Industry experts on Friday hailed the 8.2 per cent GDP growth estimate for the full financial year 2023-24 calling it significant as it would boost business sentiments and create a roadmap for 'Viksit Bharat' by 2047.

The Indian economy clocked a robust GDP growth of 7.8 per cent in the January-March quarter while for the full financial year 2023-24, the growth rate works out to a stellar 8.2 per cent - up from 7 per cent in FY 2022-23.

"Mining and quarrying has also helped the higher print," said Banerjee.

The high GDP growth has been driven by a strong performance of the manufacturing and mining sectors, according to the Ministry of Statistics data.

cant growth of 9.9 per cent in the manufacturing sector in 2023-24 over -2.2 per cent in 2022-23 and a growth of 7.1 per cent in 2023-24 in the mining sector up from 1.9 per cent in 2022-23.

The National Institute of Mental Health & Neuro Sciences (NIMHANS), Bengaluru, under the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, on Friday bagged the Nelson Mandela Award for health promotion for 2024 by the World Health Organization (WHO).

Established by WHO in 2019, the Nelson Mandela Award recognises individuals, institutions, and/or governmental or non-governmental organisations that showcase remarkable contributions to health promotion. It is "a recognition of India's efforts in inclusive healthcare," said Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya while congratulating NIMHANS for this award.

"We are immensely proud," said Pratima Murthy, Director, NIMHANS, adding that the award recognises both "past and present achievements" and is "a validation of the enduring legacy" of NIMHANS.

The award comes as NIMHANS, which has been pioneering mental health and neurosciences, championing innovative approaches to research, education, and patient care, celebrates 50 years of its formation.

India has made major strides in the field of mental health in recent times. Under the National Health Mission, almost all districts of the country have mental health units. The country's national tele-mental health helpline Tele-MANAS, launched in October 2022, also recently achieved the landmark of having handled 10 lakh calls.

Centre introduces separate mobile numbering series for service, transactional voice calls

Team Absolute | New Delhi

The Centre on Thursday introduced a new numbering series, 160xxxxxxx, for making service or transactional calls, to help citizens easily identify legitimate calls and curb unsolicited voice calls from telemarketers using 10-digit mobile numbers.

Currently, 140xxxxxxx series has been allocated to telemarketers for making promotional/service/transactional voice calls.

The Department of Telecommunications (DoT) said in a statement that since the 140xx series is being used extensively for promotional calls, "consumers normally do not respond to such calls and many important service/transactional calls are missed". "This has resulted in wide use of regular 10-digit numbers by genuine entities for making service/transactional calls. This also gave opportunity to fraudsters to deceive consumers using 10-digit numbers," the DoT added. To address this, the DoT has allocated a new numbering series, 160xxxxxxx which will exclusively be used for service/transactional voice calls by the Principle Entities.

This clear differentiation between service/transactional calls versus other types of calls will make it easier for citizens to manage their communication. "For example, the service/transactional calls originating from Financial Entities like by RBI, SEBI, PFRDA, IRDA, etc shall start from 1601," said DoT.

The Department said that telecom Service Providers (TSP) will need to ensure "adequate verification of every entity before assigning a number from 160 series and the entity shall undertake to use it only for service/transactional calls".

For any suspected fraud communications, citizens can report it on the Chakshu facility at Sanchar Saathi (www.sancharsaathi.gov.in).

RBI shifts 100 tonnes of gold from vaults in UK to India

Team Absolute | New Delhi

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has shifted around 100 tonnes of its gold kept in bank vaults in the UK to its own vaults in India in a move aimed at saving storage costs, according to media reports.

This is the first time since 1991 that India has undertaken such a large-scale overseas transfer of gold reserves.

Economist Sanjeev Sanyal, a member of the PM's Economic Advisory Council, said, "While no one was watching, RBI has shifted 100 tonnes of its gold reserves back to India from the UK." "Most countries keep their gold in the vaults of the Bank of England or some such location (and pay a fee for the privilege). India will now hold most of its gold in its own vaults. We have come a long way since we had to ship out gold overnight in 1991 in the midst of a crisis," he added.

In 1991, when the country was in the grip of a severe foreign crisis with no money to pay for essential imports, the Chandra Shekhar government pledged gold to raise funds. The RBI then pledged 46.91 tonnes of gold with the Bank of England and the Bank of Japan, to secure $400 million.

More than half of the RBI's gold reserves are held overseas in secure custody with the Bank of England and the Bank of International Settlements, while approximately a third is stored in the RBI's vaults in Nagpur and Mumbai. The central bank held 822.10 tonnes of gold as part of its foreign exchange reserves as of March 31, 2024, an increase from the 794.63 tonnes held at the same time last year, according to the annual data released by the RBI. RBI has, like other central banks, been buying gold as a safe-haven asset. The strategy of holding gold is primarily aimed at hedging against inflation and reducing foreign currency risks, especially in times of uncertainty triggered by geopolitical tensions.

NEARLY 2 LAKH PEOPLE HIT, RAJ BHAVAN OFFICES, MEDICAL COLLEGES INUNDATED IN MANIPUR FLOODS

Imphal | Agencies

Around two lakh people have been affected in 348 villages and urban localities in eight districts of Manipur, where the flash floods continued to impact normal life for the fifth day on Friday but respite is in store as water levels are now receding, officials said.

Officials said that besides important installations including medical colleges and government offices, Chief Minister N. Biren Singh's private residence, and various hotels were inundated in knee- to waist-deep water. Water also surged into the Raj Bhavan complex, leaving the Governor's Office and Secretariat, staff quarters, and the security personnel's barracks under flood water, with only the vintage building, which is the official residence of the Governor, unaffected.

However, with the intensity of the rain weakening, the flood waters in the city, its outskirts, and other places, as well as in major rivers, are receding.

State Water Resource Minister Awangbow Newmai said that incessant rainfall since Monday in the aftermath of Cyclone Remal, most of the state, spanning the hills and valley districts of Imphal East, Imphal West, Kangpokpi, Bishnupur, Noney, Churachandpur, Senapati, and Kakching, had been affected.

Three persons have died in different flood-related incidents so far while one person is missing and ten injured. Besides the National Disaster Response Force, the State Disaster Response Force, Army, Assam Rifles and other central forces are engaged in relief and rescue works.

The minister said that 56 relief camps have been opened and over 20,000 people took shelter there. He also said 434 hectares of crop areas were affected and landslides occurred in several hill district areas.

The repair of the embankments, and tackling breaches and overflow of key rivers flowing in Imphal Valley is going on, he added.

The Chief Minister held a review meeting with ministers and top officials on the flood situation. He also inspected the rescue operation going on in Imphal city.

He said that a large number of people and livestock have been affected due to a breach of the river banks in many areas. "Inspected the situation on the ground at Ima Market and nearby areas along with my cabinet colleagues and MLAs. All possible measures are being taken up to control the flooding in these areas. Chaired a meeting with Ministers, MLAs, Chief Secretary, security officials and all department officials to review the flood situation in the state, while assessing the ongoing measures to provide necessary aid and assistance to the affected families," the Chief Minister said in a post on X.

He said that out of the 18 spots where the breach occurred in the embankments of rivers, 17 were sealed and the flooding in the surrounding areas has been successfully brought under control.

All the major rivers, including Imphal, Nambul, and Kongba, which were flowing above the danger level till late Thursday night, are now receding.

Swati Maliwal case: Delhi court sends Kejriwal aide Bibhav Kumar to 14-day judicial custody

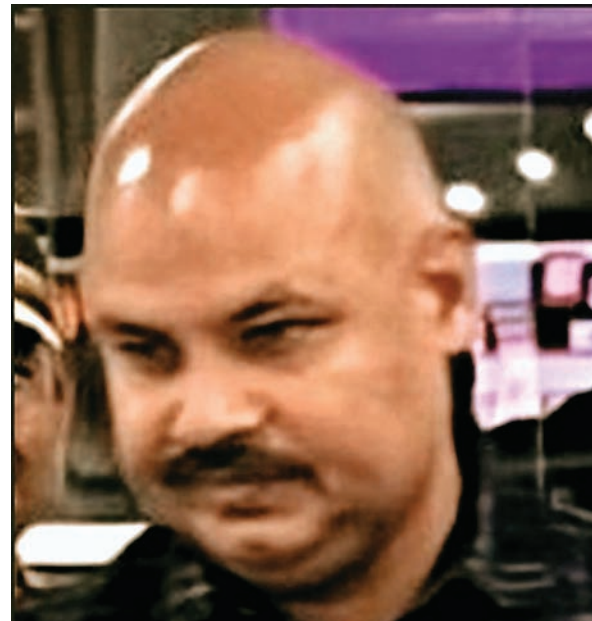

Team Absolute | New Delhi

A Delhi court on Friday sent Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal's aide Bibhav Kumar to 14-day judicial custody in the Swati Maliwal assault case.

Bibhav Kumar was arrested on May 18 in connection with the assault on Maliwal, an Aam Aadmi Party Rajya Sabha member and former Chairperson of the Delhi Commission for Women, on May 13.

The Delhi Police had moved an application seeking Bibhav Kumar to be sent to judicial custody. While his counsel opposed the plea, the prosecution said that Kumar might interfere with the current investigation.

In a related development, the Delhi High Court on Friday reserved its order on the maintainability of Kumar's plea challenging his arrest in the case. On Monday, the Tis Hazari Court had dismissed Kumar's bail plea.

During the hearing, Maliwal broke down in the courtroom, alleging character assassination and citing life threats being made to her. Delhi Police had opposed the claim of Kumar's counsel that Maliwal went to the CM's residence with the intent to malign his aide, and alleged a three-day delay in filing an FIR. He had further argued that Kumar was not present at the CM's residence and that Maliwal had no appointment.

Lok Sabha polls set to end with final phase on Saturday, PM Modi among candidates

Team Absolute | New Delhi

India's democratic exercise, unparalleled in its expanse, vibrancy, and outreach, is set to end its course on Saturday with polling for the remaining 57 Lok Sabha seats in eight states/UTs, extending from the plains of Punjab to the ghats of Varanasi and its eastern UP hinterland, and the hills of Himachal to the teeming urban sprawl of Kolkata and its environs.

The 57 seats, including 13 reserved for SCs and three for STs, are in Uttar Pradesh and Punjab (13 each), West Bengal (9), Bihar (8), Odisha (6), Himachal Pradesh (4), Jharkhand (3), and Chandigarh (1). Polling will also be held for the remaining 42 seats in Odisha in the simultaneous Assembly elections there.

Also in a key sideshow, bypolls to six Assembly constituencies in Himachal Pradesh are scheduled on Saturday - and their results will determine the fate of the Sukhwinder Singh Sukhu government.

The bypolls were necessitated after six Congress MLAs cross-voted in the Rajya Sabha elections and subsequently resigned from their seats to join the BJP. There are a total of 908 candidates in the fray, with the maximum in Punjab (328) and the least in the adjoining UT of Chandigarh (19). Prime Minister Narendra Modi (Varanasi) heads the list of prominent candidates in this phase.

The electorate for the final round of the Lok Sabha elections comprises over 10.06 crore voters - 5.24 crore males, 4.82 crore females, and 3,574 of the third gender, the Election Commission said, adding that around 10.9 lakh polling officials have been deployed across 1.09 lakh polling stations. "Polling parties have been dispatched along with machines and poll materials to their respective polling stations. The polling stations are ready to welcome the voters with all basic facilities, including ample shade, drinking water, ramps, and toilets to ensure that polling takes place in a comfortable and secure environment." Concerned CEOs and state machineries have been directed to take adequate measures to manage the adverse impact of hot weather or rainfall wherever predicted," the EC said.

While polling will begin at 7 a.m., the "closure of poll timings may differ PC wise", the poll panel said.

With this, the mammoth seven-phase Lok Sabha elections will conclude and all will wait for the counting of votes slated to be held on June 4.

Anti-Dowry Section 498A being misused in matrimonial disputes with ulterior motives, Kerala High Court

Kochi | Agencies

The Kerala High Court on Friday asked courts to look into cases of matrimonial disputes with care as several women misuse Section 498 of IPC to put the close relatives of their husbands in distress by leveling allegations of cruelty.

Justice A. Badharudeen pointed out that in matrimonial disputes, many women misuse Section 498 A against their husbands and their relatives to defame them in society.

Justice Badharudeen said, "It is noticed that in matrimonial disputes, certain wives initiate criminal proceedings on the strength of vague and omnibus allegations against the parents, sisters, brothers and other relatives of the husband with ulterior motive to put them under the veil of prosecution involving non-bailable offences and to face the ordeal of criminal prosecution and trial by the parents, sisters, brothers and other relatives of the husband, to malign and defame their image in the society." "In such cases, the court must analyse materials available when quashment is sought whether the allegations specifically state anything dealt under Section 498A so as to prosecute the accused for the said offences, by subjecting themselves for trial," said the High Court.

The Court made these observations while quashing criminal proceedings initiated by a woman against her 61-year-old mother-in-law on the allegations of committing cruelty and demanding dowry.

The High Court held that there were only sweeping and general allegations against the mother-in-law without mentioning any specific instance of cruelty, and hence it quashed criminal proceedings against her.

Delhi gov't petitions SC seeking additional water supply from neighbouring states

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Amid the rising water crisis in the national capital, the Delhi government has petitioned the Supreme Court seeking additional water supply from the states of Haryana, Uttar Pradesh and Himachal Pradesh.

The plea demanded that the states neighbouring Delhi be directed to release extra water for a month to address the extraordinary and excessive water demand of the city triggered due to a surge in summer temperature.

Meanwhile, Delhi Water Minister Atishi has sought urgent intervention from the Centre on the issue of water shortage and apprised the Union Jal Shakti Minister that Haryana must immediately release Delhi's rightful share of water into the Yamuna River to bring the waters to the normal level.

"Delhi is heavily dependent on water from the Yamuna River to meet its day-to-day demand for water. However, in the last few days, there has been a drastic dip in the water levels at the Wazirabad Barrage as Haryana is not releasing the required amount of water in the Yamuna River. This has resulted in a massive crisis of water in the national capital," said Atishi in her letter to Union Minister Gajendra Shekhawat.

She added that the temperature in Delhi has touched almost 50 degrees and this has further intensified the demand for water putting additional burden on the already strained demand-supply chain of potable drinking water in Delhi.

JP Nadda slams Cong over Exit Poll boycott

'It shows party's antipathy towards world's largest democratic process'

Team Absolute | New Delhi

BJP President J.P. Nadda on Friday slammed the Congress' decision to boycott Exit Poll debates slated for Saturday, saying that this indicates an unequivocal confirmation that it has conceded defeat ahead of the announcement of Lok Sabha election results on June 4.

With the seventh and final phase of polling concluding on Saturday, the Exit Polls conducted by several poll survey agencies and pollsters will be out by the evening, giving a 'fair' indication of what to expect on the counting day.

However, the Congress on Friday announced to give the Exit Poll debates a miss while dubbing the entire exercise as a "slugfest for TRPs".

Objecting to Congress' decision, the BJP chief said, "It is not surprising since the Congress usually opts out when it doesn't expect the results to go in its favour, but has no compunction showing up if it thinks it has even an outside chance. Their hypocrisy is not lost on anyone. Let no one in Phase 7 waste their votes on them."

He also said that by boycotting the Exit Poll exercise, Congress has sought to question the rigorous exercise carried out by several professional agencies that work day and night to compile the figures. "It doesn't behove India's grand old party to behave like a child, whose toy has been taken away. One expects a certain level of maturity from the largest political party in the Opposition," J.P. Nadda said in a post on X.

He also said that what is more discon-cerning is Congress' antipathy towards the largest democratic process in the world, which saw the participation of over 960 million aspirants.

"While Indians were electing their leader, who would lead them in the new world order, improve their lives, bring opportunities and prosperity, Congress was working assiduously to undermine the very institutional process on which rests our robust democracy's foundations." Instead of focusing on winning the elections, Congress repeatedly approached the Supreme Court, making outrageous demands, to mutilate our well-established electoral process," he said. The BJP chief also slammed the grand old party over its whining on electoral losses and pinning the blame on 'EVM tampering' for electoral defeats.

"The Congress has no complaints about either the EVMs or the electoral process when it wins. Himachal and Telangana are recent examples. But it whines endlessly when it expects a rout," Nadda said.

SIT to probe EVM hackers 'stay' at Bihar Raj Bhawan

Patna | Agencies

The Economic Offence Unit (EOU) of Bihar Police has constituted SIT which will probe the allegation of two EVM hackers "staying" at Raj Bhawan.

After the serious allegation levelled against the Bihar Raj Bhawan, Governor Rajendra Vishwanath Arleker himself directed the officials to take action against the accused.

The EOU has registered the FIR following a written complaint given by Principal Secretary Robert L Chongthru under the Representation of People Act, IT Act and other related IPC sections.

A person named Nitesh Karthikeyan, who calls himself a Laluwadi, uploaded a post on social media where he alleged that two EVM hackers have been "staying"

Both these persons are staying in Raj Bhawan," he wrote. Nitesh Karthikeyan said that the Chief Minister of Bihar is also the Home Minister here. "Now in such a situation, Nitish Kumar should answer in what capacity these two suspicious persons are staying at the Raj Bhawan. Are they IAS or an officer of any department? Will the Chief Minister answer this or the Election Commission?" he said.

He has alleged that there is also information that both these persons are experts in hacking EVMs.

Hooliganism of Dharendra Shastri's younger brother Shaligram, entered the house and beat up women

Team Absolute | Chhatarpur

Shaligram, brother of Baba Bageshwar Dham head Pandit Dharendra Shastri, is once again in the headlines for his hooliganism. Shaligram has created terror by entering a village and by entering a house, he has brutally assaulted women and children. Women have been injured in the fighting. The surprising thing is that the entire video of the fighting incident has surfaced in which a policeman is also seen.

The incident is being reported from Gadha village where Pandit Dharendra Krishna Shastri's brother Shaligram had reached with his companions. Here Shaligram and his associates created terror and entered a family's house and beat them fiercely. Women and children were beaten to death by Shaligram and his associates. A video of the entire incident has also surfaced which has been made by a girl from the victim's family. In the video, she is clearly heard saying that Bageshwar Dham Pandit Dharendra Shastri's brother Shaligram had entered the house and killed the women.

The surprising thing is that in the video that has surfaced, a policeman is also seen in uniform. Due to which it seems that the police was present on the spot and yet this incident of assault took place. The women injured in the incident reached the police station in a blood-soaked condition to lodge a complaint. The victim's family and women allege that their complaint is not being registered in the police station.

This is not the first case of hooliganism of Pandit Dharendra Shastri's brother. Earlier, Shaligram's name was in the headlines in the case of assault at the toll plaza and also in the case of assault and aerial firing at a wedding in the house of a Dalit family.

Lok Sabha Elections: BJP was far ahead of Congress in campaigning in Madhya Pradesh

Team Absolute | Bhopal

The campaign for Lok Sabha elections has ended. No political party left any stone unturned in campaigning in the seven-phase elections. Congress has lagged far behind BJP in the four phases of election campaign in Madhya Pradesh.

Voting was held in four phases for 29 Lok Sabha seats in Madhya Pradesh. Counting of votes is scheduled to take place on June 4. If we look at the election campaign in the state, one thing becomes clear that BJP had put all its strength into the campaign.

In the BJP's election campaign, many big faces including Prime Minister Narendra Modi, National President JP Nadda, Home Minister Amit Shah, Defense Minister Rajnath Singh, Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath were seen campaigning in favor of the candidates. Talking about Congress, Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi reached Madhya Pradesh to camaign for the candidates. The visits of Congress leaders were very limited. On behalf of BJP, Prime Minister Modi held eight public meetings and two road shows. Home Minister Amit Shah participated in four public meetings, one road show and one cluster meeting, booth level meeting and conference of enlightened people.

BJP national president JP Nadda attended seven public meetings, one Shakti Kendra conference and one Shabuddha Jan Sammelan. Defense Minister Rajnath Singh held six public meetings and one social meeting. Apart from this, state election in-charge Mahendra Singh and co-in-charge Satish Upadhyay remained active in the entire state. If we look at the election campaign of Congress, one thing becomes clear that Rahul Gandhi held five public meetings. Priyanka Gandhi held one public meeting and National President Mallikarjun Kharge held two public meetings. State leaders played an important role in the campaign campaigns of both the parties, be it BJP or Congress. While the new age leaders of BJP got the support of senior people, the new generation remained completely active in Congress.

All eyes on UP's final phase elections

The stakes are high for the seventh and final phase of Lok Sabha polls in Uttar Pradesh and the eyes of the entire nation will be fixed on this phase as Prime Minister Narendra Modi seeks a third term from Varanasi. There is no guessing who will emerge as the winner from this high-profile constituency. The campaign in the constituency has been marked by the presence of over a dozen union ministers, NDA alliance leaders and the well-wishers of the Prime Minister, including Union Home Minister Amit Shah and Union Minister for Women and Child Development Smriti Irani. Another constituency in the state which is grabbing eyeballs is Gorakhpur, the hometown of UP Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath. Though the BJP candidate in Gorakhpur is actor-politician Ravi Kishan, it is the prestige of Yogi Adityanath which is at stake. The Chief Minister himself has actively campaigned in the constituency. In the seventh phase, polling will be held in 13 Lok Sabha constituencies including Maharajganj, Gorakhpur, Kushinagar, Deoria, Bansaon (SC), Ghosi, Salempur, Ballia, Ghazipur, Chandauli, Varanasi, Mirzapur and Robertsganj (SC). A total of 144 candidates are in the fray in the seventh phase, according to Chief Election Officer Navdeep Rinwa. The two BJP allies who will be on test in the final phase are the Suheldev Bharatiya Samaja Party (SBSP) and Apna Dal (S). The BJP faces a challenge from the INDIA bloc to retain the seats it won in 2019. The BJP had bagged nine of these 13 seats while its ally Apna Dal (S) won two seats. The BSP bagged two seats. The seventh phase has 2,50,56,877 voters including 1,33,10,897 men, 1,17,44,922 women and 1058 third gender voters.

HOW BSP'S VOTE BANK GOT DEMOLISHED BY BUREAUCRATS ONCE CLOSE TO MAYAWATI

Political parties are made or marred by the decisions taken by their leaders but the Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP), in Uttar Pradesh, is an exception. This is one party that thrived on its loyal band of bureaucrats and also lost its vote bank as the bureaucrats began moving away from the BSP. BSP President Mayawati, as chief minister, was always lucky to have a loyal and dedicated band of bureaucrats to help her steer through the turbulent waters of Uttar Pradesh politics. The bureaucrats, mainly Dalits, showed unflinching loyalty towards her and were a major reason for her success as a chief minister. When she first took oath as chief minister, she was a complete novice when it came to administration and running the government. It was then Rai Singh, an IAS officer known to be close to Kanshi Ram, who took charge and even guided her through the swearing in ceremony. However, within weeks, Mayawati allegedly became suspicious of his style of functioning and showed Rai Singh the door. He was replaced with PL Punia who guided the chief minister through all administrative and political decisions. Over time, PL Punia earned the sobriquet of 'mini chief minister' and since Mayawati did not meet her party cadres, it was left to him to deal with them and address their problems. Mayawati, as chief minister, never opened her doors for anyone - whether it was bureaucrats, party leaders or the media. It was PL Punia who sorted out issues with other officers, listened to grievances of party leaders and workers and even wooed the media that was initially very hostile towards Mayawati. Seeing PL Punia, other bureaucrats posted in Mayawati's Secretariat also began adopting a similar style of functioning. This suited the BSP President because she did not wish to be bothered with 'smaller problems'. The people too, were satisfied because the bureaucrats solved their problem. However, gradually, the loyalty of BSP cadres veered towards bureaucrats who addressed their problems and it is here that the problem began in the BSP. PL Punia left Mayawati after the Taj Corridor controversy and later joined the Congress. Brijlal, former Special DG in Uttar Pradesh, was another Mayawati favourite who left her. An upright IPS officer, he was known to tackle the law-and-order situation with an iron hand. However, he was apparently eased out of her coterie and has now joined the BJP. Brijlal is now Rajya Sabha MP and also the Dalit face of the BJP in UP. Dalits who came to him to sort out their issues when he was in the BSP, now meet him when he is in the BJP. "He still helps us and that is what matters to us. BSP has nothing left for us. We will go with those who still interact with us," says Ramraj Prasad of Siddhartha Nagar. According to a retired IAS officer, once known to be in Mayawati's good books, "She is now completely under the influence of non-Dalit leaders and this has been her undoing. She refuses to entertain Dalit leaders and this is evident from the exodus of senior leaders from the party. It is a matter of time before the BSP completely disintegrates." Almost all these bureaucrats - now retired - are moving away from the BSP and have no qualms in criticising her style of function and deviated from Kanshi Ram's ideology. Retired IAS officer Kunwar Fateh Bahadur, who served as Principal Secretary to the Chief Minister in the Mayawati regime and was one of the most powerful officers in her regime, had questioned her decision to send leaders to the Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha from the Brahmin community. He has now joined Samajwadi Party and sources close to the former IAS officer said that he was 'pained' to see Kanshi Ram's party move away from his ideology. As these bureaucrats moved away from the BSP, party cadres also moved out with them. "Since these people come to us, it is our moral duty to help them and we do so," said another former IAS officer. Tribhuvan Ram, a former Chief Engineer in the PWD, had taken voluntary retirement in 2011 to join the BSP. He was elected to the Vidhan Sabha twice but later joined the BJP. Former bureaucrats like Ram Bahadur and Shri Krishna who were known to be trusted babus in the Mayawati regimes, have now moved away from the BSP President. Padam Singh, Mayawati's Personal Security Officer, was known to be the man she trusted most. He was known as her shadow and she trusted him more than any of her party leaders and officers. However, he fell out of favour for reasons not known and is now in the BJP. Jatavs, supposedly the core BSP voters, are also in a quandary about the BSP's future. A generation of Jatavs, the caste BSP chief Mayawati herself comes from, had once been part of the Bahujan movement and are sworn loyalists of the party. A weakened BSP, however, has resulted in most Jatav voters feeling let down. Jatavs in many areas believe that the selection of wrong candidates in elections and Mayawati's 'muted' campaign may have done the party in. The voices of dissent among the community in Uttar Pradesh are no longer few and far between. Mayawati's absenteeism from "active" politics is also haunting Jatavs. "Woh kabhi aayein, hum logon se milen. Ek rally se kya hota hai? (She should come at times and meet us. One rally doesn't achieve anything)," said Umakant, a Jatav in Kajitola locality of Kannauj. In Jahta, a Dalit-dominated village in Malihabad, on the outskirts of Lucknow, discontent among the BSP cadre is obvious. "What candidates Behenji has fielded this time baffles me. I cannot recall most of these names, though I am a party worker myself. Jo party ka kaam kare, ticket usko dena chahiye (They should give tickets to people who work for the party)," said a local party functionary. Malihabad is the Assembly segment under the Mohanlalaganj LS seat. In fact, Azad Samaj Party's Chandrashekhar Azad resonates more with the voters in Jatav-dominated villages in the constituency than Mayawati's nephew, Akash Anand, who has been removed from all party posts. Mayawati's "disconnect" with the Jatav population is quite pronounced in many regions. "We know she is a very big leader and cannot come to meet us on an ordinary day, but election is the time for it," said Babulal, a resident of Gopramau Village. Since 2016, the BSP has seen a mass exodus of top brass who were either from the foundational stream of the party or formed a strong second line in the hierarchy. Many of them either quit or Mayawati expelled them. As a result, the party presently lacks any other Dalit face than Mayawati whose campaign many Jatavs find "confusing" as compared to other parties in the fray.

In historic verdict, Trump convicted in porn star hush money case

Arul Luise | New York
Former US President Donald Trump has been convicted on criminal charges relating to hush money paid to buy the silence of a porn star alleged that she had a sexual tryst with him. The jury of 12 ordinary citizens on Thursday found him guilty of all 34 charges in the case after two days of deliberations. Most of the charges are repetitive and are basically that he falsified his business records by showing the payments to porn actress Stormy Daniels as legal expenses for his lawyer, Michael Cohen, who became the prosecution's star witness. Outside the court, a crowd of his opponents sent out loud cheers as the verdict trickled out. This is the first time that a former President faced a criminal case and was convicted. The verdict comes in the middle of the presidential campaign and has the potential to sway it. The conviction will not disqualify from running for President and being elected, under US law. Exiting the court, a stone-faced Trump said the real verdict will be in November when the country goes to the polls. He called the trial "rigged and disgraceful" and said Judge Juan Merchan was "corrupt". Merchan set the sentencing for July 11, just four days before the Republican Party Convention that is expected to formally declare him the candidate for President. He faces a range of sentences, that could be a probation or fine, or be as much as four years in prison. Trump will almost certainly appeal the verdict.

Germany says weapons sent to Ukraine can be used on Russian targets

Berlin | Agencies
The German government has authorised Ukraine to use German-supplied weapons against military targets in Russia, German government spokesman Steffen Hebestreit announced on Friday in Berlin. Ukraine has pressed supporters in recent weeks for permission to use weapons supplied by the West to strike Russian forces on Russian territory. Several other countries, including the US, have recently made similar moves to give Ukraine more leeway in its use of Western-supplied weapons. Many Western countries put conditions on military aid packages that limited Ukraine to use those weapons only in Ukrainian territory. Those conditions were intended to avoid escalation with Russia and prevent Ukraine's allies from being drawn directly into the conflict. But Ukraine has contended recently that Russian forces are exploiting those limitations to mass troops near the border and stage attacks against Ukrainian territory.

South Korea warns of 'unendurable' actions against North Korea unless it stops provocations

Seoul | Agencies
The unification ministry of South Korea on Friday warned that "unendurably" painful measures would be taken against North Korea if it continues to stage "irrational" provocative acts, such as this week's sending of balloons carrying trash and manure into South Korea. Earlier this week, North Korea flew hundreds of large balloons carrying trash and manure into South Korea and staged GPS jamming attacks in waters near South Korea's northwestern border islands for a third straight day until Friday. The country also fired a salvo of short-range ballistic missiles on Thursday, reports Yonhap news agency. The ministry in charge of inter-Korean affairs voiced "strong" regret over North Korea's "senseless and irrational" provocative acts. "The government is taking the North's latest provocations very seriously. We will not tolerate such moves," the ministry spokesperson, Koo Byoung-sam said. "If North Korea does not stop its provocative acts, the government will take all measures that North Korea cannot endure. We sternly warn that all responsibility for what will take place afterward will rest on North Korea," it noted.

Yemen's Houthis claim they attacked US aircraft carrier Eisenhower

Sanaa | Agencies
Yemen's Houthis on Friday claimed responsibility for launching ballistic missiles at the US aircraft carrier Eisenhower in the Red Sea and said that the attack was accurate. The group's military spokesman, Yahya Sarea, said in a statement that the attack was "in response to last night's multiple airstrikes launched by the US-British coalition" against Houthi positions in the Yemeni Red Sea port city of Hodeidah, the capital Sanaa, and the southwestern province of Taiz, reports Xinhua news agency. He added that his group "will not hesitate to respond directly and immediately to every new aggression on Yemeni territory by targeting all sources of threat and all hostile American and British targets in the Red Sea and Arabian Sea."

Five killed in Russian missile attacks on Ukraine's Kharkiv

Kyiv | Agencies
At least five people were killed and more than 24 injured in Russian missile attacks in the north-eastern Ukrainian city of Kharkiv, Governor Oleh Syniehubov said on Telegram on Friday. Most of the victims lived in a five-storey apartment block. The attacks also damaged a fire engine and an ambulance, he said. At least 20 residential buildings were damaged as a result of the attack. The Russian military fired five missiles at the city, he said. The capital, Kyiv, was attacked with at least one cruise missile, the authorities said, adding that a car repair shop, a car wash and half a dozen vehicles were damaged by falling rocket debris. UK declares itself free from bird flu

London | Agencies
The UK has declared that the country is now free from highly pathogenic avian influenza, or bird flu. The Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs said the declaration has been reviewed and published by the World Organization for Animal Health. This follows Northern Ireland's declaration of freedom from bird flu on March 31. The UK had faced its largest outbreak of bird flu with more than 360 cases confirmed across the country since late October 2021. The UK has had no recent cases of avian influenza in kept birds, with the last case confirmed on February 14, 2024, DEFRA said. The current risk to poultry from HPAI H5 in Britain is low. However, HPAI H5N1 continues to be found at low levels in wild birds in Britain and across Europe with outbreaks occurring in poultry and other captive birds in many European countries. The UK health authorities advise that the available evidence suggests viruses currently circulating in birds in the UK do not spread easily to people and food standards bodies advise that avian influenza pose a very low food safety risk for UK consumers. There is no impact on the consumption of properly cooked poultry products, including eggs.

Lakhs of commuters in Mumbai hit as CR starts 63-hour mega-blocks for infra-upgrades

Team Absolute | Mumbai

A 63-hour long 'special mega block' for infrastructure upgradation, implemented by Central Railway on certain sections of its suburban network, threw Mumbai into a mega-chaos with delays in local trains, commuters flaring up in the heat, coupled with road snarls and crawling traffic, here on Friday.

The CR has launched its 'mega-block' on the Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj Terminus (CSMT)-Kalyan section on from 00.30 hrs of May 31 (Friday) and it will continue till 3.30 in the afternoon of June 2 (Sunday), said an official spokesperson.

The CR teams took up the upgrade works to widen Platform No. 5/6 at Thane station by dismantling the existing railway tracks, the overhead electrical wires, equipment, etc.

Expected to be completed by Sunday afternoon, the wider platform by around 3.05 metres, will enable seamless movement for commuters at this major station.

The other block is for the extension of the railway platform No. 10/11 to accommodate 24 coach trains at CSMT.

CR General Manager R. K. Yadav has appealed to the people to refrain from travelling unless absolutely necessary in view of the delays and curtailment in services.

The two simultaneous blocks of varying durations have hit suburban and long-distance train services with 42 outstation trains cancelled, and around 160 other trains are short-originating, short-terminating, or rescheduled, besides the crucial suburban time-tables going haywire.

Consequently, lakhs of daily commuters rushing to their workplaces have experienced huge delays during the morning peak hours, with services operated at long intervals of 20-30 minutes, and the cascading effects felt on the Western Railway and the CR's Harbour Line.

The railway stations in the Thane-Raigad sections were jam-packed with harried, perspiring commuters making a beeline to catch a local and reach their workplaces on time, though the authorities had deployed extra buses to clear the commuter rush.

Expecting commuting problems - a lesson learnt from past mega-blocks - many Mumbaikars opted to commute in their two-wheelers or cars, but they made slow and painful progress as the arterial roads, main thoroughfares and highways got clogged with vehicles.

A woman IT professional from Mulund, Mini P. Menon, who commutes a short distance to Ghatkopar in 15 minutes daily said she took a BEST bus but it took her over an hour to reach her workplace in the massive road traffic.

A Thane-based shipping consultant S. Bhaskaran said he spent over two hours by road to reach his office in Bandra Kurla Complex and he was resigned to a similar delay on his return journey home this evening.

Rattled by the surging crowds and the intense heat, many people decided to 'work from home' and those working five days availed a casual leave for a long weekend.

Accused minor's father, grandpa get 14-day judicial custody

Team Absolute | Pune

Court here on Friday sent Pune builder Vishal S. Agarwal and his father Surendrakumar B. Agarwal to judicial custody for 14 days in connection with the case about threats and abduction of their driver and other charges.

The accused are the father and grandfather of the accused minor boy -- currently in a juvenile correctional home -- whose speeding Porsche car killed two Madhya Pradesh techies, both aged 24, early on May 19, triggering an outrage.

While Vishal S. Agarwal, 50, was arrested late on Monday (May 27), Surendrakumar B. Agarwal had been arrested earlier under fresh charges, and both were remanded to police custody till May 31.

Simultaneously, the minor accused's mother, Shivani V. Agarwal has now come under the police radar in connection with the probe into the swapping of the boy's original blood report which was swapped, ostensibly to get him off the hook in the serious crime.

In a related development, a couple of friends of the 17-year-old boy who were in the Porsche, have told the Pune Police that he was heavily drunk and driving at the time of the crash that killed IT professionals Ashwini Koshtha and Aneesh Awadhya that morning.

Earlier, another eyewitness to the car crash had recounted how he barely missed getting a deadly hit by the Porsche which, barely seconds later rammed into the motorcycle ahead on which the techies were travelling, killing them. Subsequently, the resident of Kalyani Nagar noticed a heavily sozzled boy along with another person emerging from the vehicle and getting thrashed by an angry mob that had gathered there.

The eyewitness further claimed before mediapersons that the boy pleaded and even offered 'as much money as you want' to spare them the thrashing before they were handed over to the Yerawada Police Station, and it triggered a national furore the next day (May 20).

Adani Electricity Mumbai detected power thefts worth Rs 46 crore last year

Team Absolute | Mumbai

Clamping down on the menace of illegal power connections, Adani Electricity Mumbai Limited detected 26.21 million units of power thefts worth an estimated Rs 46.04 crore in the city last year, an official spokesperson said on Friday.

In the financial year 2023-2024, the company lodged 974 FIRs for power thefts, compared to the 778 FIRs registered in the previous fiscal (2022-2023). Power theft is a non-bailable offence that attracts a stringent fine/jail term of three years for the offenders.

During multiple raids carried out last year, the company seized 60.5 tonnes of illegal wires and the actions resulted in bringing down the Aggregate Technical and Commercial (AT&C) losses by 0.46 per cent - from 5.93 per cent (2022-2023) to a commendable 5.47 per cent (2023-2024), the official said.

This has placed Adani Electricity with the lowest AT&C losses among all Discoms nationwide, given its extensive power network and diverse consumer base, the official added.

Among the major power thieves caught last year was Jaimi Traders in Kurar village, Malad East, for illegally using a three-phase direct supply that led to theft worth Rs 1.33 crore. The case was probed by the Kandivali police station in June 2023.

In July 2023, the company's vigilance teams caught Crohast Plastic Moulding Mfg. Ltd in Andheri for using an illegal power connection worth Rs 1.09 crore, and the matter was probed by the Kherwadi police station.

The third case was lodged by Kandivali police station in December 2023 when the Kinny Farmhouse and Resort in Malad West was caught using an illegal power connection worth Rs 1.04 crore.

Adani Electricity teams, along with the concerned police authorities, conduct regular mass raids, apprehend the offenders, and confiscate the equipment used for power theft.

The incidents of power theft are rampant in high-demand areas like slum clusters, where new network development is challenging due to space constraints, while overload of the existing infrastructure increases maintenance costs due to more frequent cable and transformer failures.

"Power theft unfairly burdens the honest, paying consumers, and we at Adani Electricity are committed to eliminating the menace of power theft to safeguard the interests of our customers. We shall intensify the efforts in specific areas to further reduce AT&C losses this year," said the spokesperson.

Cooperative Shelters for rehabilitation of street children in Thane: NCPCCR chief

Team Absolute | Thane

NCPCCR chairperson Priyank Kanoongo has proposed setting up cooperative shelters to rehabilitate street children and their families in Maharashtra's Thane district.

According to a release by the District Administration on Friday, the Chairperson of National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCCR), Kanoongo emphasized upon the urgency for collective efforts to ensure permanent rehabilitation of street children and their families.

On Wednesday, in a meeting held at the collector's office, Kanoongo presided the need for urgent action and highlighted the necessity of collaborative efforts for sustainable rehabilitation of children and their families.

Kanoongo highlighted the efforts initiated since 2016 for the same cause. He emphasized on Municipal Corporations' and Municipalities' responsibilities to take proactive steps, to enhance financial capacity and facilitating school enrollment for these street children in the rehabilitation.

Kanoongo proposed the establishment of "Cooperative Shelters" as an effective solution. He has told officials to study the successful Rehabilitation Project in Bhopal for inspiration and replication.

NCPCCR, back in June 2022, has launched a 'CISS application' under Bal Swaraj Portal, to help in the rehabilitation process of Children in Street Situations (CISS). The CISS portal is launched for online tracking and digital real-time monitoring mechanism of children in need of care and protection. The CISS application is used for receiving data of children in street situations from all the states and union territories, tracking their rescue and rehabilitation process. It follows a detailed six stages framework for the rehabilitation of children.

The portal also provides a platform for professionals and organizations to provide any help that they can to children in need.

The Standard Operating Procedure for Care and Protection of Children in Street Situations 2.0 categorizes any child under 'Children in Street Situation', if the child is living on the streets alone, living on the streets during the day, or living on the streets with the family.

The root cause of the children in streets is found to be migration of families from rural to urban areas in search of a better standard of living.

As per the release by the District Administration, Kanoongo urged officials from Women and Child Development Department to visit and study such projects, study their methods, and replicate them in the Thane district Street Children Rehabilitation Project to ensure positive results.

Maharashtra minister Hasan Mushrif has committed to improving the civil hospital system to prevent future incidences of malpractice. This guarantee comes after the alleged manipulation of blood samples at Pune's Sassoon Hospital in connection with a recent Pune car crash. The medical education minister addressed the topic when speaking with reporters in Mumbai on Thursday. Police have arrested Dr Ajay Taware, then head of forensic medicine at Sassoon, medical officer Dr Shrihari Halnor, and staff member Atul Ghatkamble for allegedly changing the blood samples of the adolescent who was supposedly driving the Porsche at the time of the Pune car crash, stated the report.

Reportedly, according to authorities, the adolescent driver was inebriated during the Pune car crash that killed two IT professionals in Kalyani Nagar on May 19.

"The police found that Dr Ajay Taware was on leave on the night of the Pune accident and he got a call from someone. He accepted Rs 3 lakh and called Dr Halnor to manipulate the blood samples. This was absolutely wrong," Mushrif stated.

Police told the court that the juvenile's blood sample was changed with that of a lady, apparently his mother, to demonstrate that he was not intoxicated at the time of the accident, stated the report.

"We need to introduce some changes and take strict action to stop the outsider interference in the functioning of hospitals. We will overhaul the system and make it foolproof," Mushrif stated. He also stated that the department would ensure Dr Taware faced serious punishment for his involvement in the Pune car crash.

Regarding Dr Vinayak Kale, dean of Sassoon General Hospital, being sent on leave, the minister emphasised, "The report of the committee (set up to probe the blood sample episode) stated that Dr Kale did not perform his duties properly. The decision to send him on leave has nothing to do with him taking my name during a press conference." Earlier, Dr Kale had claimed that the orders to give additional charge to Dr Taware came from Mushrif, the report stated.

Bebe Rexha opens up on her struggles with PCOS, 'painful' symptoms

Los Angeles | Agencies

Singer Bebe Rexha has shared that she has been struggling with painful cysts, acne, and weight gain due to polycystic ovary syndrome (PCOS). Diagnosed with PCOS last year, she has now opened up about her symptoms to her followers on social media. Asked about the condition, she recalled that the first sign was having "super irregular" periods, including once having it for 20 days, reports femalefirst.co.uk.

The singer also started gaining weight, putting on "a lot in four years", and now she has to count calories to maintain herself. She is currently consuming 1,400 calories a day and burning around 700 through exercise.

She added: "My doctor once told me that a woman with PCOS can eat a bowl of blueberries, and it would be equivalent to a normal person eating a whole pie of pizza." Bebe Rexha has also been suffering from "bad cysts" and even had to go to the hospital because of them.

The singer said: "Two weeks ago, I was in urgent care. I was in so much pain. My doctor thought it was appendicitis, it was so bad. It was actually a cyst that had burst. Tylenol didn't work, and Advil didn't work. I was sick to my stomach, and the pain was so bad."

Brie Larson is a 'mentor' to actors starring in superhero films

Los Angeles | Agencies

Actress Brie Larson, known for portraying Captain Marvel, is always happy to "reach out" to newcomers to the comic book movie world because it can be quite a "strange" experience.

Asked about stories in which Larson reaches out to people cast as superheroes during the Hollywood Reporter's Drama Actress Roundtable, Naomi Watts asked: "Wait, you're a superhero mentor?"

Larson confirmed: "Always. I'm the first person to email everybody because it's very specific and very strange."

"People are like, 'I don't know how to do this.' Yeah, no one does. Why would you? I'll say, 'Train because you'll want to be as prepared in your body as you possibly can because it only gets harder as the job goes on. And I really understand how to be able to go to the bathroom in your suit,'" she said.

"The first 'Captain Marvel', it was a 45-minute thing to get me in and out of that costume. I can't stand when people have to wait for me to go to the bathroom, so I'd have to time it out," she said.

Larson said that it is a lot of pressure, reports femalefirst.co.uk. "And I think it's a strange thing, especially when you're a newcomer and you're tasked with being the most powerful blah, blah, blah, and you feel scared. It's so hard to be the cool, confident one when you're like, 'Do I know what I'm supposed to be doing?'"

The 34-year-old actress, who won an Oscar for her portrayal of a kidnapping victim in the 2015 film 'Room', said she struggled to shake off the "dark" role for over a year afterwards.

"I basically haven't done anything as dark as 'Room' since 'Room', because it took me a year to get out of it. And it was really scary. It took me a long time to be able to just do basic things that I used to enjoy in my life," she said.

"So, yeah, you hope that you have the grace of a line producer who's scheduled it so that there are moments where you can offload," she added.

FRENCH OPEN: ANDREEVA DISPATCHES AZARENKA TO ENTER THIRD ROUND

Paris | Agencies

Rising teenager Mirra Andreeva clinched a spot in the Roland Garros third round for the second straight year after beating former World No.1 Victoria Azarenka 6-3, 3-6, 7-5 in a late-night stunner.

The 17-year-old Andreeva successfully completed the third-round lineup with a 2-hour and 31-minute victory over No.19 seed Azarenka. The match ended just after 1 am local time in Paris (4:30 am IST).

Andreeva, last season's WTA Newcomer of the Year, has already collected five Top 25 wins this season, including in half of her last six matches -- she also beat Marketa Vondrousova and Jasmine Paolini in Madrid a month ago, WTA reports.

World No.38 Andreeva will look to make the Round of 16 at a Grand Slam for the third time in her young career when she takes on another surging player, Peyton

Stearns of the United States, Stearns registered and upset win over No.10 seed Daria Kasatkina 7-5, 6-2 to book a third-round spot at Roland Garros for the second

Boxing World Qualifiers: Clinical Nishant Dev seals Paris Olympic quota, Ankushita Boro misses out

New Delhi | Agencies

Nishant Dev became the fourth Indian and first male boxer to qualify for the 2024 Paris Olympics after he convincingly got the better of Moldova's Vasile Cebotari 5-0 to reach the semifinals of the 71kg category at the 2nd Boxing World Qualifiers at Bangkok, Thailand, on Friday.

Dev, who had missed out on the Paris Olympic berth in the 1st Qualifier in Italy after going down to 2021 world championships silver medalist Omari Jones of USA at the same stage, was determined not to lose out this time around as he took control of Round 1 with a combination of a right-hand jab and a left-handed hook. Cebotari did put up a fight in Rounds 2 and 3 but the experience of Dev shone bright as he mixed caution with aggression and landed a few hooks and uppercuts to earn a unanimous verdict. India has already secured three quotas for the Paris Games with Nikhat Zareen (women's 50kg), Preeti (54kg), and Tokyo Olympics bronze medalist Lovlina Borgohain (75kg) confirming their berths by winning bronze medals at the 2022 Asian Games.

However, it was the end of the road for former World Youth Champion Ankushita Boro in the 60kg quarterfinals as she was unlucky to go down 3-2 against Sweden's Agnes Alexiusson.

Boro was slow off the blocks and that allowed her Swedish opponent to take control. But the Indian fought back in Round 2 and looked on course to reverse the deficit as she earned a 4-1 verdict for the round.

She continued to attack the Swede in the final round but Alexiusson landed a few punches of her own at the right time to convince three of the five judges to rule in her favour.

Four Indian boxers will be in action in the evening session on Friday with all of them -- Arundhati Choudhary (66kg), Amit Panghal (51kg), Sachin Siwach (57kg), and Sanjeet (92kg) -- just two wins away from a Paris Olympic spot.

T20 World Cup: Suresh Raina weighs in on the Kohli/Jaiswal opening dilemma

Team Absolute | New Delhi

Virat Kohli is coming off a stellar season in the Indian Premier League and will be looking to carry his form into the World Cup. In an event in New Delhi, former India big-hitter Suresh Raina weighed in on who should open for India in the upcoming World Cup.

Kohli played as an opener during the 2024 Indian Premier League (IPL) season, a position in which Indian fans are not accustomed to seeing him bat, but ended the tournament as the highest run-scorer which is why the question arises of who will accompany Rohit Sharma to open the innings.

"I prefer Virat to play at No. 3 in the World Cup. He's a run machine.

Yashasvi is in good form, and I'm sure he will do well as an opener. With the pitches and conditions in the United States expected to be slow, in my opinion, Virat should play at No. 3," Raina told reporters at an event in New Delhi.

Yashasvi Jaiswal is a prodigy in the making as the 22-year-old has performed exceptionally well over the course of the past year which saw him being named in the 15-man squad that will take part in the T20 World Cup in the United States and Caribbean from June 2 (IST) till June 29.

The Kohli/Jaiswal dilemma will be one of the key points of contention for the side and it will be interesting to see the order that the skipper, Rohit Sharma fields during the side's warm-up match against Bangladesh on June 1.

Boxing Federation of India agrees to join World Boxing

New Delhi | Agencies

The Boxing Federation of India (BFI) has agreed to become a member of World Boxing, the International Federation established to ensure boxing remains at the heart of the Olympic Movement.

The membership application has been approved by the BFI's General Assembly, and will be ratified by World Boxing's Executive Board. The BFI president, Ajay Singh, recently met with World Boxing's President and Secretary General to discuss ways in which India can support the International Federation in growing its membership base in Asia, where the BFI is one of the largest National Federations.

"As part of its commitment to the future development of World Boxing, the BFI aims to play a leading role in establishing an Asian Confederation and drive the recruitment of other National Federations in the region," the BFI said in a release.

"It also intends to actively participate in the work of World Boxing Committees and all Commissions as well as bidding to host World Boxing competitions and we look forward to welcoming the BFI into the growing World Boxing family. This is a very exciting development which will significantly increase our presence in Asia and I look forward to working closely with the BFI in delivering our common goals.

"In both its public comments and during our recent meeting, the IOC has delivered a clear message to all National Federations that if they want boxers from their country to have the opportunity to compete at future Olympic Games then they must now join World Boxing. This is the only path that will see our sport remain in the Olympic Games after Paris 2024 and National Federations must act now and follow the example of the BFI if they want boxing to have any chance of still being part of the programme at Los Angeles 2028," he added.

BFI president Ajay Singh said their goals and values align with World Boxing and they wish to expand the sport in the continent.

"It is absolutely vital to the sustainability of boxing that it retains its Olympics status, so we are delighted to join World Boxing and look forward to working closely with the Executive Board and our fellow members to shape the future development of the sport and deliver a brighter future for boxers across the world," he said.

"The BFI shares the same values and goals as World Boxing and are keen to play a leading role in its development. We also wish to be at the forefront of the formation and hosting of a new Asian confederation to ensure boxing continues to expand and grow its membership on the continent," the BFI president added.
