proud legacy curated by sheer hard work, perseverance and vision of our predecessors. We must acknowledge the contributions of our veterans who charted this course. Now the onus is on us to usher IAF into the centenary decade."

Speaking about the synergy of all three services - the Army, Navy and Air Force - he said, "One single service can't win a war on its own. Work is in progress to enhance the jointness of three services."

The Air Chief Marshal also spoke about the recently-launched Agnipath scheme, saying, "Induction of air warriors into IAF through the Agnipath scheme is a challenge for all of us. But more importantly, it's an opportunity for us to harness the potential of India's youth and channelise it towards the service of the nation."

"We've changed our operational training methodology to ensure that each Agniveer is equipped with the right skills and knowledge to start a career in IAF. In December this year, we'd be inducting 3,000 'Agniveer Vayu' for initial training. This number will go up in the years to come."

The Air Force chief also said that next year, the force will induct women Agniveers.

"We are also planning to induct women Agniveers starting next year. Creation of infrastructure is in progress and streamlining of trade structures is being finalised," he said.

A ceremonial parade was organised at the Air Force Station to mark the occasion with Chaudhari taking the salute.

Earlier, the IAF chief reviewed the ceremonial parade commanded by Group Captain Anoop Singh, with a three aircraft formation of Mi-17 helicopters trooping the IAF ensign followed by a formation of three Rudra helicopters flying past the saluting dais in an aerial salute.

The IAF's new combat uniform was also unveiled on the occasion.

CROSS-EXAMINATION SHOULD BE RECORDED EITHER ON SAME DAY OR FOLLOWING: SC

Team Absolute | New Delhi

The Supreme Court has said that no long adjournment should be granted while recording the statement of prosecution witnesses and the cross-examination should be recorded either on the same day or on the day following.

A bench of Justices Ajay Rastogi and C.T. Ravikumar said the mandate of law itself postulates that examination-in-chief, followed with cross-examination, is to be recorded either on the same day or on the day following. It emphasised that there should not be a long adjournment.

The bench said: "We do not want to dilate at this stage since the trial is pending but we would like to observe that the trial judge may take a note of the judgment of this court in reference to Section 309 Cr.P.C and not only expedite the trial but the examination-in-chief/cross-examination is to be recorded either on the same day or on the day following but no long adjournment should be granted while recording the statement of prosecution witnesses."

It made this observation while hearing plea seeking quashing of bail granted by the Allahabad High Court to a person in a murder case.

Counsel for the petitioner informed the bench that there were three eye-witnesses as per the calendar of witnesses and charge sheet has been filed and statement of a witness by this time has been recorded which took almost three months to conclude.

"So far as statement of PW-2 is concerned, part of the examination-in-chief was recorded on September 21, 2022 and despite request being made the mandate of Section 309 Cr.P.C. is not being followed which has been considered by this court in 'Vinod Kumar versus State of Punjab (2015)'," noted the bench.

Section 309 of the CrPC deals with power to postpone or adjourn proceedings.

The top court, in its order, said: "The mandate of law itself postulates that examination-in-chief followed with cross-examination is to be recorded either on the same day or on the day following. In other words, there should not be any grounds for adjournment in recording the examination-in-chief/cross-examination of the prosecution witness, as the case may be."

In an order passed in March, the high court granted bail to a person for the alleged offences, which also included murder charges. The top court has scheduled the matter for further hearing after six weeks.

Village lights and pumps will run with solar energy in "Surya Shakti Abhiyan"

Team Absolute | Bhopal

"Surya Shakti Abhiyan" has been launched in Madhya Pradesh for supply of electricity from solar energy to make villages self-reliant. Madhya Pradesh is the first state to launch such a unique campaign in the country. This is an important step towards fulfilling the dream of PM Narendra Modi to make the country self-reliant in the field of solar energy. Solar electricity will be used in village street lights, tap-water supply, offices and other works while promoting solar energy in village panchayats.

Under the Jal-Jeevan Mission, the target is to provide one crore household water connections in rural areas, which were only 15 lakh two years ago. With this, the expenditure on electricity of village Panchayats, which was about 450 crores, is likely to increase to 2 thousand crores. With the help of solar energy, the expenditure of about Rs. 2000 crore on electricity bills in future in the village panchayats of the state can be reduced. This amount can be used for other development works of the village. Along with this, the benefit of carbon credit will also be available to the panchayats. This campaign will be helpful for increasing the income of Panchayats. In the first phase, 714 village panchayats with a population of more than 5 thousand and all villages with Haat Bazar and all district and Janpad Panchayat offices are being included in Surya Shakti Abhiyan. Apart from these panchayats, other panchayats can also join this campaign.

Principal Secretary Panchayat and Rural Development Umakant Umrao informed that "Surya Shakti Abhiyan" is being started to reduce the dependence on conventional electricity in the operation of various systems at village level in the state.

In this campaign, after estimating the total monthly electricity consumption of district and janpad panchayat offices and village panchayats, plants of solar power generation capacity for its equivalent supply will be set up. Energy audit of village panchayats is also being done to ensure efficient consumption and production. For expenditure, the amount will be arranged from the 15th finance, state finances and panchayats' own income.

Installation of solar plants in panchayats will ensure regular power supply. There will be a one-time expenditure on setting up the plant, in which the benefit of subsidy will be given by the government. Under the campaign, energy audit is to be done by October 15, training of panchayats by November 15 and establishment of solar power plants by January 26. Such panchayats, which will be able to generate solar energy according to their power consumption, will be rewarded by declaring them as solar rich village panchayats.

MILA KUNIS LIED ABOUT HER AGE TO BAG 'That 70s Show'

Los Angeles | Agencies

'Black Swan' star Mila Kunis has confirmed a longstanding rumour about how she landed her breakout role as Jackie Burkhart on 'That 70s Show'.

The actress revealed to Vanity Fair that in order to bag the role, she lied about her age. Kunis was 14 years old at the time, but the rumour claims she told the show's creators she was 18 years old in order to audition, as the network was only looking for older teen actors, reports Variety.

"There's a rumour going around that I may or may not have lied about my age," Kunis said. "I'd like to make it very clear now that I did lie. I did."

"However, by the time I went to what was then a producer's network call, you have to sign a contract before you get the job and in my contract I had to put an asterisk for 'studio teacher,'" she added, quoted by Variety.

"They were like, 'What do you mean?' And I was like, 'Oh P.S., I'm 14.' But at that point if you talk to the creators, they were like, 'We loved you at that point so what did we care?'"

As per Variety, though Kunis lied about her age to get her foot in the door to audition, co-creators Bonnie and Terry Turner were well aware she was a 14-year-old by the time the show started filming.

Variety further states that Kunis will be reprising the role of Jackie on Netflix's upcoming sequel series 'That '90s Show', but the streamer is yet to announce a release date.

It is based on the book of the same name by Erik Larson, reports Variety.

As per the official logline, the show "tells the true story of Daniel H. Burnham, a demanding but visionary architect who races to make his mark on history with the 1893 Chicago World's Fair, and Dr H. H. Holmes, America's first modern serial killer and the man behind the notorious 'Murder Castle' built in the Fair's shadow."

Variety further states that Reeves was cast as Burnham in what would have been his first major American television role, but the search is now on for a replacement. No one has been cast as Holmes as yet.

This is the latest chapter in the long development history of the book. DiCaprio acquired the rights in 2010 with plans to adapt it as a film in which he would star as Holmes. Scorsese came on-board to direct in 2015 with Billy Ray set to write the script.

Singer Taylor Swift has put a little extra 'mayhem' in 'Midnights Mayhem with Me', the TikTok series in which she reveals the names of each of the songs on her upcoming album 'Midnights' one at a time. On Thursday night, at the stroke of midnight (Pacific Standard Time), the singer shared the title of yet another track on the album, which is set to drop October 21, reports 'People' magazine. "The tension is palpable," the 32-year-old singer said, spinning the cage of numbered ping-pong balls until one - which she revealed to be the album's first track - pops out. "Track one is called 'Lavender Haze'," the singer announced, quoted by 'People'.

Following the announcement, the 'Bad Blood' singer took to Instagram, where she shared a reel explaining the inspiration behind 'Midnights' opening song.

"I happened upon the phrase 'Lavender Haze' when I was watching Mad Men, and I looked it up because I thought it sounded cool," Swift said in the post. "And it turns out that it's a common phrase used in the '50s, where they would just describe being in love." 'People' further states that the 'All Too Well' singer got a little more specific, hinting that 'Lavender Haze' is specifically inspired by her relationship with longtime boyfriend, actor Joe Alwyn.

J.D. Payne, Patrick McKay explain idea behind creating Sauron in 'LOTR' series

Los Angeles | Agencies

The streaming series 'The Lord of the Rings: The Rings of Power' has enthralled the audience with its epic storytelling. As the season 1 inches towards an epic finale, the question remains - Who is Sauron after all? J.D. Payne and Patrick McKay, the showrunners of the series, recently provided answers to the question.

Talking about the importance of building the world before showing the evil force, McKay said, "It would be very tempting to make the first season of this show, The Sauron Show, very villain-centric. But we wanted that level of evil and complexity of evil to emerge from a world that you're invested in - not because evil is threatening it immediately. We wanted you to fall in love again with Middle-Earth. We wanted you to understand and relate to the struggles that each of these characters are having before we test them in a way they've never been tested before."

Further adding to McKay, Payne said that fans have speculated some important characteristics of the sinister and his disguise, which is what the writers also anticipated. He said, "It's another Tolkien (English author J.R.R. Tolkien) thing where when a shadow spreads - which is part of what is happening in our show - it affects everyone's relationships. Even Frodo and Sam. They're the best friends in all of Middle-earth, yet they started to mistrust each other because that's a manifestation of that shadow."

He further mentioned, "So having an audience suspect this person or that person could be Sauron is drawing them into that thing where the shadow is overcoming all of us and making us suspicious of each other."

WOMEN'S ASIA CUP

SHAFALI, SMRITI, BOWLERS SET UP INDIA'S 59-RUN THRASHING OF BANGLADESH

Sylhet (Bangladesh) | Agencies

Shafali Verma hit her first T20I fifty since March 2021 and picked two wickets with her off-spin while stand-in captain Smriti Mandhana came out all guns blazing to set up India's 59-run thrashing of hosts and defending champions Bangladesh in Women's Asia Cup at Sylhet International Cricket Stadium on Saturday.

Electing to bat first, Shafali (55) and Smriti (47) shared a 96-run stand for the first wicket in 12 overs. Though Bangladesh made a fightback by taking out the duo and took some scalps in the end, Jemimah Rodrigues ensured India didn't throw away the momentum brought in by the openers with an unbeaten 35 off 24 balls.

The trio's efforts meant India posted 159/5 in 20 overs, just 24 hours after they were bowled out for 124 and suffered a shock 13-run loss to Pakistan. In reply, Bangladesh were never in the hunt to chase 160 from the word go, as they made 51/1 in the powerplay.

Against a soaring asking rate, they lost their way in a stiff chase to end up at 100/7 in 20 overs. The win also means that India are firmly on the path to making the semifinals with eight points from five matches.

With Harmanpreet Kaur unavailable due to a niggle, the onus on India to get a big score was high on Smriti and Shafali. Smriti began aggressively by dancing down the pitch to loft Salma Khatun and Fariha Trisna for a brace of fours in successive overs.

Shafali joined her captain by flicking Fariha for six over deep square leg and hit fours through mid-wicket and long-on to take 17 runs off the fourth over. The duo then took Nahida Akter to the cleaners in the final over of powerplay yielding 17 runs, including four fours.

One of the striking aspects of the opening partnership was the constant usage of the feet to go aerial and place the ball through gaps to get boundaries apart from occasional shuffling at the crease. Bangladesh found a breakthrough when Smriti was run-out at the non-striker's end in a mix-up, with the opening stand falling short of the 100-run mark by four runs.

An over after reaching her fifty, Shafali was castled by Rumana Ahmed while attempting a reverse sweep. Rumana would take out Richa Ghosh and Kiran Navgire on successive deliveries in the 17th over. But Jemimah got India crucial runs by slamming fours with her adept footwork and crisp drives while Deepti Sharma lofted a six over long-on before slicing to backward point in the final over as India crossed 150-mark.

In the chase, Bangladesh openers Fargana Hoque and Murshida Khatun stitched a 45-run opening stand but took nine overs to do so. Murshida departed in the 10th over after a 25-ball 21, chipping a catch to cover off Sneha Rana. Five overs later, Fargana holed out to long-on off Deepti for a rusty 40-ball 30.

Skipper Nigar Sultana tried to inject momentum in the chase with 36 off 29 balls, including five fours. But it was too late by then for Bangladesh to get back in the match. After the top three, none of their batters were able to get double-digit scores and crumbled under the pressure of a high required run rate as India got back to winning ways.

Brief scores: India 159/5 in 20 overs (Shafali Verma 55, Smriti Mandhana 47; Rumana Ahmed 3/27) beat Bangladesh 100/7 in 20 overs (Nigar Sultana 36, Fargana Hoque 30; Shafali Verma 2/10, Deepti Sharma 2/13) by 59 runs

Japan Open: Fritz overcomes Shapovalov, sets an all-American final against Tiafoe

Tokyo | Agencies

America's Taylor Fritz battled back from 1-3 down in the deciding set to secure a 6-3, 6-7(5), 6-3 victory over Denis Shapovalov in the semi-finals to reach his first ATP Tour final of the season at the Japan Open Tennis Championships, here on Saturday.

Fritz thought he would have to miss the Japan Open after testing positive for Covid-19 in Seoul, where he had to quarantine for one week. But after arriving just in time for his Tokyo opener on Wednesday, the American has made the most of his opportunity by reaching the final at the ATP 500.

Adding to the achievement, Fritz also clinched what will be his Top 10 debut in next week's edition of the ATP Rankings.

In an exhibition of first-strike tennis from both men in the Ariake Colosseum, the American was in control early behind his big serve and forehand. After saving a break point in his opening service game, he claimed the first set then broke for 3-2 in the second before Shapovalov fashioned an immediate reply. The Canadian was fearless in winning a dramatic tie-break to force a third set.

After seeing a Fritz passing shot clip the line to erase a mini-break and knot the score at 4/4, Shapovalov ventured forward again on each of the next two points and was rewarded for his bravery. He then claimed the set by moving Fritz from corner to corner in a tense rally that was one of the longest of the match.

With five days left for the immensely successful 36th edition to draw to a close, hosts Gujarat have surpassed their best-ever performance in the National Games, justifying the State's decision to step in at short notice and stage the Games.

The state won its 10th gold on Friday night, with their star swimmer Maana Patel scooping her third medal from the pool, they had recorded their best return in the National Games.

As hosts, the state had already created history by organising the National Games in less than 100 days. Gujarat upgraded and spruced up all the venues in six cities and left no stone unturned to give over 7,000 athletes a memorable experience. But with their athletes grabbing the opportunity to showcase their rise, Gujarat's decision has been vindicated.

"I commend the Gujarat government for taking up the challenge of hosting the Games in such a short time," honourable Prime Minister Narendra Modi had said at the Opening Ceremony 10 days back. The sports fans of Gujarat will, however, be more pleased with how their athletes have performed.

Most hearteningly, the state has taken a keener interest in sport only in recent times, has accumulated medals from 11 different disciplines, ranging from aquatics to yogasana, badminton to wrestling and judo to shooting. Back in 2015, the majority of Gujarat' 20 medals came from tennis and swimming.

Pooja Patel, who won women's gold in traditional yogasana, archer Amita Rathva, who won an individual silver and team bronze in the Indian Archery event, Hinaben Khalifa, who became only the second woman wrestler from the state to win a National Games medal, are prime examples of the wide range of performers.

The likes of Olympians Elavenil Valarivan (shooter), Ankita Raina (tennis), and Maana Patel (swimming) have all become Indian stars. Indeed, at Tokyo 2020, six women players, including three para-sportspersons, from the state were part of the Indian contingent, which is highly commendable.

The Shaktidoot scheme itself currently supports 64 hand-picked athletes from 14 sports. The DLSS (District Level Sports Course) scheme along with the Khel Mahakumbh have also been crucial triggers that have seen Gujarat rise from a poorly 28th position in the medal table in 2011. Gujarat today also boasts of many high-performance centres to train their athletes, in addition to world-class stadia.

Chief National Coach of rowing, Ismail Baig couldn't stop gushing over the Sabarmati course. It can only be onward and upward for the progressive state.

Babar Azam slams unbeaten 79, leads Pak to six-wicket win over NZ

Christchurch | Agencies

Pakistan captain Babar Azam carried his bat through the innings to slam an unbeaten 79 off 53 balls and lead Pakistan to a six-wicket victory over New Zealand to win their second match on the bounce in the ongoing T20I tri-series at Hagley Oval on Saturday.

After fast bowler Haris Rauf led the bowling attack's good showing by picking three wickets in the penultimate over to restrict New Zealand to 147/8 in their 20 overs, Azam played a sterling knock to take Pakistan home with ten balls to spare, with Shadab Khan chipping in with a cameo of 34 off just 22 balls.

It was a match where everything clicked well for Pakistan, right from being pushed into bowling first. They never let go of the pressure upon the Blackcaps batters, which resulted in Devon Conway and captain Kane Williamson being unable to get going and they consumed a lot of deliveries. It took a 16-ball 32 blitz from Mark Chapman for New Zealand to reach a below-par 147/8.

For Pakistan, Rauf strengthened his T20I credentials by picking three wickets in the 19th over while conceding five runs to finish with figures of 3-28. His fellow fast-bowler Mohammad Wasim Jr. gave away five runs in the final over to finish with figures of 2/20. Left-arm spinner Mohammad Nawaz picked up 2-44 while Shahnawaz Dahani finished with 1-22 in three overs.

Washington Sundar replaces Deepak Chahar in India's ODI squad for series against South Africa

Ranchi | Agencies

The All-India Senior Selection Committee on Saturday named off-spin all-rounder Washington Sundar as replacement for pace all-rounder Deepak Chahar for the remainder of the ODI series against South Africa.

Chahar had a stiffness in his back after the third and final T20I against South Africa in Indore and did not feature in India's playing XI in the first ODI in Lucknow. He will now head back to the National Cricket Academy (NCA) and will be monitored by the medical team there.

India will play the second ODI in Ranchi on October 9, 2022 and will play the final ODI of the series in New Delhi on October 11, 2022.

India's ODI squad: Shikhar Dhawan (Captain), Rituraj Gaikwad, Shubman Gill, Shreyas Iyer (vice-captain), Rajat Patidar, Rahul Tripathi, Ishan Kishan (wicket-keeper), Sanju Samson (wicket-keeper), Shahbaz Ahmed, Shardul Thakur, Kuldeep Yadav, Ravi Bishnoi, Mukesh Kumar, Avesh Khan, Mohammed Siraj, Washington Sundar.

IND V SA India seeks to correct mistakes in must-win second ODI against South Africa

Ranchi | Agencies

After losing the series opener to South Africa by nine runs in Lucknow, India will be eyeing corrections of their mistakes in all departments of the game when they take the field for a must-win second ODI at the JSCA International Stadium on Sunday.

With Washington Sundar drafted in the squad as Deepak Chahar's replacement on the eve of the match, it means that India will be a pace option less in Sunday's match, especially after Mohammed Siraj and Avesh Khan couldn't impress in the first ODI at Lucknow apart from leg-spinner Ravi Bishnoi being expensive in his first 50-over match for India.

Moreover, India had plenty of misfields and dropped catches at various junctures in the truncated match, allowing South Africa to reach 249/4 in 40 overs, especially with David Miller (75 not out off 63 balls) and Heinrich Klaasen (74 not out off 65 balls) sharing a rollicking stand of 139 runs off 106 balls to rescue the visitors' from 110/4.

In the batting, captain Shikhar Dhawan, Shubman Gill, debutant

Rituraj Gaikwad and Ishan Kishan fell without contributing much, leaving Shreyas Iyer and Sanju Samson to step up to the occasion. Though Iyer made a counter-attacking fifty and Samson displayed great shots in his unbeaten 86, India fell short by nine runs, as being at 51/4 in 17.4 overs came back to haunt the hosts'.

The knocks of Iyer and Samson in the middle-order were huge positives for India from the game in Lucknow apart from Shardul Thakur picking two wickets and making a quick cameo of 33 with the bat. With the ODI World Cup happening next year in this time in the country, Dhawan needs to get big runs to be in the reckoning for opening the batting for India. The hosts' will also hope that Gill and Kishan step up to score runs after the off-day in Lucknow.

For South Africa, getting those ten crucial World Cup Super League points with the narrow win in the first ODI will be a huge motivating factor to seal the series in Ranchi and inch closer to automatic qualification for ODI World Cup next year in India. Miller and Klaasen, who have been the nemesis of India previously in white-ball matches, will be looking to continue their rich vein of form.

The concern points for the Proteas will be the form of their captain Temba Bavuma, who hasn't been in double-digit scores on the tour till now. With the T20 World Cup in Australia two weeks away, South Africa need their captain to be amongst the runs.

With the ball, South Africa were tight and got wickets at crucial times to stop India at 240/8. But Tabraiz Shamsi, the left-arm wrist-spinner, had a forgetful time in Lucknow. In his eight overs, he conceded 89 runs for his one wicket, including being hit for 21 runs in the final over by Samson. With pitches in Ranchi being kind to both pacers and spinners, South Africa can be upbeat about Shamsi getting his groove with the ball.

More recently, a section of people on the Internet are trolling the film because of Saif Ali Khan's look as Raavan in the film. Now, the director of the film, Om Raut has come out defending the portrayal and his creative choice.

Reacting to the film's heavy trolling over Saif's portrayal of Raavan, the director told Aaj Tak: "Our Raavan in today's time is demonic, he is cruel. The one who has abducted our Goddess Sita is cruel. We have shown what Raavan looks like in today's time. This is not a film or a project for us."

Calling the film "a mission" for the entire production team, Raut further said: "Our film is a symbol of our devotion and we need everyone's blessings for this. Whosoever is speaking about the film are our elders. I am listening to all of them and taking note of everything. When you will watch the film in January 2023, I will not disappoint anyone."
