mRNA Covid-19 vaccines can increase serious adverse events, claims US researcher

WE FOUND THE VACCINE INCREASES SERIOUS ADVERSE EVENTS AT A RATE OF ONE IN 800. AT THE TIME OF THE PUBLICATION, MY CO-AUTHORS AND I DID NOT BELIEVE OUR SINGLE STUDY WARRANTED THE WITHDRAWAL OF MESSENGER RNA VACCINES FROM THE MARKET. HOWEVER, SINCE ITS PUBLICATION, MULTIPLE NEW PIECES OF EVIDENCE HAVE COME TO LIGHT, AND THIS HAS CAUSED ME TO RE-EVALUATE MY POSITION," SAID FRAIMAN IN A VIDEO THAT SURFACED ONLINE.

IN ANOTHER TWEET, HE MENTIONED THAT THE US FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION (FDA) PUBLISHED STUDY SURVEILLANCE DATA FINDS THE PFIZER COVID VACCINE INCREASES THE RISK OF LUNG BLOOD CLOTS BY 50 PER CENT.

A US-based researcher has claimed that messenger RNA Covid-19 vaccine can increase serious adverse events in people, including sudden cardiac deaths. Joseph Fraiman, the lead author of the peer-reviewed research that re-analysed Pfizer & Moderna trials for mRNA Covid-19 vaccine, has tweeted: "I believe the mRNA Covid-19 vaccines need to be withdrawn." Moreover,

Fraiman said he and his team have conducted multiple autopsy studies that provide "essential conclusive evidence" that vaccines induce sudden cardiac death.

"Schwab et al. study examined vaccine-induced myocarditis deaths, of 35 autopsies 20 days from vaccine, 5 likely or possibly vaccine myocarditis but another 8 deaths, under 65 no pre-existing conditions, total 13 (37 per cent) possibly vaccine-induced deaths, needs further investigations," he tweeted.

JOSHIMATH CRISIS: CRACKS APPEAR IN SHANKARACHARYA TEMPLE, SHIVLING

Chaoli/Joshimath | Agencies

The latest casualty in Uttarakhand's Joshimath town, which is witnessing extreme land subsidence, is a temple in the Shankaracharya Math, established by Adi Jagatguru Shankaracharya, which had developed cracks and has sunk about six inches. The Shivling inside the temple has also developed cracks. People believe that the Shivling was brought from Jaipur in 2000.

Students from all across the country come to the Math for Vedic education and learning. Currently, around 60 students are enrolled in the temple. According to popular belief, Shankaracharya attained Vedic knowledge by meditating inside the cave, under the Kalpa tree, 2500 years ago. The same tree is on the verge of extinction today. Apart from this, huge cracks have appeared in the buildings of the campus, and around the Lakshmi Narayan temple. Brahmachari Mukundanand, in-charge of Joshimath temple, said that cracks had appeared in the entrance of the math, Lakshmi Narayan temple and auditorium, wherein Totkacharya cave, and Tripur Sundari Rajarajeshwari temple are situated. Priest Vashishtha Brahmachari apprised that cracks had been observed in the premises since around an year but no one expected the situation to get out of control. He said that efforts were being made to rectify the cracks earli-

4,000 EVACUATED AFTER SURVEY VIA SATELLITES

New Delhi: Families in six hundred houses in the "sinking" town of Joshimath in Uttarakhand have been evacuated after a survey via satellites. "As of now, we know that 600 houses have been evacuated. And about 4,000 people have been shifted to safer areas," a senior functionary of the Ministry of Home Affairs told NDTV. Some cracks were also noted in lower parts of Army and ITBP establishments but adequate safeguards are being adopted, the official said.

Red Cross mark on houses

The district administration had earlier put red cross marks on more than 200 houses in the sinking town that are unsafe for living. It asked their occupants to either shift to the temporary relief centres or rented accommodations for which each family would get assistance of Rs 4,000 per month for the next six months from the state government. More than 600 structures in Joshimath - gateway to Badrinath and Hemkunt Sahib - have either developed cracks or been partially destroyed. The holy town has been divided into three zones - 'Danger', 'Buffer', and 'Completely safe' - based on the magnitude of possible danger.

ICICI-VIDEOCON CASE

BOMBAY HC BAILS OUT KOCHHAR COUPLE, PULLS UP CBI

Team Absolute | Mumbai

The Bombay High Court on Monday granted interim bail to former ICICI Bank honcho Chanda Kochhar and her businessman husband Deepak Kochhar, while pulling up the Central Bureau of Investigation which arrested them flouting the provisions of the law.

A division bench of Justice Revati Mohite-Dere and Justice Prithviraj K. Chavan ruled that the Kochhars' arrest violated the CrPc's Section 41A which mandates sending a notice for appearance before the police official concerned. Accordingly, the high court ordered the couple's release on a cash bail of Rs 100,000 each and furnishing a bond with surety of Rs 100,000 each within two weeks.

Another co-accused in the same case, Videocon Group Ltd. Chairman V. N. Dhoot, who was also arrested later, continues to remain in judicial custody.

The Kochhar couple was nabbed on December 23, after which a Mumbai Special CBI Court initially sent them to CBI custody and later on December 29, sent them to judicial custody.

Soon afterwards, the Kochhars had challenged their "illegal and arbitrary" arrest in the Bombay High Court, which pronounced its verdict on Monday, and posted the matter for further hearing on February 6.

The high court pulled up the CBI for the "casual and mechanical and perfunctory" manner of arrest without application of mind and absence of a woman officer when Chanda Kochhar was nabbed.

Justice Mohite-Dere and Justice Chavan said that "the petitioners' (Kochhars) arrest was not done in accordance with the provisions of the law... there has been non-compliance of Section 41A thus warranting their release".

The judges noted that after the CBI registered the case in December 2017, the Kochhars have always appeared before the investigators and submitted all details and documents.

MAINTAIN DATABASE OF ALL UNRULY PASSENGERS: DGCA TO AIR INDIA

New Delhi: Following two incidents of passenger misconduct in the Air India Paris-New Delhi flight on December 6, 2022, aviation regulator DGCA has asked the airline to maintain a database of all unruly passengers.

It also asked the airline to refer the incident to the internal committee which will decide the duration of ban for flying of the unruly passenger within 30 days and this can extend from zero day to life-time ban.

Two incidents of passenger misbehavior occurring on Air India flight AI-142 on December 6, 2022 from Paris to New Delhi, came to the notice of the DGCA. One passenger was caught smoking in the lavatory, was drunk and not listening to the crew. Another passenger allegedly relieved himself on a vacant seat and blanket of a fellow female passenger when she went to the lavatory.

A senior DGCA official said that the airline concerned shall refer the incident to the internal committee comprising three members including a retired district and session judge as Chairman, a representative from a different scheduled airline as member, and representative from a passengers association or consumer association or retired officer of the Consumer Dispute Redressal Forum as member.

During the pendency of the decision by the Internal Committee, the concerned airline may ban such unruly passengers from flying for a period not exceeding 30 days, said the DGCA official on Monday.

After the decision of the Internal Committee, the airline shall maintain a database of all such unruly passengers and inform the same to the DGCA who is the custodian for maintaining the "No-Fly List".

Soon watch Doordarshan channels without set top boxes

▶ To enable the reception of these free to air channels without use of set top box, there is a need for television receivers with inbuilt suitable satellite tuner.

▶ Apart from specifications for television receivers, BIS has published two more standards for common chargers and video surveillance systems.

▶ The second standard published by BIS is for Type C receptacles, plug and cables or simply put, common chargers.

▶ This specification provides requirements for USB Type-C port, plug and cables for use in various electronic devices like mobile phone, laptop, notebook etc.

▶ This standard would provide common charging solutions for smartphones and other electronic devices sold in the country.

▶ This would facilitate in reduction in number of charger per consumer as consumers will no longer need to buy different chargers every time they buy a new device.

Soon television viewers would be able to watch all free to air channels of official broadcaster Doordarshan without set top boxes, with the help of digital television receivers with built-in satellite tuners.

These tuners would enable reception of free-to-air TV and radio channels by just connecting a dish antenna with LNB mounted on a roof top or side wall of the building.

The Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) on Monday came out with specifications for digital television receivers with built-in satellite tuners. Television manufacturers would follow these specifications while manufacturing such television sets.

Currently, television viewers are required to purchase set-top boxes for viewing various paid and free channels.

The viewer is required to use set top box even for the reception of free to air channels (non-encrypted) transmitted by Doordarshan.

Now, Doordarshan is in the process of phasing out analogue transmission. Free to air channels will continue to be broadcast using digital satellite transmission by Doordarshan.

'SERIOUS ISSUE, DON'T MAKE IT POLITICAL'

Supreme Court on plea against forced religious conversions

Team Absolute | New Delhi

The Supreme Court on Monday sought assistance of Attorney General R. Venkataramani on a plea seeking direction to the Central government and state governments to take action against forced religious conversions.

A bench, headed by Justice M.R. Shah, observed that religious conversion is a serious and important issue and it should not be given a political colour.

The bench, also comprising Justice C.T. Ravikumar, sought the AG's assistance on a petition filed by advocate Ashwini Upadhyay against religious conversions by force, allurement etc.

Justice Shah told the AG: "We want your assistance also, as Attorney General for India... it is a conversion matter, religious conversion by force, allurement or some other things, these are allegations... we are not opining anything, whether it has actually happened or not, we are just considering".

"What should be done in such a case?... there is a difference between right to freedom, right to religion, and right to convert anything by allurement, if that is happening, then what will happen, what should be done... What further corrective measures can be taken... we want assistance from AG," he added. Senior advocate P. Wilson, representing the Tamil Nadu government, submitted that the petition is politically motivated and argued that there was no question of such conversions in the state. At this, the bench said: "You may have different reasons to be agitated like this. Don't convert court proceedings into other things. We are concerned with the entire country... If it is happening in your state, it is bad. If not, then it is good. "Do not make it political."

The court was hearing a petition filed by Upadhyay seeking direction to the Centre and states to take tough steps to control fraudulent religious conversions. The top court scheduled the matter for further hearing on February 7.

The top court also renamed the cause title as "re: issue of religious conversion" as lawyers object to the PIL filed by Upadhyay in his own name.

On December 5, the Supreme Court had said the issue of forced religious conversion is a "very serious issue" and emphasised that charity is welcome, but the purpose of charity must not be conversion. The top court allowed the Centre to file a detailed counter after obtaining necessary response from various state governments in connection with anti-conversion laws and other relevant information.

Gandhi's statement a reflection of "Vinash Kaale Viprit Buddhi": VHP

Team Absolute | New Delhi

The Vishwa Hindu Parishad (VHP), in a response to Rahul Gandhi's statement, accused him of insulting priests and called his act a reflection of "vinash kaale viprit buddhi" (good sense going for a toss in times of crisis).

VHP's national spokesperson Vinod Bansal said that Congress' anti-Hindu face had been exposed by Gandhi's statement and that the people would never forgive him for this. Bansal alleged that Congress is responsible for making the Hindus second-class citizens, for Muslim appeasement and for promoting Christian missionaries in the last 70 years, and of now turning opportunist in the wake of Hindu Rashtra.

He further said that Gandhi flaunted his Hindu identity to win elections, and now identifies as an ascetic.

Priests chide over 'tapasvi' and 'pujari' remark

New Delhi: Several priests slammed Congress leader Rahul Gandhi for insulting them for saying that India is a country of 'tapasvis' not 'pujaris'. Gandhi had recently said in Haryana that the Congress believes in 'tapasya', while the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) is an organisation of 'pooja'. He alleged that the BJP-RSS force people to worship them, adding that India is a country of 'tapasvis' (ascetics) and not 'pujaris' (priests). At some places, including Prayagraj in Uttar Pradesh, priests carried out protests and burnt Gandhi's effigies. Demonstration were held at many places against Rahul Gandhi and Congress.

RAGA'S SECURITY TO BE TIGHTENED

New Delhi: Security agencies have made elaborate preparations to tighten Rahul Gandhi's security during Bharat Jodo Yatra, which will enter Punjab and Jammu and Kashmir, this month.

According to sources, the Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF) has reviewed the security arrangements since both the areas are sensitive. The security agencies are engaged in the process of deploying forces and are coordinating with the local police. According to information, the Central agencies have sought information of the yatra's route from the local police. The security agencies have been alerted about the recent incidents in Punjab and J&K. They have conducted recce in all the locations of the route as well. According to sources, Gandhi is a Z plus protectee, which is why the security arrangements are being made on the same level.

Accused alighted car to check what was stuck, then continued driving: Police to court

Team Absolute | New Delhi

The Delhi Police on Monday told the Rohini court that one of the CCTV footage collected during investigation shows that the accused had got down from the car to check what was stuck and then continued driving.

Meanwhile, as the police custody of six individuals arrested in connection with the death of a 20-year-old woman who was killed after being dragged by a car for several kilometres in Sultanpuri ended on Monday, the court sent the accused to 14 days' judicial custody.

The accused have been identified as Ashutosh, Deepak Khanna, Amit Khanna, Krishan, Mitthun and Manoj Mittal.

One of the accused, Ashutosh, who is accused of tampering with evidence, had also moved a bail plea in the court which is scheduled to be heard on Tuesday.

As per sources, Ashutosh, the car owner and brother of Amit, Ankush Khanna had talks with the five accused and as Amit did not have driving licence, Deepak was told to tell police that he was in the driving seat at the time of incident. Ankush was granted bail by the court recently.

New system to measure, grade performance of hospitals under Ayushman Bharat

Team Absolute | New Delhi

With a view to shift the focus of measuring performance of hospitals from volume of services provided to the value of healthcare services, National Health Authority (NHA) is introducing a new system to measure and grade hospital performance under the flagship scheme Ayushman Bharat Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana (AB PM-JAY).

Traditionally, from the payer's perspective, the healthcare model has been focussed on the quantity of services delivered, where case-based bundled payment is made on the basis of the number of services provided.

Officials said that the new initiative will introduce the concept of 'value-based care', where payment will be outcome based and providers will be rewarded according to the quality of the treatment delivered. Under the new model, the providers will be rewarded for helping the patients improve their health, which consequently will reduce the effects of disease in the population in the long term.

The step promises significant increase in the overall health gains and is expected to be a win-win for all concerned stakeholders from patients to healthcare providers, payers and suppliers. While the patients will get better health outcomes and higher satisfaction out of the services they receive, providers stand to get better care efficiencies. Similarly, payers will be able to maximise the health benefits generated out of the spending incurred, said officials. Speaking on the initiative R.S. Sharma, CEO, National Health Authority said, "To ensure PM-JAY beneficiaries receive both cashless healthcare benefits and high-quality care at every empanelled hospital, NHA has implemented various measures. These measures include standardising the cost of treatment under the scheme and adding new and advanced treatment procedures. Additionally, NHA has made a provision to incentivise best performing hospitals that provide quality care to patients."

In a value-based healthcare system, the payers can also exercise strong cost controls. Officials said that a healthier population with fewer claims translates into less drain on payers' premium pools and investments. Suppliers would benefit from being able to align their products and services with positive patient outcomes and reduced cost. Altogether, value-based care promises to significantly improve healthcare landscape in India by incentivizing and encouraging healthcare providers to focus more on delivering patient centric services. Under value-based care, the performance of AB PM-JAY empanelled hospitals will be measured based on five performance indicators, including Beneficiary Satisfaction; Hospital Readmission Rate; the extent of Out-of-Pocket Expenditure; Confirmed Grievances and Improvement in patient's Health-Related Quality of Life.

OVER 100 SHANTIES GUTTED IN MASSIVE GURUGRAM FIRE

Gurugram: More than 100 shanties were destroyed on Monday after a massive fire broke out in Ghasola village in Gurugram's Sector-49.

Fire personnel evacuated residents from the huts and it took them about three hours to control the fire. No casualties or injuries have been reported. According to the fire officials, a call of the incident was received at around 11.55 a.m. at the Sector-29 fire station. Rajesh Kumar, a fire official, said that over 20 fire tenders were pressed into service.

"Teams of several fire personnel, civil defence and police personnel were deployed in the fire-fighting and evacuation operations. Most probably the incident was caused by an electric short-circuit," he said.

These huts are covered with plastic covers, tarpaulin sheets, wood and bamboo. These materials were another reason for the fire to spread across the area very rapidly.

MCD brawl: BJP leaders protesting outside Kejriwal's house detained

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Delhi Police detained several BJP workers including party leader Parvesh Verma after the protestors broke through the security layers installed at Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal's house on Monday.

Days after the brawl at the maiden meeting of the Municipal Corporation of Delhi, both AAP and BJP are holding protests in the national capital. While AAP protested outside the Delhi BJP office, the BJP staged a protest outside Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal's house alleging hooliganism by AAP councillors during the mayoral election. The ruckus erupted during the MCD Mayor elections at the Civic Centre on January 6, as the members from the BJP and AAP protested inside the House. Following the protests by the BJP and AAP members, the MCD House was adjourned even before the commencement of voting for Mayoral polls.

Finding no takers for fugitive diamantaire Nirav D. Modi's one property, its price has been slashed and the DRT has ordered its re-auction...

Last week, the DRT-I Recovery Officer Ajeet Tripathi put up the HCL House in Marol for e-auction -- plus three other lots of properties -- to recover a portion of the outstanding of a staggering Rs 22,13,16,39,411.

The e-auction is scheduled for February 10 -- a week after the DRT-I ordered the sale of Modi's two tony flats in the YOOPUNE housing scheme in Pune, valued at a total of Rs 18 crore, on February 3.

In the fresh auction list concerning PNB versus Firestar International Ltd, the names figuring are Modi and his group companies like Bentley Properties Pvt. Ltd., MAK Business Enterprises Pvt. Ltd., ANM Enterprises Pvt. Ltd., NDM Enterprises Pvt. Ltd., Neeshal Trading Pvt. Ltd., Neehal Trading Pvt. Ltd. -- all operating from a common address at Opera House.

BHK flat in Grosvenor House at Peddar Road is going up for auction sale with a reserve price of Rs 15.87 crore, further details of which are not available.

Modi also has another address in the prestigious Al Shera Towers, Dubai. The encumbrances or outstanding on HCL House and Grosvenor House are not known and all the properties shall be auctioned off on the basis of 'as is where is' and 'as is what is'.

Later, other probe agencies like Enforcement Directorate (ED) and Income Tax Department (ITD) entered the picture targeting the two prime accused -- Modi and his maternal uncle Mehul C. Choksi -- but both had flown the coop well before the scam erupted to shake the roots of the Indian banking sector.

Later it came to light that Modi was holed up in London and Choksi has since settled as a citizen of Antigua & Barbuda Isles, West Indies, and both are awaiting their extradition to India -- expectedly soon.

'TheGreenBillions' joins hands with Pune civic body on plant to extract green hydrogen from waste

- This waste will comprise biodegradable, non-biodegradable and domestic hazardous waste and would be segregated at the TheGreenBillions' facility in Pune using optical sensor technology. The wet waste from the facility will be used to generate humic-acid rich bio-fertilisers, which are considered better than conventional bio-fertilisers and has low carbon emissions.

Team Absolute | Mumbai

TheGreenBillions Limited (TGBL), a company specialising in consulting, managing, and executing sustainable initiatives, has announced its association with the Pune Municipal Corporation (PMC) to set up first plant in India to extract green hydrogen from biomass and municipal solid waste.

TGBL's wholly owned subsidiary Variate Pune Waste to Energy Pvt. Ltd. (VPWTEPL) will be managing and utilising the municipal waste of 350 TPD of Pune for generating hydrogen for a period of 30 years. The project aims to extract clean hydrogen from municipal solid waste in a pioneering initiative.

Broadcast Engineering Consultants India Limited (BECIL), a Central Public Sector

Enterprise of Government of India will provide the Project management consulting and Variate Pune Waste to Energy Private Limited, a wholly owned subsidiary of TheGreenBillions Limited, will implement the project to convert Pune's municipal non-recyclable waste into hydrogen.

The Refuse Derived Fuel (RDF) from the waste would later be utilised to generate hydrogen using Plasma gasification technology. The technology has been developed while closely working with the Bhabha Atomic Research Centre (BARC) and the Indian Institute of Science, Bengaluru. Mahatma Phule Renewable Energy & Infrastructure Technology (MAHAPREIT), a Maharashtra government undertaking, has proposed to off-take the hydrogen generated at the facility and develop logistical infrastructure for hydrogen transportation to industries for this.

For the first phase of the project, MAHAPREIT proposes blending in the city gas distribution network in Pune by partnering with Maharashtra Natural Gas Ltd -- a joint venture of GAIL (India) Ltd and Bharat Petroleum Corporation Ltd (BPCL). The joint efforts by MAHAPREIT and GAIL can help the proposed hydrogen blending project set a benchmark for a circular economy with hydrogen generated from the city's waste and blended back into its gas distribution network.

An official statement from Broadcast Engineering Consultants India Limited (BECIL) said: "With this project, Pune city can reduce upto 2.5 million MT CO2e, more than 3.8 million MT waste would be diverted from the landfill and around >1,80,000 estimated households will be served directly. The Municipal solid waste (MSW) otherwise being dumped in low lying urban areas will be diverted, saving upto 689.5 cubic meter space every day and 25.16 hectare of precious land per year."

Leopard at the gate

The residents of a housing society in Greater Noida have been living in constant dread and panic, with a leopard on the loose since earlier this week. The leopard was first sighted at an under-construction site in the Ajnara Le Garden society on January 3, and a Forest Department team has been trying to trap it ever since. The team reached the location after a video of the animal surfaced online. Several teams from other districts, including Special Rangers, have been carrying out search and rescue operations for the big cat, but to no avail. With claims of the leopard being seen by people along with its videos, the authorities want to make sure whether the leopard is still lurking around in the premises. The Forest Department team and other officials from Meerut and Agra have been camping in the society for the same. Poultry and goats have been left as baits to trap the animal, while a big cage has also been installed in the premises. Along with this, the team has also laid nets to catch the leopard. A team of more than 40 officers and employees of the Forest Department have been engaged in the operations. District Forest Officer (DFO) Pramod Kumar apprised that cameras and camera traps were being installed in the area. Delhi resident Pawan Tripathi informed that a team of 70 from the Forest Department conducted a search operation in the under-construction tower, on Friday morning. Police personnel have also been deployed in the society to prevent people from entering the area. The DFO said that a 42 metre-high Hydraulic platform, to monitor the animal, was arranged from the Fire Department after not achieving any success by using drones. Many surrounding societies have issued advisories regarding the presence of the wild animal and have instructed the residents to be extremely cautious, and not go outside unnecessarily.

India for world peace

One of the great foreign policy feats of Prime Minister Narendra Modi is that he stood upfront on the military conflict between Russia and Ukraine -- sparked by the launch of Russian military operation in February 2022 to support the Russian-speaking eastern provinces of Ukraine against the alleged suppression of their rights by Ukraine -- and took a line that both sides had concerns which should be resolved through peaceful negotiations. The US-led West joined the fray in support of Ukraine amid appeals from President Volodymyr Zelensky for grant of NATO membership to Ukraine and the conflict went on to assume the proportions of a 'war' with no end in sight. The US and its allies are merely supplying arms, ammunition and sophisticated war material to Ukraine, creating an impression that they were conducting a 'proxy war' against Russia. It is possible that the US saw in its strategy a parallel with the anti-Soviet armed campaign in Afghanistan that had ultimately led to the withdrawal of the Soviet army and the demise of the USSR. However, it is becoming increasingly clear that Vladimir Putin's Russia is not getting worn down and it is Ukraine that is taking the real hit in terms of loss of life and assets. President Putin has referred to the effectiveness of tactical nuclear weapons, but clearly not betrayed any desperation about using them in this conflict. He is still pursuing the original aim of protecting the eastern provinces of Ukraine closely identified with Russian interests and has again gone on record to claim that he wants to end the conflict. The total scene around this military confrontation of geopolitical significance suggests that it is still not an irreversible case for return to peace. What is needed is a credible global level mediation acceptable to both sides. It is noteworthy that beyond the UN that faced resolutions critical of Putin in the Ukraine-Russia conflict, India's position as a possible mediator acceptable to both sides, has been acknowledged more than once by the unbiased sections of the international community. Prime Minister Modi became the first world leader to call for cessation of hostilities and recourse to peaceful negotiation to resolve the Ukraine-Russia conflict. He told the Russian

President that 'this is not an era of war', and subsequently voiced India's firm opposition to use of nuclear weapons when there were speculations about possible induction of tactical nuclear missiles by Putin to achieve his goal in the war with Ukraine. These responses made India the sane voice in the world and established Prime Minister Modi as a global counsel on issues of war and peace. Modi has spoken to the two Presidents more than once and has kept up hopes in the prospects of return to peace sooner than later. The success of India's foreign policy in the Modi regime can be measured by the fact that India's friendly bonds with Russia do not come in the way of the deep and natural strategic friendship of India with the US, which was the hallmark of convergence between the two largest democracies of the world and - what is even more significant - by the fact that US President Joe Biden and Putin both understood India's geopolitical position. Interestingly, Putin now taking decisions on the readings of his own intelligence set up would be doing so with much greater confidence since he has a first-hand experience of the flaws and strong points of the latter and perhaps could see things in the wider global perspective even better than before. Any attempt at mediation between Russia and Ukraine can hope to succeed only if the background of the conflict is clearly understood and steps recommended to establish lasting trust among the two neighbours accordingly. When the Cold War ended consequent on the dismemberment of USSR and the termination of the Warsaw Pact, the emergence of East European states as independent nations, besides the rise of Central Asian Republics (CARs), left the residual Soviet Russia as a much smaller empire. The US-led West might have done well to work for peaceful coexistence between Russia and its neighbours. Certainly, a high-pitch combative alliance like NATO did not hold the earlier ground as American hostility towards Russia did not have to exist at the level of the Cold War era. In fact, in the unipolar world order, the US was expected to work for world peace while militarily safeguarding American interests across the globe. Former US President Donald Trump treated Russia at par with European nations and seemed to have little problem with Putin - he was in the process able to deal with China on a stronger note of military and economic deterrence. The advent of Biden Presidency saw a reversal of US attitude towards Russia - this could be in part because of the controversy that the crucial Presidential poll had left behind on the issue of Russian 'interference' in the American elections. Biden declared Russia as the prime adversary for the US and underlined the trans-Atlantic alliance with Europe in a manner that underscored the continued use of NATO as a deterrent against Russia. Putin's action against Ukraine gave Biden a justifiable ground for confronting Russia. The Ukraine-Russia conflict precipitated in February 2022 as Putin ordered 'military operation' in eastern Ukraine, ostensibly to safeguard the rights of the Russian speaking population there in the face of a simmering agitation continuing in those parts. The situation rapidly worsened because of the declared policy of Zelensky to seek NATO membership to militarily respond to Russia and the decision of the US-led West to join the Ukrainian side by pumping in arms and ammunition into Ukraine. The backdrop of the continuing tension between Russia and Ukraine going back to the annexation of Crimea by Russia in 2014 - with the West beginning the spell of sanctions on Russia to express its support to Ukraine then - is also linked to the aggravation of the Russia-Ukraine military conflict this time. The development regarding Crimea - a territory of vast strategic import for Russia on the Black Sea - had preceded an anti-Russia uprising there in which Islamic fundamentalists blessed by the West had played a major part. Significantly, Putin also supported Syrian President Assad in the 'civil war' precipitated by Islamic militants against him - with US backing. Russia might have been specially sensitive to the 'destabilisation' of Crimea because of what the USSR had experienced in Afghanistan - perhaps Putin considered it legitimate to get the territory 'back to Russia' since it was earlier 'gifted' by Nikita Khrushchev to Ukraine internally, according to some authentic accounts. The whole point is that there was no push back on the part of the West from the Cold War confrontation even after the USSR had collapsed in 1991 and international Communism on which it rested, had ended. An international team of negotiators, including Indian representatives, can start a dialogue with Ukraine and Russia with their consent. As mentioned earlier, mediators have to acknowledge the security concerns of the two warring nations and try to find their redressal in a mutual peace agreement that neighbours with different governance models could adhere to. An immediate ceasefire pending a negotiated settlement would be necessary and supply of armament and ammunition to Ukraine from outside would have to be halted. Restoration of democratic government in Ukraine based on 'one man one vote' and equal rights for all citizens regardless of language, community and region is extremely important. Ukraine must declare that it is not seeking NATO membership. Lifting of sanctions against Russia may be considered consequent on a withdrawal of Russian troops from Ukraine to their side of the border. An effective peace pact between Russia and Ukraine governing their future relationship should be the final outcome of the mediation. The US would do well not to create a geopolitical situation where Russia and China would jointly deal with the West and accelerate the reemergence of Cold War between two matching powers. This will, among other things, impede the processes of international economic cooperation already set in motion. The virtual summit between Putin and Xi Jinping on December 30 reaffirmed that Russia-China strategic friendship is deepening further and blamed those who were, according to them, instigating the Cold War mentality. The meeting acquires special significance in the backdrop of the ongoing Russia-Ukraine military conflict. The polarisation between the US-led West and China-Russia combine will no more be totally 'ideological', considering the 'Sinicization of Marxism' initiated by Xi Jinping and the emphasis placed on Russian national pride by Putin, and this would minimise the possibility of internal differences cropping up among them over claims on Marxist-Leninist thought. The two countries shared a system of dictatorship that opposed the US - and this in fact would act as the more important binding element for them. As far as India is concerned, Indo-Russia friendship is one reason why China at least pretends that it wants to maintain good relations with India. India has to watch out against China continuing to practice its 'two steps forward one step backward' policy in spite of such pretences. In the final analysis, the US and Europe should work to return to democracy in all countries that were once a part of the USSR. This will be a useful long-term strategy for the US to maintain its geopolitical hold and global acceptability. Enlargement of the democratic order can be an effective counter to Chinese expansionism and Russia's possible strategic aim of bringing back the former USSR territories under its influence. This provides an additional non-military route for the US for maintaining its supremacy as the leader of the democratic world. Prime Minister Modi's mandate that 'this is not an era of war' in fact strengthens Biden's hands. India must continue to press for a peace negotiation between Russia and Ukraine without any preconditions being set by either side. (The writer is a former Director of Intelligence Bureau. Russian claim of killing 600 Ukrainian soldiers rejected by Kiev as 'propaganda'

Kiev | Agencies
Russia's claim of killing more than 600 Ukrainian soldiers in an attack in the eastern city of Kramatorsk has been rejected by authorities in Kiev and labelled it as "propaganda". Russia claimed the toll without providing any evidence and said the "mass missile strike" in Kramatorsk was in retaliation for a Ukrainian attack at a college for conscripts in Makiivka (Donetsk region) that killed at least 89 Russian soldiers on New Year's Day. But rejecting the claim, Serhiy Cherevaty, a spokesman for the Ukrainian army, told the BBC on Sunday night that "this is another piece of Russian propaganda". In a statement, the Russian

Defence Ministry said more than 1,300 Ukrainian troops were housed in two buildings during the attack on Sunday. Moscow is however, yet to offer any proof of its claim about the Kramatorsk deaths. Besides Kramatorsk, there was further shelling in various parts of Ukraine overnight after the end of what Russian President Vladimir Putin said was a 36-hour ceasefire so Orthodox Christians could celebrate Christmas, reports the BBC. Ukrainian officials said at least one person was killed in the Kharkiv region, while explosions were also reported in the southern cities of Zaporizhzhia and Melitopol.

Bolsonaro's supporters storm Brazil's SC, Congress and presidential palace

Brasilia | Agencies
Supporters of former Brazilian President Jair Bolsonaro have stormed the country's Supreme Court, Congress and the presidential palace against Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva taking over the helm of the country after narrowly defeating his predecessor. Wearing shirts in the colours of Brazil's flag -- yellow and green -- the protesters on Sunday vandalised the buildings in capital Brasilia that house the South American nation's key democratic institutions, reports the BBC. The rioting came exactly a week after Lula, who was President between January 2003 and December 2010 and defeated Bolsonaro by a narrow margin in a run-off election on October 31, 2022, was sworn into office. The police resorted to firing tear gas when the demonstrators wrapped in the national flag surrounded the presidential palace. While addressing a press conference here, Justice Minister Flavio Dino said at least 200 of the rioters have been arrested so far and the situation in and around Congress, the Supreme Court and the presidential palace is under control after security forces managed to expel the protesters. "This is terrorism, it's a coup. We are certain that the vast majority of the population doesn't want this darkness to be implemented," the BBC quoted Dino as saying at a press conference. He also accused the security forces in the region, commanded by a Bolsonaro ally, of being "negligent". "I want to believe that the Governor will determine the responsibilities in relation to those who didn't fulfil their constitutional duties." Meanwhile, Cabinet Ministers have claimed that the rioters took weapons from the presidential palace. In a tweet, Paulo Pimenta, chief minister of communications, said: "We are in the Institutional Security Office room. In each of these briefcases (there) were both lethal and non-lethal weapons. They were stolen by criminals." Late Sunday night, Bolsonaro, who has been living in Florida since late December 2022, said on Twitter that "peaceful demonstrations, in the form of the law, are part of democracy", before going on to condemn the "invasions of public buildings as occurred today". In a statement, Lula, who had declared emergency powers before dispatching the national guard into the capital to restore order, said the storming was "without precedent" and labelled those behind it "fanatic fascists". The President took aim at security forces whom he accused of "incompetence, bad faith or malice" in the failure to stop demonstrators accessing Congress.

JAPAN CULLS 9.98 MN BIRDS AS AVIAN FLU RAGES

Tokyo: A record high of 9.98 million birds at poultry farms have been culled in Japan this season amid the nationwide surge in cases of avian influenza, the government said on Monday. Earlier on Monday, a poultry farm in the town of Shirosato in Ibaraki prefecture, confirmed a bird flu outbreak, and has started culling about 930,000 chickens at the farm, according to the Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries. The case brought the number of outbreaks of avian influenza to 56 across 23 prefectures this season, topping the previous record, while the number of birds culled has exceeded the level during the 2020-2021 season, Xinhua news agency quoted the Ministry as saying. The season's first case of bird flu was confirmed in October last year on a poultry farm in Okayama prefecture. Under the current situation in Japan, it is impossible for consumers to contract bird flu from eating meat or eggs from infected chickens, the Ministry added.

13 killed in clashes between Houthis, govt forces in Yemen's oil-rich province

Sanaa | Agencies
Heavy clashes between the Yemeni government forces and the Houthi militia in the oil-rich central province of Marib have killed 13 government soldiers, a government military source said. The fighting that erupted on the frontline of the southern district of Al-Jubah also wounded several soldiers, the source in Marib said on condition of anonymity on Sunday. "The clashes erupted after the Houthi fighters moved in groups through three directions toward the sites of the government forces," the source said, adding the fighting lasted eight hours throughout the night till morning.

"It was a very deadly, fierce attack, in which heavy machine guns, rockets and artillery were used in the battle," the military source added. The government forces are still estimating the casualties from the Houthi side, while the Houthi group, which rarely reported its casualties, has not commented on the clashes yet, Xinhua news agency reported. While the Yemeni government controls most of Marib and its oil and gas fields, the Houthis have launched intense offensives over the past years trying to take over the strategic province, which is considered a stronghold between the Houthis and the southern provinces. The escalation came nearly three months after a six-month nationwide truce expired in October 2022. Yemen has been mired in a civil war since late 2014 when the Iran-backed Houthi militia stormed several northern cities and forced the Saudi-backed Yemeni government out of the capital Sanaa. The war has killed tens of thousands, displaced 4 million and pushed the country to the brink of starvation.

INDIAN-ORIGIN WOMAN GETS 14-YR JAIL FOR FATALLY TORTURING DOMESTIC HELP IN S'PORE

Singapore | Agencies
An Indian-origin woman, who joined her daughter in assaulting a domestic help until she died of a brain injury last year, was sentenced to 14 years' jail on Monday in Singapore. Prema S. Narayanasamy, 64, did not react and looked down at the ground when the judge announced the sentence, The Straits Times reported. "The deceased is no longer with us to speak of her suffering but footage from the CCTV showed the shocking picture of the abuse and how emacipated and weak she was before her passing," Principal District Judge Toh Han Li said. After 14 months of repeated torture, Piang Ngaih Don, a 24-year-old from Myanmar, died of brain injury with severe blunt trauma to her neck on July 26, 2016. Narayanasamy's acts of abuse included, pouring water on the victim; kicking, punching and slapping her; grabbing her by the neck; pulling her up by her hair; and "spinning" her head violently. On multiple occasions, she assaulted the victim herself, or with her daughter, Gaiyathiri Murugayan, the court was told. Deputy Public Prosecutor Senthilkumaran Sabapathy told the court that this was one of Singapore's worst abuse cases involving a high degree of physical and psychological harm. "The deceased was dragged and thrown around the house like a rag doll... Many of us would not even treat inanimate objects in such a manner. Her life was nothing short of a living nightmare and this was in no small due to Prema's actions," Sabapathy was reported as saying in The Straits Times. In November last year, Narayanasamy pleaded guilty to 47 charges of voluntarily causing hurt to the victim, and one charge of attempting to voluntarily cause hurt. Her daughter Murugayan, 41, was sentenced on June 22, 2021 to 30 years in prison -- the longest jail term meted out in a domestic worker abuse case in Singapore. Narayanasamy, the court noted, hit the victim with a spatula, towel and a detergent bottle, and watched as the victim used the toilet.

Helen Flanagan had never thought of getting a boob job

Los Angeles | Agencies

English actress Helen Flanagan, who is known for her role of Rosie Webster in 'Coronation Street', has revealed that she has had a procedure done as her breasts were left "really saggy" after nursing her three kids. The 32-year-old actress said that she had the surgery to uplift her breasts and she did it for her "confidence", in a candid video shared on her Instagram account, where she said she was recovering from surgery, reports The Mirror.

Sharing a lengthy video on Instagram, Helen, who wore a green hoodie and grey tracksuit, said: "I wanted to pop on here. I'm actually really nervous about sharing this actually but I've had a boob job. I had it done on Thursday. Yeah, so I'm in recovery at the moment."

She further mentioned: "I have been really nervous about sharing this, because you always get some, like, not very nice comments or what have you. It's just something that I did for myself, I really wanted to do it for my confidence."

"I have been really nervous about sharing this. Obviously I am very much for body confidence, and very much for supporting other women, but supporting women in all choices that they decide to do." Helen went on: "I think if something really is bothering you, then I think, you know, it's a good thing to do something about it."

She said she was on day two of her recovery and she couldn't shower properly so a friend helped her wash and dry her hair.

Helen, known for playing Rosie Webster in Corrie for 12 years, said that she never thought she would get a boob job due to her "busty" figure.

Lizzo would jump at the chance to play flute for Adele

Los Angeles | Agencies

Singer Lizzo wants to collaborate with the British superstar Adele but she's not looking for a traditional duet because she'd be happy playing music on one of the 'Easy On Me' singer's ballads.

"We've never talked about that. You know, what I'd do with Adele is play the flute. I'd play flute as she is that kind of artist," she said when asked about the possibility of collaboration.

Lizzo is thankful for the 'I Drink Wine' singer's support and advice, but she admitted their journeys to fame were very different because of the rise in social media over the last few years, reports aceshowbiz.com.

She told the Sunday Mirror newspaper: "When she first came out the culture was so different, and especially with social media. Adele called me and was like, 'Lizzo, how do you fing do it? Are you okay? Do you want to come over and drink some wine. Do you want to talk?' And I was like, yeah..."

"Adele saw me literally in a different font. It was really sweet. Shouting out my documentary the other day she didn't have to. She texted to say, 'I f hate documentaries unless you're Tina Turner or The Beatles, but this is so f good.' And I was like, thank you."

The singer praised Adele's authenticity. She said: "I look up to her a lot. She knows who she is and she honours that with every album. She gave us piano ballads that go to number one, which is so hard and rare. She's the rarest gem of all time. We need her. I am grateful for her."

'For me, life is going at least 90 miles per hour'

Los Angeles | Agencies

Actress-singer Keke Palmer, who is expecting her first child with boyfriend Darius Jackson, is already experiencing a range of different emotions.

She is "very excited, nervous, and curious", reports 'Female First UK'. She said, "More than anything, I can't wait to get my hands on my baby."

Keke also revealed how her pregnancy has already transformed her life.

She told the 'New York Post' newspaper's Page Six column: "I'm a naturally fast-paced person. For me, life is going at least 90 miles per hour, that's me cruising. So yeah, I think in general, whether it's the holidays or this transition I'm having in my life, slowing down is definitely not something that comes naturally to me."

Keke, whose film credits include 'Hustlers' and 'Lightyear', told the audience: "There's some rumours going around, people have been in my comments saying, 'Keke's having a baby, Keke's pregnant,' and I wanna set the record straight - I am."

She added: "I gotta say, though, it is bad when people on the internet spread rumours about you y'all, but it's even worse when they're correct. I mean, like, I was trying so hard to keep it on the down low, but honestly this has been the biggest blessing, and I am so excited. Guys, I'm going to be a mom."

'WHO SAYS TWO WRONGS DON'T MAKE A RIGHT??'

Blake Lively shared some ingenious maternity style tips

Los Angeles | Agencies

Actress Blake Lively is sharing some ingenious maternity style tips on Instagram. After a couple of fashion mishaps turned into a moment of realisation on Sunday, the pregnant mother of three posted an image of herself wearing an open dress to reveal her baby bump underneath in a long skirt, reports People. "When the back of your skirt won't zip and the front of your dress won't button, wear both," Lively wrote. "Who says two wrongs don't make a right?!"

In the photo, Lively rocked a black dress with white polka dots, layered over a black skirt, each serving a necessary function. With a smile on her face and a necklace of pearls to complete the ensemble, Lively seems to be making her own style rules for baby No. 4 with Ryan Reynolds.

The actress revealed in September that she and Reynolds are expecting their fourth child when she debuted her baby bump at the 10th Annual Forbes Power Women's Summit. The couple, who tied the knot in 2012, also shares daughters James, Inez and Betty.

In November, Reynolds said in an interview with Entertainment Tonight that their daughters are "ready" for having a new sibling.

HUGH JACKMAN TO REPRIS HIS WOLVERINE CHARACTER FOR UPCOMING MOVIE

Los Angeles | Agencies

Hollywood star Hugh Jackman will reprise his Wolverine character in the upcoming third installment of 'Deadpool' and will star opposite Ryan Reynolds.

In a new interview on 'Who's Talking To Chris Wallace', the actor talks about how long it will take to get back in shape to portray the superhero.

"I've learned you can't rush it. I've learned that it takes time," he said (via People).

"So, we have six months from when I finish (Broadway's The Music Man) to when I started filming. And I'm not doing any other work. I'm going to be with my family and train. That's going to be my job for six months."

Jackman continued: "And I'm really fit right now. There's one thing that about eight shows a week being on Broadway singing and dancing, is I'm fit. So, I'm healthy. I have a good place to start. And apologies, chickens. Run a mile. Start running now because I'm coming for you."

The X-Men star also recently teased that his character would not be seeing eye to eye with Reynolds' Deadpool when they link up in the upcoming movie. In an interview with The Empire Film Podcast, he was asked to categorise the relationship between the two superheroes and he said: "How do I categorise it?"

"Ten being really close, zero being the reality, we're zero, we're opposites, hate each other. I'm just talking from my perspective, (Logan's) frustrated by him, wants to be a million miles away from him or wants to punch him in the head."

"Unfortunately, he can't be a million miles away from him in this movie, so I'm probably going to punch him in the head a lot."

IND v SL 1st ODI

INDIA'S BUILD-UP TO ODI SERIES OPENER AGAINST SRI LANKA

Guwahati | Agencies

After a 2-1 T20I series win against Sri Lanka, India are all set to turn their focus towards ODIs against the Dasun Shanaka-led side, with the series kickstarting from ACA Stadium in Guwahati.

With the series all set to mark the start of a crucial year as the ODI World Cup will be held in India in October-November.

At the same time, there is some cheer for India as captain Rohit Sharma is back to lead the side since he sustained a left thumb injury during the ODI series in Bangladesh in December 2022. Alongside him, Virat Kohli, Shreyas Iyer and K.L. Rahul are expected to slot back into the playing eleven in Guwahati after not being a part of the T20I series against Sri Lanka.

With Rohit set to open and Kohli at number three, India need to see how they fit in Iyer, Shubman Gill and Ishan Kishan. Kishan played a sensational career-best 210 against Bangladesh in Chattogram, while Gill showed he can be a solid opening option through his performances in the format in 2022.

Iyer, on the other hand, was the key figure in India's middle order for ODIs in 2022. Moreover, the maverick Suryakumar Yadav is there in the squad too, itching to carry his T20I form into ODIs and get a spot in the Indian scheme of things for the ODI World Cup. With the ball, veteran quick Mohammed Shami's return will be good for India and can pair up with Mohammed Siraj, and either Arshdeep Singh or Umran Malik. It remains to be seen how India use Hardik Pandya's overs in the format apart from seeing how Washington Sundar and Yuzvendra Chahal fare in the spin department. Sri Lanka, on the other hand, will be banking on skipper and seam-bowling all-rounder Dasun Shanaka to lead by example after doing the same in the T20I series. They would wish for young opener Pathum Nissanka to give a solid start with Avishka Fernando, Charith Asalanka and Kusal Mendis chipping in. Wanindu Hasaranga and Maheesh Theekshana will take care of the spin bowling department with leg-spinner Jeffrey Vandersay coming in too. In the fast-bowling unit, they have options in Dilshan Madushanka's left-arm fast-bowling apart from pacers in Lahiru Kumara, Kasun Rajitha and Pramod Madushan.

JASPRIT BUMRAH RULED OUT FROM ODI SERIES

New Delhi | India pace spearhead Jasprit Bumrah has been ruled out of the upcoming three-match ODI series against Sri Lanka. As per an official statement from the BCCI, Bumrah, who was set to join the team in Guwahati ahead of the ODI series, will need some more time to build bowling resilience.

It added that the decision has been taken as a precautionary measure, with no replacement being named in Bumrah's absence, further delaying the competitive cricket comeback of the right-arm fast-bowler.

Bumrah was not a part of India's original ODI squad for the series against Sri Lanka announced on December 27. But he was included in the squad for the three-match series on January 3.

Bumrah has been out of cricketing action since September 2022, when his back injury resurfaced after playing two home T20Is against Australia and was subsequently ruled out of the ICC Men's T20 World Cup in Australia.

It is yet to be known if India will pick Bumrah for the ODI series against New Zealand which begins from January 18. In his absence, Mohammed Shami, Mohammed Siraj, Arshdeep Singh and Umran Malik will form the fast-bowling department for the series against Sri Lanka, apart from pace-bowling allrounder and Vice-captain Hardik Pandya in the mix. After the first ODI in Guwahati is played between India and Sri Lanka, it will be followed by matches in Kolkata and Thiruvananthapuram on January 12 and 15 respectively.

Dembele's goal moves Barcelona three clear in La Liga

Madrid | Agencies

FC Barcelona reopened a three-point lead over Real Madrid at the top of La Liga with a 1-0 win away to Atletico Madrid. Ousmane Dembele's goal midway through the first half after good work by Pedri and Gavi was enough to give Barca the win, reports Xinhua news agency.

The league leaders struggled at times to create clear chances without the suspended Robert Lewandowski, but produced a much-improved defensive display to frustrate an Atletico side in which Joao Felix failed to make a difference.

Tempers frayed in the closing moments and both Barca's Ferran Torres and Atletico defender Stefan Savic were sent off for fighting moments before Ronald Araujo cleared off the line to deny Antoine Griezmann.

Real Sociedad enjoyed a comfortable 2-0 win away to Almeria thanks to second-half goals from David Silva and Alexander Sorloth to strengthen their position in third. Real Betis won 2-1 away to Rayo Vallecano with Luiz Henrique scoring the winning goal.

Before the Brazilian's 40th-minute winner, Betis had taken the lead when Rayo keeper Stole Dimitrievski punched the ball into the head of his teammate Ivan Balliu for it to rebound into the net. Sergio Camello leveled for Rayo in the 20th minute after an error from Rui Silva, but Henrique's goal proved decisive. Marcos Acuna's first-half header and another header from Rafa Mir 10 minutes from time gave Sevilla a vital 2-1 win at home to Getafe. Borja Mayoral pulled a goal back for the visitors in the closing minutes, but it wasn't enough to save a point and Sevilla climb out of the bottom three.

FA Cup

MAN CITY THRASH CHELSEA, STEVENAGE SHOCK VILLA

London | Agencies

Manchester City beat Chelsea for the second time in less than a week to ensure their place in the fourth round of the FA Cup.

The result was never in doubt after three goals in 15 minutes in the first half left Chelsea groggy and Pep Guardiola's team flying, reports Xinhua news agency.

Riyad Mahrez, who had scored the only goal in the two sides' midweek match, netted the first goal with a thumping free kick. Julian Alvarez scored from the penalty spot after a handball by Kai Havertz seven minutes later, and Phil Foden added a third from close range after good work from Kyle Walker.

Mahrez scored his second of the match late in the second half to

ahead in the 33rd minute, and although Villa were far from brilliant, they looked to have done enough until Leander Dendonker was sent off in the 85th minute after conceding a penalty.

Jamie Reid scored from the spot and Dean Campbell shocked Unai Emery's side four minutes later when he scored a left-footed shot following a corner to give Stevenage an unlikely win.

Sonny Perkins grabbed an injury-time equalizer for Leeds United as Jesse Marsch's side came back from 2-0 down to draw 2-2 away to Championship outfit Cardiff City.

Things looked to be going perfectly for Cardiff when Jaden Philogene-Bidace and Sheyi Ojo put them ahead with goals after 24 and 31 minutes.

The home team was hurting Leeds on the break, but the Premier League side pulled a goal back through Rodrigo Moreno with 25 minutes left to play.

Adelaide International 2

Petra Kvitova continues perfect season start

Adelaide | Agencies

Petra Kvitova has continued her perfect start to the 2023 season in Australia, with smooth progress into the Adelaide International 2 second round.

Following match wins over Jessica Pegula and Laura Siegemund at the United Cup in Sydney last week, the player launched her Adelaide campaign with a 6-2 7-5 win over Elena Rybakina, reports adelaideinternational.com.au.

It was a clash of two Wimbledon champions in South Australia, with Kvitova lifting trophies at the All England Club in 2011 and 2014, while Rybakina triumphed at The Championships last year. Another factor that favoured Rybakina, a player from Kazakhstan, was her performance as runner-up to Ash Barty in Adelaide last year.

From the outset, however, it was Kvitova who competed with greater authority in the first-round encounter, the Czech claiming a service break in the sixth game to take control of the first set.

After a tighter second set, Kvitova closed out victory after an hour and 25 minutes to set up a second-round clash with the winner between Anett Kontaveit and Paula Badosa. Kvitova, the runner-up at Australian Open 2019, was equally grateful to return to a favourite setting in Australia. Currently ranked world No.16, Kvitova has claimed two of her 29 professional singles trophies in Sydney and noted that participating in the inaugural United Cup mixed teams tournament last week added to confidence, especially on Australia's hard courts.

WHY EDUCATION RELATED TO SEX SHOULD BE AN OPTION?

Rakul Preet asks if we talk about key health, mental health, and emotional health then why not about sexual health.

Team Absolute | Mumbai

The prettiest Rakul Preet Singh has been an actor on roll with interesting and variety of projects in her kitty in 2022. She always won the hearts of the audience with her charm in her films.

Recently the trailer of her upcoming romantic comedy 'Chhatriwali' has been released; she truly left everyone impressed by bringing a bold and mindful topic to the screen.

Recently during the trailer launch event, Rakul was seen speaking about why she chose this topic. She said, "I think for me it's not about the subject being bold, I think the entire conversation is that it's not bold it is as normal as it can be and I am a believer that if we talk about key health, mental health, emotional health then why not about sexual health. You know 'It's not an option it is compulsory. I truly believe this is the only thing we don't have an option in life so why education related to it should be an option and I think it's very important and it's a need of the hour."

She further added, I connected with the script so much that nobody has ever spoken about the effects of it on women's health like it's talking about abortion, miscarriages but can anyone of us tell how many abortions can a women's body take and what are the ill effects and how does it traumatize women you know mentally, emotionally, physically and these are the conversations we need to have for a society to hope and to move forward, Right?"

Moreover, while concluding, the actress said, "So, yeah I just felt that this was something that I really connected with and hence the film. Whether it's bold or not but the thought is it should not be considered as a bold topic."

The makers of 'Project K' have been steadily raising the intrigue by releasing a series of enigmatic posters, one after the other. Recently, on occasion of Deepika Padukone's birthday, the makers unveiled her first look from the film that instantly broke the internet. The tantalising poster offered a glimpse of Deepika silhouetted by the setting sun, with the tagline: 'A Hope In the Dark'. Earlier, the makers unveiled pithy posters of Prabhas' and Amitabh Bachchan's characters. Each poster told its own story without giving away tell-all details about the Nag Ashwin directorial.

Prabhas' poster, for instance, showed just a futuristic hand with the words: "Heroes are not born, They Rise..." The motif of the victorious fist was also present in Big B's poster, which read, "Legends Are Immortal". The minimalist approach chosen by the makers is quite unique and interesting. Unlike other big-ticket pan-Indian films, where first looks and trailers are revealed full-scale, this hide-and-seek with the viewers' expectations has kept them invested. Fans have followed the breadcrumbs to string together fascinating theories about Project K's setting and plot. All of which, of course, has only intensified the aura and intrigue surrounding the upcoming film, a unit member said. Project K is Nag Ashwin's sci-fi film starring Prabhas, Deepika Padukone, Amitabh Bachchan and Disha Patani. The film is simultaneously being shot in Hindi and Telugu.
