GAME OF THRONE

▶ AFTER THE SURAT COURT CONVICTED RAHUL IN THE CRIMINAL DEFACTION CASE, THE BJP MOUNTED ITS ATTACK ON THE CONGRESS LEADER.

▶ PARLIAMENTARY AFFAIRS MINISTER PRALHAD JOSHI ON FRIDAY HELD A MEETING WITH THE OBC MINISTERS AND DISCUSSED FRAMEWORK TO CARRY OUT A CAMPAIGN AGAINST RAHUL FOR HIS "MODI SURNAME" REMARK.

▶ BJP NATIONAL PRESIDENT J. P. NADDA HAS INVITED ALL 28 PARLIAMENTARIANS OF THE PARTY WHO ARE FROM THE OBC COMMUNITY FOR A DINNER ON MARCH 28.

Santosh Kumar Pathak | New Delhi

Even as the Congress is holding press conferences and nationwide protests against disqualification of its leader Rahul Gandhi from Parliament, the BJP has formulated a strategy to play on the front foot and is cornering the Gandhi scion for his "anti-OBC remarks".

Talking to correspondent, a BJP parliamentarian from the OBC community said that Rahul has insulted the entire OBC community and in this meeting, definitely party national president will guide on the issue.

Responding to Rahul's press conference, former union minister Ravi Shankar Prasad said: "Rahul has insulted the entire OBC community and not only Modi surname. Modi is a community not just a surname. Rahul has a right to criticise but not abuse. If Rahul says that he speaks in public with full understanding, then it is clear that he has intentionally insulted the OBCs. The BJP will hold nationwide campaign against Rahul Gandhi for insulting OBCs."

Campaigning against Rahul from Parliament to road over the "Modi surname" remarks will give an edge to BJP on many fronts in the states which have OBC leaders like SP chief and former chief minister Akhilesh Yadav, former chief minister and RLD leader Lalu Yadav, Deputy chief minister

PM HIDING BEHIND POWER: PRIYANKA

New Delhi: Congress General Secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, while addressing the 'Sankalp Satyagraha' at the Rajghat on Sunday attacked the Prime Minister and termed him "coward" and one "who is hiding behind power to save one man".

Priyanka Gandhi said, "It's time to wake up and unite to take on the corrupt and undemocratic government which is trying to silence every voice which is against him, whose PSUs are being sold. They are not Rahul Gandhi's property, but they are the property of the country."

She defended her brother, Rahul Gandhi and said, "The person who during Bharat Jodo Yatra was talking of harmony, unity can't talk about anything which is not in the interest of the country."

"First they termed him papu, but they did not know that Papu was educated in top universities of Cambridge and Harvard. And, one day the Papu started walking with lakhs of people joining him even in snowfall and rain... so they decided to keep him out of Parliament so that he could not ask questions."

"The tide will turn from today... the whole nation will unite to throw the present regime, as the people have overthrown autocratic rulers."

"My father was insulted in Parliament, my brother has been given names like Mir Jaffar. The BJP ministers insult my mother in Parliament," said Priyanka Gandhi.

I and Baghel are both OBCs and Congress has made us CMs: Gehlot

New Delhi: Countering the BJP's OBC pitch after conviction and disqualification of Congress leader Rahul Gandhi, Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot on Sunday stressed that he comes from the same community and is a three-time Chief Minister.

He said among the Chief Ministers of the Congress, both he and his Chhattisgarh counterpart Bhupesh Baghel are both OBCs.

"I belong to Mali Saini community... and there is just one MLA in the Assembly (from the community) that is me himself but I am a third-time Chief minister in the state," he said at the Congress 'Sankalp Satyagraha' at the Rajghat.

of Bihar Tejashwi Yadav, Chhattisgarh chief minister and Congress leader Bhupesh Baghel and his Rajasthan chief minister and Congress leader Ashok Gehlot, who are considered big OBC leaders.

The BJP is also trying to "expose" the bickerings in the Congress party by raking up the issue.

"Congress has a battery of lawyers. Why they did not appeal for a stay order in Surat

'Duragraha' not 'Satyagraha': BJP

New Delhi: The BJP launched a scathing attack on the Congress and called its 'Satyagraha' as 'Duragraha' on Sunday. Speaking to reporter, BJP leader R.P. Singh said, "It is clear from this what kind of Satyagraha the Congress is doing. The murderer of Sikhs (Jagdish Tytler) has joined this Satyagraha. Congress cannot survive without Tytler. The party invites him to every event."

BJP national spokesperson Shehzad Poonawalla hit out at the Congress party and said the Satyagraha was a 'Duragraha' against the OBCs & Courts.

Session court, High Court or Supreme Court. Who asked Rahul not to move court. Does Rahul want to become a martyr by cutting his nail," Prasad asked.

Prasad claimed that it may be a part of internal politics of the Congress to remove Rahul to "save" the party.

By raking up this issue, the BJP leaders are trying to prove that everything is not well in the Congress.

Mid-air collision between Air India, Nepal Airlines aircraft averted, 2 suspended

Team Absolute | New Delhi

A major accident was averted on Friday when an Air India and Nepal Airlines aircraft came close to colliding with each other over Kathmandu, reports said on Sunday.

The mid-air collision was averted after the warning systems alerted the pilots of both the planes, thus preventing a major tragedy from taking place, reports said.

The Civil Aviation Authority of Nepal (CAAN) has suspended two employees of the air traffic controller department for "carelessness", CAAN spokesperson Jagannath Niroula was quoted as saying by reports.

On Friday morning, a Nepal Airlines plane coming to Kathmandu from Kuala Lumpur and an Air India plane coming to Kathmandu from New Delhi almost collided.

The Air India aircraft was descending from 19,000 ft while the Nepal Airlines aircraft was flying at an altitude of 15,000 ft at the same location, Niroula was quoted as saying.

After it was shown on the radar that the two aircraft were in proximity, the Nepal Airlines aircraft descended to 7,000 ft, the spokesperson said.

The CAAN has formed a three-member committee to investigate the matter, and suspended the two officers, who were in charge of the control room at the time of the incident, reports quoted sources as saying.

Mumbai, Jodhpur cops nab man who threatened Salman Khan

Team Absolute | Mumbai/Jodhpur

The Mumbai Police in a joint operation with Jodhpur Police, have nabbed a person from Rajasthan who allegedly sent an e-mail threatening to kill Bollywood mega-star Salman Khan, an official said here on Sunday.

The development followed an FIR registered by Bandra Police on March 18 against a 21-year-old youth Dhakadram Bishnoi in the case, said Jodhpur's Luni Police officials.

The Mumbai Police in the investigations traced the threat e-mail to Rajasthan and shared the information with Jodhpur Police, which tracked it to Bishnoi.

After zeroing in on his location, a joint swoop was carried out in Luni, and Bishnoi was arrested, said the officials here.

The accused is being brought to Mumbai for further investigation by a Bandra Police Station team.

The youth is also wanted by the Punjab Police in different cases and has some cases lodged against him in that state.

It may be recalled that a week ago, the Bandra Police lodged the FIR against mafiosi Lawrence Bishnoi, his associates Goldie Brar and Rohit for the threat e-mail, sent to a close aide of the actor.

It had referred to the mafia don Lawrence Bishnoi's interview in which he made a chilling claim that "his life's aim was to kill Salman Khan".

The e-mail in Hindi, came from one Rohit Garg, who also wanted to talk with the actor and the police booked him also following a complaint from Salman Khan's team.

The communication also advised that if Salman had not seen the Bishnoi interview, then he should watch it, and if he wanted to close the matter, he must speak with Garg and Brar, face to face, and he (Garg) would arrange it.

The Bandra Police had immediately swung into action, geared up security outside Salman's home in Bandra West and lodged the FIR against the accused.

VEDIC MATHS MAY SOON FIND PLACE IN SYLLABUS OF IITS, TOP COLLEGES, UNIVS

ACCORDING TO THE UNIVERSITY GRANTS COMMISSION (UGC), ALONG WITH INDIAN VEDIC MATHEMATICS, INDIAN PHILOSOPHY, INDIAN SANSKRIT AND SCIENCE AND INDIAN AESTHETICS WILL ALSO BE TAUGHT IN THE HIGHER EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS.

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Indian Vedic Mathematics may soon become a subject in the syllabus of students studying in IITs and other higher educational institutions across the country. Preparations have been made to introduce the subject in various universities.

The UGC has in this regard sought for an expression of interest from the institutions across the country.

According to UGC Chairman, M. Jagadesh Kumar, higher educational institutions can submit their expression of interest online before April 30 on the proposal of Indian Vedic Mathematics, Indian Philosophy, Indian Sanskrit and Science and Indian Aesthetics.

Kumar apprised that UGC officially contacted all IITs, Vice Chancellors of all Universities and Principals of all colleges across the country in this regard.

UGC sent a letter to them, which stated that the step has been taken with the aim of development of Sanskrit and to develop quality graduation and post-graduation Sanskrit teaching-learning material. Vedic Mathematics expert A.K.

Tripathi explained that the subject is based on specific formulas, which can be understood easily.

He said: "Their application is simple and they can be easily remembered. It is such knowledge through which the process of calculation also becomes verbal."

Tripathi stated that these formulas apply to all divisions in all chapters of all the branches of Mathematics and there is no such part in pure or applied maths where they are not used.

Vedic formulas can be applied equally in all fields of arithmetic, algebra, geometry, plane and spherical trigonometry, plane and cubic geometry (analytical), astronomy, integral and differential calculus etc., said Tripathi.

According to experts, children can also solve the questions orally and tell the answers with the help of formulas. The entire course of Vedic Mathematics can be completed in much less time than the current mathematical course.

Small initiatives have been initiated in many big and prestigious universities of the country regarding Vedic education. Recently, a Vedic seminar was organised in Delhi's Jamia Millia Islamia University.

Ujjain's Maharshi Sandipani Rashtriya Veda Vidya Pratishthan (MSRVVP) collaborated with Jamia Millia Islamia for the three-day event.

The Education Ministry has taken many other initiatives to promote Vedic education. The UGC in collaboration with the Indian Council of Historical Research (ICHR) organised special lectures in all 45 Central universities and 45 deemed universities across the country.

The state governors were requested to encourage all universities in their respective states to organise such lectures.

WITH ELECTIONS LOOMING IN THE HORIZON, IT'S RAINING SOPS & PROMISES IN MP

Sundeep Pournik | Bhopal

Both the Congress and the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) in Madhya Pradesh have been engaged in using every trick to woo voters for the Legislative Assembly elections to be held this year, including making a number of promises in their respective election campaigns.

Both the parties seem to be putting in more efforts for the upcoming Assembly elections since the state witnessed a neck to neck contest between the BJP and the Congress in the 2018 Assembly elections wherein the parties failed to get an absolute majority.

The Congress had won 114 seats in the 230-member Assembly while the saffron party had 109 seats in its fold. Congress then formed a government headed by Kamal Nath, which was later dissolved in March 2020, due to the defection of 22 leaders under the leadership of present Union Minister Jyotiraditya Scindia.

The BJP government led by Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan has introduced various schemes to gain popularity among voters, including 'Ladli Behna' Yojana through which women of the state will receive a sum of Rs 1,000 monthly. Along with announcing the 'Yuva Niti' programme, it has been declared that an amount of Rs 8,000 will be provided to students undergoing training and the fees of recruitment examinations will have to be paid only once a year. The ruling government has also implemented Panchayat Extension to Scheduled Areas (PESA) for the tribal class and also introduced several schemes for the Scheduled Caste as well.

On the other hand, Congress state President Kamal Nath, in an attempt to woo the crucial 48 per cent female voters in the state has announced that a sum of Rs 1,500 will be provided to women when the party forms government. Along with this, he stated that gas cylinders will be given for only Rs 500 to women.

Congress has already said that farmers' loans would be waived off, which also contributed to the party's win in the last Assembly elections.

Political analysts believe that winning the polls would pose a big challenge for both the ruling party and the Opposition Congress.

A tough contest among the two is expected.

Even though the parties are introducing appealing schemes to win the polls, they have not yet come up with an answer to where they would get the budget for the same, said experts.

BJP will win over 200 seats in Madhya Pradesh polls: JP Nadda

Team Absolute | Bhopal

Bharatiya Janata Party president JP Nadda on Sunday said his party would win more than 200 out of 230 Assembly seats in Madhya Pradesh, where elections are set to be held at the end of the year.

He has arrived in the state capital to lay the foundation stone of a BJP office.

"The warm welcome accorded to me by the spirited BJP cadre shows we are going to win more than 200 Assembly seats in MP," he said.

In his address, Nadda said "BJP gave 14 medical colleges to Madhya Pradesh in last nine years--maximum in India." He emphasised that booth presidents should inform public about these developments, their positive impact on individual and state's growth.

He said that MP's contribution in GDP rose to 4.8% from 3%. "And CM Chouhan and his team worked hard to take MP to heights."

He accused Kamal Nath of discontinuing BJP's development policies like Awaas Yojana, Jal Jeewan Yojana, Women Empowerment schemes and more during Congress' 15-month tenure between 2018 Dec to 2020 March.

State BJP President VD Sharma, while addressing workers' convention, assured his boss Nadda of winning 200 seats in upcoming Madhya Pradesh assembly elections. He emphasised on 'booth ko mazboot' campaign, stating that BJP will 51% votes in every booth.

CM Chouhan in his address praised Modi for his foreign policies. "Ukraine and Russia halted war on Modi's call. The 2018 elections in Madhya Pradesh threw up a hung Assembly, with the Congress emerging as the largest party with 114 seats in the 230-member House, while the BJP won on 109 seats. However, the BJP got 41.02 per cent votes against the Congress' 40.89 per cent.

The Congress formed a government under Kamal Nath, which fell in March 2020 when MLAs loyal to Jyotiraditya Scindia revolted, paving the way for the return of Shivraj Singh Chouhan as chief minister.

MP drive to seize household items over power dues goes awry

Team Absolute | Bhopal

The Madhya Pradesh electricity department's drive to seize defaulters' motorbikes, cattle or tractors has run into trouble. Two state government employees were suspended and an inquiry ordered after videos of an elderly woman running after officials and requesting them not to seize household items circulated on the internet.

Services of two contractual workers who were part of the exercise have been terminated. The Madhya Pradesh Eastern Area Power Distribution Company Limited has started a drive to recover power dues worth Rs 518 crore by the end of this financial year.

Officials of the state electricity department have started seizing motorbikes, water pumps, tractors and even cattle from the homes of long-term power bill defaulters. Hundreds of villagers across the districts of Sagar, Damoh, Chhatarpur, Panna, Gwalior and Morena have received recovery notices. In many cases, vehicles have been seized.

On Saturday, a team of electricity department officials reached Rekha Ahirwar's home at Deori in Sagar district to recover power dues worth Rs 19,473. Rekha Ahirwar was not at home at the time and her elderly mother-in-law was taking a bath.

It is alleged that the officials entered their home and started taking away a bed and other household items.

The elderly woman said that she pleaded with the officials to not take away the items and also told them that they don't belong to Rekha Ahirwar, on whose name the power bills are issued. She alleged that despite her repeated appeals, the officials seized the household items. The woman said she couldn't even get properly dressed and ran after the officials taking away their furniture and other items.

Visuals of the elderly woman holding on to her clothes and running after the officials on the village streets have gone viral.

Facing criticism over the videos, the Shivraj Singh Chouhan government swung into action, suspended two employees and ordered a probe.

Missionary school sealed in MP after liquor, condoms found during inspection

Team Absolute | Bhopal

A missionary school in Madhya Pradesh's Morena district was sealed after liquor and condoms were found in the principal's room during a surprise inspection.

The inspection was conducted by the State Commission for Protection of Child Rights on Saturday.

The SCPCR team found beds, liquor and condoms and also egg trays and gas cylinders. "I saw there was a gas cylinder and other objectionable stuff, including liquor bottles. Police are investigating the whole matter," Nivedita Sharma, a member of the SCPCR inspection team said, adding that she had brought the matter to the notice of the District Collector.

An FIR has been lodged against the principal of the school and a detailed investigation has been demanding from the police.

"When we reached there for a routine inspection, we were surprised to know how both corners of the school were attached from the inside... It was a room and liquor bottles and condoms were found there. It was like a complete residential setup. It does not belong to only one person, but more people came out of the building who were living there. It was being used as an accommodation,"

Sharma told reporter.

She further said that at least 15 beds were lying in that room and there was no CCTV camera.

"The question arises that when CCTV cameras are installed in other locations of the building, why was that particular section left out. If the principal said he wasn't staying there, then who was staying and why 15 beds are present there. More importantly, why does that room have a direct entrance with classrooms of girl students," Nivedita Sharma said.

She further said that liquor is not allowed on the school campus at all. "It is a violation of the law. The excise department is also taking action on the matter as it is also illegal that nobody can keep such amounts of liquor. Some other objectionable stuff, including condoms were also found," she added.

Youth Congress president arrested for stopping train in protests over RaGa's disqualification

Team Absolute | Jabua

Madhya Pradesh Youth Congress President Vikrant Bhuria was arrested by Government Railway Police (GRP) from his Jabua residence on Sunday, for allegedly stopping a train at Rani Kamlapati Station as part of protests held over Rahul Gandhi's disqualification from Parliament.

During his arrest, Congress workers protested against the police action and gheraoed the police vehicle. The police will bring him to the capital by 5 pm where he will be produced in the court.

GRP station in-charge MS Somvanshi said that a case was registered against 15 unknown people including Vikrant Bhuria, Akhilesh Yadav, Manish Chaudhary under section 143 of IPC (unlawful assembly), and section 145, 147 of Railway Act. Congressmen protested by stopping train on Friday

Notably, Bhuria along with other Congress workers had stopped a train in Bhopal while protesting against Rahul Gandhi's disqualification from Lok Sabha on Friday, which led to this action against him.

Congress workers reached Rani Kamlapati railway station in Bhopal at around 5:30 pm on Friday evening. Here, a moving train going towards Jabalpur was stopped on platform number five. The ruckus lasted for about 15 minutes in which many leaders including Bhuria climbed on top of the engine and shouted slogans. Later, police took control of the situation.

YADAV POLITICS GATHERS MOMENTUM IN JYOTIRADITYA'S BACKYARD - GUNA

Praveen Dwivedi | Bhopal

Yadav politics seems to be hotting-up in Madhya Pradesh's Guna Lok Sabha constituency, which before 2019 was the impregnable political fort of erstwhile Gwalior State's Scindia royal family.

Seven months before the year-end assembly polls in the state, the opposition Congress on Wednesday made a dent into one of the oldest Yadav families of the ruling BJP in Guna parliamentary constituency, where over 20 per cent or around 3.25 lakh of the total voters hail from the same powerful OBC caste.

Rao Yadendra Singh Yadav, the BJP-supported Ashok Nagar District Panchayat member and elder son of three-time former BJP MLA from Mungaoli seat Rao Deshraj Singh Yadav, joined the Congress.

"My father and my family have for decades been associated with BJP and have built the party in the Mungaoli assembly segment and entire Ashok Nagar district. But in the last three years, since Jyotiraditya Scindia joined the BJP with supporters, the core BJP workers are being ignored and insulted in the entire region, where corruption is rampant now. I've decided to join Congress, after long consultations with people of my area," Yadendra said.

Importantly, Yadendra, his mother and wife - all three are presently Ashok Nagar District Panchayat members with BJP support. His younger brother Ajay Pratap Singh Yadav was appointed vice-chairperson of MP State Backward Caste-Minorities Finance Development Corporation by the Shivraj Singh Chouhan government a year back.

While Yadendra's father Rao Deshraj Singh Yadav was BJP MLA from Mungaoli seat in 1990, 1998 and 2008, he was the runner up from the same seat of Ashok Nagar district in 1993, 2003 and 2013 assembly polls. Also, as the BJP candidate Rao Deshraj Singh Yadav had lost in 1999 from Guna Lok Sabha seat to ex-Union minister late Madhavrao Scindia and in 2002 by-poll to Scindia's son and present Union Minister Jyotiraditya Scindia.

Yadendra's switch to the Congress happened just three months after first-time BJP MP from Guna seat Dr KP Yadav's (who had defeated Scindia by 1.25 lakh votes in 2019 LS polls) brother Ajay Yadav had joined the Congress.

Importantly, the Yadav caste constitutes over 20 per cent of the total voters of Guna Lok Sabha seat - whose eight assembly segments are spread in three districts, Guna, Shivpuri and Ashok Nagar. Importantly, the first-time BJP MP from Guna LS seat, Dr KP Yadav (who defeated political mentor Jyotiraditya Scindia in 2019) too has regularly been complaining to government authorities as well the ruling party's state and central leadership, about being ignored at various government events in his own parliamentary constituency.

He has been writing since last many months about his name missing from plaques of foundation laying ceremonies/public unveiling of projects, particularly in Bamori assembly segment, which is represented by Scindia-loyalist three-times sitting MLA and Madhya Pradesh cabinet minister Mahendra Sisodiya.

Recently, the Guna MP's staff has written to district collector, about the defacing of Yadav's image on a water tanker funded by the MP only for Bamori assembly segment in Guna district.

New nasal spray effective against XBB, other Covid variants

Finish researchers have developed a molecule that is, when administered nasally, extremely effective in preventing the disease caused by all known variants of the SARS-CoV-2 virus, including the currently circulating XBB variant. The molecule, known as TriSb92, can be a key tool in preparing for future pandemics, as it is aimed at preventing both the transmission and spread of the virus, said researchers from the University of Helsinki in Finland. They found that TriSb92 identifies a region in the spike protein of the Covid common to all current variants of the virus and inhibits its functioning. Further, animal models have demonstrated that, unlike face masks, the molecule can, when sprayed into the nose, prevent infection even after a few hours of exposure. In the paper, published in the journal Nature Communications, the researchers said that the molecule remains fully functional at room temperature for at least 18 months, making it well suited for use as a nasal spray. While the worst stage of the coronavirus pandemic is, at least for the time being, behind us, nasally administered protection can be a crucial help in preventing the spread of the virus in the future. Moreover, the nasal spray can protect those people from serious diseases who do not gain sufficient immunity from vaccines, such as immunocompromised individuals and elderly. According to the researchers, the molecule could also work against future animal-borne close relatives of SARS-CoV-2, which are expected to be the cause of entirely new coronavirus pandemics. The researchers noted the technology used in developing the molecule can also be applicable to the prevention of many other viral diseases, particularly influenza and other respiratory viruses. The next stage could be to test the molecule in clinical trials, after which it could be made commercially available, they said.

UNCERTAINTY, VOLATILITY TO DOMINATE LAST WEEK OF FINANCIAL YEAR'S TRADING

Arun Kejriwal

It was an extremely tough and volatile week at the bourses. Markets were all over the place and the small net change at the end of the week, does not convey the overall movement or the sentiment that prevailed.

Markets gained on two of the five sessions and lost on three. BSESENSEX lost 462.80 points or 0.80 per cent to close at 57,527.10 points while NIFTY lost 155 points or 0.91 per cent to close at 16,945.05 points. The broader indices saw BSE100, BSE200 and BSE500 lose 0.97 per cent, 0.93 per cent and 0.99 per cent respectively. BSEMIDCAP and BSESMALL-CAP lost significantly more at 1.98 per cent and 1.48 per cent respectively.

The Indian Rupee gained 7 paise or 0.08 per cent to close at Rs 82.48 to the US Dollar. Dow Jones gained on four of the five trading sessions and lost only on the day FED raised interest rates. Dow Jones was up 375.55 points or 1.18 per cent to close at 32,237.53 points.

The US FED raised interest rates by 25 basis points on expected lines. The rate band is now at 4.75 per cent - 5.00 per cent. This is the ninth consecutive rate hike since the FED began raising rates from March 22. Suffice to say that because of the high inflation, rates which were at 0-0.25 per cent one year ago, are now at 4.75 per cent - 5.00 per cent.

Further, Jerome Powell, post the announcement has not said or conveyed that there would be an immediate pause going forward. There may be further hikes and then a pause. Keep your fingers crossed. A point to be kept in mind is that 2/3rd of the Quantitative Tightening has been returned post the bank failure.

After the two banks went down in the US followed by the Swiss bank Credit Suisse, it's now the turn of the German Bank, Deutsche Bank. Shares of the bank have crashed and there is talk on the street that the German regulator would have to step in and ensure a bailout of sorts. It sure is a tough time for the banking sector globally and inflation, while it has peaked off, has not fallen to levels which could be construed to be comfortable.

The Finance bill was passed and there were changes which have been made concerning the capital markets. STT has been raised on Futures and Options by 25 per cent. The rate has been raised from Rs 1,700 to Rs 2,100 per crore. This would in the short term effect volumes on the exchanges. Secondly the contentious issue of taxing the return of loans or debt to the parent in the case of REITs and INVITs has been resolved. The tax would only apply once the initial loan is repaid in totality and taxed on further repayments.

The trading highs and lows made during the week were at 58,418 and 57,084 on BSESENSEX and 17,207-16828 on NIFTY. The lows were made on the very first day of the week, while the highs were made on Wednesday. What is significant is the fact that markets failed to challenge the resistances. The intraday movements were big but the net change and the cumulative net change for the week were quite small. This also gives a feeling that no one is willing to take long positions, hence there is profit taking or selling at the latter half of the day.

The week ahead has a trading holiday on Thursday the 30th of March and hence March futures would expire on Wednesday, a day earlier. The present value of NIFTY futures is down 566.20 points or 3.23 per cent for the series. Considering the net change of last week, this is a big difference and it would be quite apparent that the bears would have the series. It must be noted at this point, that Wednesday would be the last trading day for the current financial year 2022-23, and trading on Friday the 31st March would be accounted for in the next financial year.

Coming to the week ahead, key support levels would be at 16,600-16,650 on NIFTY and 56,500-56,650 on BSESENSEX. If this does get broken, we would have strong support a little lower at 16,400-16,450 and 56,000-56,150 respectively. On the resistance side, the first level would be 17,150-17,200 on NIFTY and 58,150-58,350 on BSESENSEX. In case this does get violated, the next levels would be at 17,300-17,350 on NIFTY and 58,600-58,750. The second level needs tremendous buying to be touched or violated. A key pivot for the markets in the week ahead would be 17,050 on NIFTY and 57,800 on BSESENSEX.

The strategy for the week would be to sell on any rallies and refrain from overnight positions on most days particularly on Wednesday, when we have a holiday the following day. The midcap and Smallcap segments would continue to be under pressure and one must remain cautious in them. Trade cautiously.

RUSSIA TO PLACE TACTICAL NUCLEAR WEAPONS IN BELARUS

Moscow | Agencies

Russia will station tactical nuclear weapons in Belarus, President Vladimir Putin has said, the media reported.

President Putin said the move would not violate nuclear non-proliferation agreements and compared it to the US stationing its weapons in Europe, according to Russian state media.

Moscow would not be transferring control of its arms to Minsk, he added, BBC reported.

The US said it did not believe Russia was preparing to use the nuclear weapons after the announcement.

"We have not seen any reason to adjust our own strategic nuclear posture," the US Defense Department said in a statement.

"We remain committed to the collective defence of the Nato alliance."

The Belarusian regime is a firm Kremlin ally and supporter of the invasion of Ukraine.

President Putin told Russian state television that Belarusian leader Alexander Lukashenko had long raised the issue of stationing tactical nuclear weapons in Belarus, BBC reported.

"There is nothing unusual here either," he said. "Firstly, the US has been doing this for decades. They have long deployed their tactical nuclear weapons on the territory of their allied countries."

Russia will have completed the construction of a storage facility for tactical nuclear weapons in Belarus by 1 July, President Putin added.

A small number of Iskander tactical missile systems, which can be used to launch nuclear weapons, have already been transferred to Belarus, President Putin said, BBC reported.

He did not specify when the weapons would be transferred to Belarus. It will be the first time since the mid-1990s that Moscow will have based nuclear arms outside the country.

The Soviet Union's collapse in 1991 meant weapons became based in four newly-independent states - Russia, Ukraine, Belarus and Kazakhstan - with the transfer of all warheads to Russia completed in 1996.

Man to serve 100 yrs in prison for Indian-American child's death

New York | Agencies

A 35-year-old man has been sentenced to 100 years of hard labour for causing the death of a five-year-old Indian-American child in 2021, a judge in Caddo Parish, Louisiana, announced.

Mya Patel was playing in her hotel room in Monkhouse Drive, Shreveport, in March 2021 when a bullet discharged from Joseph Lee Smith's gun missed the target and hit her, media reports said.

District Judge John D. Mosely Jr. sentenced Smith to 60 years at hard labour without benefit of probation, parole or reduction of sentence in connection with the March 2021 slaying of Mya Patel, the Caddo Parish District Attorney's Office announced this week.

The judge also ordered that Smith, who was found guilty of manslaughter in January this year, must serve 20 years for obstruction of justice and 20 years for aggravated battery, for separate convictions associated with the Patel slaying. Those terms must also be served at hard labour without benefit of probation, parole or reduction of sentence.

On March 20, 2021, Smith got into an altercation with another man in the parking lot of the Super 8 Motel in the 4900 block of Monkhouse Drive in west Shreveport. The motel was owned and operated at that time by Vimal and Snehal Patel, who lived in a ground-floor unit with Mya and a younger sibling. During the altercation, Smith struck the other man with a 9-mm handgun, which discharged a bullet. The bullet missed the other man, but went into the apartment to strike Mya in the head before grazing Snehal Patel. Mya was rushed to a nearby hospital, where she battled for three days before being declared dead on March 23.

Kabul rejects Washington's claim over IS strength in Afghanistan

Kabul | Agencies

The Taliban-led caretaker government in Afghanistan has dismissed Washington's claim over the alleged stronger presence of Daesh or Islamic State (IS) in Afghanistan as utterly fabricated.

"The statements of US officials about the number of IS militants in Afghanistan are not true. Daesh militants have already been reduced in ranks and suppressed," chief spokesman of the Afghan caretaker administration Zabihullah Mujahid tweeted.

US Central Command chief Gen. Michael Kurilla, according to media reports, has said "IS is stronger today in Afghanistan" and warned of a possible IS attack on the interests of US and allied nations within six months, Xinhua News Agency reported. Brushing aside the baseless allegations by the US general on the IS strength in Afghanistan, Mujahid said on his Twitter account, "The interest of the US officials in this matter and their grandiosity is aiding and abetting the IS insurgents, which should be stopped."

The Afghan caretaker government, which has downplayed Daesh, or the IS group, as a serious threat, has vowed to crack down on any armed opponents in the war-ravaged country.

The Afghan security forces have killed four armed militants affiliated with the rival IS group in two separate operations on the outskirts of Kabul over the past week.

Iran vows 'immediate' response to attacks on Syrian bases

Tehran | Agencies

An Iranian spokesman has said that Iran will give "immediate and reciprocal" response to any attack on bases established for "fighting terrorism" in the Syrian territory and at the request of the country's government.

Spokesman of Iran's Supreme National Security Council, Keyvan Khosravi, gave the warning in response to recent accusations made by some US officials of Iran "being involved" in attacks on what Iran considers to be "illegal" US bases in Syria, Iran's official news agency IRNA reported on Saturday.

He stressed that the US side, by using "false" accusations, resorted to blame games to escape the possible consequences of its "illegal occupation" of parts of the Syrian territory for its military forces, Xinhua news agency reported. Khosravi noted that Washington cannot attribute the occupied countries' confrontations with the American forces to other countries by "spreading lies".

Iran has borne heavy costs to "fight terrorism and maintain lasting security" in Syria, he stressed, adding that Tehran would oppose and confront any move that jeopardises Syria's stability.

Iran said it has an advisory role in Syria and is present in the country at the request of Damascus.

The US military airstriking facility in northeastern Syria hours after a drone attack on an American base in the country on Thursday afternoon killed one US contractor, injured five servicemen and another contractor.

US Defence Secretary Lloyd Austin later said in a statement that the "precision airstrikes" targeted facilities in eastern Syria used by groups "affiliated with Iran's Islamic Revolution Guards Corps".

On Friday night, in response to the US attack, "Islamic resistance fighters" targeted two US bases in eastern Syria with 60 rockets and kamikaze drones, according to IRNA.

A US official confirmed to CBS News that a US serviceman was wounded in the Friday attacks targeting US bases in Syria.

MAHA'S FAMED TEAKWOOD TO ADORN LORD RAM TEMPLE IN AYODHYA

Quaid Najmi | Mumbai

The actors of the epic tele-serial "Ramayana" (1987) and other celebs will join a mega-event on March 29 to celebrate the dispatch of the first consignment of teak-wood from Maharashtra for the ongoing construction of the Lord Ram Temple in Ayodhya.

Maharashtra's Forest Minister Sudhir Mungantiwar said that the decks have been cleared for sending the best quality of the tough and durable teak-wood produced in Chandrapur district for the Ram Temple.

This teak-wood will go into making the temple's main doors, inside doors, the entrance to the sanctum sanctorum, besides any other wooden requirements for the entire temple complex.

The minister said that the consignment will be sent with huge fanfare from the state with a procession, prayers, pooja, dance performances and other events for which prominent personalities have been invited to join.

These personalities include the starcast of the unforgettable tv-series "Ramayan" that was telecast on Doodardarshan 35 years ago - Arun Govil, Deepika Chikhalia, Sunil Lahiri and others, yoga guru Ramdev Baba, Sadguru Sri Jaggi Vasudev and Sri Sri Ravi Shankar, ministers, MPs and MLAs from Maharashtra and Uttar Pradesh and other dignitaries, he said.

The procession will start at Ballarpur on Wednesday (March 29) with the worship of two ancient trees named 'Ram and Laxman' - which are reputed to have the largest girth in Asia - followed by another procession from the Mahakali Temple. These will see a display of 43 types of folk arts of Maharashtra by 2,100 artists from across the state, with art forms like mallakhamb, dindi, lezim, dhol pathak, dhwaj pathak, Dashavatar, Gangaur, Tarpa, and presentations on the concept of 'Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat'.

As the processions will end their way, flowers will be showered on the teak-wood, with the roadsides decorated with rangolis and torans on the entire route.

Maharashtra's 'Narishakti' and 'Sade Tin Shaktipithe' tableaux - which bagged the second prize in this year's Republic Day celebrations, and Uttar Pradesh's tableaux that won the third prize - shall also join the Chandrapur processions.

Playback singer Kailash Kher will render

Lord Ram's bhajans and devotional songs at a special programme that evening after the processions end near the Ram Temple in Chanda Chowk. According to Mungantiwar, the Shriram Janmahoomi Teerth Kshetra (SJTK) General Secretary Champat Rai has said that for constructing various doors of the Ram Temple, they were scouting for the best quality wood which is expected to last more than a thousand years. The Ram Temple trust Chairman Nripendra Mishra had met the Forest Research Institute, Dehradun (Uttarakhand) for the purpose which informed that the best quality of teak-wood in India can be sourced from Chandrapur.

A team of experts from L&T and TCI and the temple engineers checked and tested the teak-wood samples and stocks in Ballarpur and approved it as of top quality, said Rai.

Accordingly, the teak-wood shall be sent through the Forest Development Corporation of Maharashtra, after which the temple artisans will carve designs and engravings on them as required, and Mungantiwar directed the concerned officers to ensure that the best quality is sent to Ayodhya. It may be recalled that after all hurdles were cleared, Prime Minister Narendra Modi had performed the ground-breaking ceremony for the Ram Temple on August 5, 2020.

Since then, work is proceeding briskly with nearly two-thirds of the works on the main structure completed and the Ram Temple is scheduled for inauguration in January 2024 for millions of devotees.

Rai expressed his deep gratitude to Chief Minister Eknath Shinde, Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnis, and also urged that the first teak-wood consignment should be personally sent by Mungantiwar.

OVER 400 MN INDIANS TO SUFFER BECAUSE OF CLIMATE-TRIGGERED CALAMITIES

Team Absolute | Mumbai

As the 2023 Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) report was released this week, experts again warned of a huge climate-related crisis which could affect over 40 crore (400 million) Indians, and how India remains unprepared to tackle even a fraction of the global warming.

The IPCC-2023 has pointed at the increasing temperatures and the sea-level rise at the global levels, and experts say this has alarming implications for India and many regions particularly the coastal areas.

The experts point out how India is not compatible with a 2 degree C warming and the country may surpass even that based on the current trends, but each fraction would spell catastrophe for 40 crore people, especially those from the marginalised societies, coastal dwellers and those reliant on agriculture for survival.

The IPCC report consolidates 6 reports and spells significant ramifications for policy, said Dr Anjal Prakash of the Indian School of Business and IPCC Lead Author for two of the reports. "Among the most significant implications for India is the increased frequency and intensity of extreme weather events which pose dire consequences for agriculture, public health and the economy. It highlights the need for policy-makers to prioritise investments in disaster risk reduction including early warning systems, evacuation plans and infrastructure development to protect the vulnerable populations," said Prakash.

The Asian Institute of Technology's Prof Joyashree Roy -- one of the 93 authors of the IPCC synthesis report -- bringing together thousands of scientific studies on the topic said this is the first time 6 reports were published in a cycle and provides very robust science that can influence action in the next few years of this decade.

"It clearly shows that it is theoretically possible to limit warming to 1.5 degrees C, but the current scale and scope, and pace of global action pledged under 2030 is not enough. So, 'we are not on track' is very clearly mentioned with high confidence in the report," said Roy.

Based on the IPCC-2023, experts urged a need to address the current shortfall in climate finances as this (India and the Global South) is the part of the world which has contributed 'least' to climate change, but is also the 'most vulnerable' and affected by the various climate events like cyclones, floods, water scarcity, impact on agriculture, food security and related disasters.

"There is a need to rethink how the climate finance world works and what other efforts can be done to boost the finance opportunities to ensure climate resilience," said the experts. However, it is felt that looking at the Global North for solutions is not an option and it would be too late for action, and hence the need is to look 'inwards', find solutions within India - the world's 5th largest economy - focus internally, and build national as well as state-specific resilient pathways.

For India and its states, the experts point at major risks from climate change and called for 'urgent action' to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and limit global warming to well below 2 degrees C, as outlined in the 2015 Paris Agreement.

They want India to take ambitious action to reduce its emissions and invest in adapting measures to protect its people and economy, since we are both a major emitter of greenhouse gases and also particularly vulnerable to its ill-effects. The IPCC-2023 provides a clear scientific basis for decision-making and underscores the importance of action by all stakeholders like governments, businesses and individuals to address this critical global challenge.

The experts said the recent bouts of unprecedented unseasonal rain in different parts of India, was predicted by IPCC reports and climate models, and point out how massive rains just before crop harvesting was never expected.

This has led to huge crop losses for farmers who need to be compensated and such extreme weather events create havoc with the lives and livelihood of people dependent on climate-related agriculture or similar jobs.

"It is alarming and India must take this into account, develop pathways to ensure lives of people impacted due to the changing climate scenario are protected," said Roy. Prakash said there is a strong caution even for Maharashtra which has a 720-km long coastline with the sea-level rising upto 1.1 metres (3.7 feet) threatening coastal communities, cities like Mumbai and its infrastructure, increased flooding and coastal erosion, and other onslaughts by the end of the century as the Earth warms. The state will have higher temperatures with more heat waves leading to major health problems, severe water scarcity for agriculture, industries and homes as Maharashtra depends largely on the monsoon. Flooding could become a common occurrence, agriculture could be hit in many ways with serious implications for crop yields and food security owing to changing temperature-rainfall patterns.

Daniel Radcliffe & Erin Darke ARE EXPECTING FIRST CHILD

Los Angeles | Agencies

Actor Daniel Radcliffe, who gained major stardom after playing the titular role of Harry Potter in the film, has confirmed he is expecting his first child with long-term partner Erin Darke.

The star and Darke are due to become parents later this year, reports BBC.com

The actors have been together for a decade after reportedly meeting on the set of the film 'Kill Your Darlings' in 2013. Radcliffe played poet Allen Ginsberg in the film, and Darke featured as Gwendolyn, a romantic interest.

Radcliffe rose to fame aged 12 when he starred as the bespectacled boy wizard in 'Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone' in 2001. More recently, he starred in the lead role in 'Weird: The Al Yankovic Story', which was released last year.

The biopic follows the life and career of comedian Weird Al Yankovic, who found fame with comical spoof versions of classic songs.

Michigan-born Darke is best known for her role in 2015 series Good Girls Revolt, and more recently appeared in Prime Video series 'The

Nicolas Cage would love to return as Dracula if 'Renfield' gets a sequel

Los Angeles | Agencies

Hollywood star Nicolas Cage is open to returning as Dracula for a 'Renfield' sequel. The actor relished putting his own spin on Bram Stoker's iconic vampire creation for the new movie while the movie has also given him a chance to work with Nicholas Hoult again after first teaming up on 'The Weather Man', reports aceshowbiz.com.

"If there's room for it, I mean, I'm happy with the time that I had to play Dracula for Universal in this film, and I'm very happy I got to support Nic. I've wanted to work with him for a while again. You know, I enjoyed our time on 'The Weather Man'. I think it plays beautifully. I think what he brought to this character is totally brand new, and I'm very happy to be a part of that," he told Collider when asked if he'd return for a follow up.

However, Cage described the opportunity to take on such a legendary role as a once in a lifetime offer. He made the point while noting he "wasn't intimidated" by working on what director Chris McKay referred to as a direct sequel to 1931's 'Dracula'.

He said, "Well, I think that whenever - ; whenever? I mean, that sounds ridiculous. When do you get a phone call from Universal saying, 'We want you to play Dracula?' That's never gonna happen again. It's like every, maybe, 100 years? I wasn't intimidated by it because my Dracula's - you know, I'm sure Bela Lugosi's great in the role and he launched a billion viewers, but he wasn't my Dracula."

PARIS HILTON DOESN'T WANT HER SON TO WORK IN SHOWBIZ

Socialite Paris Hilton doesn't want her son to be "in the spotlight." The star - who's a mother to a two-month-old baby boy called Phoenix - says that she'd prefer her son to pursue a different kind of career, reports aceshowbiz.com.

"I'm never going to stop my son from doing what he wants to do in life. I'm just hoping he doesn't want to be in the spotlight," she told The Independent.

Paris enjoyed huge success during her own career, but the 'Stars Are Blind' hitmaker insists she doesn't take herself or her public persona too seriously.

She explained, "I can laugh at myself and have fun with the character and play into it. I didn't mind doing that. I feel like that's just a part of me - that character. It's the fun, playful side. But now everyone realises that I'm not a dumb blonde, I'm just very good at pretending to be one."

Paris created her persona during her teens, and it's helped her to deal with criticism over the years. The heiress shared, "I'd say to myself, 'They're not talking about you, they're talking about the character.' It'd make it hurt less."

Earlier this month, Paris revealed that she's loving her experience of motherhood. The reality star and her husband Carter Reum welcomed their first child in January via surrogate, and Paris revealed that she's relished the challenge so far.

Musician Harry Styles and model Emily Ratajkowski have sparked dating rumours after the two were seen kissing here. The musician and the model and actress were spotted kissing in Tokyo in photographs and video obtained by The Daily Mail, reports 'People'.

In the photos and video, the duo can be seen sharing several kisses with each other. Styles was captured wearing a white shirt with a black jacket and matching pants, while Ratajkowski was seen sporting a pink and black jacket and a long black skirt. Styles is currently in Japan performing as part of his Love on Tour concert series, which will pick back up in Denmark in May after an extended break.

Styles' rumoured romance with Ratajkowski comes about after the musician's relationship with Olivia Wilde came to an end late last year. Multiple sources confirmed to 'People' in November that the director and actress and the 'As It Was' singer were "taking a break" from their relationship after nearly two years together, noting the "very amicable decision" came amid Styles' continuing touring schedule and Wilde's focus on her children and work in Los Angeles.

A source later told 'People' of Wilde, "She and Harry are good friends, there's no animosity whatsoever."

The mother of two and Styles, who met on the set of their film 'Don't Worry Darling' back in September 2020, first stepped out as a couple as they were photographed holding hands while attending a wedding together in January 2021. On a recent episode of her podcast, High Low with EmRata, Ratajkowski opened up about casually dating in the public eye.
