WON'T ALLOW THIEVES TO HAVE A SOUND SLEEP, WILL EMPTY THEIR COFFERS: PM MODI

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday said that the 'looters' of public wealth will have a tough time and his government in the third term will not only deprive them of a sound sleep but also empty their coffers.

PM Modi's stern message for 'looters and plunderers' came at a public rally in Jharkhand's Koderma and was directed at the rampant corruption under the INDIA alliance government in the state.

Notably, a mountain of cash, amounting to Rs 35 crores was recovered during ED raids from the servant of the personal secretary of Jharkhand Congress minister Alamgir Alam.

"I will not let the thieves sleep peacefully. I will take away their sleep and also empty their coffers. You are the owner of this money. No one can steal or loot it. Our govt is taking strict action against them," said PM Modi at the public rally and added that his political rivals are peeved over him because of this. "It's because of our government's zero-tolerance on corruption, INDI alliance is hurling abuses at me," he said.

He held the 'Shahi Parivaar' responsible for criminals and ruffians 'gaining ground' in the state and exploiting people for their personal prosperity. "I had said from the Red Fort, I will spend my life to free the country from corruption, nepotism and appeasement. The INDI alliance of JMM-Congress-Left is the biggest model of all these evils," the Prime Minister pointed out. Notably, PM Modi was addressing the public rally in Jharkhand, hours after filing the nomination from the Varanasi Lok Sabha constituency in UP. Addressing the huge gathering, PM Modi listed out many milestones of his government and explained how the Centre's welfare policies were benefiting the people. "Rs 5 lakh free medical treatment is our guarantee for all. Our government has built 4 crore houses for the poor and marginalized, after returning to power, we will ensure that others also get this benefit. In Koderma alone, 1.25 lakh puccas houses have been built," he informed, drawing applause from the gathering.

"In the third term, free ration for 80 crore people will continue for another five years while farmers will continue to get the benefits under Kisan Samman Nidhi Yojana," he added.

He also slammed the ruling dispensation in Jharkhand and said that despite the state being a powerhouse of mining resources, the locals haven't benefited from it.

Earlier, May 14 (IANS) Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday declared his total assets amounting to Rs 3.02 crore in cash and fixed deposits worth Rs 2.85 crore in the State Bank of India (SBI).

The gross total value of his assets is Rs 3,02,06,889. He has not declared any immovable assets. The Prime Minister doesn't own a house or a car, the affidavit said.

As per the document, PM Modi's income increased from Rs 11.1 lakh in 2018-19 to Rs 23.56 lakh in 2022-23.

Powering Amethi-Raebareli campaign

Cong invokes Gandhi family's 100-year-old ties with pocket boroughs

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Amethi and Raebareli are the two prestige seats of Uttar Pradesh that will see intense political activity and brisk canvassing over the next few days. All eyes will be on these seats to assess and gauge the public mood here.

Congress, faced with twin tasks of securing Raebareli for Rahul and snatching Amethi from BJP, on Tuesday invoked the Nehru-Gandhi family's 100-year connection with these pocket boroughs, to develop an emotional connect with the electorate and mobilise them in its favour.

'Seva sau saalon ka, rishta pidiyon ka' (100 years of Seva and ties dating back generations) is the party's punchline for wooing and winning the support of the electorate in these family bastions.

Rahul Gandhi, fighting his first Lok Sabha election from Raebareli, a constituency his mother held four times, on Tuesday shared a 6-minute long video, capturing the Nehru-Gandhi family's century-old connection with these constituencies.

Sharing the video, Rahul tweeted, "Amethi and Raebareli are not just Lok Sabha seats for us but also our karmabhoomi. Whenever the residents of these constituencies remember us, we will be right there."

The video features the then pictures and clippings of Indira Gandhi, Rajiv Gandhi and Sonia Gandhi at the hustings in these consituencies. Over the next few days, the party is likely to push this narrative not just on social media but also promote it aggressively on the ground. With the initiative, they seek to renew the Gandhi family's age-old connection with people in these bastions and also woo the fresh voters by showcasing the family's 100-year-old 'seva' there.

Priyanka has already been vigorously campaigning in these two constituencies by holding public meetings and organising the nakkad sabhas.

She has been setting the tone of the campaign by asserting from various platforms on how the four generations of the Gandhi family stood with the people of the constituency.

Bhupesh Baghel, former Congress CM, addressing a public gathering today, also invoked Indira Gandhi and said that the people of Raebareli will not just vote for electing a Lok Sabha member but for electing the country's next Prime Minister, this time.

Misleading ads by Patanjali

SC reserves order in contempt proceedings against Ramdev, Balkrishna

Team Absolute | New Delhi

The Supreme Court on Tuesday reserved its verdict in the contempt notice issued to Baba Ramdev and Patanjali Ayurved's Managing Director Acharya Balkrishna over the continued publication of misleading advertisement by the ayurvedic company.

Dispensing Ramdev and Balkrishna's personal appearance in further proceedings, a bench of Justices Hima Kohli and Ahsanuddin Amanullah allowed three-week time to Patanjali to file an affidavit regarding the withdrawal of the sale of banned products and their advertisements.

It took note of the submission that the entire page of newspapers containing the public apology published by Patanjali has been placed on record. Earlier, the top court had rejected the "unconditional and unqualified apology" tendered by Ramdev and Balkrishna and took strong exception over the violation of the undertaking given to the Supreme Court in November last year. Patanjali had earlier assured the Supreme Court that it would not make any casual statements claiming the medicinal efficacy of its products or advertise or brand them in violation of law and would not release any statement against any system of medicine to the media in any form. The Indian Medical Association has sought action against Patanjali for violation of the Drugs and Magic Remedies (Objectionable Advertisements) Act, 1954 - which prohibits the advertisement of certain products for the treatment of specified diseases and disorders, including diabetes, heart diseases, high or low blood pressure and obesity.

In a major breakthrough, the Pune zonal unit of the Directorate General of GST Intelligence (DGGI) has busted a multi-state fake input tax credit (ITC) racket worth over Rs 145 crore and arrested one person from Rajasthan, official sources said here on Tuesday.

The operation was carried out by the Pune zonal unit over the weekend after starting a probe involving some firms in Pune and Goa, and finding that the tentacles spread across Maharashtra, Rajasthan, Delhi, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu and Telangana, with the possibility of other states not ruled out.

The sources said that the scam involved at least 50 bogus firms which used fake/morphed/amended copies of documents and then claimed huge amounts of ITC without any actual supply of goods.

The sleuths of the zonal unit probed the CDRs, CAFs, and pattern of filing returns and analysed bank accounts to conclude that the syndicate, operating from different cities/states in the country, was creating bogus firms using aliases or fake identities using forged legal documents and even by-passing the unique biometric requirements for issuing SIM cards.

After chasing the culprits in several cities in different states, the GST sleuths got a tip-off that Rahul

Kumar, the alleged mastermind of the bogus firms and the whole racket, was operating from Jaipur. "We finally traced his exact location based on some e-commerce deliveries and SIM operators' inputs. The team raided his home on Friday, found incriminating evidence and arrested Kumar," said a DGGI Pune zonal unit official.

The GST sleuths also uncovered his unique modus operandi whereby they created many fake identities of proprietors/authorised signatories, using SIM cards based on forged Aadhar cards to have full control of filing the GST registrations, returns, payments, cancellations, getting OTPs, etc at any time as per their convenience. Kumar was produced before a Jaipur court, which granted transit remand, and was brought to Pune where a Chief Judicial Magistrate's Court sent him to 14 days remand on Monday. The sources said that further investigations are underway to trace out more fake firms that may have been created for committing fraud, the involvement of other associates/scammers in this racket, mapping the end beneficiaries and recovering the cheated amount.

How eating more junk food can impact your child's mental health

Junk food or fast food has become a common part of children's eating habits nowadays and lacks important nutrients for better growth. It is also known to cause weight gain and obesity -- a major risk factor for diabetes, high blood pressure, heart disease, and cancer. "We have already secured 270 seats and ensured Narendra Modi's third term as the Prime Minister. From the fifth phase, we will achieve our target of 400 seats," the Union Home Minister said while addressing an election meeting at Uluberia Lok Sabha constituency in Howrah district in support of the party candidate Arun Uday Pal Chaudhury.

Bengaluru | Agencies

Soon after Jailed JD(S) MLA H. D. Revanna on Tuesday walked out from the Bengaluru Central Jail, police resorted to lathicharge the party workers who were celebrating the release of their leader on bail, in order to disperse them.

H.D. Revanna was arrested on May 4 by the Special Investigation Team (SIT) probing the sex video scandal involving his son, JD(S) MP and Lok Sabha candidate Prajwal Revanna.

The JD(S) leaders escorted H. D. Revanna from jail premises to the residence of his father and former Prime Minister H. D. Deve Gowda. After reaching his father's house, H. D. Revanna sought blessings of Deve Gowda.

Viral Sandeshkhali video: Calcutta HC bars police from taking coercive action against BJP leader

Kolkata | Agencies

A single-judge bench of the Calcutta High Court on Tuesday barred the West Bengal Police from initiating a probe or adopting coercive action in connection with a sting operation involving a local BJP leader from Sandeshkhali, which had gone viral recently.

In the purported video, local BJP leader Gangadhar Kayal could be heard claiming that the protests staged by the women against alleged sexual harassment by local Trinamool Congress leaders in Sandeshkhali were orchestrated by the BJP.

On May 10, Kayal approached the single-judge bench of Justice Jay Sengupta, claiming that his voice was doctored in the video using artificial intelligence.

In his plea, he also sought protection from coercive action against him by the state police.

On Tuesday, Justice Sengupta's bench barred the state police from initiating a probe or adopting coercive action against Kayal for the time being. The matter will next come up for hearing on May 17.

After the video surfaced on May 4, Kayal, a mandal president of the BJP in Sandeshkhali, first approached the CBI claiming that his voice was doctored in the clip using artificial intelligence. The CBI, following an order from the Calcutta High Court, is already conducting a probe into the complaints of sexual harassment, illegal land grabbing, and extortion in Sandeshkhali by a section of the local Trinamool Congress leaders.

Referring to the ongoing CBI probe which is court-monitored, Justice Sengupta on Tuesday questioned the basis on which the FIR was registered against Kayal in the matter.

He also said that the FIR could have been registered after obtaining the necessary permission from the judicial magistrate.

Top Political Leaders Should Set Good Examples Of Campaign Discourse: Poll Body

Team Absolute | New Delhi

The Election Commission said today that top leaders of political parties should set "good examples" of campaign discourse expected of them in the ongoing Lok Sabha election.

The Election Commission also asserted that it was primarily the leaders' responsibility to correct their poll speeches in the remaining phases of the election to avoid a permanent dent on the social fabric of the country.

Coming out with its second report on the enforcement of the Model Code of Conduct since the March 16 announcement of the Lok Sabha election, the poll panel said it has disposed of over 90 per cent of complaints and no major complaint from parties was pending, except some by the Congress and the BJP.

"With about two months completed since the Model Code of Conduct (MCC) came into effect, campaign by various political parties and candidates at constituency level has largely remained violence free, less noisy, less cluttered and intrusive, free of inducement..." the commission added.

Advocates cannot be sued under Consumer Protection Act for professional negligence: Supreme Court

Team Absolute | New Delhi

The Supreme Court on Tuesday ruled that advocates cannot be held liable under the Consumer Protection Act for deficiency of services.

A bench presided over by Justice Bela M Trivedi said that the very purpose and object of the Consumer Protection Act, 2019 was to provide protection to consumers from unfair practices and unethical business practices only, adding that the legislature never intended to include professions or professional negligence in the statute.

"We have distinguished 'profession' from 'business' and 'trade'. We have said that a profession would require advance education and training in some branch of learning or science. The nature of work is of skilled and specialised one, substantial part of which would be rather mental than manual... a professional cannot be treated equally or at par with a businessman or a trader or a service provider of products or goods as contemplated in the Consumer Protection Act" said the bench, also comprising Justice Pankaj Mithal.

However, the Apex Court clarified that an advocate could be sued for professional negligence in an ordinary course of law. Earlier in 2007, the National Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission (NCDRC) had ruled that the services rendered by advocates fall under the purview of the Consumer Protection Act. On appeal, the apex court, in an ad-interim order passed in April 2009, stayed the implementation of the NCDRC ruling during the pendency of the appeals.

Mamata Banerjee calls BJP-Congress-CPI-M 'job eaters'

Kolkata | Agencies

The Calcutta High Court's recent cancellation of 25,753 teaching and non-teaching jobs was the result of a joint conspiracy hatched by the CPI-M, Congress, and the BJP, West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee alleged on Tuesday.

"Whenever we are trying to arrange jobs, they approach the court and stall the appointment process. We have heard of man-eating tigers... But they are job-eaters," the Chief Minister said while addressing an election rally at Kalyani under the Bangaon Lok Sabha constituency in support of party nominee Biswajit Das.

She also said that the lawyers of the Congress, CPI-M, and the BJP were disheartened after the Supreme Court put a stay on the Calcutta High Court order.

To recall, in a crucial ruling last month, the Calcutta High Court cancelled 25,753 appointments in teaching and non-teaching posts made by the West Bengal School Service Commission (WBSSC) in 2016. The case is being probed by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) and the Enforcement Directorate (ED). Later, the Supreme Court stayed the order of the Calcutta High Court, invalidating their appointment made by the WBSSC in the state-run and state-aided schools.

Addressing the gathering on Tuesday, the Chief Minister also launched a scathing attack on Prime Minister Narendra Modi over the latter's recent pronouncement of five guarantees for West Bengal at an election rally in the state.

"Whenever someone gives a guarantee, he should honour that. Ten years back, he gave the guarantee to transfer Rs 15 lakh to each citizen's account. But the money never came. Five years back, he promised two crore jobs. But instead of creating government jobs, the public sector units are being privatised. So, such guarantees mean nothing," Banerjee said. The Chief Minister also alleged that out of the fear of defeat (in the Lok Sabha elections), the BJP and the Union government are trying to manipulate the polling process by tampering the EVMs.

"An attempt was made at Krishnanagar on Monday, which was foiled after the Trinamool staged a protest," the Chief Minister said.

Maha CM should save his state first: Siddaramaiah

Bengaluru |

Responding to Maharashtra Chief Minister Eknath Shinde's remarks about the collapse of the Congress government in Karnataka after Lok Sabha polls are over, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said on Tuesday that "he (Eknath Shinde) should save his state first before talking about the Karnataka government". "There is no fighting in the Congress. Had there been any disruption in the party, it would not have been possible for us to work unitedly during the Lok Sabha election in the state," the Chief Minister told media persons.

He dubbed the statements of Maharashtra Chief Minister and BJP leaders on the "collapse of the Congress government" as a "political statement". Karnataka Deputy Chief Minister D. K. Shivakumar said that Eknath Shinde's own government in Maharashtra will come under threat. "Everything will happen in reverse," the Deputy Chief Minister said. Commenting over the BJP and JD-S alliance for the MLC election, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said that during the Lok Sabha election, both parties had an alliance but failed to have any impact. On the impact of the sex video scandal on the MLC election, the Chief Minister said that the voters are mature and know what is right and wrong. "They can take a call over the achievements of our government and the Central government and decide for themselves what is right for them," the Chief Minister said.

Special on International Family Day 15 May 2024

The Role of Families in Combating Climate Change

Lalit Garg

International Day of Families is celebrated as an annual celebration on 15 May to celebrate the importance of families and their role in society. The United Nations adopted it as a resolution in 1994 to raise awareness of the importance of families, highlight the challenges they face, promote the ideals of solidarity, and demonstrate efforts that strengthen family units around the world. This year we are celebrating the 30th anniversary of the International Day of Families, the theme of which is Families and Climate Change. Its goal is to raise awareness of the effects of climate change on families and encourage them to take action to reduce these impacts. Family and community initiatives aim to raise awareness about the threats to the environment and life from climate change and to clean up the environment by providing education, information access, training and community participation. Family is the smallest unit in the animal world and social organization. It is difficult to even imagine running a human society in the absence of a family, we have understood this very well during the Corona crisis.

Every person is able to make his life journey pleasant, prosperous and development oriented only by being a member of some family. Its existence cannot be thought of apart from it. Our culture and civilization has been refining itself by going through many changes, but there has been no impact on the existence of the family institution. They may have been created or broken, but their existence cannot be denied. Its form changed and its values changed but its existence cannot be questioned. No matter how much modern ideology we are growing up in, but in the end we experience satisfaction and fullness and meaning of life only in converting our relations into a family by linking them with the institution of marriage.

The importance of family is not only in India but everywhere in the world that is why International Family Day is celebrated with the aim of strengthening the family institution. The main objective of this day is to make the youth aware of the family so that the youth do not get away from their families in the flow of so-called modernity. The family institution continues to exist despite facing many struggles and changes. If we talk about old eras or even on the basis of religious beliefs, then like today, there used to be disintegration of families earlier too. But in modern society disintegration of the family has become a common thing. In such a situation, International Family Day is celebrated with the mission and vision that families should not break. By living among the family, you remain stress-free and happy, and you also do not become a victim of loneliness or depression. The concept of society is incomplete without family and to create a family it is very important for people to live together and connect.

There are two types of families - one is nuclear family and the other is joint family. Father, mother and children live in a nuclear family. In a joint family, father-mother, children, grandparents, uncle, aunt, elder father, elder mother, aunt etc. The first celebration of this day was announced by the United States of America on 15 May 1994. This day holds great importance for the people who are suffering the tragedy of breakdown and disintegration of joint families. In fact, the unique identity of human civilization is the joint family and wherever it is, there is heaven. Old age shudders due to the actions of family members who destroy the importance of relationships and love and the so-called modernist thinking. While the disintegration of joint families and the emergence of the nuclear family have caused pain to the elderly, it has also deprived the children of many events. The power to bear sorrow and endure hardships which is seen in joint families is not found in those who live alone. In today's modern era, in view of rising inflation and increasing needs, joint families can be called the need of the hour.

India is a country of villages, a country of families, perhaps this is the reason that despite not wanting to, we have emerged as the world's largest population nation and perhaps this is the reason that despite the challenges arising from population pressure, as a 'family', did not feel the need to formulate population policy. A part of the land surrounded by walls made of brick, stone and lime is called a household, with which 'I' and 'me' are associated. The organizational unit of relationships committed by values is each member of that household. The happiness and sorrow of every member touches each other's heart. The mind is affected by feelings of love. Where the sun rises every morning in the struggle for food, clothing, shelter, education and proper medical care, and every evening the family comes and stays at home carrying the burden of half-fulfilled wishes. Sometimes profit, sometimes loss, sometimes happiness, sometimes sadness, sometimes coincidence, sometimes separation, the cycle of life moves between these dualistic situations. There is a struggle between luck and effort. Every effort of a man is to create a 'home and family'. In the true sense, home and family are the place where life values like affection, harmony, cooperation, organization, sharing of joys and sorrows, acceptance of lessons in everything are lived. Where there is complete freedom to tolerate and understand everyone. There is creative freedom with discipline, the right to make decisions with integrity & where childhood is nurtured in good values. Youth is lived by a relative lifestyle. Old age remains tolerant and balanced while sharing the experiences lived among everyone. Such a family definitely becomes a temple of worship.

Family is like a resource. Then what is the reason that if we look into the atmosphere of any family today, we will see the shadows of sorrow, worry, discord, jealousy, hatred, partiality, dispute, opposition and rebellion moving around. There would be a feeling of alienation even among our own people. Difference of opinion will lead to discord. Faith will descend into doubt. In such a crowd of untold tensions, man yearns for a moment of happiness. No one tries to tolerate/understand anyone. Because in that family, within the scope of its own existence, the changing peripheries of objectives, ideals, expectations, faith and belief go astray, obliterating the centre. To control this fragmentation and disintegration, we launched the " Sukhi Pariwar Abhiyan" under the leadership of Gani Rajendra Vijayji, through which extensive initiatives are being taken to strengthen the family institution.

The concept of Nuclear Family is not yet widespread in India. Even today, there are many families in India whose generations live together and support each other at every step. But the situation is gradually worsening in metropolitan cities like Delhi and Mumbai. It is expected that soon the importance of joint family will start increasing again in the society and awareness will spread among people that they should live together in a family which has many benefits. This step and resolution of life taken in the name of human relationships and family tradition will be a unique gift to the family in welcoming tomorrow.

18-year-old girl gives new lease of life to four

An 18-year-old girl from Haryana gave a new lease of life to four critically-ill patients after her tragic death. In a deeply moving generosity, Joginder Pal Singh and Pinky Rani, the parents of the 18-year-old girl, chose to donate their daughter's organs. The girl was declared brain-dead at Alchemist Hospital, Panchkula, on Saturday. On April 29, she met with an accident. The donated organs were harvested, and the liver was sent to Max Hospital at Saket in Delhi. The pancreas and one kidney were sent to PGIMER, Chandigarh, and one kidney was donated to a critical kidney failure patient at Alchemist Hospital, Panchkula, near here. For timely transportation of organs, green corridors were created on Sunday between Alchemist Hospital, Panchkula, to Max Hospital Saket, Delhi, and PGIMER as well. Neeraj Goyal, associate director (kidney transplant), Alchemist Hospital, said the significance of organ transplantation in restoring health and vitality to patients. While emphasising the importance of awareness regarding organ donation, Medical Superintendent Paramjit Maan said many precious lives could be saved through transplantation. Director General of Health Services (DGHS) Randeep Singh Punia commended the family for their noble gesture while emphasising the life-saving importance of organ donation. With the coordination of Deputy Commissioner of Police Himadri Kaushik and Haryana Police, the organs reached their destinations on time, ensuring that the life-saving transplant surgery could proceed without delay.

Indian is first international UN employee killed in Gaza conflict; Guterres condemns attack

Arul Louis | United Nations

An Indian working for the United Nations in Gaza has become the first non-Palestinian staffer to be killed during the current Gaza conflict when his vehicle was attacked on its way to a hospital in Rafah. The victim was identified as Col. Waibhav Anil Kale, who had started working a month ago as a security coordinator for the UN in Gaza, according to The Washington Post, which quoted unnamed informed sources.

Haq did not say who carried out the attack.

Kale, who worked for the UN Department of Safety and Security (DSS) joins the roster of more than 200 Indians who have died in the service of the UN.

The majority of them - 179 - are peacekeepers but many other Indian civilians, who like employees of the DSS are not peacekeepers, have died working for the UN in various capacities in trouble spots.

Earlier, Secretary-General Antonio Guterres's Spokesperson Farhan Haq, who announced the death, did not identify him pending notification to his family and government.

Haq said that Guterres condemned the attack and called for a full investigation.

Another UN employee was injured in the Monday attack, he said.

The blame for the attack has not been fixed because the situation remains murky in Rafah.

Al Jazeera broadcast clips showing windows with bullet holes on the attacked vehicle flying UN flags and bearing large UN markings.

From the nature of the damage, it did not appear to have been an air or heavy artillery attack.

He said that Monday's victim was the first international employee of the UN killed in Gaza since October 7, although 188 Palestinian employees of the UN Relief and Works Agency (UNRWA), the UN arm for humanitarian services for Palestinians, have been killed.

"We will be working with the authorities on the ground to get restitution for all of those who have been killed," Haq declared.

The Post said that according to its sources, Kale was a 46-year-old father of two teenage children.

Other media reports said that he had earlier worked for the Indian Army.

Israel Defense Forces said that according to an initial inquiry, Monday's attack happened in an active combat zone and that it was not made aware of the vehicle's movement.

Haq said that the DSS staffers were in the vehicle with clear UN markings that was in a convoy engaged in "their regular work [for which] they go to different locations to assess security conditions. And this was the European Hospital in Rafah".

Asked what the UN was doing to seek justice for the UN employees killed in the conflict, Haq said, "In all cases, we are going to set up measures for accountability".

"A lot of that, as you know, requires ultimately for an end to the conflict so that we can work these out," he said.

Guterres reiterated his call for a humanitarian ceasefire and the release of the hostages taken by Hamas, which sparked the conflict with an attack on Israel in which about 1,200 people were killed and 128 were kidnapped.

Israel's retaliation on Gaza, from where Hamas launched the attack, has killed about 34,000 Palestinians, most of them women, children or the aged.

Last month, four foreigners and three Palestinians working for a non-profit organisation, were killed in Gaza.

Russia aiming to build buffer zone near Kharkiv: ISW

Washington | Agencies

Russian forces advancing near Ukraine's north-eastern city of Kharkiv will likely limit their push to the rapid creation of a buffer zone between the two countries, according to US military experts. That goal is apparently being prioritised over a deeper offensive into the Kharkiv region, the Washington-based Institute for the Study of War (ISW) wrote in its latest report on Monday. Geolocated footage published on May 13 shows that Russian forces that crossed the border last week had entered Hlyboke, some 30 kilometres north of Kharkiv, and raised a flag in the centre of the village.

Further images showed that Russian troops had advanced southwest of the village of Olynykove. The Ukrainian General Staff reported that Russian troops had achieved some success near Lukyantsi, also just to the east of Hlyboke.

Russia launched an offensive into the Kharkiv region on May 10, after which the Defence Ministry reported the capture of several villages.

According to Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky, the military is doing everything in its power to prevent Russia from expanding the front and has launched counterattacks.

"The area has been reinforced," Zelensky said in his evening video message on Monday. Russian forces that invaded Ukraine in February 2022 initially took large areas of the Kharkiv region but not the city itself before being driven back by a Ukrainian counter-offensive that autumn. Kharkiv is Ukraine's second-largest city, with a pre-war population of 1.4 million people.

No exemptions for India firms, says US on Chabahar deal

Washington | Agencies

A few hours after India and Iran signed a 10-year agreement regarding the Chabahar port, the US has said there will be no exemptions for Indian firms dealing with Iran from sanctions already in force.

This signals a dramatic shift away from the previous exemption from sanctions granted by the Trump administration in 2018 when the then-president rescinded the Iran nuclear deal signed by his predecessor President Barack Obama.

Vedant Patel, the Principal Deputy Spokesperson for the US State Department, told reporters on Monday that while the agreement was a bilateral matter between India and Iran and that India was free to run its foreign policy the way it wants, "any entity (or) anyone considering business deals with Iran... need to be aware of the potential risks that they're opening themselves up to the term risk of sanctions".

Asked if there will be no exemptions, the Spokesperson said, "No."

He was responding to questions on the agreement signed by New Delhi and Tehran that allows India to operate the Chabahar port for 10 years.

4,000 animal and plant species affected by smuggling worldwide

Vienna | Agencies

Wildlife trafficking has not substantially reduced over the past two decades, despite positive signs in reducing trafficking of iconic species like elephant and rhino, the UN Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC) reported in Vienna on Monday.

"The global scope and scale of wildlife crime remain substantial with seizures during 2015-2021 indicating an illegal trade in 162 countries and territories affecting around 4,000 plant and animal species," the office's third edition of the World Wildlife Crime Report says.

During the six-year period, around 13 million individual animals and plants had been seized that had been intended for use as food, medication or luxury items. More than 16,000 tons of illicit goods, such as wood, had also been confiscated, it said.

The UNODC stressed that the true figures were considerably higher.

The UN office added that beyond the conservation threat to target species, population reductions could trigger ecosystem-level impacts by disturbing interdependencies and undermining functions and processes, "including those important to climate change resilience and mitigation." It noted that some of the species worst affected, including rare orchids, succulents, reptiles, fish, birds and mammals, received little public attention, though wildlife trafficking had played a major role in their local or global extinctions.

"Wildlife crime also threatens the socioeconomic benefits people derive from nature, whether as a source of income, employment, food, medicine or other values. It further corrodes good governance and the rule of law through corruption, money-laundering and illicit financial flows," the agency said.

Kyiv | Agencies

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky has asked US Secretary of State Antony Blinken for Patriot air defence systems for Kharkiv, which is routinely threatened by Russian missiles.

Two of these systems are necessary to protect Ukraine's second biggest city and its surrounding area, which borders Russia, Zelensky said in Kyiv during Blinken's surprise visit.

US assistance for the campaign against the Russians was of crucial importance, and air defence was the "biggest deficit," Zelensky said.

According to Ukrainian media reports,

Blinken promised Ukraine weapons aid that could change the situation on the battlefield.

Blinken said on X: "I returned to Kyiv today to demonstrate our unwavering support for Ukraine as they defend their freedom against Russian aggression."

The visit, which, as usual, was not announced for security reasons, is Blinken's fourth since the start of the war in February 2022 and is also the first visit since the US approved a long-delayed aid package of $61 billion.

Ukraine has been on the defensive for months due to a lack of weapons, ammunition and soldiers.

Russia has been bombarding Kharkiv, and last week Russian troops also began a ground offensive on the border and have already captured several Ukrainian villages.

Political stability first criteria for robust markets and PM Modi guarantees that: FM Sitharaman

Team Absolute | Mumbai

Financial markets play a crucial role in capital mobilisation and allocation, and the stability of government is the first criterion for the Indian stock indices to make a difference to the growing economy, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said here on Tuesday. Addressing an interactive 'Viksit Bharat 2047' session focused on the Indian financial markets at the Bombay Stock Exchange (BSE), the Finance Minister said, that standing here at the BSE, "I want to clearly lay before you that Prime Minister Narendra Modi's third term will be a stable, good governance regime".

domestic product (GDP) growth forecast, inflation being at a manageable level, and political stability at the central government level.

"This has made India the fastest-growing economy. Most investors who visit India are keen to see where their money can be placed or parked," the Finance Minister said.

India has fared relatively well compared with other countries as far as the government debt to GDP ratio is concerned and the country is the third least indebted nation among low- and middle-income countries (LMIC).

The Finance Minister said the stability in policy -- particularly taxation -- predictability in policy-making and the soft-touch regulatory framework are the high points in which markets function without volatility.

The performance of India's financial markets has also exceeded people's expectations in the recent past.

"It has performed with distinction at a time when global markets are fluctuating, there is so much volatility, and a fear of uncertainty setting in most markets. Even in this atmosphere, Indian stock markets have performed very well, attracting both foreign and domestic investors," the Finance Minister said.

"The adoption of technology has made a big difference to the performance of the stock market," she added.

Bhima Koregaon-Elgar Parishad case: SC grants bail to Gautam Navlakha

Team Absolute | New Delhi

The Supreme Court on Tuesday ordered Gautam Navlakha, an accused in the Bhima Koregaon-Elgar Parishad case, to be released on bail. Observing that the completion of the trial would take "years and years", a bench presided over by Justice M.M. Sundresh refused to extend the stay granted by the Bombay High Court on the implementation of the bail order.

However, the Bench, also comprising Justice S.V.N. Bhatti, added a condition that Navlakha should deposit Rs 20 lakh with the authorities at this stage, as a part of the expenses incurred on him during house arrest.

The apex court took note of the submission made on Navlakha's behalf that the activist-journalist remains incarcerated for over four years and there exists a likelihood of prolonging trial proceedings since charges are yet to be framed in the case. In December last year, the Bombay High Court granted bail to Navlakha, who has been in custody since April 14, 2020, for his alleged links with Maoists. However, a division bench of Justices A.S. Gadhkari and Shivkumar S.Dige of the High Court deferred the implementation of its order for three weeks after the anti-terror agency sought a stay for filing a special leave petition in the Supreme Court. This stay was extended from time to time by the apex court. Navlakha, 73, has been in continuous custody in jail and after a Supreme Court order, was placed under house arrest in November 2022, on account of his advanced age and health conditions.

Navlakha, along with the other accused was arrested and charged by the Pune Police and later by the National Investigation Agency (NIA) for plotting to overthrow the government and instigating the caste riots at the Bhima Koregaon memorial near Maharashtra's Pune on January 1, 2018 which left one youth dead, and created a political turmoil in the state.

A former office-bearer of the PUJDR, he was also accused of Maoist links, furthering the agenda of the outlawed CPI(Maoist), possessing incriminating documents, supporting Kashmir separatists, and other offences. His earlier bail applications were rejected by the Special NIA Court.

The suspect was identified as Harpal Singh (34), a resident of Fatehabad in Haryana. He was apprehended by the Mumbai Crime Branch from his home town on Monday evening, an official said.

After being brought to Mumbai, Harpal Singh was produced before a special MCOCA court in Mumbai. According to the PTI, the police sought his remand for 14 days on the ground that the probe was at an initial stage and a thorough investigation was needed to ascertain the role of the accused in the case. His name came to light during the interrogation of an accused arrested earlier in the case, the prosecution said, the news agency reported. In the court proceeding held in-camera, special judge

B D Shelke remanded Harpal Singh to police custody till May 22.

Harpal Singh is the sixth accused to be arrested in connection with the firing incident.

Two motorcycle-borne persons opened fire outside Khan's residence at the Galaxy Apartment in Mumbai's Bandra area on April 14 and fled the spot.

Singh's name surfaced during the interrogation of accused Mohammed Rafique Chowdhary, another Bishnoi gang member who was arrested earlier this month in the firing case, a police official said.

Harpal Singh had asked Chowdhary to conduct a reconnaissance around Khan's residence and also gave Rs 2-3 lakh to him, the police said.

Maharashtra records 91 cases of KP.2 variant of Omicron: Health department

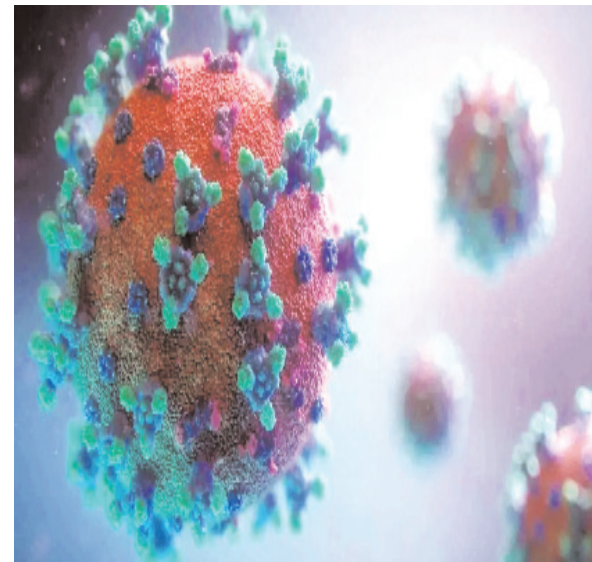

Team Absolute | Mumbai

Maharashtra has so far recorded 91 cases of the KP.2 variant of Omicron, including 51 in Pune, the health department said on Monday, reported news agency. State's genome sequencing coordinator, Dr Rajesh Karyakarte, said this in addition to JN.1, KP.2 and KP.1.1 sub-variants of Omicron that have been recorded in Maharashtra. He said both KP.2 and KP.1.1 are sub-lineages of JN.1.

Thane has recorded 20 cases of KP.2 sub-variant of Omicron, seven each in Amravati and Chhatrapati Sambhaji Nagar, two in Solapur and one each in Sangli, Latur, Ahmednagar and Nashik, he added.

The health department said Maharashtra on Monday recorded six new cases of COVID-19 with three each in Mumbai and Pune city.

Meanwhile, in March, Maharashtra experienced a slight increase in cases, with an average of around 250 detections, which is likely attributed to the spread of the KP.2 variant.

ISHANT SHARMA TAKES 3-34 AS DC SURVIVE ARSHAD SCARE TO BEAT LSG BY 19 RUNS

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Veteran pacer Ishant Sharma took 3-34 as Delhi Capitals survived a late scare from Arshad Khan to beat Lucknow Super Giants by 19 runs in Match 64 of Indian Premier League (IPL) 2024 at the Arun Jaitley Stadium here on Tuesday.

After half-centuries by Abishek Porel and Tristan Stubbs propelled DC to a daunting 208/4, Ishant started to reduce LSG to 44/4 in the fifth over. While Nicholas Pooran made a hard-hitting 61, Arshad threatened to take the game away with an unbeaten 58.

But it wasn't enough as LSG ended up at 189/9, as DC ended their group stage with a win and awaited the results of other games to know if they could enter the playoffs. The result also means Rajasthan Royals have qualified for the Playoffs.

In defence of 208, Impact Player Ishant scythed through the LSG top-order in the Power-play. K.L. Rahul was undone by lack of timing in lofting an Ishant out-swing and gave a catch to cover-point. Quinton de Kock was next to fall to Ishant -- mistiming a loft to mid-on.

Marcus Stoinis danced down the pitch on Axar Patel's first ball to loft but missed the delivery which turned enough and was stumped easily. Pooran injected some momentum into LSG's innings by hitting Axar for two fours and as many sixes over the shorter boundary area.

Though Pooran hit two more sixes and a four, including a reverse-sweep off Kuldeep Yadav, he wasn't getting support from the other end as Ishant trapped Hooda lbw, while Ayush Badoni toe-ended a loft to long-off against Tristan Stubbs.

Pooran continued to wage a lone battle by clipping Gulbadin Naib for consecutive boundaries and reached his fifty in 20 balls. But his counter-attacking knock ended in the 12th over when Axar dived forward to take a superb catch at cover, off Mukesh Kumar. Once Krunal was stumped off Kuldeep, it felt that DC would coast home to victory.

Brief scores

Delhi Capitals 208/4 in 20 overs (Abishek Porel 58, Tristan Stubbs 57 not out; Naveen-ul-Haq 2-51, Ravi Bishnoi 1-26) beat Lucknow Super Giants 189/9 in 20 overs (Nicholas Pooran 61, Arshad Khan 58 not out; Ishant Sharma 3-34, Tristan Stubbs 1-4) by 19 runs

Birmingham. With her blistering 37 and four catches behind the wickets, seasoned keeper Amy Jones was named Player of the Match in England's 53-run victory. The 30-year-old moved up three spots to 26th on the new T20I batting rankings.

Moreover, she reclaimed her India No. 1 place from Sreeja Akula.

The 25-year-old paddler has become the first Indian woman to break into the top 25 singles rankings. She also matched the world No. 24 ranking achieved by Sathiyana Gnanasekaran (currently world no. 65) in 2019, which is the highest rank attained by an Indian in singles.

Barcelona beat Real Sociedad to return to second in LaLiga

Madrid | Agencies

FC Barcelona returned to second place in LaLiga after a 2-0 home win over Real Sociedad on Monday night.

This win helped Barcelona rebound from their 4-2 defeat to Girona last week, moving them above their Catalan neighbors with three games remaining in the season.

Real Sociedad dropped to seventh place, behind Real Betis in their efforts to qualify for next season's Europa League.

Lamine Yamal opened the scoring in the 40th minute, finishing off a counter-attack with a classy shot across Real Sociedad goalkeeper Alex Remiro, reports Xinhua.

The goal came two minutes after Raphinha had hit the post for Barca after being set up by Pedri, who was back in Barcelona's starting 11 along with Inigo Martinez, who was facing one of his former clubs.

The second goal came in the closing moments after the VAR penalized Alvaro Odriozola for handball. Raphinha scored from the spot to seal the win.

The game got off to an even start, with most of the play in the middle of the park, before Sheraldo Becker twice went close to putting the visitors ahead, with a goal ruled out for offside, before Marc Andre ter Stegen saved another effort soon afterwards.

Real Sociedad looked to get back into the game after the break, with Brais Mendez having the best chance after an error from Ilkay Gundogan, but the midfielder pulled his effort wide of the post. Barcelona's next game is away to already-relegated Almeria, while Real Sociedad face Valencia ahead of a vital game away to Betis, which could decide who plays in Europe next year.

IPL 2024: Ravi Shastri believes 'Impact Player' rule contributed in thrilling finishes

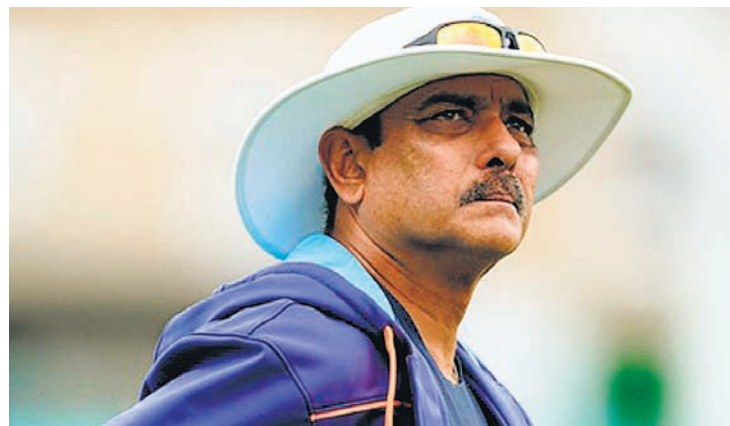

New Delhi | Agencies

As the IPL's Impact Player rule drew some criticism from experts, former Indian cricketer and ex-head coach Ravi Shastri favoured the rule saying it has contributed to a number of thrilling finishes in the tournament.

BCCI introduced the Impact Player rule in the 2023 edition of the Indian Premier League (IPL).

"The Impact Player rule is good. You have to evolve with the times," Shastri told Ravichandran Ashwin on his YouTube channel. "You know, it happens in other sports as well. It's got tighter finishes. You have to evolve with the times and I think it's a good rule. You saw the number of tight finishes we had in last year's IPL. So, you know, it has made a big difference."

Jay Shah, the BCCI secretary, himself said last week that the Impact Player rule is "not permanent" and a call on its use in subsequent editions of the IPL will be taken after a discussion with stakeholders following the conclusion of 2024 T20 World Cup.

"Impact Player is like a test case. We have implemented it slowly. The biggest advantage of it is that two Indian players are getting a chance in each game, which is the most important," Shah had told reporters at the BCCI headquarters in Mumbai on Thursday. "We will consult with the players, franchises, broadcasters and take a call. This is not permanent but I am not saying that it will go."

While some believe the rule hinders the growth of allrounders, including Indian captain Rohit Sharma, Ashwin gave the example of Dhruv Jurel, who started as an Impact Player in the IPL 2023 and made his Test debut for India a year later.

"You know when any new rule comes in, there will be...people will try and justify why that's not right," Shastri said. "But in time when you see the scores - 200 and 190 - and then like you mentioned individuals grabbing that opportunity and making the most of it, people will start re-looking at how they think about it."

Still, DC head coach Ricky Ponting had expressed his satisfaction with the IPL keeping the Impact Player if it was contributing to a "better spectacle" during the competition. However, he acknowledged that as a coach, he wasn't too fond of the regulation, referring to it as a "nightmare".

Delhi Capitals (DC) players Axar Patel and Mukesh Kumar were among those who spoke out against the Impact Player rule.
