Cyber attacks triple in last three years, but security funds underutilized

▶ CYBER ATTACK WHICH HAS PUT ALL INDIA INSTITUTE OF MEDICAL SCIENCES (AIIMS), DELHI'S SERVERS OUT OF ORDER ON NOVEMBER 23 IS YET TO BE RESOLVED COMPLETELY.

▶ ON DECEMBER 1, CYBER ATTACKERS BRIEFLY HACKED THE MINISTRY OF JAL SHAKTI'S TWITTER HANDLE, THE SECOND MAJOR CYBER ATTACK ON A GOVERNMENT SITE.

Team Absolute | New Delhi

The number of cyber attacks in the country has witnessed three-fold increase over as many years, however, the funds meant for cyber security have been underutilised with only Rs 98.31 crore used of the total Rs 213 crore sanctioned.

According to government data, in 2019, total number of cyber security incidents tracked by Indian Computer Emergency Response Team (CERT-In) was 3,94,499. The number spiked to 11,58,208 in the year 2020 and further increased to 14,02,809 in 2021. This year, as many as 6,74,021 cyber security incidents were reported till June.

Multiple agencies have been looking into the cyber attack at the crucial installation of the country. While a case has been registered, the CERT-IN, Delhi Police and other investigating agencies are probing the incident.

A Parliamentary standing committee in its report this year observed that there is a significant surge in cyber incidents and cyber security breaches and it is imperative that capabilities and resilience of the country to deal with imminent dangers on cyber space are enhanced proportionately.

"Cyber security has to remain at the forefront of agenda/priority items for the Ministry and no fund crunch should come in the way of ensuring a safe ecosystem as far as the cyber-world is concerned. In fact the Committee feels that the Ministry must dovetail their efforts to achieve a more secured cyberworld especially in the wake of renewed challenges in this space.

"The Committee, therefore, recommend that funds for cyber security may be increased on a year on basis to forestall any failures in this domain for sheer lack of funds," it said. The report also cited lower fund utilisation with respect to CERT-in, National Cyber Coordination Centre (NCCC) and data governance.

"So, far as the underutilisation of funds under the head is concerned, an amount of Rs 216 crore had been allocated in BE (Budget Estimate) stage during 2021-22, which was reduced to Rs 213 crore at RE (Revised Estimate) stage and actual utilisation till January, 2022 has been 98.31 crore only," said the report.

The Government has issued guidelines for Chief Information Security Officers (CISOs) regarding their key roles and responsibilities for securing applications / infrastructure and compliance. Besides, all the government websites and applications are audited with respect to cyber security prior to their hosting.

The auditing of the websites and applications is conducted on a regular basis after hosting also. Moreover, the government has empanelled 97 security auditing organisations to support and audit implementation of Information Security Best Practices.

MCD POLLS

'No development, no vote', Bawana villagers call for election boycott

New Delhi: When the rest of the city was busy voting for the elections to the Municipal Corporation of Delhi (MCD) on Sunday, residents of Katewara village in Bawana, which falls under Ward No. 31 in North West district, gave a call to boycott the polls.

According to sources, there are around 4,400 voters in the ward, who alleged that no development took place in the area in the last eight years and hence they have decided to boycott the polls.

People alleged that even the cemetery in the area is also in a bad condition. Though they urged the local MLA and the councillor to get it repaired many times, no step has been taken so far, they alleged.

Inder Singh, a local resident, said that in the last eight years no road has been built in the area and hence he was boycotting the polls. He alleged that the local MLA has even threatened them that if they do not vote for his party, no development will take place in the area.

Another villager said that no sports complex has been built in the area and hence they were against the polls. Sanjiv Khatri, a local social worker, said that area representatives are not paying heed to their problems.

"The MP, MLA and councillor -- all are missing. They don't come to our village. No development has taken place in the last eight years, so we are forced to boycott the elections," said Khatri.

Earlier, French Ambassador Emmanuel Lenain said that France was glad to see India in the driver's seat and offered full support to India's presidency of the G20.

"Today, India takes over the G20 presidency for a year & UNSC chair for December. As we strive to keep the world united in the face of unprecedented challenges, we are glad to see India in the driver's seat. India can count on France's full support," he said on December 1 in a tweet.

Fate of eight ex-Indian Navy personnel in Qatar hangs in the balance

Kolkata | Agencies

While all eyes are on the ongoing football World Cup in Qatar, little is known of the fate of eight ex-Indian Navy personnel imprisoned in that country for over 90 days now.

The Indian Ex Servicemen Movement (IESM) has now written to India's External Affairs Minister Dr S. Jaishankar, seeking his intervention. Copies of the letter have been forwarded to the Prime Minister, Defence Minister and three services chiefs.

According to Major Gen. Satbir Singh (ret'd), chairman, IESM and advisor, United Front of Ex Servicemen, the Ex-Indian Navy personnel were working for Dahra Global Technologies and Consultancy Services in Doha, as per a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) between India and Qatar. Their job was to train Qatar Navy personnel.

"The families of the Ex-Indian Navy personnel lost contact with them on August 30. From their office in Doha, the families came to know that they were picked up around midnight from their homes by the State Security Bureau, Ministry of Interior, Qatar. One wonders how this could have happened when the eight were working under a policy to train personnel of friendly navies. This has been endorsed by Indian Ambassadors to Qatar," Maj Gen Singh (ret'd) tweeted.

Consular access was granted to the eight only once on October 3, when it came to be known that they are in solitary confinement. According to a source, they have been wrongly charged with espionage, apparently on the behest of one of India's neighbours.

"This is mischief of the worst kind. The Ex-Indian Navy personnel are Cdr Purnendu Tiwari, Capt Navtej Singh Gill, Cdr Birendra Kumar Verma, Capt Saurabh Vashisht, Cdr Sugnaker Pakala, Cdr Amit Nagpal, Cdr Sanjeev Gupta and Sailor Ragesh," the source added.

In his letter to the External Affairs Minister, Maj Gen Singh has noted how the families of the eight are anxious about their health conditions.

"Their release and repatriation at the earliest are desired," he has stated in the letter. The retired general, in one of his tweets, has also expressed apprehension that unless the Indian government takes immediate action, the eight may face torture to extract false confessions.

FAMILY BOOKS ENTIRE PLANE FOR WEDDING

New Delhi: Destination weddings are increasingly becoming a trend in India. In one such instance, an entire airplane was reserved by a family to travel to the wedding venue since they didn't want to miss seeing family and friends. A video showing this has gone viral on social media platforms.

Shreya Shah, a digital artist, shared a picture of the flight's voyage on Instagram. The video clip featured Shah along with an aerial shot of a flight carrying wedding guests.

In the video, the bride and groom are seen seated next to each other while they are all seen amusingly waving their hands together. Shah also posted other videos with an elaborate 'haldi' ceremony. Multiple videos shared showed an extravagant haldi ceremony held at Jaisalmer in Rajasthan. The video clip has attracted more than 10.1 million views on the Meta-owned social media platform.

According to industry experts, destination weddings are the new buzz these days particularly after Covid pandemic in the country. Businessmen book lavish locations for weddings in their families. Air travel has come out as the safest mode of transportation and many with deep pockets chose private jets for their privacy and comfort.

1,000 illegal factories turn Delhi's Anaj Mandi into a tinderbox ready to ignite

In 2019, the tragic death of 43 people in a fire at Filmistan theatre at Anaj Mandi due to a short circuit is a grim reminder that civic agencies did not learn lessons from past tragedies as they wait for another incident to happen and then the time tested game of "passing the buck" begins. And this is not a one-off incident as many areas where illegal factories are operating in residential areas are ticking time bombs.

Those who are not residents of Delhi are astonished when they walk down the narrow streets of the national capitals congested areas and suddenly encounter a small-scale industry. People usually visualise a factory as a big building but the reality is different in Delhi. The city houses thousands of small factories, which are said to be ticking fire bombs operating under the nose of the civic authorities.

In Anaj Mandi, which houses around 1000 illegal factories, the workers are left with no choice but to work in these factories situated in perilously close buildings which can be quickly engulfed in an accidental fire.

"Whom should we blame, the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) led Delhi government, the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) ruled Municipal Corporation, Delhi Police, Delhi Fire Service (DFS) or the corrupt system which runs under their nose," said residents of Anaj Mandi area.

The locals claimed that they have given numerous complaints regarding illegal units operating in the area to the civic agencies but till date nothing has happened.

"Whenever a tragic incident occurs in Anaj Mandi, the civic and other agencies officials are always quick to put the onus on the owners of the building and claim that commercial activity is going

"A senior MCD official said that from time to time they seal illegal factories and they have shut down and sealed more than 1300 factories after surveying over 4,500 properties. "Notices are also being served and soon all these industries being operated from industrial areas will be sealed," he added.

The Delhi Fire Services gives Sections 25, 27, & 44 of the DFS Act 2010 a go to such buildings which stipulate a certain height and occupancy level needed for fire safety and fire prevention measures. But no action has been taken by the DFS. As per sources, most of the buildings in the area are violating these norms and the owners of such buildings are not even aware of it.

GROUPS NOT REQUIRED IN CONGRESS, UNITY NEED OF HOUR, SAYS THAROOR

Thiruvananthapuram | Agencies

Senior leader of the Congress and third-time MP from Thiruvananthapuram Lok Sabha seat, Shashi Tharoor has said that a unified party was the need of the hour and the petty group politics did not have any place in the state unit.

Tharoor was addressing a function at Bodhigram in Pathanamthitta on Sunday. The former UN diplomat said the party needed to be united and there was no need for 'A' and 'I' groups in the Congress of Kerala. He was referring to the two prominent groups in the state Congress which have always been calling the shots in the party hierarchy.

While former Chief Minister Oomen Chandy was leading the 'A' group, former state home minister, Ramesh Chennithala was heading 'I' group.

He said that he was updating the respective District Congress Committee (DCC) presidents during his visit to the respective districts.

Tharoor has drawn flak from several sections of senior Congress leaders, including state opposition leader V.D. Satheeshan that he had to intimate the respective DCC presidents on his visit to those districts. Kottayam DCC president Nattakam Suresh and Kozhikode DCC president, Praveen Kumar had said earlier that they did not know of Tharoor's visit, and the DCC president's not knowing about the visit of a senior leader in their respective districts was not in lieu of the organisational hierarchy. Joining issue with Nattakam Suresh, Kottayam DCC president, Tharoor said that his office had intimidated Kottayam DCC president of his visit, and added that there was proof as to who had called and when they had called.

The statement of Nattakam Suresh had drawn criticism from senior Congress leader and Member of Parliament from Vadakara seat, K. Muraliedharan. Muraliedharan said that whatever a DCC president had to say, he should tell it within the party. DCC president, Nattakam Suresh retorted by stating that this was applicable to K. Muraliedharan as well.

The Congress in Kerala is divided over the entry of Tharoor into the state's active politics.

The alliance partner of Congress in Kerala, the Indian Union Muslim League (IUML) said that it was unfortunate to have such a wide-spread controversy over Tharoor's visit to various districts of the state.

A senior leader of the IUML while speaking said that, "We will raise the issue in the UDF meeting which is to be held tomorrow before the Assembly session. This is affecting the UDF's strength and Congress must refrain from group wars."

NFR cancels few Darjeeling 'toy trains' due to less travellers

Guwahati | Agencies

The Northeast Frontier Railway (NFR) decided to cancel a few trains in the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway (DHR) section due to "insufficient patronisation", including very less number of passengers, officials said on Sunday.

The Maligaon (Guwahati) headquartered NFR's decision to cancel these 'toy train' services on the 141-year-old mountain railway section came two months after introducing four joyrides during the peak tourist season from October 1. The DHR has been a UNESCO World Heritage site since 1999, which is also known across the world for its fascinating journey through the hills of Himalayas in narrow gauge toy trains.

NFR Chief Public Relations Officer Sabyasachi De said that the train services, which would be cancelled, include a pair tri-weekly air-conditioned passenger running between New Jalpaiguri and Darjeeling and two pairs of diesel-special joyrides running between Darjeeling and Ghum stations.

The CPRO said that Darjeeling-Ghum-Darjeeling special joyrides would remain cancelled from December 6 to 31 and New Jalpaiguri-Darjeeling-New Jalpaiguri tri-weekly AC passenger would remain cancelled from December 17 to February 28. Each of these joyrides had three first-class chair cars with a total of 30 seats. Some joyrides introduced on the DHR earlier this year had helped NFR earn Rs 3.20-crore against an expenditure of Rs 2.75-crore in May. The revenue earned was 54 per cent more than the earlier highest of Rs 2.07 crore recorded in May 2018.

Another senior official of the NFR said that if there is an acceptable demand of these joyrides, trains are likely to be reintroduced in future. Work on the narrow gauge DHR, which covers 88 km from West Bengal's New Jalpaiguri to Darjeeling, was completed between 1879 and 1881. The NFR, one among the 17 railway zones in India, operates fully and partially in the northeastern states and in seven districts of West Bengal and five districts of north Bihar.

In a shocking incident, a 53-year-old woman was beaten to death allegedly by her neighbours in outer Delhi's Bawana area, the police said.

The daughter-in-law of the deceased tried to come to her rescue, but she too was thrashed, causing serious injuries. The deceased, identified as Ramawati, reportedly had an argument with her neighbours which flared up, leading to the incident. "The

SUVENDU ADHIKARI ALLEGES EVIDENCE TAMPERING IN LETTER TO SHAH

Kolkata | Agencies

The leader of opposition in the West Bengal Assembly, Suwendu Adhikari, wrote to Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Sunday, seeking the latter's intervention in the blast at the residence of a local Trinamool Congress leader at Bhupatinagar in East Midnapore district on Friday night that killed three persons. The blast took place near the ancestral residence of Adhikari.

In his letter, Adhikari claimed that after the blast on Friday night, attempts have even been made by the local police to destroy evidence so the actual mystery behind the explosion is never revealed.

"Even a day after the blast, the police did not cordon off the location where the incident took place and failed to secure it before forensic examination. The intention was to deliberately tamper with evidence," Adhikari wrote.

The BJP leader also alleged that the explosion happened while Trinamool workers were making crude bombs at the house of the party's booth president, Rajkumar Manna, who was killed in the explosion along with two others. He said though the official death toll in the blast is three, local people suspect that some more people have been killed in the explosion.

"West Bengal has become a hotbed of crude bomb industry. Over the past few weeks, several incidents of crude bomb explosion have been reported from across the state and even children have died or sustained injuries in these blasts," Adhikari's letter read. Maliwal said that the Commission received a complaint from the counsellor. In the complaint, the counsellor said that she had gone to the Seelampur police station to meet a complainant as part of the official work assigned to her by the CIC. Thereafter, when she left the police station and took an e-rickshaw to go to the Jag Pravesh Chandra Hospital for assisting a survivor of sexual assault she was attacked and robbed of her mobile phone.

"She informed me that when she reached near the Shastri Park Road, three men riding a bike attacked her and tried to snatch her phone. When she resisted, she was pulled out of the rickshaw and dragged along by the snatchers while her legs were still stuck in the moving rickshaw. Due to this, she suffered several injuries," Maliwal said.

The rickshaw driver took her to the Shastri Park Police Station from where she was taken to the Jag Pravesh Chandra Hospital and her MLC was done.

Maliwal has now issued a notice to SHO police station Shastri Park and has sought an action taken report. The Commission has sought the copy of FIR along with details of arrests made in the matter. CM IN NEW STYLE, GIVING PUNISHMENT FOR THE CARELESSNESS & REWARDS FOR HARD WORK

Team Absolute | Bhopal

Assembly elections are round the corner in Madhya Pradesh and the government is not getting satisfactory feedback regarding the functioning of the government machinery. Therefore, knowing the ground situation, CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan himself is reaching the ground. On one hand, where the wrongdoers are being suspended, on the other hand, the employees doing good work are being honoured. Overall, CM Chouhan's style has changed. CM visited several places in the last two days to feel the ground pulse, honored the employees when the situation was better and didn't fail to punish those officials where irregularities were noticed or complaints were received.

Chowdhary and SDOM. Along with this, a high-level team will be sent from Bhopal for technical examination of the dam.

Meanwhile, CM Chouhan also reached Government High School, Bilgaon, where he inquired about the educational system from the children and answered questions. When the students gave positive answers to the questions, they presented pens to the students as an incentive.

In the same sequence, the Chief Minister also inspected the Tribal Boys Ashram School Badjhar located in Pipariya, and directed to suspend Superintendent Kamlesh Golia for abuse and negligence in the ashram school.

Chief Minister Chouhan suspended Deputy Director Agriculture Ashwani Jharia with immediate effect on the complaint made by the farmers regarding distribution of seeds in Badjhar Pipariya, a feeder village of Gram Panchayat Amthera. Officers and employees doing good work in Dindori district were honored by giving them bouquets at Shahpura helpad.

Chief Minister Chouhan's attitude has changed and he is engaged in the campaign to repair the government machinery. Staying in Bhopal, where in the morning he takes the details of the situation through video conferencing from the district officials, now he has started a campaign to reach the ground directly.

Political analysts believe that less than a year is left for the assembly elections in the state. If there is maximum displeasure among the public about anyone, then it is with the government machinery. In these situations, if government machinery is tightened, action is taken against officers, and then a good message goes to the public. This is the reason why the Chief Minister has become active.

If someone cuts daughter into 35 pieces, I will not tolerate this. If needed, a strict law will be made against Love Jihad.

MP's small parties become a major headache for BJP, Congress

As assembly elections are scheduled to be held in Madhya Pradesh in less than a year, the possibility of small parties emerging as a big challenge for the BJP and the Congress has increased. All the political parties, including the BJP and the Congress, have already begun preparations for the polls. Both the parties are eyeing the votes which can be grabbed the small parties. The Samajwadi Party, Gondwana Ganatantra Party (GGP), Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP) and the Communist Party have been influential in the state. In the 2003 elections, in the House of 230 MLAs, 18 MLAs had won from small parties. This number has been fluctuating as 13 MLAs from smaller parties won in 2008, four in 2013 and only three in 2018. Learning a lesson from the 2018 assembly elections, both the BJP and the Congress are now dotting every i's and crossing every t's to get absolute majority in the upcoming polls, this is because the Congress had formed the government but it had not got the majority. In 2018, the Congress won 114 seats and the BJP won 109 seats in the 230-member assembly. The BJP returned to power in the state after a year and a quarter due to defection. Political analyst Arvind Mishra believes that the possibility of the upcoming election being full of dilemma cannot be denied, with factionalism increasing in the saffron party and the Congress putting in efforts to get united. However, the smaller parties can majorly affect the electoral math. In the state's recent urban body elections, it became apparent that small parties are now ready to play their role in the elections with Owaisi's AIMIM winning the councillor seats at many places. AAP's candidate won the post of Mayor in Singrauli. It is clear that apart from AAP, AIMIM; BSP, Samajwadi Party (SP) and tribal youth organisation JAIS can play a big role in the upcoming elections.

LAB TESTS BY EXPERTS SCOTCH SAFETY CONCERNS ABOUT TEA PRODUCED IN BENGAL

SUJIT CHAKRABORTY

Tea produced in the northeast region and the Dooars and Darjeeling in West Bengal is safe to drink, a risk assessment study by a 3-member team of scientists from the Tea Research Association (TRA) has confirmed.

The TRA scientists -- Bappadiya Kanrar, Sangeeta Kundu, Pathik Khan -- conducted an in-depth study of the samples collected from eight different areas in Assam, Tripura and West Bengal and analysed them at the TRA's National Accreditation Board for Testing accredited laboratory in Kolkata.

The abstract of the study report, available, said: "Northeast Indian tea would not pose any health hazard."

"A total 321 drier mouth samples were collected during 2020-2021 from eight different regions (Darjeeling, Terai, Dooars, North Bank, Upper Assam, South Bank, Cachar and Tripura). No inorganic mercury as well as uranium was detected in any tested tea samples," the study said.

It said that tea is a perennial crop that requires acidic soil for better plant growth and due to the acidic nature of tea-growing soil; metals can be easily absorbed by tea plants from the growing medium.

Other anthropogenic activities are also the major contributor of elements in the tea. This study provided a comprehensive database of 24 elements which were analyzed by inductively coupled plasma mass spectrometry (ICP-MS), the study report stated.

The study was published in the Biological Trace Element Research Journal.

The study revealed that human health risk for non-carcinogenic and carcinogenic metals was also assessed for the studied elements.

"Hazard quotients (HQs) and hazard index (HI) values (<1) for non-carcinogenic elements indicated no risk. The incremental lifetime cancer risk (ILCR) values for carcinogenic elements indicated no risk for As, Cd, and Pb and medium level risk for Ni," the study report clarified. Other scientists and experts highly appreciated the TRA scientists' study.

The TRA is an organisation which is funded by the tea industry and the Union Ministry of Commerce through the Tea Board of India.

Senior Scientist at the Tea Research Association (TRA) Dr Tanoy Bandyopadhyay said that most important tea gardens in the northeastern region maintain the harvesting interval after spraying the chemicals in their gardens.

"Most important tea gardens in the northeastern region also on regular basis test their samples either from the NABL accredited laboratories of TRA at Jorhat (Assam) or Kolkata and they properly follow the norms of spraying chemicals and harvesting interval," he said.

Bandyopadhyay, in-charge of the Tripura advisory centre of TRA, said that the tea gardens in the northeastern region do not use the banned chemicals and avoid the restricted chemicals, which are harmful for human consumption.

Big tea marketing companies in India also collect or buys or prefers tea from those tea estates that follow the scientific norms and guidelines and these are also viable for the tea industry. "Use of chemicals is essential for the tea gardens. But these should be used keeping in mind the health of humans. Scientific studies also helped the tea estate management to cultivate and produce good tea and flourish their business," said Bandyopadhyay.

Assam, which produces roughly 55 per cent of India's tea, has more than 10 lakh tea workers in the organised sector, working in about 850 big estates. Besides, there are lakhs of small tea gardens owned by individuals.

The tea belts of the Brahmaputra and Barak valleys are home to more than 60 lakh people.

After Assam, Tripura is the second largest producer of tea in the northeastern region, producing around 10 million kg of tea annually on an area of 6,885 hectares.

The agro-climatic conditions in Tripura are suitable for the development of tea plantations. Official documents said that the soil is generally fertile, without any major problems of toxicities or deficiencies.

The average annual rainfall is about 210 cm, with a fairly even distribution over the year. Tripura has a history of tea plantations dating back to 1916.

In fact, Tripura is categorized as a traditional tea-growing state with about 54 tea estates, 21 tea processing factories, and more than 2500 small tea growers, producing about 10 million kg of tea every year making Tripura the 5th largest, among the 16 tea producing states in India.

Experts said that there is considerable scope to increase the productivity and area under tea plantation.

Imran accuses Gen Bajwa of playing 'double game' against his govt

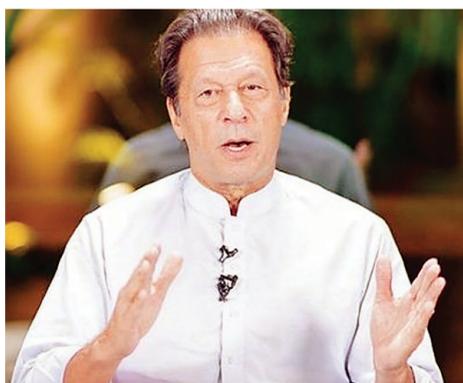

Islamabad | Agencies

Former Pakistan Prime Minister and PTI Chairman, Imran Khan, has accused ex-Pakistan Army Chief, General (ret'd) Qamar Javed Bajwa, of playing "double game" against his government, admitting that he committed a "big mistake" by extending the tenure of then military chief Bajwa in 2019, according to a media report.

In an interview with a local TV channel, the ex-premier regretted that he put his trust in the then army chief.

"I would believe in everything General Bajwa would tell me because our interests were the same... That we had to save the country," Khan said, Express Tribune reported.

Kahn, who was ousted from power via opposition's no-confidence motion in April this year, said he also received reports from the Intelligence Bureau (IB) on "what games were being played against his government."

The Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) chief claimed that the then military establishment was in contact with PML-N supremo Nawaz Sharif to topple his government and the plot against his government became clear following the removal of Lieutenant General (ret'd) Faiz Hameed as ISI chief in October 2021, Express Tribune reported.

When asked about Moonis Elahi's recent claim that General Bajwa asked him to support the PTI, Khan said, "It is possible that he [Moonis] was asked to support Imran Khan while the other one [Chaudhry Shujaat Hussain] had been asked to go with PML-N."

"General Bajwa was playing a double game and I discovered later that even PTI's members were being given different messages," Khan said.

BJP MLC Prasad Lad claims Shivaji Maharaj was born in Konkan, Opposition slams him

Bharatiya Janata Party MLC Prasad Lad has stoked a controversy by claiming Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj was born in the Konkan region, prompting Shiv Sena (UBT) leader Sanjay Raut to ask if the BJP had set up a new council for historical research. It is a known fact that Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj was born in Shivneri in Pune district (of western Maharashtra) and died at Raigad in the Konkan region of the state, Raut told reporters.

'swarajya' were sown in Konkan, Lad said. "I spoke something else unintentionally and I rectified the mistake immediately," the BJP legislator said. In the video message, Lad also criticised the Nationalist Congress Party (NCP) for

"politicising" the issue.

The NCP had tweeted a video of Lad addressing a press conference on the 'Konkan Mahotsav' where he made the comment on the birth place of the 17th century Maratha warrior king, a revered figure in Maharashtra. The Sharad Pawar-led party said the BJP should teach history to its own legislators instead of preaching about it to others.

Asked about Lad's remarks, Rajya Sabha member Sanjay Raut wondered if the BJP wanted to rewrite history and had set up a new council for historical research. "It is a known fact Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj was born in Shivneri in Pune district and died at Raigad in Konkan," Raut said. "The chief minister (Eknath Shinde) has set up a NITI Aayog-like panel in Maharashtra and appointed his builder friend to head it," he said.

MUMBAI DOC GIVES UP LUCRATIVE PRACTICE, DEDICATES LIFE TO COWS IN JHARKHAND

Team Absolute | Mumbai/Ranchi

Doctor from Mumbai, Shalini Mishra, left all her comforts behind and dedicated her life to serving cows.

Shalini was earning in lakhs every month as a doctor, when in July 2019 she decided to move to Chakulia in East Singhbhum district of Jharkhand to run a 'Gaushala' (cowshed).

In the last three and half years, her cowshed has grown so significantly that today it comprises nearly 14,500 cattle, and nearly 300 locals are engaged in taking care of these bovines.

Every day, she personally visits each animal in the cowshed and once she gets assured that all cattle are well, a sense of satisfaction can be clearly seen on her face.

She neither takes any day off nor does she take any weekly off for herself. Even her family is contributing for the cause.

Her husband Ved Prakash is a scientist. Out of his salary of around Rs 8 lakh, he sends almost Rs 7.5 lakh every month for the expenses of the cowshed. Her daughter Richa is doing research in neuroscience in Australia. She gets a scholarship of Rs 2 lakh. Saving some amount out of that, she also sends it to the Gaushala. Son

Harsh is a second year MBBS student in Mumbai. Shalini says, in 2014, Yogi Ashwini of Dhyan Foundation had come to attend a programme of the Indian Medical Association in Mumbai. His thoughts deeply influenced her. She joined the Dhyan Foundation and then reached Chakulia, where a Gaushala was being started by the foundation on a 10-acre vacant land belonging to the Pinjrapole Society of Kolkata, in the area where the aerodrome was built during the Second World War. Actually, a large network of cattle smugglers is active on the Indo-Bangladesh border. BSF (Border Security Force) frees a large number of bovine animals from the possession of these smugglers every month. The problem before the BSF was how to take care of the confiscated animals. The Dhyan Foundation under Yogi Ashwini took the initiative for these animals. The foundation contacted the BSF and assured them that the organization would take proper care of all cattle. At present, the foundation operates a total of 40 cowsheds across the country. In these, more than 80,000 bovine animals are taken care of. As of today, Chakulia's 'Govansh Seva Kunj' Gaushala is the largest shelter for bovine animals in eastern India. BSF team often comes to this cowshed. Three months ago, a team led by Commandant N.M. Rai of 112 Battalion of BSF stayed here for three days and returned impressed by the arrangement at the Gaushala. Not only this, all the members of his team also personally donated money for the cowshed. There are also a large number of sick, helpless, old bulls in this cowshed. A large number of abandoned and dying bovine animals are also brought here. There is also a team of veterinarians for their treatment. Shalini herself is engaged in treatment and dressing of such bovines.

The Gaushala is continuously expanding and several donors also cooperate in the cowshed's operation. This year, on the festival of Gopashtami, the number of cattle when counted was found to be 14,200. The bullocks kept safe in the Gaushala are being given free of cost to the local farmers for agricultural work. A few months before becoming the President of India, Draupadi Murmu had also visited this Gaushala and was very impressed with the arrangement here.

James McAvoy shared why lobbying process put him off Oscars

Los Angeles | Agencies

James McAvoy has opened up about his refusal to campaign to win an Oscar which led to him not scoring a nod for his work on 'Atonement' (2007), reports quoting from an interview the actor gave to a magazine. McAvoy said that he saw first-hand what it took for Forest Whitaker to land his leading actor Oscar for his work on 'The Last King of Scotland', a film both actors starred in. McAvoy was seemingly not overjoyed with the way actors have to cozy up to members of the Academy to get a nod or a vote to win, according to the source.

"With 'The Last King of Scotland' campaign, it was made clear to me that I was doing it for the benefit of other people. And I was totally down with that," McAvoy said. "But by the time 'Atonement' came along, I was 26 or 27, and I was just like, I can't do it, I'm not doing it, I don't wanna do it."

'Atonement' went on to receive seven nominations at the Oscars, including Best Picture and Best Supporting Actress for Saoirse Ronan. The film directed by Joe Wright took a trophy for Best Original Score, which went to Dario Marianelli.

"I didn't want to play that part. I'll push the film, I'll try and get bums on seats. But the campaign, I felt... I felt cheap," he added. McAvoy has a 27-year-long career and says that he now only looks for "interesting experiences." "I love doing it, but I don't love the daily grind of the film and telly business," he explained.

"Even if it's a good script, I certainly can't rationalise going to work at five or six in the morning and staying out till eight o'clock at night. If my character hasn't got an interesting part in telling that story it's quite soul destroying."

Palmer exclaimed, ripping open a long grey jacket to reveal her growing baby bump on the Studio 8H stage, reports. "I gotta say, though, it is bad when people on the internet spread rumours about you y'all, but it's even worse when they're correct. I mean, like, I was trying so hard to keep it on the down low, cause I got a lot of stuff going on, you know?" she continued. "But honestly this has been the biggest blessing, and I am so excited. Guys, I'm going to be a mom," she added. "Even though some people feel a little weird about me having a baby cause I was a child actor, I just wanna say, look, I'm 29, I'm grown, I have sex, I own a home, I stormed the Capitol on January 6, you know? Things adults do," Palmer said, according to the reports. The actress has kept details of her relationship with Jackson under wraps. When appearing on The Tamron Hall Show last November, reports, she opened up about becoming "Instagram official" with Jackson, though the photos with her boyfriend are no longer on her page.

"It became more difficult to hide," Palmer said of choosing to post photos with Jackson at the time. "We spend all this time together, and he really is my closest friend, so it just becomes a thing where I'm not gonna hide something that makes me happy."

She added: "It's not gonna be everything you see, my job is my job, but at the end of the day this is somebody that is important to me so why not."

Harrison Ford and Helen Mirren reuniting again for a drama series

Los Angeles | Agencies

Harrison Ford and Helen Mirren are reuniting for the soon to release drama series '1923' after first appearing together on screen 36 years ago. '1923' is the prequel to 'Yellowstone' and sees the actors reunite decades after Peter Weir's 1986 film 'The Mosquito Coast'. As Ford, explained at the Hollywood Legion Theater Post 43 series premiere, his respect for Mirren, hasn't wavered since then, reports.

"I admire her work and her person (now), and I have all the same degree of admiration for her as I did then," Ford told.

"She's wonderful, she's just a lovely person, and so it's been both a professional pleasure and a personal pleasure working with her again," he added.

"When we first worked together, he was a huge movie star and I was like nobody," she explained. "I was very intimidated, very intimidated." She said: "But also I learned a lot from him because I hadn't done a lot. I'd done a lot of theatre at that point, I hadn't done a lot of movies. So I watched him, and he taught me a great deal about film acting that to this day (that) I'm still using."

Mirren seconded Ford's thoughts, specifically commending series creator Taylor Sheridan on his writing and calling his work "extraordinary".

"To be a part of something that is so exciting within the American sort of entertainment world, but also to be a part of something that is investigating American history in this particular way (is great)," Mirren said.

She added: "You can't do it in two hours, you know, it's great to have that great sprawl, and I just thought earlier on, it's like a big Russian novel. It's like War and Peace, you know, that real sense of an enormous arc of history. And to be a character within that, it's very exciting."

IND v BAN 1st ODI:

Bangladesh wins by 1 wicket

Doha (Qatar) | Agencies

Mehidy Hasan Miraz and Mustafizur Rahman held their nerve to stitch an unbeaten last-wicket stand of 51 off 41 balls to stun India and help Bangladesh win by one wicket in their ODI series opener at the Sher-e-Bangla National Cricket Stadium (SBNCS) in Mirpur, Dhaka, on Sunday.

In a match that ebbed and flowed all the time, Bangladesh seemed to be on their way to chasing 187 after Shakib Al Hasan's fiercer and Ebadot Hossain's four-fer bowled out India for a paltry 186 in 41.2 overs. But the Indian bowlers, led by Mohammed Siraj and Washington Sundar, did well as Bangladesh collapsed from 95/3 to 136/9 in 39.3 overs.

With the hosts' looking down and out, the result seemed a foregone conclusion. But Mehidy had other ideas -- slicing short balls from debutant Kuldeep Sen over the third man for a brace of sixes in the 41st over. He had luck on his side in the next over as K.L.

Rahul dropped his catch at 15 off Shardul Thakur and Sundar did not go for a catch at third man on the very next ball.

Mustafizur, who was off the mark with a punch through off-side, glanced Thakur through fine-leg for four in the 45th over as the equation for the win came down to 10. Mehidy took Bangladesh to striking distance of a victory by slicing a short ball from Chahar in the 46th over past the third man.

A no-ball while taking a single and a tight run later, Mehidy finished off the chase with a punch through cover on the last ball of the over to give Bangladesh an unforgettable come-from-behind win, being unbeaten at 38, with Mustafizur being 10 not out as India wilted under pressure in the last six overs.

Brief scores: India 186 all out in 41.2 overs (K.L. Rahul 73, Rohit Sharma 27; Shakib Al Hasan 5-36, Ebadot Hossain 4-47) lost to Bangladesh 187/9 in 46 overs (Litton Das 41, Mehidy Hasan Miraz 38 not out; Mohammed Siraj 3-32, Washington Sundar 2-17) by one wicket.

Earlier, men's singles shuttler Gnana Dattu and men's doubles pair Bjorn Jaisoon and Aathish Sreenivas P. V. secured bronze medals in the U-15 category.

Unnati, who had become the first Indian shuttler to reach the girls' U-17 final, went down against Sarunrak Vitidsarn of Thailand while Anish and Arsh/Sanskar fell short against Chinese Taipei's Chung-Hsiang Yih and Lai Po-Yu/Yi-Hao Lin respectively in the finals.

All three Indian finalists were a game down, won their respective second games, but failed to convert the third. After losing the first game 18-21, Unnati dominated next and won 21-9. The third game was a neck-and-neck affair till 14-14 before the Thai shuttler raced to victory, clinching the decider 21-14.

While Anish was a little off-beat at the start and his opponent from Chinese Taipei took full advantage of that to win the first game 21-8. Anish regrouped in the second to force a decider, was always seen calming himself despite tense situations and that yielded results as he pocketed the tougher second game 24-22.

The decider was a close affair but errors on crucial points hurt the Indian's chances as he went down 21-19 in the final game.

PAK VS ENG 1ST: TEST JOE ROOT LEAVES WORLD CRICKET STUNNED BY BATTING LEFT-HANDED

Rawalpindi| Star batter Joe Root stunned the cricket world on Sunday when he took the strike and batted left-handed on Day 4 of the first Test between Pakistan and England, here.

Root made the most of the batter-friendly conditions in Rawalpindi when he faced up left-handed to Zahid Mahmood for the first two deliveries of the Pakistan spinner's sixth over. It happened in the 23rd over of England's second innings, shortly after the former England captain completed his half-century. He swept the first ball directly to the fielder at square leg and could not find a run. In the second ball, Root executed the same shot but it was in the air this time. Naseem Shah stationed near mid-wicket made a full-length dive, but was slow to react and hence only managed to get the fingertips on it.

He took the hint as he quickly ditched the idea and played the remainder of his innings as he usually does as a right-hander and was ironically out-sweeping Mahmood later in his innings.

At stumps on Day 4, Pakistan was 80/2 and needed 263 runs to win the first Test against England.

24th minute when Harmanpreet Singh successfully converted the fourth penalty corner, with a stinging shot to the right of Australian keeper, Andrew Charter, to make it 1-2.

In the 30th minute, Zalewski, who had a fine game, and was player of the match, buried a rebound off the goalkeeper's chest following a powerful attempt by Jacob Anderson, making it 3-1. Soon after the break, India came up with a superb attempt when Hardik Singh gave a piercing long pass to the unmarked Amit Rohidas, who finished it off in style to make it 2-3. ## 5 actresses shied away from doing 'Chhaiyya Chaiyya' before Malaika

Team Absolute | Mumbai

Over the years, 'Chhaiyya Chhaiyya' has become an iconic song given the heavy-weights involved in it - the three aces Mani Ratnam, Gulzar and cinematographer Santosh Sivan, besides Shah Rukh Khan, Farah Khan and of course Malaika Arora.

And who can forget Malaika grooving to the beats of the A.R. Rahman-composed song from 'Dil Se', which had the rhythm of a moving train? But, interestingly, Malaika wasn't the first choice for the part. Five actresses had refused to perform to the song.

The anecdote was shared by choreographer-director Farah Khan as she said that all the five actresses - Shilpa Shetty, Shilpa Shirodkar and "two or three other people" said no to dance to the song.

During the conversation, talking about the song, Farah says, "You're the 'Chaiyya Chaiyya' girl. But luckily for you some five heroines had refused to climb on the train."

'Chhaiyya Chhaiyya' was shot on top of a moving train. All the actresses had their own reason for not giving their nods to the song. Farah adds, "Malaika was nowhere on the radar. We had approached Shilpa Shetty Kundra, Shilpa Shirodkar and two or three other people. One feared the prospect of climbing on top of the train, one was not available. Then the makeup person said, 'Malaika is a very good dancer'. When she climbed on top of the train, we were completely curious whether she would pull it off or not. The rest as we know is history."
